Public Meeting To Present Plans For Oakland

Visiting representatives of the Main Street Program, who are experts on revitalizing communities, will present their recommendations for Oakland during a public meeting tonight at Our Town Theatre, at 6 p.m.

This presentation is based on information gathered when the group members studied Oakland's economy, toured the area, and talked with community leaders. Community input is an essential element of the team's project.

The team includes the senior program manager for special projects for the Nation Main Street Center, R. McDuffe (Mac) Nichols. Since joining the program in 1985, Nichols has provided technical assistance to revitalization programs throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, as well as performed similar tasks in numerous overseas postings.

Team member Elizabeth Hughes has worked with the Maryland Historical Trust and the State Preservation Office since 1995. As the administrator of statewide preservation programs, Hughes leads the Non-Capital Historic Preservation Grant program and the Certified Local Government Program.

Linda Donavan Harper, who is also with the team, has provided technical assistance to over 125 communities in 25 states and three countries. She conducts a planning game and workshop titled "Starting from Ground Zero" at state and national meetings.

Representative Cindy Stone, coordmator of the Main Street effort for two years, began her professional career as an administrator at the National Main Street Center of the National Trust for Historic Preservation in Washington, D.C. She is currently working primarily with the Maryland Community Block Grant program in addition to her duties with the Main Street project, which she helped to create. Stone was a founding member of the Maryland Heritage Alliance, a statewide lobbying and education organization for heritage and historic preservation. She has been on the board of the Maryland Downtown Development Association since 1994.

Oakland's Main Street program manager Glenn Tolbert said that this evening's meeting represents a

"YOU MAY KISS THE BRIDE" - Though shying away from a public display of affection, Lamar Llama had previously demonstrated a great attraction for his less-than-bashful bride Nicole. The blissful couple, united through the generosity of an anonymous donor, who had paid Nicole's bride price, will work on behalf of Heifer Project International (HPI). The job of Mr. and Mrs. Llama will be to produce offspring as "volunteers" to poor rural areas of the world, where HPI teaches farming and provides start-up livestock. The happy "bridle" couple live at Bietzchehof Farm in Grantsville. See story. Photo by Peggy Santamaria.

Three Viewings Being Presented At Our Town

Our Town Theatre will host a presentation of the Jeffrey Hatcher play Three Viewings on Sept. 5 at 8 p.m. The show will be performed by the Prince William Little Theatre (PWLT) group.

The play was performed by PWLT in November 1997 as part of the 1997-1998 season. The show had never before been presented by any community theatre group in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area, and was reportedly "extremely well received" by audiences and positively reviewed by three separate theatre critics representing local newspapers.

The play consists of three separate, but connected, monologues. Tell-Tale is the story of Emil, a mild-mannered undertaker whose unspoken passion for a local real estate woman who comes to all of his funerals propels him to plot a way to confess his true feelings before time — and bodies — run out.

The Thief of Tears is Mac, a beautiful Los Angeles drifter, who makes her living stealing jewelry from corpses. When her wealthy grandmother dies, leaving her nothing, Mac returns to her hometown and attempts to pry loose her inheritance, a diamond ring her grandmother promised Mac when she was a child. Her attempt leads her to find there are more obstacles to getting the ring off grand-

by Peggy Santamaria

Bill and Jean Durst, Grantsville, announce the union of Lamar Llama, Grantsville, and Nicole Llama, Farmington, Pa., on Sunday, Aug. 30, at Bietschehof Farm. The evening ceremony was held in the paddock adjacent to the bunkhouse.

The bride's attire was a soft cream and tan summer wool with Appaloosa markings. She wore a floral headpiece with a pink nose-length veil. She was attended by her daughter, who wore white summer wool with a touch of butterscotch trim.

The groom was garbed in formal black wool tail with white tie.

The "wedding" was attended by the Bietschehof barn yard family, who also provided the music for the occasion. An outdoor reception followed the private ceremony and featured Lamar's preferred repast — dog biscuits.

Lamar is employed as the central attraction at the petting zoo of Puzzley Run Folklife Center. Nicole and her daughter, will join him as his assistants. The Llama family will also work on behalf of Heifer Project International (HPI), an orgaization that operates in low-income rural areas teaching farming techniques and supplying appropriate farm stock that has been contributed to the project. Nicole and Lamar will raise little llamas to donate their services to farmers through HPI.

The bride's arrival at Puzzley Run and her future contributions to HPI were made possible by an anonymous donor who provided the "dowry" to start the Lamar Llama lineage.

The Llama couple honeymooned in the north pasture and will reside in the lower level of the barn at Bietschehof.

Though not available to the public until after Labor Day, the newly weds will receive visitors during petting zoo hours starting Sunday, Sept. 13. Special group visits can be arranged by appointment. For information on Puzzley Run Folklife Center or Heifer Project International, persons may call Bietschehof Farm at 301-895-3742.

Accidental Fire Damages House Friday Evening

A fire caused by a kitchen stove that was accidentally turned on by occupants in the process of moving out Friday evening caused an estimated $25,000 damage to a house located along Sand Flat Road.

Robert Winters Jr., 28, and Susannah Matthews, 23, were in the process of moving out of the one-story, single-family dwelling when the fire occurred. Firefighters from Deer Park, Oakland, Deep Creek, and Gorman VFDs were summoned at 6:33 p.m. and, upon their arrival, saw heavy smoke coming from the house. They brought the fire under control in about 15 minutes.

The structure was owned by Carl Harvey, McConnellsburg, Pa.

According to Charles Crossauer, deputy chief fire marshal, Ms. Matthews placed boxes on the kitchen cabinet next to the stove top and in doing so, apparently turned on one of the burners by accident. She left the house and, approximately 15 minutes later, a neighbor saw fire in the kitchen and called 911. Crossauer said that the stove top knobs were not the safety type and that they [illegible] easily.

Deputy's Good Samaritan Stop Ends In Arrest

A Garrett County sheriff's deputy who stopped to check on the occupant of a car parked along a Mtn. Lake Park roadside early Saturday morning subsequently arrested the subject on charges of driving while intoxicated, second-degree assault, and resisting arrest.

David Wade Hinebaugh, 26, was stopped in his car on the side of the road at B Street and Maryland Highway shortly after 2 a.m. when the deputy stopped to offer assistance. After failing field sobriety tests, Hinebaugh was arrested for DWI, and several attempts were made to secure him and place him inside the police vehicle for transport the detention center.

Hinebaugh allegedly repeatedly refused to get into the vehicle and at one point allegedly struck the deputy in the chest. For the depu-

State Reps Ask Governor For Highway Study

Local state representatives have approached Governor Parris Glendening to request he initiate a study of several proposed routes for a north/south interstate highway through western Maryland, to tie the area with other transportation projects currently either under construction or under study in neighboring states.

In a letter addressed to the governor and Maryland's Transportation secretary David Winstead and Natural Resources secretary Joh.. Griffin, House Speaker Cas Taylor, Senator John Hafer, and Delegates George Edwards and Betty Workman requested that Glendening "direct MDOT to work jointly with Pennsylvania and West Virginia to undertake a feasibility study of this potential north/south interstate transportation improvement project for our region."

Citing an agreement reached during a recent meeting of the Garrett and Allegany state legislative delegation, the boards of county commissioners, directors of economic development, and chamber of commerce presidents from both counties, as well as infrastructure committee representatives, the letter asked Glendening to initiate a study that "should include the following corridors:

- A modified 'Meadow Mountain Scenic Highway' proposal, south of I-68, which principally avoids state lands;
- A corridor south of I-68 along the Garrett/Allegany County border;
- The existing U.S. Route 220 corridor south of I-68 and west of Cumberland, and;
- Any other corridor location MDOT may suggest between the Meadow Mountain proposal and U.S. 220 south."

The letter stated that "any one of these corridors should terminate at an intersection with the Appalachian Development Highway System's (AHDS) Corridor H" in West Virginia.

"[The feasibility study] should analyze engineering feasibility, economic benefits and environment consequences associated with the different tri-state corridors under consideration with the enhancement and access to necessary transportation infastructure benefical to

Glotfelty's Tire Theft Estimated At $3.4K Loss

Glotfelty Enterprises was the scene of a breaking and entering this past weekend which resulted in the theft of a total of $3,400 worth of truck tires from the Garrett Highway business, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Employees reporting to work Monday morning discovered that a garage door window had been broken out, through which the perpetrator(s) had apparently crawled to open the garage door from the inside. A total of 10 truck tires, suitable for use on a tractor-trailer rig, were missing from inside the garage. They were described as eight Bridgestone M711 M11 R24.5 truck tires, with a value of $330 each, and two Michelin XZE truck tires, valued at $380 apiece.

In other ongoing sheriff's investigations, a residential burglary in the 7900 block of Gorman Road resulted in a loss to the homeowner of over $3,000 worth of belongings.

The complainant told deputies that the house was probably broken into during the early morning hours of Aug. 22 through a front door that was damaged as the perpetrator(s) gained entry.

Wood Products Expansion Aided By State Funds

Governor Parris N. Glendening announced yesterday that the Board of Public Works has approved $225,000 in state funds to assist Wood Products Inc., an Oakland company, in the midst of an ongoing expansion that will reportedly create 50 new jobs.

"This project exemplifies a continuing commitment by a valued Maryland employer to our state," Glendening said.

Wood Products converts hardwood timber into lumber. To accommodate increasing business, the company is investing $2.1 million to purchase new equipment and construct additional facilities for the drying and handling of lumber. In addition, Wood Products will hire at least 50 new employees during the next five years.

The state funds, which come from the Regional Enterprise Assistance Deposit Incentive Program (READI), will be lent to the Maryland Economic Development Corporation (MEDCO), which will in turn invest the money in a certificate of deposit at First National Bank of Maryland. A percentage of the certificate of deposit's interest earnings will be credited to a $728,000 loan to Wood Products. This arrangement effectively lowers the cost of borrowing money for Wood Products, officials explained.

In addition to the READI assistance, the Department of Business and Economic Development is providing Wood Products with a $350,000 loan from the Sunny Day Fund, a $500,000 loan from the Maryland Industrial Land Act (MILA), and a workforce training grant of up to $50,000 from the Maryland Industrial Training Program (MITP).

"This valuable assistance from the state comes at an important time in the development of Wood Products as we are pursuing international business opportunities," said Reginald Messenger, president of Wood Products. "We appreciate the

Deep Creek Property Owners Express Concerns To DNR Rep

The pending sale of Deep Creek Lake is causing anxiety among lakeside property owners, who voiced their concerns on Saturday, Aug. 22, to Jim Dunmyer, assistant secretary of public lands for the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The meeting, held in the auditorium of Garrett Community College, attracted more than 200 members of the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners' Association (POA).

Dunmyer stood in for John Griffin, the DNR secretary, who had originally planned to be at the POA meeting but reportedly had a family emergency early that morning. Roger Titus, the newly installed president of the Deep Creek POA, opened the session by first conunemorating the memory of the late president Gerald Polansky, who died on July 1. He then conducted the main portion of the meeting, which consisted chiefly of a question and answer session between the owners and Dunmyer.

The main concern of the owners appeared to be the lack of information in the past months, which Titus referred to as "a period of radio silence in the negotiations between GPU [current owner of the lake] and the state of Maryland."

A Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) signed this spring by GPU and the state of Maryland set a series of deadline dates for the sale of the lake to the state. One of those dates was Sept. 30, upon which a final agreement is to be made. Part of the MOU states that local input will be included in this final agreement, but the Garrett County commissioners have yet to be included in much of the discussion. The three local officials, concerned about the looming deadline, sent a letter to Griffin on Aug. 18 that in effect reminded him that they are to be included in any final agreement.

Dunmyer addressed the concern, explaining that the Sept. 30 deadline is for the agreement on price only, between GPU and the state. Apparently the price was originally to be set on July 31, but both parties agreed to extend that deadline since they had yet to reach common ground. In response to several questions as to why the process is currently being kept private with no public input, he said the negotiations going on now must be kept confidential.

"GPU and the state are putting their cards on the table," Dunmyer said. "That's not something you can do in the public arena."

Ed Shultz, the manager of strategic communications for GPU, concurred with Dunmyer, stating that the current bargaining sessions are being kept confidential because "that's just good business."

Both Dunmyer and Shultz stressed that the sale is being handled thus far

Terra Alta Woman Injured As Log Truck Strikes Car

A Terra Alta, W.Va., woman was slightly injured when a logging truck pulled in front of the small car she was driving. The driver of the truck was charged in the accident, which occurred Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Weber Road and Garrett Highway.

As Donna Ridenour, 33, was entering the intersection on northbound Garrett Highway shortly after 1 p.m., a logging truck operated by Haven D. Chapman, 44, Elk Garden, W.Va., pulled from the stop sign on Weber Road across the highway into the path of her Mitsubishi passenger car. Ridenour was injured as the vehicles collided and was subsequently transported by Southern Rescue Squad to Garrett Memorial Hospital, where she was treated and released. The Oakland VFD also responded.

Garrett County sheriff's deputies investigating the accident charged Chapman with failure to yield right of way to Ridenour's vehicle.

Multi-Vehicle Crash Incident Conference Set

Multi-vehicle and chain reaction crashes are a growing concern for public safety, EMS, and fire personnel. The possibilities for crashes involving 30 or more vehicles on interstate highways continues to grow with the increased volume of vehicles and high speeds.

A regional Multi-Vehicle Crash Incident Management Conference is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 19, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Northern High School.

Prospective conference participants should be involved in some aspect of responding to, handling, or coping with an incident. The training is designed for first responders, field supervisors, and key personnel in all disciplines, including fire/rescue, EMS, police, highway maintenance, hazmat, towing associations, and public works. Participants may also include media personnel involved in the reporting and response to highway and roadway incidents.

"The goal of an incident management system is not to create a response, but rather to help create a more effective response for all cooperating agencies," said Diane Lee, spokesperson for the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems.

Although there are no fees for this conference, pre-registration is requested. Conference costs are underwritten by the Maryland State Highway Administration and include conference materials, handouts, meals, and refreshments. For more information or to register, interested persons may call the Region I EMS Office at 301-895-5934 or 301-746-8636.

The conference is being co-sponsored by the Garrett County Traffic and Transportation Advisory Committee, the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems, the Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute, the Maryland State Police, the U.S Department of Transportation, the Maryland Department of Transportation, and the Maryland Transportation Technology Transfer Center.

Man Injured As Car Flips Off Roadway

A man was injured Saturday when the car he was driving left the roadway and overturned in a ditch.

Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, reported that Asher M. Dunn, Morgantown, W.Va., was westbound on I-68, near the 21 mile marker, at 7:45 p.m. when he fell asleep at the wheel. His vehicle then struck the guardrail, left the roadway, and overturned numerous times before landing in a culvert, police said

Dunn was taken by Northern Rescue Squad to Cumberland Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released. Grantsville VFD also responded to the scene. No charges have been filed.

Car Speeds, Flips

William C. Metz, 34, Oakland, was injured in an accident on North Glade Road last Thursday morning. Police reported that Metz, who was southbound at about 7 a.m., failed to reduce speed on a curve, drove off the roadway, struck a fence, and overturned.

Southern Rescue Squad transported Metz to Garrett Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Fugitive Arrested

A woman charged with murder in West Virginia was arrested last Friday in Oakland by state police.

Katherine D. Abshire Humphries, 22, was apprehended after West Virginia authorities notified police at the McHenry barrack that she was believed to be residing in the Oakland area. Humphries was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail prior to extradition on the West Virginia warrant.

Also responding to the scene were the Southern Rescue Squad, Allegheny Power Company officials, and sheriff's office personnel. Standing by for Gorman and Deer Park VFDs were units from Bayard and Kitzmiller VFDs, respectively.

The owner reportedly did not have insurance on the property.

SILVER WINGS TO GIVE FREE CONCERT — The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival 1998 season continues this weekend with a free performance by the popular United States Air Force group Silver Wings. The show will be held on Sunday, Sept. 6, at Deep Creek Lake State Park, beginning at 6 p.m. Guests are encouraged to bring picnic suppers and lounge chairs to the concert, which is being sponsored by GPU Energy. Silver Wings is an accomplished and well-known band, performing a wide variety of musical styles — bluegrass, country, and folk, among others. For more information about the show, persons may contact the GLAF office at 301-387-3082.

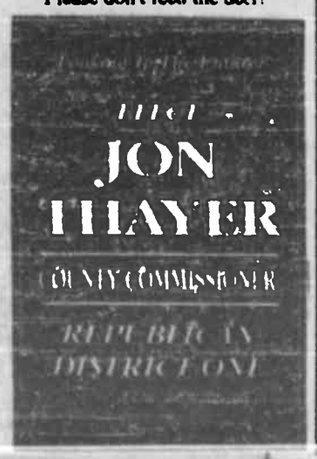
Let's Dream Again!

One morning, while having breakfast with my family, my daughter Tori told us of a dream she'd had the night before. As she recounted her dream to us she stated, "It was really a wonderful dream and I was in a beautiful place, but I just can't remember all of the details or what eventually happened in it."

Upon hearing this, my other daughter, Trista, stated quite simply, "Well, that's not a problem — when you go to bed tonight just dream again."



Since that morning, I've thought a lot about that statement and realized that in a way it is an analogy of Garrett County. We live in this beautiful county, whether by birth or by choice, with its wonderful people and community spirit of caring individuals and organizations. We all have hopes and dreams of succeeding in life and achieving our goals through honest, hard work and enterprise. But somehow, our dreams now seem distant or forgotten and our goals unreachable. What's changed?

"Let's dream again" and make those dreams reality. If elected I promise to work towards solving the problems facing our county and will work on implementing plans to improve our economy to give everyone a chance to realize their goals without leaving this wonderful place.

On September 15th, vote for:

DAVID C. INSLEY
County Commissioner, District 1
Authority of Kathaleen M. Skipper, Treas.

Please don't feed the deer!

SEBOLD SEEKS COMMISSIONER SEAT

On February 10, 1998 (almost seven months ago), I filed as a Republican candidate for the office of Garrett County Conunissioner in District 3 in the September 15, 1998, Primary election. I was the first candidate in my district to file for commissioner because I wanted you to know that I was very interested in the job. Being your Commissioner will be a full-time commitment for me, this will be my only job. I believe that you, as citizens of Garrett County, deserve Commissioners that are constantly working for you.

I am now serving my sixth year as an elected at-large member of the Garrett County Board of Education. I have been very proud to serve as a member of the Education Board and I know that the knowledge and experience that I have acquired will benefit me greatly as a commissioner. I have experience working with a $30 million budget, writing policy, dealing with personnel issues, operating under the Open Meetings Act and the state bidding laws, and many other diverse areas.

During my time on the education board I have served as President and Vice President. I am now serving on seven local committees and two state committees for the board. I find committee work to be a very important part of my job; a lot of valuable information is acquired by attending and participating in committee meetings. I feel that elected officials owe it to the public to make well informed decisions when representing them. I have found that it takes a full-time commitment to be an effective public servant, and I am willing to spend the time that it takes to get the job done.

I believe that the direction the county moves in should depend on what we value as important to our community. I understand the concerns of the citizens of Garrett County and I appreciate your conservative stand on the issues. It is important that we have good jobs, strong communities and excellent schools where our children can excel, while recognizing the realities of the fiscal constraints that exist

There are laws that govern the office of County Commissioner and the day-to-day operations of the county. Elected officials have the responsibility of knowing those laws and making sure that they are followed by everyone. I am an advocate for the Open Meetings Law. I believe that public business should be conducted in the public with public participation. Keeping members of the public informed and being accountable to them at all times is of utmost importance to me as an elected official. Elected officials should always be aware that they hold power only in a representative capacity.

As your Commissioner I will work to hold County property tax at the constant yield rate or lower (we have the 5th highest property tax rate at 2.59 in the state), protect Garrett County property owners from any further loss of property rights due to additional regulations or mandates from government, give greater citizen access to general information and budgetary issues, and gain your trust by always being open and accountable to you.

I will continue to support and work to have a great educational system. This is an excellent way to bring families to the county and to have a well-educated populace for the work force. I will support a high level of road maintenance and will support improvements as proven necessary. I will work to seek out new businesses that will add meaningful and well-paying employment opportunities for our citizens. Having every department in county government running as efficiently as possible and being accountable is very important to economic development in the county. I will do all of these things while always remembering the reasons that people choose to live here and preserving those elements of the county.

I appreciate the overwhelming support I have received in past elections by the voters, and I hope that you will continue to support me in this new endeavor.

Smith Sentenced, Enters Plea In Separate Case

Criminal trials continue for defendant David A. Smith, 32, Oakland, who is currently an inmate in the local jail and has been charged with a variety of offenses in the past several months. Judge James Sherbin of the Circuit Court for Garrett County sentenced Smith in one case last week and heard his plea in another.

A jury had in June found Smith guilty of second degree assault, and a pre-sentence investigation had been ordered by the judge at that time. Last Thursday, the judge handed down a sentence of six months in jail, consecutive to the time currently being served by Smith.

The assault charge was incurred by Smith after he allegedly hurt Freda Mae Curtis during a domestic altercation in October 1997.

In the proceedings last week, Smith also entered a plea of guilty to the charge of third degree sexual offense. Sherbin accepted the plea and deferred sentencing pending the receipt of sentencing guidelines, according to the court report.

Smith was charged with the crime after he apparently forced a young girl to have sexual intercourse with him. The incident occurred in mid-1997, according to the report.

In a separate case, a jury found an Oakland man not guilty of driving while intoxicated (DWI). Terry A. Tasker, 36, had been arrested in March of this year by a sheriff's deputy and was charged with negligent driving and DWI. The defendant entered a motion for the judgment of acquittal, and the judge granted the acquittal to the negligent driving charge but gave the DWI decision to the jury.

HAVING FUN AT OUR TOWN BARTER CAMP — Twenty-eight children in grades kindergarten through 7 participated in Our Town Theatre's first Barter Camp, held in July. For one week, two hours each day, the children learned how to perform improvisations and to play dramatic games. They explored daily themes such as "Who am I?" and "Where Do I Live?" Instead of paying money for the camp, the children brought items needed at the theatre, such as stamps and envelopes, as a barter. When Jane Avery, the theatre's artistic director, asked the children what they would like to see at next year's camp, they reportedly told her they wanted the days to be longer and the camp to last two weeks instead of one.

Agenda Set For Monthly BOE Meeting

The next regularly scheduled monthly meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 8, in the board of education meeting room. At 3 p.m. the meeting will be called to order, and a brief public comment period will precede the executive session.

The public session will reopen at 5 p.m. Board members will consider and act on the following agenda items. Among administrative concerns to be taken up at 5:10 p.m., action is scheduled on the capital improvement program, a cargo van bid award, an electric de-regulation program, and approval of fleet insurance.

Instructional concerns, slated to be reviewed at 5:35 p.m. include, information on the school informational calendar, the English Program of Studies 9-12, the Social Studies Program of Studies 9-12, the retirement dinner, and the 1996 graduate follow-up. Action will be taken on the Mathematics Program of Studies K-5, the Music Program of Studies 6-8, and a music textbook recommendation.

Public comment will be accepted at 7 p.m., and the meeting will then resume for action on personnel matters and discussion of board concerns.

POA Concerns

with the utmost consideration of the value of the lake to Garrett County and to the property owners. Dunmyer also noted some unique characteristics of this divestiture as opposed to the 30-plus other sales currently being negotiated by GPU.

"This is the only facility out of 32 being sold that we are doing a one-on-one deal," Shultz said. "We truly understand the value of the lake, and I can tell you that we want to reach an agreement with the state."

The state of Maryland does have the power to condemn the property, Dunmyer noted, which could force GPU's hand. But the parties do not want to pursue that route.

"Let me just say that we are 100% sure the lake will eventually be state property," Dunmyer said. "We don't want to condemn the property, but we definitely want to protect it."

He went on to assure the crowd that public meetings and hearings will begin immediately following the agreement on a price.

"There will be plenty of time for public input," he said. Both Senator John Hafer and Delegate George Edwards were at the meeting, and the men agreed that the negotiations are proceeding as they should.

"I assure you there will be opportunities for a lot more public input," Hafer said. "The biggest thing here is that GPU agreed to separate the lake from the hydroelectric plant. That was a great achievement for the state. We are staying on top of this thing."

Edwards agreed, saying that GPU, the state officials, and the governor "have been very supportive" of Garrett County interests in the sale, and that the transition should be "seamless," a term used by several of the officials at the meeting.

Property owners expressed several issues of concern about the transition, questioning Dunmyer about dock fees, taxes, and the ownership of the buffer strip. Dunmyer said the goal of the state is to "keep things status quo" for the residents and owners, with no dock fee increases or tax changes planned. The state apparently wants to own the buffer strip, although some property owners said they are wary of that plan and would prefer to buy their own section of the buffer.

"When we agree on a price, then we can move forward with how we are going to buy it and exactly how it will be managed," Dunmyer said. "I'm just not at liberty to answer all those questions now."

Several of the members remained critical of the current proceedings and urged Dunmyer to include at least one local representative in on the negotiations currently under way.

"I'll take that request to Secretary Griffin," Dunmyer said.

Another meeting did take place last night at GCC involving several state and local officials, including the members of the commissioners' lake advisory committee. The outcome of the session, which was a scheduled meeting, was not known at press time.

Back to School...

Local households are a bit quieter this week, as our youngsters have all returned to school for another nine months of learning and enrichment. From all indications, most of our teachers were prepared for the new school year, and even though there is often considerable bellyaching from our young people about having to return to school, many of them were also ready to resume that routine and the socialization opportunities that come with it.

Many parents were more than ready for school to resume, just to get the kids out of the house again. Unfortunately, however, too many parents mistakenly decide that the education of their children is entirely the job of the teachers and the school system. They abdicate all responsibility for their child's education, which makes it much easier to blame the system when their child is having problems.

So the beginning of the school year is as good a time as any tor parents to reflect upon just how involved they are with their child's education, and if necessary, make some needed adjustments to that commitment. Keeping at least weekly tabs on how they are doing in their classes is a good start, which can be accomplished simply by asking them about how they are doing and what they are doing, and occasionally taking a peek at their notebooks. Making sure they are getting enough sleep and eating a healthy diet is also important. Attending back-to-school programs, arranging and showing up for teacher conferences, and contacting teachers if there is a problem in a particular class are positive steps.

Active involvement in the various support and booster groups, such as for athletics or band, is crucial to the success of those programs. It's both frustrating and pathetic that the hard work of such organizations is accomplished by about 10 percent of the parents, for the benefit of 100 percent of the students, while the other 90 percent of the parents don't lift a finger. The band and athletic boosters in both of our high schools will tell you the same story.

Finally, one last piece of advice for parents, and grandparents, could be summed up in just two words: Be there. Be there for your children, if it's a soccer or volleyball match, a football game, a band competition, or a school play. Even though teens sometimes act like it's a real drag to have their parents around, it is extremely important for them, and their feelings of self worth, to know that they are appreciated and being supported by the members of their families.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Election season is upon us and I am reflecting on a successful Republican candidate in the election to the Maryland House of Delegates.

Mrs. Martha Glotfelty served in the House from Garrett County from 1962 until 1966 and is to be remembered as the only woman ever to serve our county in this position. She served in Annapolis with reverance to her constituents and her own personal dignity.

Martha was well liked and respected by her peers in the General Assembly. Martha passed away on August 12, 1998 at her home just 18 days shy of her 93rd birthday. She was a welcomed contributor to this county and her conunuaity and church. She was my friend.

Sincerely,
DeCorsey Bolden

To the Editor:

Our family would like to express our sincere thanks to the organizations and individuals who rescued Jeanne from the rocks near Swallow Falls on the afternoon of Monday, August 24th. As you reported, ner injury occurred when she fell while trying to negotiate a steep slope to search for one of our sons (she thought ha was drowning). Fortunately, he was in no distress, but his mother suffered a broken shoulder and other significant injuries in her 12-foot fall.

The combined efforts of the park rangers, Southern Rescue Squad, Oakland Volunteer Fire Dept., and the State Police helicopter crew were truly impressive as they worked together in this medical evacuation. We are fortunate to have these dedicated volunteers and professionals serving our communities.

To the Editor:

Last night while reading The Republican, I was deeply saddened to see that Ms. Mamie Wilt had recently passed away. Having grown up in the same neighborhood that she resided, and having attended school with her children, I think she was one of the nicest individuals that I have known in my 30 years of life.

Mamie was an outstanding, dynamic person! Having worked in the Garrett County school system for many years, Mamie exemplified an outstanding role model for the numerous children who went through the system. To my knowledge, Mamie never had a harsh word for anyone, and after her husband passed away in 1978, she did a beautiful job of raising her children to be loving caring adults. With God by her side throughout her life, she carried a smile and a warm hello for everyone whom she came in contact with.

Those of us who had the pleasure of knowing Mamie will deeply miss her, and those of you who never had the opportunity to meet this beautiful person surely missed someone that we should all try to pattern our lives after.

May God bless you, Mamie, until we all meet again.

To the Editor:

To the people of the communities surrounding Northern Rescue Squad who either lost family or property due to the tornadoes or the fire, our hearts and prayers go out to you. To all the volunteers who gave of their time or money to help the rebuilding process, we thank you. Sometimes we wonder why tragedies happen; we may never know the answer. Sometimes I think it's to show us that someone else is in charge and control of our lives.

To the fire companies and EMS personnel, you are to be commended. To the firemen injured while fighting the fire in Grantsville, our thoughts and prayers go out to all of you. You risked everything to save life and property, placing your own lives in jeopardy.

To the members of Northern Rescue, you make me proud to be your captain. In 26 years of being in the EMS, I have helped during the flood in Johnstown and in blizzards, as have many of you. But I don't think I have ever worked in worse conditions than those of May 31, 1998. You all did what was asked of you. Working in the darkness and the rain, you couldn't see even with the brightest lights. Not knowing if electric lines were hot or trees or houses were going to fall on you, or if another tornado would strike, you risked all for your fellow man. You showed love and compassion for people you didn't know or may never see again.

Northern Rescue Squad is not perfect. We do make mistakes. If we were perfect and didn't make mistakes, we would have nothing to strive for. However, the way you all gave during these trying times showed why you belong to such a great organization. The love and caring you displayed for the people in the surrounding communities show just how special you all are.

Again, I am proud to be part of Northern Rescue for the past 26 years. May God bless you and help us all to remember why we do what we do.

Barry Beal, Captain
Northern Garrett County
Rescue Squad

To the Editor:

Planning and design guidelines are an ongoing analysis for the Route 219 Transportation Improvement Project. MDOT and SHA have provided practical alternatives for all of us to consider. Perhaps we can examine these options.

Complete the District's construction to the northeast corner of Oak and Third streets, and improve U.S. 219 through the town of Oakland. This will provide safety, convenience, performance, and support town economics. Let's see how this works.

Then, use Old Route 219 (4th Street) as a one way alternate for the northbound travel, and 3rd Street as the southbound route on an as needed basis. Use this plan when traffic congestion requires its usage, and monitor the advantages and disadvantagee.

A new strategy would be to have SHA and Garrett County road engineers complete a feasibility study to use Sand Flat Road as the by-pass. This of course would mean an upgrade to SHA standards for tonnage performance and road safety. The cost justification for this choice should then be compared to the Alternate 3 Plan-Options.

The residents of Sand Flat Road should have their own concerns with this choice, and I hope they will share them with you.

I suggest that we have the time and opportunity to observe how each of these projects produce results, then move forward to reach a worthwhile objective for Garrett County.

Sincerely,
Carl P. Rebele

To the Editor:

I believe in the Constitution of the United States, the freedom of speech, and the right of religion.

I have been a member of a local church for many years. In September of 1996 I lost my eye due to diabetes. Shortly after this happened, the pastor of the church called me out to the porch of the church and told me that I could not pray, testify, or sing any longer. He also told me that I should wear a bag over my head when I attend church. Is this how we should be treated when we are supposed to be brothers and sisters in the eyes of the Lord?

On August 19, 1998, I received a phone call from a local attorney who is the pastor's attorney. He told me that I should find another church. I did not do anything to be treated like this. I've always thought that preachers would want people to come to church, rather than telling them not to.

If I knew someone with a blind eye, I would not turn my back on them; I'd help them. I believe that this is the Christian way to be.

I cannot believe that none of the members of the congregation of this church cares about how the preacher talked to me. I even asked for a meeting with the church board on the matter, but they wouldn't allow one, because the pastor is on the board.

I've often wondered, if we can not get along as Christians here on earth, how are we going to get along in heaven?

Robert E. Savage
Friendsville

To the Editor:

I must respectfully disagree with your editorial of last week proposing that various elective offices be filled by appointment by the county commissioners, especially the office of circuit court judge.

Can you imagine what the Fousek affair would have been like had that been the case? Your paper played a courageous role in flushing out the truth about wrong-doing in county government. Could we have done what we did if the commissioners had that kind of power? There are always failed lawyers who hope to be judge because they need a job. Do we really want attorneys catering to lay elected officials in hopes of getting appointments or sitting judges owing their appointments to elected commissioners in the same county? How long would the terms be?

Circuit court judge is a constitutional office. The Maryland State Bar Association has attempted several times to get a constitutional amendment adopted to do away with judicial elections. MSBA had a major role in seeing that district court judges are not elected. I don't think it is for the better in the long run. Please understand that this is not intended as a criticism of any individual judge. But we need the electoral process. In reality it is merely a steam valve. As you know, sitting judges are seldom opposed. And that is fiue. But the people should have the right to over-ride political appointments when they believe it appropriate to do so.

Sincerely,
Robert E. Watson

To the Editor:

This year more than 50,000 precious lives will be lost to cancer, Statistics show that 1 in 2 men and 1 in 3 women will develop cancer in their lifetime, and approximately 1.5 million people will be diagnosed with cancer this year. Cancer costs our society more than $104 billion a year. Too many people with cancer continue to fight against an inadequately funded health care system.

As a way of fighting this deadliest plague the world has ever known, Americans everywhere will join in Washington, D.C., Sept. 25 and 26 for THE MARCH, Coming Together to Conquer Cancer. Garrett County will have buses going to this special event. Any interested persons may reserve a seat by calling 301-334-3828. There is no charge for the transportation. Buses will depart from Oakland town parking lot at 6 a.m. and Northern High School parking lot at 6:30 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 26.

In addition, a special memorial is being prepared. Each cancer victim has a face and you may memorialize your loved ones who have lost their battles with cancer by sending a small photograph with your loved one's name to be used in a display at the Candlelight Vigil/Interfaith Service at the Lincoln Memorial on Fri., Sept. 25, and the following day during the rally on the Mall. Please send all photos c/o Vickie Evans, 9201 Garrett Hwy., Oakland, or they may be left at the dental office of Dr. Wm. G. Savage, 323 E. Oak St., Oakland. Photographs must be received by Saturday, Sept. 19 to ensure inclusion and cannot be returned.

To the Editor:

From time to time I look back across the years, most often when trying to figure out who, besides myself, might be held accountable for some corner into which I have painted myself. Those searches always come up empty, a tribute to my parents and grandparents. Each time my back was to the wall, review revealed one set of footprints that stood out above all others; default reverted to me.

Once in a while someone compliments me on something or other. On those occasions I rarely find myself looking back. Mostly view from a compliment one of yours truly, bask-

FAREWELL
by Mary Slacell McEwen

My Aunt Jo. I was wary of her when I was little, because she was big and could be really loud. She liked to tease, regularly calling me "Bawl Baby" and laughing when I would refute the name but get choked up trying to defend myself. If she had known, though, that I was hurt by her barbs, she would have felt terrible. It was just her way, and as I got older, I learned to fight back by calling her by her given name. She would say, "Well, if it isn't Bawl Baby!" and I would brazenly shoot back, "Hi, Aunt Mabel Josephine!" Then she would cackle with pure glee. She loved me, I know it, as she did all children.

My Aunt Jo died on August 23. So once again, as is inevitable in all families, our circle has been broken. She was 86 and ailing, so, as the saying goes, I guess it was "a blessing." But it's hard, losing an important person, a person who has been there forever, it seems, and a person who was such a unique character. She and my Uncle Jack Wagoner owned and operated the Ren Roy Flower Shop in Cumberland for years. She lived in Springfield, W.Va., and would make deliveries on her way home every night. My cousins and siblings occasionally worked at the shop for extra cash, and would generally stay with her during their stints. As my Uncle Loy said at the funeral, she was amazing behind the wheel of a car. Or maybe it was her luck that was amazing. The stories of her driving escapades would fill this paper. Like the time she and my cousin Carter were delivering flowers at some ungodly hour of night. It was dark and foggy and Aunt Jo just kept going. The ride became extraordinarily rough and Carter realized they were off the road. "Aunt Jo," he said, bumpily, "I think we're in someone's garden." She stopped and opened the door. "Yep! Right in the 'tater patch!" Then she laughed 'til she couldn't breathe.

Another time she lost control of her car on the ice and wrecked, losing two tires somehow. She was unhurt. Carter came to see the car. "I've never seen anything like this, Aunt Jo," he marveled.

"That's just what the tow truck driver said," she responded.

Uncle Loy told of the time a tree had fallen across the road. It was nearly blocking the street and several men were working on it when they spotted Aunt Jo's famous station wagon on the horizon. They knew what was coming. They yelled and leapt out of the way, and Aunt Jo drove right through the mess, gunning the car over the log and bouncing on out of sight. The men were stunned. She probably hardly noticed. It was important to her to get on her way, always. She worked hard all her life, except for the last year or so when her body refused to comply anymore.

When my siblings would work in the shop, generally during the busy Christmas season, they would marvel at her ability to stay awake. The woman probably only had three or four hours of sleep every night. They would work 'til late, deliver flowers 'til later, and not get to her house until midnight or so. My sibs would crash into bed, but Aunt Jo would do a tura or three of laundry. The sleepy teenagers would be rousted out of bed no later than 5 a.m. and she would have already fried up bacon and a dozen eggs for them. Then off they would go for another day of the same.

She was feisty all her life, speaking her mind and never hesitating to tell others what to do. As Loy said, she worked constantly and simply expected everyone else to do the same. Her language was often spiced with choice expletives. Even at age 4, she was colorful: She came running in the house to tell her mother about all the berries that were growing along the path to the spring. Her mother, my grandmother Grace, got a bucket and joined her little girl to go pick them. They kept walking and looking and not a berry was found. Finally Jo put her miniature hands on her hips and shouted, "Well, hell, there was scutters of 'em!"

A gruff exterior only partially cloaked a generous, giving soul. A great fan of holidays, she began making her 80 to 100 fruit cakes in November every year. We each got one, and, contrary to the clichés, they were good. In a shed behind her house referred to as the "wreath factory," she would make about 60 pine Christmas wreathes and give them all away, including about 17 to her church. We loved going down there in early December to make our own wreaths, with her bossing everyone and crimping the ribbon tirelessly. She loved her Christmas tree, which was on a turnstile that twirled the faux pine and played carols. Every year she would put a stuffed, almost life-size Santa on her porch, and he held a sack full of toys. She let every kid who came to her house pick something out of that bag. My three sons were giddy about it. When they couldn't decide what to take, she would just say, "Oh, let 'em take three or four."

When my grandfather was alive, she held a birthday celebration for him every November at her house. As with every family event, she would cook so much food we would be in awe. Ham, turkey, beans, rolls, cakes, cookies, everything. And she always fussed that there might not be enough. She loved to make ice cream, organizing those at the crank and telling them they weren't tired yet. When it was ready, though, she made sure everyone had a bowl before she got any herself. She liked the family to be together. She had one son, Carl, and he was her devoted friend. Her husband, Rosie Pownell, died in 1953 when Jo was just 41. Her life was not easy. But I doubt she would've liked it that way. Her unyielding faith kept her afloat, and I feel sure she is now safe and at peace.

My cousins and I grieved at the funeral not just for ourselves, but for my three aunts, four uncles, and my mother, who have lost one of their very own. I felt honored to be among them, hough, all strong, sensible, joyful people who have given much in this life. They are a noble lot, my mother's clan. I have searched my brain for some words that might describe how I admire and love them, but I think the best thing I can do for them, and to best honor Aunt Jo, is to try to live as they live: work hard, give of myself, and remember to enjoy the ice cream when the time is right.

Goodbye, Aunt Jo. I can still hear you laughing.

Citations Issued By Police After DCL Dragnet

A covert patrol instituted in response to citizen complaints about hazardous operation of personal watercraft (PWC) on Deep Creek Lake resulted in several citations being written by Natural Resources Police (NRP) recently.

After NRP and the staff at Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area received complaints of people skiing too close to docks in the McHenry, Cherry Creek, and Paradise Point coves, NRP and an NRP reserve officer conducted the covert patrol on Saturday, Aug. 30.

As a result of the operation, NRP stopped numerous PWC and several pontoon boats in these areas. Eight citations were written and four warnings issued. These included violating the restricted hours for PWC; operating a PWC too close to boats, skiers, and the shoreline; no certificate of number on board the vessel; and operating a vessel within 100 feet of another vessel while towing a skier.

"This operation was a success because of the cooperation between DNR agencies and the public informing them when problems occur," said Department of Natural Resources spokesperson Patty Manown Mash. "Citizens are encouraged to report illegal boating activity to NRP at 301-777-7771 or the Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area at 301-387-4111.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY MONTH PROCLAIMED — September is Habitat for Humanity Month and the Garrett County commissioners signed a proclamation this week to locally support the declaration. The proclamation states that the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity is a Christian ministry with the sole purpose of building new homes for families in need of safe, adequate, and affordable housing. "Habitat is a pool of volunteer labor and materials, not only building houses, but also trying to give people a chance for better lives," it states. Habitat has been organized in Garrett County since 1983. Thirty-five new houses have been built since that time and 115 existing homes have been renovated. The construction is accomplished with the support of the community, including volunteer workers, business donations, churches and civic groups that provide meals and lodging, and financial support from individuals. The commissioners signed the document, which finally states that they urge all citizens to join in the struggle of eliminating shacks in Garrett County. Pictured left to right are Commissioner Chairman Wayne Wilt; Barbara Briggs, executive director of Habitat; Commissioner Wayne Johnson; Ann Hill, treasurer; Cosette Harman, president; and Commissioner Gery Fratz.

ma's finger than she had imagined and more revelations about her own past than she had bargained for.

Thirteen Things About Ed Calpolotti is the story of Virginia, the widow of a wheeler-dealer contractor, who discovers that her husband has left her in debt to the banks, her family, and the mob. As Virginia struggles to escape her creditors and understand how her husband could have left her in such pain and doubt, a mysterious list of "thirteen things" embarrassing to Ed is offered to her if she can come up with $1 million in two days. Virginia doesn't have the money, but she does have hidden resources and revelations — revelations that resurrect the love and trust she thought were lost forever.

The three stories interweave to portray the deceased and the bereaved, and the lengths to which survivors go to hold on to memories, money, life, and love. While the play might sound morose and gloomy, it is actually quite the opposite, a spokesperson said. The writing allows the audience to laugh with the characters and sense their loss at the same time, she said.

"Three Viewings should avoid any attempt to overplay the themes of death, loss, and despair, which can lead to a humorless evening," stated playwright Jeffrey Hatcher. "True, each of the three pieces contains passages that must be played with raw emotion and without humor, but audiences bring their own experience of death and loss to the theatre, and we don't need to hit them over the head with what they already know."

Tickets to the show are $5 each. Our Town Theatre is located along Center Street in Oakland. For more information, persons may call the theatre at 301-334-5640.

Tickets Available For Autumn Glory Kick-Off Reception

The 31st annual Autumn Glory Festival will get under way with the traditional Festival Kick-Off Cocktail Buffet Reception on Wednesday, Oct 7, at 8 p.m. at the McHenry House at Wisp Resort. This kick-off reception will mark the beginning of this year's Autumn Glory events, which will continue through Sunday, October 11.

The kick-off reception's activities will commence with the introduction of the festival's special honorary Golden Ambassador and the crowning of 1998 Autumn Glory Queen Andrea Bender. Featured entertainment by noted sportscaster Bill Hillgrove of WTAE-TV, Pittsburgh, Pa., and live music by Muriel Franc, will follow.

Tickets for the kick-off reception, which are currently available through the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, will be limited to 300 patrons at a cost of $150 per couple or $100 for a single ticket. Festival supporters who purchase tickets will be designated as Golden Ambassadors and will be publicly recognized as a special patron sponsor of the Autumn Glory Festival.

Persons who purchase kick-off reception tickets will also receive an honorary card which will offer free admission to the following Autumn Glory Festival events: the antique show and sale at the National Guard Armory; the TLT sport card, comic book, Beanie Baby™ and memorabilia show at the Oakland fire hall; the "Official" Maryland State Banjo Championship and Beaver Creek Bluegrass Band concert; the "Official" Maryland State Fiddle Championship; and the Western Maryland Tournament of Bands.

Ticket purchasers will also receive pins designating them as 1998 Golden Ambassadors; reserved bleacher seating for the Grand Feature Parade; entry into the prize drawing during the reception for one set of 1999 Golden Ambassador tickets; and the opportunity for priority purchase of 1999 Golden Ambassador tickets.

Early purchase of reception tickets is encouraged, and may be made with cash, check, or credit card from festival headquarters, Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third St., Oakland, MD 21550-1581. Tickets may also be purchased by calling 301-334-1948, or via E-mail at info@garrettchamber.com. Further information on the Autumn Glory Festival is also available on the Chamber's homepage at www.garrettchamber.com, or by calling the number given above.

MEETINGS RESCHEDULED

Two councils have rescheduled town meetings because of a conflict with the Labor Day observance. The rescheduled dates for those town meetings are as follows:

Loch Lynn — Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Oakland — Monday, Sept. 14.

FRIENDSVILLE

The town meeting was held Tuesday, Sept. 1.

•Dr. Kaufman of Frostburg State University and Dee-Dee Ritchie, regional coordinator for Program Open Space, met with the mayor and council to discuss the development of a master plan for the town park. Dr. Kaufman's students, as part of an internship program, will prepare the plan and present it to the council in November.

•Martha Makosky, director of the Ruth Enlow Library, library board president Jane Fox, and Friendsville branch manager Michele Duda presented plans for upgrade of the local library. The library board has agreed to purchase several computers for public use, and computer furniture and shelving. The library board will contribute $3,700 for the new equipment and the mayor and council will donate an additional $2,000 to upgrade wiring and purchase an air conditioner.

•New playground equipment is scheduled to arrive during the week of September 14. Anyone wishing to volunteer to help install the equipment is asked to contact playground coordinator Jess Whittemore at 301-746-5389.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 15.

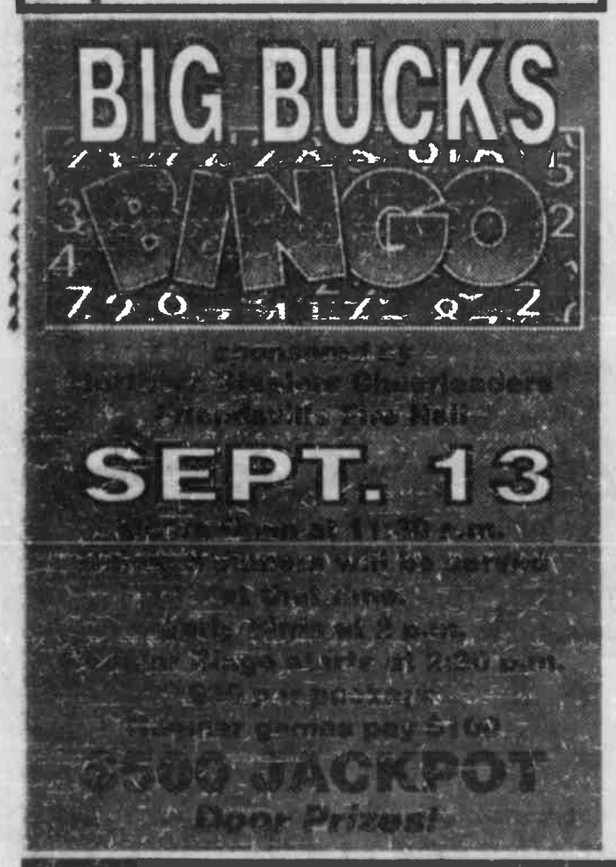
STOPPING FOR REFRESHMENT - Randy Stolfer, who is nearing the end of a two-year cross-country trek, was probably in need of some refreshment and rest when he stopped in Grantsville recently. The hiker explained that his mission is to spread awareness that peaceful solutions to conflicts are possible. His destination is Washington, D.C., and he hopes to arrive by Labor Day. Stolfer's visit coincided with the Grantsville Rotary picnic, which he was invited to attend. Stolfer, on the left in the photo, chatted with Rotary president Danny Klotz. "Randy walked all the way from Oregon to come to our picnic," Klotz joked.

EMMA L. WILSON

Emma L. Wilson, 87, Cumberland Nursing Home, formerly of LaVale and Frostburg, died Monday, Aug. 31, 1998, at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Born Oct. 25, 1910, in Finzel, she was the daughter of the late Howard and Mary (McKenzie) Layton. She was also preceded in death by her husband, David J. "Dan" Wilson, on Nov. 27, 1977. She was the last surviving member of her immediate family.

She was a homemaker and a member of SS Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Cumberland.



Survivors include two daughters, Shirley A. McKenzie, Avilton, and Patricia L. Ivy, Lexington, Texas; nine sons, Earl D. Wilson, LaVale, William L. Wilson, New Bern, N.C., Gene J. Wilson, Vallejo, Calif., Glenn O. Wilson, Citrus Heights, Calif., Paul J. Wilson, Clarks Summit, Pa., James G. Wilson, Austin, Texas, Thomas J. Wilson, Cumberland, Kenneth R. Wilson, Avilton, and Larry A. Wilson, Raleigh, N.C.; 27 grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-granddaughter.

Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home, Frostburg, where a prayer service was conducted Wednesday, Sept. 2, with the Rev. William Moody officiating.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated earlier today, Sept. 3, at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Frostburg, with the Rev. Moody as celebrant. Interment was in Restlawn Memorial Gardens, LaVale.

LYDIA C. FAZENBAKER

Lydia C. Fazenbaker, 105, Keyser, W.Va., formerly of Beryl, W.Va., died Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1998, at the Heartland of Keyser Nursing Home.

Born Feb. 3, 1893, in Paw Paw, W.Va., she was the daughter of the late William N. and Dorcas (Lyon) Burke. She was also preceded in death by her husband, James W. Fazenbaker, in 1980.

She was a homemaker and a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Piedmont, W.Va. She was also active in the former Presbyterian Church in Beryl.

Survivors include two daughters, Ada Hanna, Keyser, and Roberta Beard, Bloomington; three grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Friends were received at the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport, where a service was conducted earlier today, Sept. 3, with the Rev. Joseph Jarrett officiating. Interment was in the Phillos Cemetery, Westernport.

BESSIE F. ASHBY

Bessie F. Ashby, 102, Oakland, died Monday, Aug. 31, 1998, at the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home.

Born Jan. 17, 1896, near Kitzmiller, she was the daughter of the late Francis M. and Louisa J. (Hardesty) Bray. She was also preceded in death by two husbands, "Justice Tasker in 1920 and Erneat Ashby in 1969; two brothers, Elza Bray and Umber Bray; and one half-brother, Dorsey Kelly.

She was a member of the Oakland Church of the Nazarene and a former member of the Crellin Ladies Aid.

Surviving are two sons, Ward L. Ashby, Oakland, and Clarence D. Tasker, Fairmont, W.Va.; three grandchildren; three step-grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; seven step-great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service was conducted Wednesday, Sept. 2, with the Rev. Berlin Wilhelm officiating. Interment was in the Terra Alta (W.Va.) Cemetery.

SEBERT E. SKIPPER

Sebert E. Skipper, 74, Oakland, died Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1998, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born Feb. 4, 1924, in Garrett County, he was a son of the late Henry M. and Laura (Bowser) Skipper.

He was retired from Beachy Lumber Co. He was a member of the Lakeside Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mildred (Bernard) Skipper; two sons, Richard W. Skipper, Oakland, and Ronald M. Skipper, Longwood, Fla.; one daughter, Sharon Everd, Oakland; one brother, Jesse P. Skipper, Swanton; two sisters, Mary Cuppett, Swanton, and Anna Cuppett, Virginia; seven grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

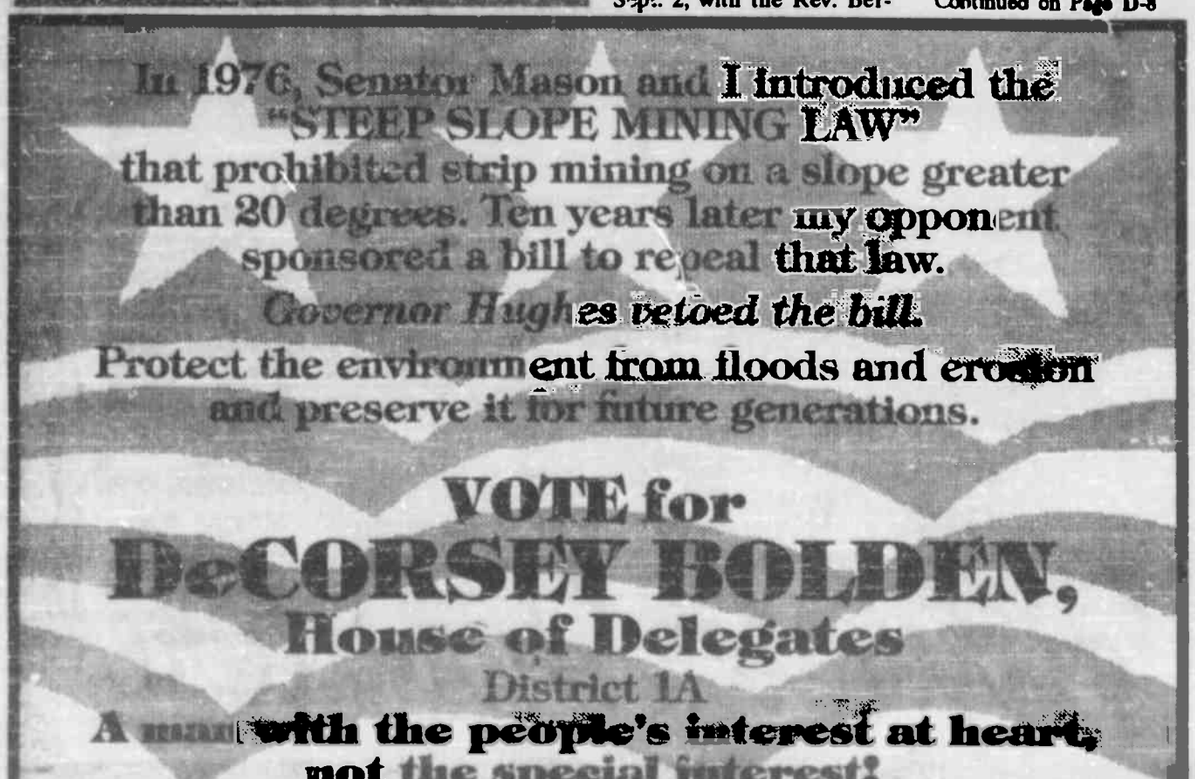
Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland. A service was conducted earlier today, Sept. 3, at the Lakeside Assembly of God Church, with the Rev. Robert Shank and the Rev. David Howe officiating. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

The family suggests memorials take the form of contributions to the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad or the Lakeside Assembly of God Church.

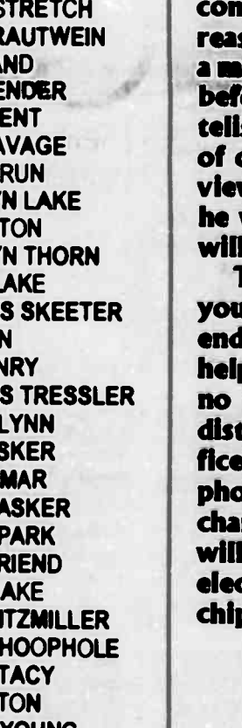
JUDITH MAYHEW

Judith Mayhew, 66, Westernport, died Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1998, at Memorial Hospital.

Born Oct. 17, 1931, at Franklin, she was a daughter of the late Arthur T. and Ahna (Smith) Braithwaite.



She was a retired cafeteria manager at Westernport Elementary School, with 39 years of service with the Allegany County Board of Education. She was a member of Emmanuel Pentecostal Holiness Assembly of Keyser, W.Va., and a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of Queens Point VFW Post 6775.



Survivors include her husband, Roy Mayhew; two sons, David Gentry Jr. and Jimmy Gentry, both of Westernport; two daughters, Janice Ann Gentry, Winchester, Va., and Barbara Jean Hartung, State College, Pa.; two stepsons, Roy Allen Mayhew and Martin Leo Mayhew, both of Keyser; three brothers, Robert Braithwaite, Westernport, William Braithwaite, Oakland, and John Braithwaite, Westernport; two sisters, Betty Clark, Westernport, and Carol Wilson, Savage River; 10 grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday. A service will be conducted at the funeral home on Saturday, Sept. 5, at 11 a.m., with the Rev. Earl Williams officiating. Interment will be in the Duckworth Cemetery, Stoney Run.

The family suggests memorials be directed to the Children's Church of Emmanuel Pentecostal Holiness Assembly, Keyser.

WHY WE SUPPORT BOB WATSON

Bob with Committee Chairman Terry Heibig and Treasurer Dave Burdock

AND WHY WE NEED YOUR HELP!

We are endorsing Bob Watson for three important reasons: He is HONEST He is COMPETENT. He is FAIR.

His HONESTY is known to us. You need only observe Bob with his family to know the quality of his character. He is civic minded and cares about the good of the community. His selfless free work, on the Lake Commission where he fought the state and opposed preferential treatment for a special few, and his exposure, as a private citizen, of wrong-doing in county government are more than enough to convince us.

Nothing could better witness his COMPETENCE than his reputation as an attorney. Win or lose, those who have been in cases with Bob, attorneys and parties alike, will tell you that he was well prepared and knew what he was doing. His experience is by far the widest of those running and includes all areas of the law, not one narrow field. And his knowledge is current.

He prides himself on FAIRNESS and a commitment to the law. It is the main reason he has such broad support. Bob is a man who applies reason to the problems before him and who follows what reason tells him is correct. Some of the members of our committee share his conservative views; others do not. But all of us believe he will be a fair judge in whose court all will stand equal before the law.

This election in not yet over. We need your help to win it. Bob needs your endorsement. Our committee needs your help and, if possible, your contribution, no matter how small. We need you to distribute signs (available at Bob's office); to talk to your friends; to make phone calls; and to knock on doors. This chance will never come again. Most of us will never see another contested judicial election. The election is near. So, please chip in and give us a hand.

assistance from the state, MEDCO, and Garrett County, and we expect to continue our growth in Maryland."

"We are pleased to have worked with the state and MEDCO to help facilitate the expansion of Wood Products," said Jim Hinebaugh, director of the Garrett County Office of Economic Development. "We look forward to continued prosperity in Garrett County by this important company."

"unique opportunity" for anyone concerned about the future of Oakland to hear suggestions from leaders in the field of revitalization on possible directions to go in the continual efforts to improve the community.

The Oakland Main Street Program is funded by the Appalachian Regional Commission, the Greater Oakland Business Association, and the Oakland mayor and town council. The primary goals of the program are to support downtown organization, promotion, design, and economic restructuring.

ing. The ideas being that my skills are self taught, and that whatever I've accomplished came from God and my own determination rather than from any association with others.

Of course paragraph one is true and paragraph two is delusional.

Few people obtain skills or accomplish anything important without help. Certainly I never did.

One person who helped me was Miss Berniece Idleman, my English teacher at Southern High in grades 11 and 12, 1965-67. Someone mentioned her name recently, and I experienced a sudden burst of appreciation for having been in her class.

My first memory of her is looking at my grade on her first test: 24% correct. It was the lowest test score I ever got. There was internal stress. Miss Idleman asked that two of us stay after class. The other scholar's score was 14%, but that gave me no relief. (Today he is a school principal whose Ph.D. is as close as a bit of paperwork.) The two of us played football, this was fall, and Miss Idleman told us that because we were staying after school afternoons, we could not play or practice until our grades were above 60%.

Missing practice was not a burden to me as Coach Bolding (another light in my life, and friend to this day) and teammates may recall, but the idea of not being on the team, of not getting whatever cool factor accrued from playing, well, that shook me up. The begging and groveling were to no avail, it was pass, or pay to get into the games (actually as a band member I could still play, but not football and mostly at halftime).

In the beginning we were to be out indefinitely. Then Miss Idleman came to the idea that she would retest us with different questions, equally difficult or more difficult, and when we passed, we would be able to play, but would remain on probation for the quarter. We were out a week before we retested and passed. I have no remembrance what my score was, but I was back in black, er, ah, red and white.

My interest in English never let up. Thanks to Miss Idleman I did well in college English, a subject used to screen students, to flunk them out, in that benighted era when standards had meaning and alibis didn't. Further, she was one of a very few teachers who demanded more of the "pet" type student used to obtaining the odd gratuitous "A" or "B" for work that was more neat and organized than a demonstration of star quality. I enjoyed their discomfort, it being one of the few times we shared an emotion.

There were a few other marvelous teachers, Louis Domenick, Tom Kuhn, Harold Miller, Bob Boal, Jim Zimmerman, the late Hans Siertl, but this is for Miss Idleman, a teacher who didn't back down. As always with the best of the best, you were more than your title, English Instructor; you were an example. Thank you.

Sincerely,
W. L. Welch

GOP CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS OPENED - Local Republican Party officeholders and candidates gathered in downtown Oakland this week for the opening of the party's campaign headquarters. Seated is Wilma Calhoun, and standing behind her, from the left, are Joseph DiSimone, Wendell Beltzel, Arzella Parsons, John Sines, William Skipper, Charlotte Sebold, Brenda Butcher, and Russell Sines. In the next row are Joseph Peck, Wilmer Margrott, Fred Holliday, DeCorsey Bolden, David Beard, Patty Glover, Sheila Tasker-O'Neill, Chester Sines, and Lisa Thayer-Welch. In the back row are Larry Tichnell, George Edwards, David Martin, and Clifford DeWitt.

TREASURE ISLAND HELPS TO WARM THE CHILDREN — The Republican newspaper's Warm the Children effort was given a boost this week by the management of the Treasure Island department store. Jeff Purvis, a popular race car driver, donated the use of his race car at Treasure Island last weekend, where children paid $2 each to sit in the vehicle and have their pictures taken. The money raised, nearly $125, was then donated to Warm the Children. This will be the second year for the effort, coordinated by the newspaper staff, through which local children in need are provided with new winter clothing and footwear. The effort will be officially under way in early October, although donations have also already been received from the Junior Woman's Civic Club, the Civic Club of Oakland, and the Frontier Festival for Friends. Pictured above, left to right, are Kenny Schmidt, manager of Treasure Island; Mary McEwen, coordinator for Warm the Children; and John Hegemen, assistant manager of the store. Schmidt is pictured below as he tries out Purvis's car.

WHAT TO DO WITH A KNOCKED-OUT TOOTH

Each year accidents lead to between 1 and 3 million teeth "knocked out" because of accidents.

But all is not lost. Follow these basic rules, and with luck the tooth may be saved.

FOR A PERMANENT TOOTH: (If you are unsure whether the tooth is a baby tooth or an adult (permanent) tooth, always assume the tooth is permanent.)

1. Only touch the crown of the tooth. NEVER TOUCH THE ROOT.
2. Only clean with water.
3. If possible, replace the tooth in the socket. (Be careful and slow. If successful hold the tooth in place by gently biting.)
4. If you are unable to replace the tooth, place it in either the MOUTH or MILK.
5. As quickly as possible, see your dentist.

Wheeling Orchestra To Again Perform At Buckwheat Fest

For the fifth consecutive year, The Wheeling Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Maestra Rachael Worby, will be appearing at the Preston County Buckwheat Festival, set this year for Sept. 24 through Sept. 27 in Kingwood.

The performance is set for Sunday, Sept. 27, at 2 p.m., in the Preston High School auditorium. Reserved seats are available at a cost of $12, and may be obtained by calling the Kingwood office of WesBanco at 304-329-0585.

This year's program, "Crazy for George," will feature music by George Gershwin, and will include such favorites as I Got Rhythm, The Man I Love, Someone To Watch Over Me, Embraceable You, and Fascinatin' Rhythm, as well as the seldom heard Stairway To Paradise, Lady Be Good, A Foggy Day, Nice Work If You Can Get It, and many more Gershwin hits.

The symphony's performance at the Buckwheat Festival is sponsored by the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department, with financial assistance from the West Virginia Commission on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts Challenge Program, and support from the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation Outreach Fund of the Wheeling Symphony, the Banks of WesBanco, and Sheidow Bronze Corporation. Special help was provided by the West Virginia Department of Culture and History, Arts and Humanities Division.

AURORA/EGLON NEWS

LIPSCOMB-SMITH REUNION

Descendants of David Raswell and Iva Inez (Lipscomb) Smith will meet for a reunion on Sunday, Sept. 6, at the big pavilion in Camp Horseshoe at Leadmine. The basket dinner will be shared at 1 p.m. and all family are asked to bring along a friend and come to enjoy the afternoon.

COMMUNITY CALENDARS

Those who have not been contacted concerning listings and purchase of a community calendar may contact either Mary Radford at 735-3300 or Mickey Ball at 735-3607.

The Aurora Youth League is again sponsoring this effort and would appreciate the community's cooperation. September 6 has been set as the deadline for accepting orders. Listings (birthdays, anniversaries, in memory, or meeting dates) are 40¢ each, calendars are $4.

SMORGASBORD

The Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building will be the site for a smorgasbord dinner on Sept. 19, with serving from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. Dinners will be $6 for adults, $3 for children 6 to 12, and children under 6 may eat free. The public is welcome.

FALL FESTIVAL

An annual fall festival will be held at the Stemple Ridge United Methodist Church on Saturday evening, Sept. 5, from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. There will be hot sandwiches, pies, cakes, and ice cream, plus guess cakes and cake walks. The public is invited.

SNYDER REUNION

The annual Snyder family reunion will be held at the Aurora memorial building on Sunday, Sept. 6, with the basket lunch to be served at 12:30 p.m.

ELIMINATION DINNER

An elimination dinner, held Aug. 21 at the Aurora fire hall, was hosted by the Mountain Lions Club for the purpose of providing funds for its many community projects. The club expresses its thanks to the community for its support.

Principal winners were Roger Forman, John Slawter, Deloris Slawter, Fred Snyder, Ron and Faye Bishop, Harlan Wolf, Tom Lewis, Tim Goff, and Randy Combo.

Funds are used to help persons in the community who need financial assistance with problems of sight, hearing, and other health-related issues. Those in need of such assistance may contact the Sight, Hearing, and Health Committee chairman, Willard Roth, or another Mountain Lions Club member.

SNYDER BIRTH

Alan and Lesa Snyder of Aurora announce the Aug. 28 birth of their second child, a daughter, at Preston Memorial Hospital. The little girl was 22½ inches long, weighed 9 pounds, 5½ ounces, and is named Emily Brook. Her older brother, Wyatt, welcomed her home.

Maternal grandparents are Wayne and Jane Lipscomb of Morgantown. Paternal grandparents are Jackie and Alma Snyder, Aurora.

DEATHS

Relatives here were notified of the death of David Lantz, 35, the son of Alvah and Marjorie Lantz of Mason, Ill., who died August 28 at his home in Georgia. His death is attributed to cancer.

In addition to his parents and his wife Bridget, he is survived by three brothers, Dan, Ron, and Gary, and two half-brothers, Rick and Mike Lantz.

Karl Gustafson of Albuquerque, N.M., died Aug. 31 at a hospital there. He was a son of Swan Agustus and Lephia (Werner) Gustafson, and was reared at Albright. His wife Marjorie and three children, Karl Jr., Eric, and Karin, survive.

BLAMBLE BIRTH

Their second child, a daughter, was born August 29 to Terry and Jackie Blamble of Aurora. Danielle Rae weighed 7 pounds, 4-3/4 ounces, and was 21 inches in length upon arrival at Preston Memorial Hospital. Her brother is Jonathon.

Everett and Shirley Blamble of Stemple Ridge are the paternal grandparents, Martha Cramer of Bruceton Mills, the maternal grandmother. Great-grandparents are Ernest and Betty Dumire of Horse Shoe Run, Hazel Blamble of Stemple Ridge, and the late Elwood Blamble, Reed and Beatrice Cramer of Terra Alta, Floyd Baker of Ohio, and the late Marion Scott of South Carolina.

POTATO FESTIVAL

The Annual Potato Festival will be Sept. 12 and 13, at Mt. Grove, beginning each day at 10 a.m. Sponsors of this annual event are the members of Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department.

There is an abundance of food and live entertainment, crafts, a flea market, and this year a classic car show sponsored by the Mountaintop Cruisers Club.

The festival grounds are located south of Silver Lake on U.S. 219 and north of Thomas.

BOOK SALE

A book sale is planned at the Aurora Community Building on Saturday, Sept. 5, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Thousands of titles are available for sale, according to Alice Penzo, and will be sold at a cost of 10 cents to $1. Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase materials for the Aurora library.

Daniel Spaid, Shannon Stieringer, Josh [illegible], Lori Dixon and Rhett Beckman are at Fairmont State.

At West Virginia Wesleyan are Becky Snyder and Melissa Callahan.

Michelle Shaffer and Melanie Roberson are attending Shepherd State College.

Meghan Durst is beginning her studies at Shenandoah University at Winchester, Va.

At Computer Tech, Fairmont, are Aaron Layman, Jason Roth, and Brian Gatto. Crissy Forman has returned to East Tennessee State. Chris Roth is at West Virginia Junior College in Morgantown.

Denton Skipper is taking classes at Garrett Community College.

Amy Hartsell is completing studies in Resort Area Management at Glenville State College.

Michael Hartsell is in Cleveland, Ohio, at Ohio Auto and Diesel Technical College.

Elizabeth Wotring has returned to Greenville College in Illinois.

Ashley Crowe is attending Columbia Bible College in Columbia, S.C., and her brother Andrew is attending Taylor University in Indiana.

Amanda Teets is back in Marietta College in Ohio.

Tim Harsh has returned to Bryant College in Smithfield, R.I.

PERSONAL MENTION

Visitors last Tuesday with Ellis and Marie Teets were Mrs. Teets's cousins, Bernice DiDio, Leona Yeager, and Vivian Ghost.

Grace Denison Ashby of Aurora was taken Sunday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital and admitted for tests.

Clifton Arnold of Aurora had outpatient surgery last week at Ruby Memorial Hospital.

Helen and Alan Lipscomb, and Maynard and Bonnie Lantz, all Aurora, returned last week from a vacation which took them to the northern U.S.A. and to Novia Scotia. They were in Maine, Quebec, Canada, Labrador, and parts of Newfoundland. They saw Signal Hill, Cape Spear, Cape Bonaventure, and other sites. During their stay, Mr. and Mrs. Lipscomb visited in Cornor Brook, Newfoundland, with her cousin, Fred Ford, and family.

A reunion of the family of Paul and Lucy Wilt was held Sunday at Oglebay Park with the three children present. Lewis and Hazel Durst and their children and grandchildren, Bob and Lois Strawser, several of their children and grandchildren, and Helen Winters, three of her children and several grandchildren were present.

The John Crowes were on vacation this week, which included transporting their children to their colleges.

Pianist Sabak To Give Concert In Petersburg

Linda DiGiustino Sabak, a native of Mt. Storm, will present a program of piano music as the opening event of the Grant County Arts Council's 1998-1999 season. She will perform Monday, Sept. 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the Petersburg Presbyterian Church on Main Street in Petersburg. A reception will follow the presentation, which is free and open to the public.

Ms. Sabak, who resides in Fairmont, is professor of music at West Virginia Wesleyan College, where she teaches piano, music history, and a January term course titled "Beyond The Great Gate: Music in Russian Culture." She earned a doctor of musical arts degree in piano performance at West Virginia University, where she studied with James Miltenberger.

Her interest in the music of the Czech lands and Eastern Europe has led to performances at international festivals in San Diego, Toronto, Boston, and St. Louis. She has also performed piano music by Smetana on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C., at an anniversary commemoration hosted by the Czechoslovak Society of Arts and Sciences. She performs frequently in north central West Virginia, and has presented solo recitals at the Huntington Museum of Art, the Bedford Springs Festival for the Performing Arts in Pennsylvania, and the Music at Penn Alps summer concert series in Grantsville.

A special invitation is extended to all area music students. This program is presented with financial assistance from the W.Va. Commission ou the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts.

"A Taste Of Scotland" Set In Kingwood

"A Taste of Scotland," featuring a variety of Scottish entertainment and food, is planned at the historic McGrew House, 109 E. Main Street in Kingwood, beginning at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 12.

Entertainment will include bagpipe music by the Garrett Highlanders at 11 a.m., a horseshoe pitching contest, also set for 11 a.m.; and pageantry by the Order of the Rhododendron at 1 p.m. A Civil War re-enactors campsite will be included in the day's activities, and a parade featuring families of Scottish descent is set to begin at 1:30 p.m.

Food will be served on-site from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., and potted chrysanthemums will be available for sale.

An authentic Scottish dinner and entertainment will conclude the day at the Kingwood Community Building, located on Brown Avenue. The dinner begins at 6 p.m. and is by ticket only. The cost is $9, and for more information, persons may call 329-1637, 329-0221, or 379-7621.

All proceeds from the event will be used to continue the restoration efforts of the McGrew House, which is now included on the National Register of Historic Places.

Festival Show To Feature The Platters

It's back to pony tails, letter sweaters, and flat-top haircuts when the 1950s style singing group, The Platters, arrive during the 57th Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival's Music Spectacular on Friday, Sept. 25.

Lead singer Monroe Powell, who has been with the group for 25 years, will be joined by Wilson Williams, Kenn Johnson, Al Holland, and Verceal Whitaker.

The Platters' performance is sponsored by the Bruceton Bank, and show time in the Preston High School auditorium is set for 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available at $12 each by calling 304-329-3387.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CANDIDATE

David Beard

COUNTY COMMISSIONER DISTRICT I

I have always held the belief that community service is a responsibility shared by all. Having lived and raised a family in Garrett County for many years, I have tremendous respect for the volunteers who make our county a safer and richer place to live.

Volunteer firemen, rescue squad personnel, coaches, scout leaders and members of service organizations, as well as the people who denote time and money to support community oriented associations, deserve much admiration and gratitude. Since I am a civic minded individual, I am proud of my own accomplishments and involvement in various community service, school and government organizations and boards. I have been an active member of the Oakland/Mt. Lake Park Lions Club and a charter member and staunch supporter of the Southern Garrett Athletic Association. I have also serves on the Garrett County Board of Election Supervisors for several years and served a term as president.

My continued involvement in the community has kept me in touch with the needs and goals of the people of Garrett County, and I believe that if we all work together we can build a better future for all of us!

As your county commissioner your concerns will be my concerns.

Tire Theft

Taken during the burglary was a $200 Sharp VCR, a $100 microwave, brand unspecified, a $200 wooden corner rack used to store CDs, 150 CDs valued at $20 each, a $150 gold chain necklace with a cross bearing four diamonds, a $30 tall jewelry box with a turn table on top to hold necklaces, and other items of unspecified value, including a flat jewelry box containing a .22-caliber Dillinger pistol, a man's wedding band, and a gold tie tack.

A set of four Sony brand waterproof boat stereo speakers, with a total value of $220, were stolen recently from a boat stored in the 1800 block of Stockslager Road. A neighbor told the deputies investigating this theft that in early August she had filed a report with the Maryland State Police of the theft of four Kenwood speakers from her boat as well.

A grill was stolen recently from the front of a 1993 Ford truck parked overnight for repairs at Tressler's Garage on Old Crellin Road. The grill was valued at $225.

C.P. Martin's Store on H Street at Maryland Highway was the scene of an attempted burglary in the early morning hours of Aug. 24. The owner discovered that the back door had been damaged and pried open, but nothing had appeared missing. Damage to the door was estimated at $500.

Citizens with information on any of these incidents are encouraged to call the sheriff's office at 301-334-1911, or the Crime Solvers number at 301-334-1975.

SEPTEMBER IS "FORGET ME NOT" MONTH — The Garrett County commissioners were joined this week by members of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) and the DAV Auxiliary (DAVA) to proclaim September as Forget Me Not Month. This is an annual observance, during which DAV and DAVA members distribute simulated forget-me-nots to serve as reminders of the lasting debt of gratitude due to all who have fought to protect the freedoms of United States citizens. The proceeds from the campaign are used to benefit disabled and needy veterans and their families. The proclamation states that through this effort, citizens can show, at least in a small way, that they "still truly appreciate the tremendous sacrifices these veterans had to make in the honorable name of liberty." Pictured left to right are Chairman Wayne Wilt; Commissioner Wayne Johnson; C.B. McCrum Sr., adjutant; Wayne O. Stewart, DAV member; Wilda Sanders, past commander of the DAVA; and Commissioner Gary Fratz.

Labor Day Events Set At Jennings Randolph Lake

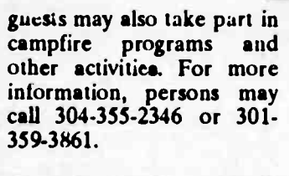
Several special activities have been planned for this Labor Day weekend at the Jennings Randolph Lake. The events are free to the public.

Nature films will be presented in the Robert W. Craig Campground amphitheater beginning at 9 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 5, and again on Sunday, Sept. 6. Those wishing to take a tower tour to see the results of the acid mine drainage clean-up projects are to meet at the West Virginia Overlook on Sunday. The walks will be held from 2 until 4 p.m., with each tour beginning on the half-hour.

The W.Va. Overlook is also the site of the "waffle rock," a unique geological feature with a pattern resembling a giant waffle. It was created by erosion and weathering over a period of 300 million years, according to a ranger from the area.

In addition to the tower tours and nature films, guests may also take part in campfire programs and other activities. For more information, persons may call 304-355-2346 or 301-359-3861.

Apple Butter Boil Event Slated By Local State Parks



The Maryland Department of Natural Resources will host its annual apple butter boil and corn roast labor day weekend event this coming Saturday, Sept. 5, at Herrington Manor State Park, and Sunday, Sept. 6, at Swallow Falls State Park.

The Saturday Herrington Manor event features a demonstration of the day-long process of the boiling of apples for apple butter. Samples of the finished product will be available for sale at the end of the day.

Sunday's Swallow Falls event will also feature an apple butter making demonstration, as well as a corn roast and live music. Local recording artist Greg Latta will be on hand to play the hammered dulcimer and other acoustic instruments from 11 to noon and then again from 1 to 2 p.m.

Admission to the events is $2 per person per day, and roasted corn will be available only on Sunday. Person seeking further information may call Herrington Manor at 301-334-9180.

Rams To Begin Soccer Campaign This Saturday

Victories over Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, and Westmar, a best-ever, winning record (7-6), plus being just one goal away from a Western Maryland Interscholastic League championship were among the highlights of the 1997 soccer season for the Southern High Rams, and with a seasoned nucleus of players returning this year, Coach Tom Powers, assistant coach Mel Menker, and the Rams will be setting their sights even higher this year.

The boys' varsity will open its 1998, 13-match regular season schedule this Saturday at home with a 7:30 p.m. match against Fort Hill.

While Coach Powers lost a number of key seniors to graduation, this year's squad includes seven seniors and six juniors, many of whom played nearly year-round in indoor and spring programs with the local Arsenal Football League.

All-Area selection John Andrews leads the group of seniors, which also includes Chris Friend, Nick Glotfelty, Bo Jonson, Chad Lovett, Derrick Nelson, and Jonathan Price.

Southern Garrett Boys' Varsity Soccer '98 Season Schedule

Date	Opponent	Site
9/5	Fort Hill	H
9/8	Northern	H
9/12	Bishop Walsh	H
9/15	Beall	A
9/21	Allegany	A
9/26	Calvary Christian	H
10/3	Allegany	H
10/6	Bishop Walsh	A
10/9	Northern	A
10/10	Tournament - Beall	A
10/15	Mt. Savage	A
10/17	Westmar (no J.V.)	A
10/20	Flintstone	A

All J.V. matches will begin 1½ hours before the scheduled start of the varsity match unless otherwise noted.

Juniors are Caine Chorpenning, Nicholas Fontaine, James Hart, Michael Schwalm, Andrew Rounds, and foreign exchange student Uwe Dietzel.

Sophomore players, a few of whom have earned starting positions, include: Brian Cathell, Ryan Ewing, Andrew Grant, Brandon Heselbach, Nathan Murphy, Timothy Nine, Chris Remley, Dustin Slider, Josh Stephens, and Keith Steyer.

Freshmen, most of whom will play junior varsity, are: Chris Browning, Matthew Burner, Robert Burton, Jimmy Carpenter, Dan Cathell, Brian Fike, David Glotfelty, Arthur Lemley, Chris Menker, Jonathan Neville, Chad Panther, Don Parsons, Bryan Schwalm, and Nick Walthall.

The Rams' 1997 quest for a state title ended when they lost to Allegany in overtime, 4-3, in an opening round game of the West Region IA playoffs.

Following Saturday's opener with Fort Hill, the Rams will host Northern next Tuesday. All junior varsity games will begin one and one-half hours prior to the varsity contests, unless announced otherwise. Bill Lovett is the junior varsity coach.

Christian Men's Softball League Playoffs Continue

Playoff action in the Garrett County Christian Men's Softball League continued this week, with Crellin United Methodist, Glade Mennonite, Bethel United Methodist, Maranatha Assembly of God, Mt. View Mennonite, and Pleasant View Baptist all recording victories.

Crellin UM defeated Pleasant View behind the pitching of Farren Hershman. Hitting home runs for Crellin were Mike Ashby with a grand slam, Roger Bowman, and Jay Bolyard. Mike Dever homered for Pleasant View.

Glade Mennonite topped Oak Park Church of the Brethren, 14-7, with Rick Brenneman getting the win on the mound.

Bethel UM stopped Cornerstone Assembly of God, 15-9, with John Sharpless pitching. Hitting a grand slam for the winners was Ryan Adams, while Sharpless, Oren Yoder, and Jeremy Whitacre also each hit one homer.

Maranatha's win came at the expense of Cornerstone, 24-11, as Tony Bittinger earned the win on the mound. Jason Rush hit a pair of homers for Maranatha, while teammates Gary Hay and Jeff Beitzel added one each.

Glade topped Mt. View, 17-12. Rick Brenneman was the winning pitcher, and Terry Brenneman led the Glade offense with three homers, including one grand slam.

Mt. View edged Cherry Glade Mennonite, 16-15, with Gerald Tice on the mound. Merlin Beachy and Mayard Schrock each homered for Mt. View.

In other games, Pleasant View and Bethel UM each defeated Maple Glen, and Crellin UM topped Maranatha.

In the league's first homerun derby, Paul Edwards won the event by hitting four homers off five pitchers. He was awarded a plaque.

Mt. View Mennonite won the Jeff Roszell Memorial Team Sportsmanship trophy.

A Message from Dave Burdock...

VOTE FOR BOB WATSON

Send MSBA a message!

Dear Garrett County Voter,

I have seen advertising indicating that The Maryland State Bar Association (MSBA) 'endorses Jim Sherbin' for Judge. I checked with Bob Watson and learned that MSBA had not interviewed him or even spoken with him. This piqued my interest even more.

After some investigation, I have learned that the MSBA Board of Governors, at its June meeting, adopted a blanket resolution endorsing all sitting judges on the Circuit Courts and the Courts of Appeals. There was no investigation, no interviews, no evaluations, nothing. It is certain that some or all of the board members Voting knew nothing about the judges who were receiving their 'endorsement' and did not know whether they were opposed. In fact MSBA routinely issues such 'endorsements' at election time.

I have obtained a copy of the MSBA resolution, but was unable to get the minutes of the meeting, which will not be approved until September 15 (election day.) MSBA's press release, used by Judge Sherbin in his advertising, goes well beyond the resolution and contains statements which MSBA had no basis to make.

I have now learned that the MSBA justifies this questionable practice on grounds of its view that judges should not be elected at all. MSBA, a private organization, doesn't like us having the opportunity to select our Circuit Court judges. MSBA has tried to get adopted a Maryland Constitutional Amendment making the Circuit Court judge an appointed position. It was also instrumental in seeing that the District Court judge was not an elected office. It says that judges should not be opposed in elections after they are appointed by the Governor because they are reviewed by a Judicial Selection Commission.

Bob Watson did not apply when Judge Sherbin was appointed, but he was for a number of years an elected member of the Judicial Selection Commission for this district, including the year when Mr. Sherbin applied for the position of District Court judge. Judge Burnett was given that appointment. Does that mean that in MSBA's view, Judge Burnett is more qualified than Judge Sherbin? Bob assures me that the Commission's selection process is relatively informal and far from infallible. I guess MSBA wants us to be stuck with judges for the 15-year term without any say no matter how good or bad they may turn out to be.

This is not intended as a criticism of Judge Sherbin, but MSBA's endorsement of him is less than meaningless. It is based on nothing but MSBA's elitist view that judges should not be beyond our Democratic system. In reality there are few contested judicial elections. The last time we had one here was in 1962. If an appointed judge is doing a good job few lawyers would think of running against him or her. But, there is always that option. MSBA is dominated by judges and lawyers from Baltimore and the Metropolitan Counties. It is understandable why they do not want the public to be able to step in at election time and make changes.

Bob Watson is not a member of the MSBA, electing not to join because of his opposition to its bias, especially on gun control. Judge Sherbin is a member as are many sitting judges.

MSBA's action was not so much an endorsement of Judge Sherbin, or any other particular judge as it was a condemnation of our judicial election system.

Come election day, let's send MSBA a message and elect Bob Watson.

"Please join me in supporting Harland Tichnell for Sheriff of Garrett County because he has the knowledge, experience, dedication, and integrity to fulfill the office. Harland first earned my respect during the several years we both worked in law enforcement in Garrett County. As a hard working Chief Deputy Sheriff, he consistently made his decisions and took actions based upon best interest of the citizens of this county. More recently, we worked together for the past three years in the local child support office. Here he re-affirmed my belief in his aforementioned qualities by his exemplary service to the local citizenry.

Now it's our turn to reward Harland for his past service to us and our families. Let's see to it that he's elected to be our next Sheriff!"

HISTORY WILL BE MADE in Garrett County this week, as high school girls' soccer will make its debut at both Southern and Northern high schools. Pictured above are the members of the Southern team, coached by Nan Gangler and Ron Petrella, and below are the members of the Northern squad, coached by Katie Kane and Lisa Lantz. Above, from left, kneeling, are: Falon Stutzman, manager; Megan Conroy, Sarah Teets, Krissy Kesner, Megan Burner, Becky Martin, Bonnie Riley, Miriam Sincell, Jenny Hickmen, Gina Reeves, and Jennifer Filsinger. Standing, same order, are: Coach Gangler, Alicia Sauaman, Annie Neville, Laura Hollingaworth, Kristen Spurrier, Ashley Spady, Laura Friend, Desiree Spady, Jessica Baker, Charlena Reeves, Alison Ulino, and Coach Petrella. Northern Huskies pictured below are, from left, kneeling: Emily Downton, Emily Rawe, Trisha Kamp, Ashley Warnick, Rachel Bruch, and Katie Roberts. Standing, same order, are: Amy Umbel, Brooke Butler, Ashley Elliott, Kara Kenner, Lindsey Doerr, Amy Tressler, and Randi Beiler.

READY TO KICK OFF another soccer season are the Northern High varsity and junior varsity soccer teams, which will open their reapective seasons at Beall this Saturday. The Northern varsity is one of the youngest squads in the five-year history of the sport at Northern, but Coach Tom Ables sees a more experienced group of freshmen and sophomores who have come into the program this year. Pictured from left above, kneeling, are: Greg Whittemore, Jason Preston, Jason Fontaine, Eric Durst, Mark Roberts, Guy Beitzel, Jimmy Kenner, Mark Bergstrom, Adam Brenneman, Elliott Perfetti, Sam Miller, Chad Stellman, and Jensen Long. Lloyd, Ronnie Lipscomb, Sam Miller, Dan Umbel, Shane Russell, Mike Fletcher, and Jason Fickes. Not present for the photo was Brandon Kling.

Girls' High School Soccer To Make Debut This Week

High school girls' soccer will make its debut in Garrett County this coming week, as the Southern Rams open a 12-match schedule this Saturday at home against Fort Hill and the Northern Huskies begin their dozen-match season next Wednesday at Beall. It is also the first year for girls' varsity soccer in Allegany County, as a total of seven schools in the two counties added programs this year, so each team is beginning with "a clean slate."

Nan Gangler is the head coach of the Rams, with Ron Petrella assisting, while Katie Kane is coaching the Northern girls and is assisted by Lisa Lantz.

Twenty players turned out for the Rams, including: Jessica Baker, Megan Burner, Megan Conroy, Jennifer Filsinger, Laura Friend, Jennifer Hickman, Laura Hollingsworth, Krissy Kesner, Becky Martin, Annie Neville, Gina Reeves, Charlena Reeves, Bonnie Riley, Miriam Sincell, Ashley Spady, Desiree Spady, Kristen Spurrier, Alicia Sausman, Sarah Tects, and Alison Ulino.

"I've really been impressed with the level of skills and the physical condition of my girls," Gangler said. "Most of them have played for several years in the Mountaintop Soccer Association youth program, as well as on the Arsenal Football League girls' traveling squad. They're young, but many of them have a lot of experience."

Gangler said that she expects the Bishop Walsh and Allegany girls to be among the best in the area, with Fort Hill and Northern "probably somewhere in the middle."

The Rams will host Fort Hill this Saturday at 4:30 p.m., which will be the first of a three-match evening. The Southern boys' junior varsity will play at 6 p.m., followed by the varsity at 7:30.

The young Northern team consists of 13 girls, including: Randi Beiler, Rachel Bruch, Brooke Butler, Lindsey Doerr, Emily Downton, Ashley Elliott, Trisha Kamp, Kara Kenner, Emily Rawe, Amy Umbel, and Ashley Warnick, all freshmen; Katie Roberts, a junior; and senior Amy Tressler.

"We are a very young team, but most of the girls have a lot of soccer experience," Coach Kane said, noting that most of them have also played for several years in the MSA league.

"We are concentrating on fine tuning the girls' skills and combining this with their energy and enthusiasm," she said. "It should be a fun season."

The Huskies will travel to Beall next Tuesday for a 7 p.m. contest with the Mountaineers. Their home opener will be Monday, Sept. 14, against Bishop Walsh.

Young Husky Booters To Open Season At Beall

With only four seniors and four juniors on his roster, Northern High School varsity soccer coach Tom Ables knows he and the Huskies have their work cut out for them as they open their 1998 season. The Huskies will travel to Beall this Saturday for their first match, slated to kick off at 11:30 a.m.

"I'm the eternal optimist," Ables said. "Even though 13 of our 28 kids are freshmen and eight of them are sophomores, most of the younger kids have been playing soccer for a number of years. The Mountaintop Soccer Association program is really starting to pay off. We could well have a better season because our new kids are coming in with far better skills than ever before."

The only returning seniors this year are Josh Neubert, Josh Henderson, B.J. Lloyd, and Derrick DeWitt, while juniors include Shane Russell, Dan Umbel, Jay Shonio, and Josh Gilpin.

Among the more experienced soccer players on the team, however, are the sophomores and freshmen, most of whom have "graduated" from the MSA youth league. Sophomores are Jeremy Moyers, Jimmy Kenner, Andy Fike, Sam Miller, Mike Fletcher, Jason Fickes, and Ronnie Lipscomb. Freshman players, most of whom will play junior varsity, are: Jason Preston, Mark Roberts, Brandon Kling, Greg Whittemore, Mark Bergstrom, Guy Beitzel, Elliott Perfetti, Adam Brenneman, Eric Durst, Chad Stallman, Jason Fontaine, Shane Mayle, and Jensen Long.

"We scrimmaged against Allegany and we held our own very well," Ables said. "In looking at our schedule, we know that Westmar and Flintstone are both down a little bit, and Fort Hill lost a host of their players to graduation. Southern, Bishop Walsh, and Mt. Savage, under new coach Ray Kiddy, should be the area's stronger teams. But we plan to be in every match.

"We also can't afford many injuries because of our lack of depth," Ables added.

The Huskies finished with an overall mark of 4-10 last season, but made it to the second round of the West Region 1A playoffs before being topped by South Hagerstown, 3-1. Many of their losses in the regular season were by a single goal.

After Saturday's match at Beall, the Huskies will travel to Oakland next Tuesday to meet cross-county rival Southern in a 7:30 p.m. match. Their home opener will be Sept. 15 against Flintstone.

All junior varsity games will begin one and one-half hours prior to the varsity matches.

Veteran Ram Squad Among Favorites To Make Playoffs

"A playoff-calibre team" is one term Southern High School coach Tom Woods uses to describe his 1998 squad, which will open its campaign on the road this Friday night at Keyser. However, the 19-year Ram mentor is quick to add that his squad will be playing perhaps its most difficult schedule ever, and that a lack of depth could become an immediate factor in the event of injuries.

After posting a modest 5-4 record last season, the Rams will take the field this year with seven starters back on each side of the ball, including nine senior returning starters. Toss in 16 juniors, many of whom have both experience and talent, and one would anticipate a better finish this year, and quite possibly a playoff spot.

"We have also had the best off-season program since I've been coaching here," Woods said. "We have had 40 to 50 kids working in the weight room since last November, so our overall strength and conditioning should be solid."

The road will be long and tough, however, as the Rams' rather awesome 10-game schedule includes: Allegany, selected to be the area's best team; Northwest, a new school in Montgomery County that was formed from students from a pair of quad-A schools; always-strong Musselman, which opened its campaign Friday night by crushing Martinsburg, 48-12; Grafton, which has gone undefeated in the regular season the past three years; Tucker County, a team that returns 22 seniors and 18 starters; and an apparently much improved Preston County team, which also opened Friday with an upset win over Bridgeport.

"One good feature of such a difficult schedule is that we believe seven or eight wins against such big schools will make us a playoff contender," Woods said, "and we really do believe that we will match up pretty well in most of our games, as long as we can stay healthy. Our biggest concern is a depth problem at several positions."

Fifty-eight players are out for football at Southern this season, with 28 currently on the varsity roster and 30 on the junior varsity list.

Expected to start Friday night at Keyser on defense are: junior Mike Lantz (5-9, 180) and senior Robert Unger (6-1, 218) at the end positions; seniors Tommy Diehl (5-11, 260), Ryan Channel (6-0, 235), and Virgil Moats (5-9, 205), and sophomore Toby Tasker (6-1, 215) at tackle and nose guard spots; senior Billy Stoner (6-1, 205), juniors Josh Bosley (5-10, 175), Mickey Chapman (5-11, 170), T.J. Riley (6-0, 205), and Jason Rohrbaugh (5-11, 165), and sophomores Steve Edwards (6-0, 180) and Jeremy Hayhurst (5-9, 178) at linebacker spots; three-year starting senior Jason Weaver (5-9, 172) and senior returnee Nick Dolan at the corners; and senior Keith Parks (5-11, 155) sharing time with junior Christian Warfield (5-9, 155) at safety. Defensive tackle Josh Teets is among the starters, but is nursing a stress fracture and will be out of the line-up for at least another week.

READY FOR SOME FOOTBALL are the Southern High School varsity players, who will open their 1998 season this Friday at Keyser. The Rams are a pre-season pick to be among the area's leaders, as seven defensive and seven offensive starters are back from last season's 5-4 team. Returning for his 19th season as head coach of the squad is Tom Woods, pictured above left, giving instruction this week to several of his recruits. See pre-season story.

Defensive formations this season will include both 5-3 and 4-4 sets.

The Southern offensive unit, which will use the I-formation as its bread-and-butter set, but still employ some wing-T, will feature Weaver back at the tailback position after being among the area's leaders in rushing last season, and Bosley returning as the starting fullback.

Justin Liller, a 6-2, 162-pound junior, has assumed the starting quarterback role following the graduation of Chad Warnick. "Justin is a good option quarterback, he has nice size, and he will have a big strong line to work behind," Woods said.

That line will feature Moats at center, Stoner and Unger at the guard spots, and Diehl and Channel at tackle positions. "Our guards, Toby (Stoner) and Robert (Unger), are the real focal point of our line," Woods noted. Also expected to see considerable playing time on the line will be sophomore John Hayhurst (5-11, 175) at guard and junior Andrew Rickman (5-9, 165) at center.

Rohrbaugh will start at tight end, Dolan will return at the slot position, and Parks and Warfield will be at the split end spots.

Handling the kicking chores will be Jeremy Hayhurst for placekicking and Bosley as the punter.

"We will be a power-oriented team because of our strength and we will have good — not great, but good — quickness," Woods said.

Even though Keyser dropped its opener Friday night, the Golden Tornados played well against the previously mentioned, senior-dominated Tucker County team before falling, 27-14.

"Keyser is returning one of the more explosive backfields we will face this year," Woods said, "which is anchored by senior fullback Rodney Twyman (6-1, 190), halfback LaJavious Fagan (5-9, 160), and junior halfback Scott Ravenscroft (6-0, 175). Fagan is the most explosive of the two backs and Twyman is the most powerful."

The Keyser coaching staff is employing two quarterbacks in its wing-T offense this season: Thad Burner, a 5-9, 150-pound junior who is a quick, running back, and junior Blaine Hott (6-1, 170), who is the passing quarterback.

The Tornadoes' offensive line is anchored by senior guards David Foote (6-0, 230) and Doug Wolfe (6-0, 225), and junior tight end Parker Whiteman (6-0, 200).

Defensive standouts include Wolfe and Foote at the end positions, senior Josh Decker (6-2, 190), and Twyman and Whiteman, who are described by Woods as the "best set of linebackers in the area."

"We believe we will go into the game with the advantage of size and strength," Woods said, "while they will go in with the advantages of having played a game already, and playing at home."

The Rams' home opener will be the following Friday, Sept. 11, against Musselman.

"We believe we have a good team, but we know that we still have to prove it, one week at a time," Woods said. "We scrimmaged a very good Moorefield team and controlled the game, and we scrimmaged Fort Hill and played them dead even, so we're encouraged and excited to play a game."

Assistant coaches for the Rams this year are: Dave Bosley, Tom Bosley, Scott Harvey, Jay Stewart, Fred Gregg, Mike Stewart, Andrew Woods, Mike Sloan, Seth Tressler, and Jasou Miller.

Raiders, Vikes Win In Youth Football Games

The Oakland Raiders and the Parsons Vikings were victorious in Oakland Youth Football League action this past weekend, as the Raiders rolled over the Oakland Ravens, 25-2, and the Vikings whipped the Oakland Jets, 35-6, in NFL Division play.

The results left the Raiders and Vikings with 2-0 records, and the two teams will meet each other this Saturday at 5 p.m. in Parsons. The Ravens and the Jets are both 0-2, and will face each other in Saturday's noon game.

In the NCAA Division action, the Gregg's Pharmacy Mountaineers defeated the Gonder Insurance Tigers, 40-25, the F.O.P. Fighting Irish topped the Team One Terps, 38-14, the Rinker Construction Nittany Lions edged the First United Buckeyes, 53-51, and the Tigers whipped the Buckeyes, 51-20.

The Nittany Lions, Fighting Irish, and Mountaineers are all unbeaten at 2-0, the Tigers are 1-2, the Terps are 0-2, and the Buckeyes are 0-3.

In games this Saturday, the Lions will meet the Tigers and the Mountaineers will face the Fighting Irish in 9 a.m. games, and the Terps will play the Buckeyes and the Irish will meet the Lions in the 10 a.m. games.

Huskies Accepting Challenge Of Youth And Inexperience

With only 10 returning varsity players, including four starters on offense and four on defense, Northern High School coach Phil Carr and his young team of Huskies have a challenging season ahead of them, a season that will open this Friday night at home against Bishop Walsh.

"We had only 19 players on our varsity roster last year, and nine of them graduated," the second-year Husky coach said. "We have 24 on the varsity roster this year, but 14 of them have never played at this level. So, it's going to be an interesting year."

However, Coach Carr sees some positives and is excited to get the season under way. "We're a little bigger in physical size this year, and our overall team quickness should be one of our strengths," he said, "plus, we made some changes last year and our kids who are back this year will know our system better. We're definitely farther ahead at this point than we were last year."

Carr is making only minor adjustments to his unbalanced-line,split-backfield offense, and plans to run the option more this season.

Gone from last season's team are Jimmy Green, who was one of the top running backs in the area, quarterback Scott Sisler, and all-purpose receivers/backs Jeremy Hoover and Joey Wilhelm.

The returning starters on the Husky offense include senior center Corey Sisler (6-0, 170), senior split end Jeff Carr (6-1, 150), senior strong tackle John Carey (6-0, 225), and junior quick tackle Ryan Savage (6-2, 225). Also back, after playing in a reserve role at quarterback last year, is junior Adam Brenneman (5-10, 160).

Expected to start at slot this week will be sophomore Mark Wolf (5-9, 160), while junior Nathan Resh (6-1, 185) will start at tight end. Starting guards will be juniors Josh Resh (6-1, 185) and Brad Wilkins (6-0, 160). Junior Ryan Brenneman (5-11, 180) will get the nod at fullback and senior Mike Auvil (5-9, 155) will start at halfback.

Returning starters on defense are Savage at defensive end, Sisler at middle linebacker, Brenneman at corner, and senior Jed Wilhelm (5-9, 155) at safety. Nathan Resh will start at the other defensive end position, Josh Resh and Wilkins will start at tackle, and sophomore Toby Gilpin (6-3, 180) will start at nose guard. Joining Sisler in the linebacking corps will be Auvil and Wolf, while sophomore Rob Dozier (6-5, 195) will be the other starting corner with Brenneman.

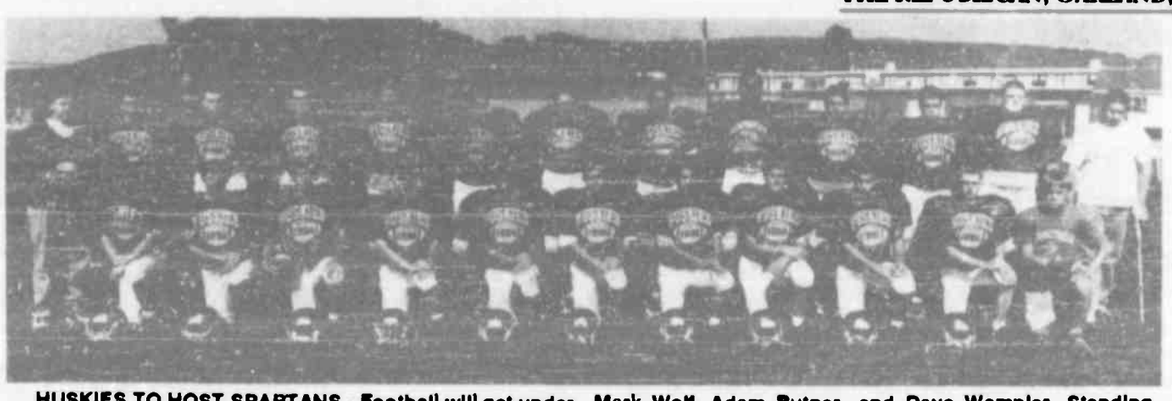
"We will basically stick with a 5-3/5-2 monster defense," Carr said, "and as with our offense, we will try to capitalize on our speed."

The first contest for the Huskies, against Bishop Walsh, should feature two similar teams, as the Spartans also struggle with small numbers. "They have three seniors and 13 juniors, and we have six seniors and 14 juniors," Carr said. "One problem for us is that their juniors have played a lot of varsity ball, and ours haven't. Plus they have also played a game already. Size-wise, we should match up pretty evenly."

The Spartans dropped a 28-6 decision to Clay-Battelle Saturday in Cumberland to spoil Coach Tom Oglebay's debut as the new head coach of BW; however, the Cee-Bees finished last season with an 8-3 mark and a spot in the West Virginia Class A playoffs.

The Spartans are led this year by junior fullback Tony Caporale, who gained 83 yards on 15 carries last week; senior running back Chris Greise; and junior quarterback Matt Greise.

"Defensively, they are led by Caporale and Greise at linebacker spots," Carr said, "with Caporale as their best athlete by far."



The ranks of the Huskies have already been hurt with the loss of three players to injury; however, all three are expected to return within the next two or three weeks. Junior Dale Hetrick broke his leg on the first day of practice, but should be ready by the third or fourth game; junior lineman David Wampler is out with an injured hand, and junior Jason Perry is sidelined with a shoulder injury. Wampler and Perry are expected to return to action next week.

In looking ahead on the schedule, Coach Carr believes his team's greatest challenges will be when the Huskies face Tucker County in their third game, when they host Beall, and when they are on the road at Southern and Petersburg.

"We scrimmaged Frankfort and played them well defensively, and we had a lot of success in a round-robin scrimmage with Hancock, South Hagerstown, and Victor Cullen. But we have so many new kids and a lot to learn.

"Our goal this year is to have a winning season, or at least a .500 season, and to learn a lot in the process," Carr said. "We're going to do the best we can with what we have, every week. If we can get everyone healthy and then stay healtky, we believe we will be successful."

Friday's kickoff at Husky stadium is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Garrett Alumni Contest To Be Played Sept. 12

The 1998 Garrett Community College alumni baseball game, which will commemorate 25 years of baseball at GCC, will be played Saturday, Sept. 12, beginning at 5 p.m. Coach Ed Wildesen has sent a letter of invitation to former GCC players to participate in the event and also invites spectators to attend.

Wildesen noted that 25 years of baseball at GCC have yielded 21 players who were drafted by Major League teams. The Lakers won the Maryland JUCO Conference title in 1977, despite the fact that Garrett is the seventh smallest college in the nation that plays Division I Junior College baseball.

Garrett can also boast one of the finest college baseball facilities in the state and region, and one of the few parks in the conference that has lights. A new fence with a warning track has been completed, and a new 10' x 36' scoreboard has been installed. A greens mower is used to manicure the infield.

Coach Wildesen said that efforts are under way to have all former GCC coaches (Dennis Fearnow, Phil Caruso, and Lawrence Nesselrodt) present at the alumni game.

Senior League To Begin Season

The Senior Citizens' Bowling League will begin its winter league schedule next Thursday, Sept. 10, according to Arleigh Hauser, president.

Senior citizens who have already registered for the league are asked to report to Par-Matt Lanes in Oakland at noon on that date. Bowling will begin following a brief organizational meeting.

Women Golfers Meet For Day Of Point Play

Members of the Women's Golf Association of the Oakland Golf Club met for "point" play August 20, with one point given for bogie, two for par, three for birdie, and four for eagle. June Bray won in Flight One with 36 points, Angie Bosley took second place with 30, and Bobbie Seward and Pat Filsinger tied for third with 29.

Mary Spencer and Cheryl Wotherspoon tied for first in the Second Flight with 23, while Carolyn Deverse led the Third Flight with 38 points, Carolyn Sleightholm took second place with 35, and Rita Humberson was third with 21. Fourth Flight saw a tie with Helen Nordeck and Karon Schnably, each with 25 points.

Three holes were selected at random after play on August 27 and the scores totaled without the three holes. Bobbie Seward won first place in Flight One, carding 73; Pat Filsinger and Marianna Naylor tied for second place with 74; and Annis Colaw's 76 was good for third place.

In the Second Flight Nellie Inskeep won with 82, Mary Spencer was second with 84, and Cheryl Wotherspoon scored 85 for third place. Kaz Hamill won first place in the Third Flight with 90, C. Deverse and C. Sleightholm tied for second place with 92, and Rita Humberson won third place with 100. Marion Boehmer's 97 won first place in the Fourth Flight, while R. Kight placed second with 103, and Vickie Regnier placed third with 105.

Certificates were given only to the first-place winners.

Golf Club At Wisp Announces Tourney Results

Sixty-four players participated in the annual Golf Club at Wisp Championships, an event that was divided into four flights based on handicaps, plus a championship, ladies', and junior flight. All flights played an 18-hole, medal play format.

Rob Speicher, former standout athlete at Northern High School, carded a 76 to capture the championship title. Frank Neff was one stroke back, Brian Heslop carded an 81 for third place, and Mike Sipple was fourth with an 83. The next five finishers were: Rich Huber, 84; Dennis Hannibal, 86; Gene Shoemaker, 88; Joe Vent, 92; Noel Livengood, 97; and Clark Yoder, 104.

First flight results were: Greig Johnson, first place, with an 86, followed by Mike Vicish, 87; Sonny Browning, 88; Joe Mullenax and Brian Glotfelty, 89; Jeff Shliflette and John Pahnieri, 90; Gary Myers, 91; Don Spangler, 94; Wayne Swiger and Jack Settle, 97; Rob Robinson, 100; and Ed Arnold, 103.

Second flight results were: Wayne Rugh, first place, with an 88, followed by Bill Elliott and Jerry Geisler, 91; Don Parsons, 92; Chuck Thomas, 93; Doug Otto, 94; Chuck Hauer, 95; Doug Sites and Ron Eisaman, 97; and Denny Glotfelty and Tom McDonnell, 99.

Third flight results were: Don Green, Andy Callis, Jerry Herpel, and Tony Doerr, all tied for first place with 94s, followed by Tom Vent and Dennis Gibson, 98; Bob Gear, 100; Rick Selders, 101; Dick Browning, 106; and Gene Wengerd, 118.

Fourth flight results were: Bob Clutter, first place, with a 98; followed by Guy Gnagey, 100; Buddy Tasker, 101; Karl Christensen and John Rudy, 103; Bud Wengerd, 105; Phil Gillum, 108; Pete Eisaman, 115; Carl Rebele, 120; and Ed Slavin, 134.

Judy Rudy won the ladies' flight with a 96, followed by Barb Vent, 99, and Kathlyn Palmieri and Deb McDonnell, 113s.

Matt Settle, another Northern High Husky, won the junior flight with an 86, followed by A.J. Thomas, 89; Josh Robinson, 91; Chris Otto and Greg Speicher, 96; Justin Livengood, 115; and Ken Wampler, 124.

Getting closest to the pins were: Tony Doerr on hole #4, Mike Sipple on #7, Bill Elliott with a hole-in-one on #16, Barb Vent on #14, and Wayne Rugh on #13.

Greg Speicher had the longeat drive of the day (#8); Brian Heslop, A.J. Thomas, and Doug Sites recorded the closest second shots; and Tony Doerr and Gary Myers had the longest putts.

Husky Duffers Tee Off With 7-0 Opening Run

The varsity golf team of Northern High School continued its undefeated ways this week as the Huskies amassed team scores of 152 strokes in downing Keyser and Berkeley Springs last Wednesday, and 180 strokes in driving past Preston and Frankfort yesterday.

At the Polish Pines Club in Keyser for last week's match, the Huskies' A.J. Thomas shared co-low medalist honors with Keyser's Joe Fairall as both shot a one-under par 33 for the day. Northern's scoring was rounded out with a 35 by Matt Settle, 40 by Greg Speicher, 46 by Ryan Butler, and 51 by Rob Taylor. Keyser's team score was 165, and Berkeley Springs totaled a 167.

Yesterday afternoon at the Wisp, Speicher took low medalist honors with a 41 as he led the Huskies to victory. Settle added a 45, and Thomas, Taylor, and Butler each shot 47.

Ann Prowznick posted a 45 and Zach Street a 48 for Preston, which had a team score of 192, while Frankfort, led by Ryan Phebus with a 48 and Adam Morgan with a 54, amassed a team tally of 218.

Undefeated Northern's next match is a triangular competition against the Southern Rams and the Beall Mountaineers on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 8, at the Oakland Country Club.

Jackson Speaks At Golf Event In Australia

Jeff Jackson, noted United States expert on club-making and equipment, was the featured speaker at the Australian PGA Academy's Professional Development Programme Education Convention at the annual merchandise show at Sanctuary Cove on the Gold Coast of Australia. This was Jackson's second visit to assist in PGA education in Australia; in 1997, he spoke at numerous locations throughout the country detailing the latest in fitting techniques employed by professionals in the U.S.

Jackson, the president of Dynacraft Golf Products, Newark, Ohio, stated that trends across the world are toward the custom fitting of golf equipment, rather than the purchase of clubs from discount or chain stores.

Among the seminar topics directed by Jackson were trends in U.S. Fitting, Equipment and the Rules of Golf, Basic Shaft Fitting, Golf Club Casting, and Ten Steps to Total Clubfitting.

Jackson is a former resident of Frostburg, where he was owner of Western Maryland Golf. He was a teacher at Northern Middle School in Accident and was the director of golf at the

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

ANOTHER GREAT WEEKEND FOR SAILBOAT RACING
by Dan Muss

It has been a beautiful July and August at Deep Creek with only moderate rain, few nasty thunderstorms, daytime temperatures in the 70s and 80s, and good wind for sailboat racing. This past weekend was no exception: both Saturday and Sunday the wind was out of the west, swinging sometimes northwest and sometimes southwest, but blowing a nice 5-10 knots with puffs up to 15. As usual the wind was very twitchy, as it swirled around our hills and through our dales. As we were beating up through the slot in the third race on Sunday, I found the tell-tales on my jib sail were flipping around, I could not keep the boat on a good point; the wind direction was changing every few seconds! But it was beautiful racing and I treasure the memory.

In the first race we were approaching the first windward mark on the port tack. John Frank was approaching on starboard, and I thought I had him by a good bit. But he had lots of speed and we seemed to stall and, at the last second I was forced to tack and John had to change course to avoid hitting us. I had tacked too close and had committed a foul. So we immediately bore off and did two complete penalty turns so that we could avoid disqualification and stay in the race. But on the next spinnaker run we caught and passed John. Alas, it was a long race and he beat us in the end.

According to my records for the July-August Series, Laser sailor Keith Spinnenweber had a perfect record; he had come in first in every Laser race in the series. This perfect record was broken in the first race on Saturday; Keith forgot to put the drain plug in his Laser and the boat filled with water. In the Laser the water fills between the inner and outer sections of the boat so one cannot bail; one must get the boat out of the water to drain it. Tough luck, Keith! But he will still get first place for the series.

RESULTS

Saturday, Race 1

Flying Scots A Fleet - first place, Bruce Spinnenweber with his son Brian and Ryan Schubert crewing; second place, Dave and Jane Mahan; and third place, Don and Barbara Griffin.

Roaring Knob Raceway Park

"Rollin" Nolan Dalton from Morgantown, W.Va., continued his hot streak last Sunday afternoon at Roaring Knob Raceway Park as he notched his third consecutive Late Model feature win. Winning the 20-lap Medved Auto Salvage "Pedal to the Medal" Pure Stock special was Len Dobrosielski, while Oakland's Gold Digger E-Mod owned by Doug and Scott Bittinger and driven by Shawn Davis won for the third time, and Jesse Sturbutzel picked up the Modified Stock feature win.

Dalton led from the start followed closely by Mel Minnick Jr. Dave Groves squeezed by Minnick for second on the third circuit, and two laps later the tightly bunched pack, which included John Filnner, Chris Conner, and Jim Kutas, all scrambled as several cars went for the same spot. Minnick regained second in the shuffle, and Groves recovered, but was now back in the pack. Dalton pulled out to a comfortable lead as Groves worked his way through the traffic to once again move into second with five laps remaining. The two spec motor machines of Dalton and Groves finished in that order, with Jim Kutas getting by Minnick for third, and Chris Conner winding up in fifth position. Six through 10 were Corey Conley, Jim Stangry, Garry Sisson, Jim Bryce, and Darras Deneen. Kutas and Conner won the heat races.

Promoter Ben Miley presented Len Dobrosielski with an inscribed medal for winning the "Pedal to the Medal 20" along with the winner's share of the purse, lap money and several other awards. Making his first visit to the Knob a rewarding one, twelfth starting Dobrosielski took the lead from Bart Tressler on the eighth lap and survived several cautions along the way to win over Tressler, Ed Kemp, Jack Rosenberger and Jamie Kemp. Finishing sixth was Brian Taylor, followed by Bob Medved, while Charlie Bittinger was eighth, Jimmy Bendishaw Jr. ninth, and rounding out the top 10 was Fred Perkey Jr. Jamie Kemp and Bart Tressler won the heat races, and Dobrosielski was also named the hard charger of the race. Lap leaders were Tressler and Dobrosielski, and Mark Bell was honored with the "Hard Luck" award.

Shawn Davis put the Gold Digger #29 into the lead on the first lap and went unchallenged for his third E-Mod feature win this season at Roaring Knob. Quint Milburn worked his way into second by the sixth circuit, but the race stayed green to the checker, and Davis was not to be caught. Following Davis and Milburn to the flag was Ron Clevenger in third, Renee Dean fourth, and Dave Everly fifth. The heat was won by Quint Milburn.

Lonnie Hoffman was hoping for win number three in the Modified Stocks as he led the first half of the race before being overtaken by eventual and first-time winner Jesse Sturbutzel. Tom Humberson wound up second with Hoffman settling for third ahead of Greg Hauger and Don Nicholson. Hoffman was the heat winner.

Racing continues at Roaring Knob this Sunday, Sept. 6, with the new starting time of 2 p.m. (gates open at 12:30 p.m.). A demolition derby sponsored by Bates Tire & Auto Salvage will immediately follow the regular four division show of Late Models, E-Mods, Modified Stocks and Pure Stocks. The season finale is set for Sunday, Sept. 13, at 2 p.m. when the "King of the Knob 40" for Late Models will be presented along with a special for the E-Mods, and Foster's Welding & Mine Service hosting the "Rod Burning Special" for the Modified Stocks plus regular racing for the Pure Stock.

Interstate 79 Speedway

It was Season Championship Night at Interstate 79 Speedway last Friday evening with double points in all five racing divisions. "Race Zone" awarded trophies to the feature winners and the 1998 track champions were decided.

After winning the first two nights of the '98 season, Late Model driver Butch McGill had been shut out since that time. McGill started on the outside pole and clearly was the car to beat. Doug Horton chased down the leader but had nothing for McGill. At the checkered flag, McGill was followed by Horton, Mike Hawkins, Nolan Dalton, and Tim Harsh. Six through 10 were Robbie Scott, Dave Groves, Paul Wilmoth, Kevin Jones, and Duke Pratt. Heat winners were Harsh, McGill and Scott. Dalton came into the evening trailing Frank Wilson by 125 points, but Wilson had a tough feature event and Dalton will be the Late Model champion this year.

Gary Dalton was subbing for Semi Late driver, Kevin Wolfe, and wound up in Victory Lane. Dalton led the entire Semi Late field with a large margin of victory over Duane Moreland, Steve Wilmoth, Rick Strickler, and Chris Smith. Heats went to Roy Gibson and Dalton. Strickler had a large points lead over Jerry Haseleu going into the final night, but Haseleu was plagued by motor problems last week and did not make it out to the race.

Vic Vandergrift picked up his third win of the season in the UMP Modified division. Shawn Davis chased Vandergrift for a close second followed by Steve Cook, Cliff Cochran, and Brent Trimble. Cochran, Vandergrift, and Ronnie Clevenger won the heat races. Cochran will be the '98 points champion for the modified drivers.

Mike Simpson made a "triple" in the 4-Cylinder class by winning the heat, feature, and the points title. Simpson was followed by Sonny Crayton, Dave Summers, Shawn Phillips, and Troy Kimbrew.

Gary Tonkery notched his second Pure Stock win of the year as he outlasted Jay Martin, Jeff Kesling, Chuck Bloom, and Gary Yost. Heat winners were Troy Frazier, and Tonkery. Kesling held on to the points lead and will be the Pure Stock champion.

Racing action at Interstate 79 Speedway will conclude this weekend, Sept. 4 and 5. The Steel Block Late Models, UMP Modifieds, and Street Stocks will run their preliminary events on Friday along with the Moonshine 20 for the Street Stocks. Gates will open on Friday at 5:30 p.m. with hot laps at 7 and time trials at 8.

On Saturday evening, the Backyard 30 and the Outhouse 40 will each pay $1,000 to win for the UMP Modifieds and the Steel Block Late Models. The STARS Late Models will be the main attraction on Saturday as they run the 4th Annual Mark Balzano Memorial paying $8,000 to the winner of the 50-lap main event. Gates will open Saturday at 4 p.m.

ROBERT E. WATSON
CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE

PLEDGE:
I pledge the following if elected to the Circuit Court Bench:

1. FAIRNESS: There will be no special justice for anyone, but full consideration of each case without partiality.
2. COMPETENCE: I have regularly handled cases in all areas of the law for 20 years. One candidate in this race has spent virtually his whole career in the criminal law, which is only a small part of what comes before the Circuit Court. Another has been away from the law for five years.
3. EXPERIENCE: I have more current experience than my opponents. All judges start out as lawyers. Sitting on the bench takes no experience, but knowing the law, the rules of evidence and the rules of court takes years. The Circuit Court deals mostly with non-criminal matters, from zoning to family law. I have successfully handled thousands of such cases. The court is the wrong place for on the job training.
4. HONESTY AND INTEGRITY: I will set a proper standard and example in both my personal life and my family life.
5. PROPER COURTROOM DECORUM: The conduct of the judge in the court and his ability to control the lawyers and the litigants is of the utmost importance. I will conduct the court with firmness and patience.
6. PROPER JUDICIAL TEMPERAMENT: I will be courteous to parties and their attorneys. But a judge cannot try to please everyone. The judge must be firm and remain in control.
7. TO DISCOURAGE REPEAT OFFENDERS. I will take pains to impress upon first offenders what will be the consequences of a repeat offense, and I will follow up to be sure that those consequences are actually applied if there is a repeat offense.
8. TO LISTEN CAREFULLY TO THE EVIDENCE. I will listen to all sides and all parties in each case, INCLUDING THE VICTIMS IN CRIMINAL CASES.
9. TO UPHOLD FAMILY VALUES. I believe that the sanctity of the family is the bedrock of our society. I come from a humble background. My father worked in a butter factory and later on the B&O Railroad. My mother was a farm girl from Carroll County. They had sixth grade educations, but they provided my brother and me with a rich family life.
10. HARD WORK. I am a hard worker and will apply myself to the business of the court with diligence and energy.

GONE WITH THE WIND

Rated G - Running time: 3:42

When faced with the task of reviewing Gone With The Wind, a film that is 60 years old and generally accepted as one of the greatest ever made, I must wonder what I could possibly say about it that would shed any new light. There are thousands of critics who have discussed it already, and everyone knows it's a masterpiece and everyone should see it. Therefore, in lieu of a review I have decided to devote this space to trivia facts and production mistakes involving the film. Enjoy.

(Trivia facts courtesy of the Internet Movie Database (IMDb), located at http://us.imdb.com, and Gone With The Wind: Making Of A Legend.)

✔GWTW had three directors, George Cukor being the first. Victor Fleming, who had just finished The Wizard of Oz, was brought in, and he was replaced by interim director Sam Wood for a few weeks while recovering from exhaustion. Cukor filmed about 33 minutes of footage, 17 of which appear in the first half of the film; the remainder were cut or reshot.

✔1,400 actresses were interviewed for the part of Scarlett O'Hara. 400 were asked to do readings. Actresses under consideration for the role included Bette Davis, Paulette Goddard, and Katherine Hepburn.

✔Bette Davis turned down the role of Scarlett, thinking that her co-star would be Errol Flynn, with whom she refused to work.

✔The first scene to be shot was the burning of Atlanta, filmed on December 10, 1938. What they actually burned were many old sets on the studio backlot, including the "Great Gate" from King Kong (1933). The fire was so intense that the unwarned public of Culver City jammed the telephone lines, thinking MGM was burning down. The roles of Scarlett and Rhett had not yet been cast; this is why "Scarlett" (a stunt player) is seen covering her face as the wagon goes by.

✔When Scarlett and Melanie are nursing the wounded soldier, their shadows don't match their movements.

✔Producer David O. Selznick asked Alfred Hitchcock for help with the scene in which the women wait for the men from the raid on Shantytown and Melanie reads David Copperfield. Hitchcock delivered a precise treatment, complete with descriptions of shots and camera angles. Hitchcock wanted to show Rhett, Ashley, etc., outside the house, dodging the Union soldiers. He also wanted an exchange of meaningful glances between Melanie and Rhett inside the house. Virtually nothing of this treatment was used.

✔Big Sam saves Scarlett from hooligans outside Atlanta and gets in the buggy with Scarlett. The film cuts to the buggy driving away. Big Sam should be in the buggy, but is not.

✔Gable did not want to do the film and refused to do a Southern accent. After signing on, he was so distressed over the requirement that he cry on film (during the scene where Melanie is comforting Rhett after Bonnie has died) that he almost quit. Olivia de Havilland convinced him to stay on the film.

✔Since Gable could not dance, a floating platform was used during the waltz scene to make him and Scarlett appear to glide around the room.

✔Women's costumes were made complete with petticoats, although they wouldn't have been missed had they not been there.

✔Melanie's pregnancy spans important Civil War events much farther than nine months apart.

✔In rehearsal for the scene where Scarlett slaps Prissy (Butterfly McQueen), she hit her so hard that McQueen refused to scream properly unless Leigh did a fake slap that would not make contact. McQueen also refused to eat watermelon in the film.

✔The black actors in GWTW were criticized by much of the African-American community for portraying slaves as being docile and friendly with their masters. Selznick, keenly aware of the plight of Jews in Europe at the time, was sympathetic to his black actors and removed much demeaning and offensive material from the script, including the "n" word.

✔The script was constantly under revision during most of the production period. At one point, the entire script was thrown out, and production was shut down for 17 days while it was rewritten. The sets stood empty at a holding cost of $10,000 per day.

✔After Ashley Wilkes is carried into his room, Melanie picks up a lamp which has an electric cord attached. Similarly, when trying to find Doc Meade, Scarlett runs past a lamp post containing an electric bulb.

✔In the scene where Scarlett digs up a turnip, then retches and gives her "As God is my witness" speech, the vomiting sounds were actually made by de Havilland since Leigh could not produce a convincing enough retch.

✔In the scene where Rhett pours Mammy a drink after the birth of Bonnie, for a joke during a take, Clark Gable actually poured alcohol instead of the usual tea into the decanter without Hattie McDaniel knowing it until she took a swig.

✔Leigh worked for 125 days and received about $25,000. Gable worked for 71 days and received over $120,000.

✔GWTW swept the 1940 Academy Awards, being nominated for 15 Oscars and winning 10. If not for GWTW, The Wizard Of Oz would surely have won more Oscars than two, for best music and best song.

If you are wondering whether to spend the money on a ticket to see a film that you've seen on TV a hundred times, don't hesitate: go. The big screen experience is vastly different from watching it in your living room, and you may not get too many more chances to see it as it was originally intended to be seen. Also, as with many re-releases, the studios have used state-of-the-art technology to enhance the colors and digitally remaster the sound. So plan a party around it. Get some friends, take this list with you if you like, and eat popcorn for dinner. Treat yourself to one of the greatest cinematic experiences ever created. ★★★★★

VETERANS CALL TO SUPPORT AND VOTE FOR

CHESTER H. SINES
FOR SHERIFF

To:
Garrett County Residents,

Please accept my recommendation of Chester Sines as Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland. Chester Sines has been a friend of mine for over thirty years, and it is with great pleasure that I recommend him for the Sheriff position in your county.

I first met Chester Sines in 1967 under the harshest conditions on the Demilitarized Zone ("DMZ") in Vietnam. We were both serving in the Army in a special weapons artillery unit. Chester Sines leadership ability was easily recognized even then and he was swiftly promoted to Staff Sergeant E6. As Staff Sergeant, Chester Sines was in charge of a [illegible] military combat-ready artillery section. Under Chester Sines' guidance and direction from 1967 to 1968, myself and the others from the Army and Marine Units, that he personally led will attest to this American's credentials. Chester Sines was awarded the, Bronze Star with "V" for Valor, Purple Heart, Army and Marine Presidential Unit Citation, Valorous Unit Citation, Meritorious Unit Commendation, Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Palm and the Vietnam Civil Action Honor, First Class. Chester Sines was one of the reasons that his Army Unit was one of the highest decorated Army Combat Units in Vietnam.

I can unequivocally attest to Chester Sines' enthusiasm, integrity, and ability. I am certain that when you elect Chester Sines as Sheriff of Garrett County, you will be impressed. Chester Sines communicates well with both community and county Chester Sines has been active in community affairs for many years. All who know him have the highest regard for him.

It is my distinct pleasure to recommend Chester Sines to you, your community and county as the next Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland.

Yours in Patriotism,

Joseph M. Belardo
Director, National Dusters, Quads and Searchlights Association

ty's and Hinebaugh's own safety, he was then subdued with pepper spray and placed in the police car.

Hinebaugh was released from jail Saturday afternoon after posting a $500 bond.

In other sheriff's news, the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force arrested two persons recently for drug violations after a search of a Crellin residence, according to task force spokesperson and Garrett County Sheriff P. Richard "Dick" Sanders Jr.

Rebecca Ann Deem, 25, Crellin, and Alfred Jay Kight, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, were arrested as a result of the execution of a search and seizure warrant at the residence on Aug. 22. The task force members, composed of personnel detailed from the sheriff's office and the Maryland State Police, reportedly recovered a quantity of marijuana, a marijuana plant, and drug paraphernalia.

Both Deem and Kight face charges of manufacturing marijuana, possession of marijuana, and possession of drug paraphernalia. Deem is presently being held on a $25,000 bond, and Kight is being held on a $1,000 bond.

Carl Edward Cooper, 24, Deer Park, reportedly struck his wife during a domestic incident at their residence on the evening of Aug. 23. He was subsequently arrested and charged with second-degree assault, and released after posting a $2,500 bond.

An Oakland man who allegedly broke his wife's jaw when he reportedly struck her during a domestic incident was arrested and charged with second-degree assault on Aug. 30.

Dennis Joseph Garlitz, 31, Oakland, was released on his own recognizance after the arrest, which stemmed from an altercation at the Old Crellin Road residence of an acquaintance of theirs. After the assault, the woman drove home without Garlitz and called the sheriff's office. Deputies transported her to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where X-rays revealed that her jaw was broken.

An Oakland couple was arrested after a domestic incident on Aug. 22, and each party was charged with second-degree assault on the other. Twila Kay McGee, 25, and Walter Myron McGee, 24, allegedly fought at their residence after both had been drinking, and a physical altercation reportedly ensued. Both displayed minor injuries to the deputies.

Earle William Railey Jr., 51, Oakland, was arrested recently by sheriff's office detectives who have been investigating a series of thefts from a Birchwood Drive residence that occurred this past winter. The arrest warrant charged Railey with felony theft, and he was subsequently released on his own recognizance.

Jeremy Harold Shockey, 18, Mtn. Lake Park, was arrested recently and charged with misdemeanor theft when he reportedly took a juvenile's bicycle without permission and did not return it. Following the arrest he was released on his own recognizance.

Kathy Jo Stalnaker, 36, McHenry, was arrested recently and charged with driving while intoxicated.

The Dove Center: Working To End Domestic Violence

Editor's note: This article is fourth in a series on violence and abuse within the home, to provide information on efforts in Garrett County to stem this destructive tide.

by Peggy Santamaria

When a man beats his wife it is not a private family matter. It is a crime. On the face of it this seems almost self-evident — assault is a crime against a person. But it has not always been so viewed.

In the past, brutal treatment of a woman by her male partner was considered to be a family matter in which the community at large had no business interfering. In some segments of society this type of in-home battering was even accepted as "the way it has always been."

Attitudes have changed. Violence, rape, and abuse of women within their own homes by their spouses or partners is seen for the violation that it is. Many people have worked very hard to bring about this change of attitude. One such person is Linda Spassil, executive director of Garrett County's Dove Center, also known as the Domestic Violence/ Sexual Assault Resource Center.

For nearly two decades Spassil has worked to reduce the incidents of violence and abuse within the home. She has seen changes in attitudes among those working for justice in cases of domestic abuse. "In the past we saw it a women's issue," she stated. It was women exposing the long-hidden realities of abuse, speaking out against tacit acceptance of it, and standing firm on the need to change, she explained.

What has changed is the scope of the effort to stop domestic abuse. It is not just women defending women; it is a community-wide endeavor. "There has to be a collaborative effort. It must include the judicial system, law enforcement, legislators, the community at large, and the media," Spassil pointed out.

The need for such broad-based response derives from the wide spectrum of damage caused by in-home violence and abuse. "Of all long-term relationships, 50-60 percent will experience at least one incident of violence," she said, quoting from a recent statistic.

Multiple factors converge to fuel the ongoing abuse of women in the home. Included in the mosaic of components are failure to recognize violence and abuse, and abusive treatment creating cycles within a family, Spassil noted.

"Some people don't recognize abuse until there is a broken bone. They don't count pushing and shoving," she said. Picking up on the early phases of the abusive nature of a man's treatment of a woman can head off far more damaging or even deadly treatment later.

Violent actions may stem from a man's need for power and control. If the control is not gratifying to the perpetrator his aggressive and dominant treatment of a woman may escalate to the point that her life is endangered.

Abuse may not be recognized as a problem because it is seen by the victim as "normal" behavior. Spassil spoke of dating relationships among high school students which included the young men "pushing around" their girl friends or shoving them against lockers. "There can be jealousy in these early dating relationships. It may result in a girl being pushed out of car after a harrowing drive, and threatened," she recounted. The young may not even realize that this is abuse.

Going hand-in-hand with the lack of awareness of abuse is its cyclic nature. Violent, insulting, or cruel behavior may be learned by the children in a household were it is accepted conduct. "Where do children learn? If their parents act like this, the children will model this behavior," Spassil said.

The lack of respect that permits a man to treat a woman brutally may be an attitude that is adopted by children in the home. These children may then grow up to pattern abusive behaviors learned at home. "I've seen adults in this system whom I first worked with as children 18 years ago. They were children in abusive homes who became victims and part of the cycle," she reflected.

Spassil also spoke of a woman who had divorced a husband who treated her very well and remarried a man who abused her. Why did she leave a kind husband? "She said she wasn't sure her loved her. She equated love and violence because it was what she knew," she said.

Who are the victims of domestic violence? All family members suffer the ill affects of abuse in the home, she explained. "The Dove Center provides comprehensive services to all family members. There is a need for outreach in order to do this and it will take a long time," she recognized.

Children are often overlooked as victims of violence against their mothers. Besides repeating the behavior as adults, these children can be seriously damaged emotionally by the experiences of domestic violence. Spassil told of a violent man who killed his son's pet and threatened the child by telling him that he would be next. When a child feels such terror, she explained, it can result in a number of different types of reactions and ultimate problems.

Education is the cornerstone of Spassil's approach to reducing domestic abuse. "Given good, accurate information, most people will make changes. It may not happen as soon as they hear it; it may take a while," she said.

As executive director of the Dove Center, Spassil hopes to be able to raise funds to buy some teaching materials, including some videos. She also wants to create a more homelike environment for the families staying in the center's shelter.

Underscoring the need for community involvement, Spassil said, "We do have a problem here." People must be willing to take a stand. If domestic abuse is suspected, a person should contact law enforcement, she said. "Do it in a safe way. Don't go rushing into a dangerous situation," she advised. She also encouraged people to call the Dove Center and get information to give to a person in an abusive situation.

Through the center Spassil hopes to reach into the community not only with information, but with the message that there is help available, there is hope.

For more information persons may call the Dove Center at 301-334-9000.

BPW DONATES TO DOVE CENTER - The Dove Center recently received a donation of $307 from Garrett County Business and Professional Women (BPW). The funds will be used to purchase educational videos about the effects of domestic violence. BPW clubs statewide have elected to focus this year on problems of domestic abuse. The Chapter president June Hesselbach said it was the consensus of the local BPW officers that the group reduce some of its other activities this year in order to contribute more to this cause. "We will be supporting the Dove Center, Pandora's Box, the Silent Witness Program, and other projects," she said. In the photo above Hesselbach, left, presents a check to Linda Spassil, executive director of the Dove Center.

TIPS Training Class Set For Alcohol Sellers

Sales clerks involved in the sale of alcohol at a grocery store, liquor store or convenience store in Garrett County are eligible to attend a free alcohol awareness training at the Oakland Town Hall on Saturday, Sept. 19, from 8:45 a.m. to noon. This Training for Intervention Procedures (TIPS) program satisfies the alcohol beverage licensing requirements for alcohol awareness training.

"The Training for Intervention Procedures (TIPS) class is designed to prevent alcohol abuse, drunk driving and underage drinking by enhancing the fundamental people skills of sellers of alcohol," said Fred Herath, certified TIPS trainer. The Garrett County Liquor Control Board will be notified of certification, which is good for four years.

Although the TIPS program has several different versions, this particular one is for package good store sales rather than restaurants or bars. Participants will learn about the effects of alcohol on the body, as well as ways to prevent illegal alcohol sales to underage and intoxicated customers.

"TIPS gives individuals the knowledge and confidence they need to recognize potential alcohol related problems and effectively intervene to prevent alcohol-related tragedies," Herath commented.

The normal TIPS registration fee is being funded by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems (MIEMSS) through a special highway safety grant from the Maryland State Highway Administration. Registration is limited, and future classes may require participants to pay a registration fee.

To register, interested persons are encouraged to call MIEMSS at 301-334-8122 as soon as possible.

Larry Epstein In Comptroller Race

Larry Mark Epstein, a certified public accountant and valuation analyst from Glyndon in Baltimore City, will be among the candidates on the roster for Maryland state comptroller.

"The state comptroller's mandate is to superintend the fiscal affairs of Maryland," Epstein stated. "He must, therefore, have the competence to ensure that our tax system is being administered professionally and fairly. But just as important, the comptroller must be an independent voice who will speak against the tax and spend policies that have existed thus far."

Epstein, 49, has decried what he has seen as the "absence of checks and balances in the one-party government that has made Maryland's citizens among the most highly taxed in the nation, and a state which is considered anti-business by the business community."

Epstein said that as a CPA with 24 years of experience, he has the expertise needed to cope with the complex fiscal problems that face state government, such as the year 2000 computer upgrades.

"In addition," he said, "I am not a part of the 'Good Old Boy' network of state government, and, therefore, I would be able to be an advocate for the citizens of Maryland."

Epstein is a Republican. He is married and the father of two grown children. He won the 1990 Republican primary for the state comptroller seat.

IN SUPPORT OF

I have known Wendell R. Beitzel since he was just a small boy. My wife, Mary Miller Strauss, and I both taught him in school. Mrs. Strauss taught him in the old Accident Elementary School and I taught him Biology at Northern Junior Senior High School. Wendell was an excellent Biology student, very alert, thorough and conscientious in his studies as well as class projects.

Mrs. Strauss and I were both happy and pleased when Wendell chose to enter Fairmont State College to further his education. He graduated with a BS degree in Biology. Instead of choosing a career in teaching, he accepted a position with the Garrett County Sanitation Department. He advanced rapidly and soon assumed full responsibility for the Garrett County Sanitation Department projects.

Wendell has been a member of the St. Paul's ELCA Lutheran Church in Accident, Maryland, his entire life.

Wendell has served his congregation well, and is still on the church council. He has also been a successful and honest businessman for many years.

Wendell has been, and is still, a responsible and caring father and husband to his wife, Ruth, and to his two children. Wendell has been a resident of Garrett County his entire life.

I personally feel that if Wendell is given an opportunity to serve as a County Commissioner he will perform his responsibilities with fairness, integrity, and honesty

One Man's Attempt To Retire

Bringing The Best Of Nature To Your Table At The Avilton

by Peggy Santamaria

It was not quite five years ago that Emmett Williams decided to make a few changes in his life and try a new location for a while. He left a hectic lifestyle behind him, and early in 1994 he slipped into the tranquil mountains of western Maryland for what had been billed as "retirement." So how did he end up as the owner-operator-horticulturist-chef and interior designer of The Avilton Restaurant? Williams has no simple answer for that.

Born and raised in the coastal region of North Carolina, he had spent 20 years in the bustling tourist mecca of Asheville, N.C. "It became a tourist destination over 100 years ago when George Vanderbilt constructed his Biltmore mansion and estate," Williams said. Poets and writers such as Carl Sandburg, Thomas Wolfe, and Sydney "O'Henry" Porter sought refuge for inspiration there in the Smoky Mountains, he added.

Amidst the hubbub of visitors to the area, Williams was working 80-100 hours each week in the food, beverage, and entertainment business. Meanwhile, the population in Asheville was "exploding" and crowding out his "elbow room," he explained

To get away from the chaos that increasingly hemmed him in, Williams made the decision in favor of an early middle-age retirement. His scheme was simple: to construct a seasonal residence in Bluelick Commons, a subdivision in Garrett County's Avilton area, and to purchase a yacht. "I guess some things aren't meant to be," he reflected.

The course of events that followed his entry into Garrett County seemed almost predestined. Less than half a mile from the site he had selected for a home was Kamp's Avilton Inn. "Having spent the morning footing across undeveloped preconstruction-phase woodland, Kamp's seemed the logical spot to grab a bite and finalize the purchase contracts," Williams said.

What occurred at that point he has referred to as "bizarre fate in a specific wrinkle in time." As he sat with a realtor in the restaurant signing contracts, Joann Kamp, restaurant owner, was on the phone with a realtor from the same agency listing the business for sale. As the saying goes, "The rest is history."

Virtually before Williams had time to sink into the relaxation of retirement, he was back in business. "If I ever decide to write my memoirs, I don't know if I'll title this chapter, 'Welcome to Utopia' or 'Prelude to Oblivion,'" he commented.

Though not sure he really wanted to get back into the food and beverage business, Williams said he was looking forward to planting some trees and flowers and attracting birds. But the lot surrounding the restaurant he described as flat and fairly treeless. Lots of vision and twice as much energy would go into the landscaping he undertook. He used nearly 1,300 tons of topsoil, over 100 railroad ties, and over 200 4-8 foot tall spruce trees. "I shoveled and wheelbarrowed every ton of that dirt," he noted.

It was a singled-handed effort to create gardens and renovate the building. Williams landscaped during the hours between sundown and sunrise.

What be was nurturing as he developed his new business was to be more than a place to dine. It would be an experience of the natural beauty of Garrett County.

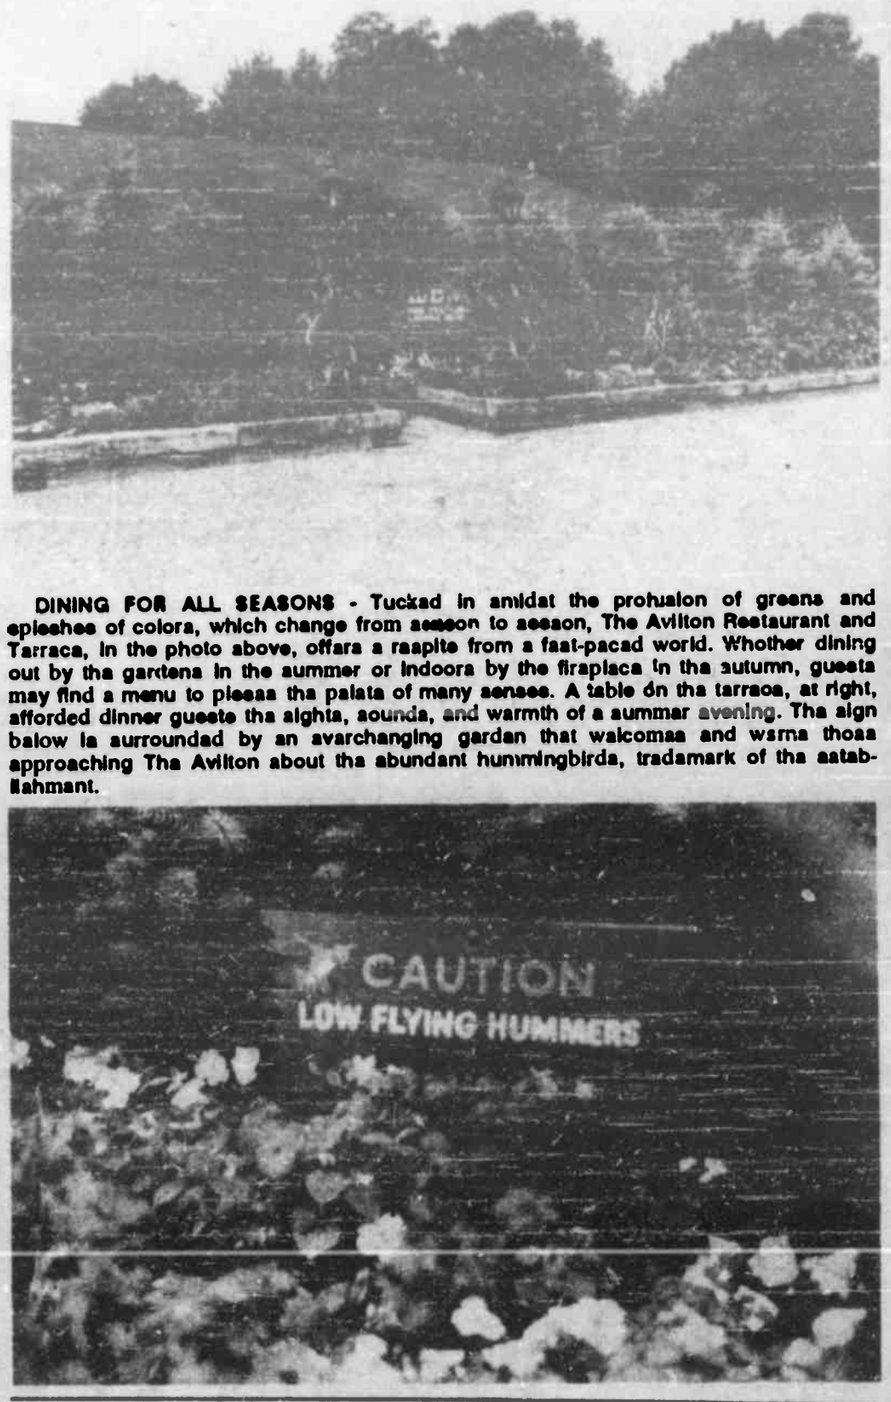
Williams said he has always been fascinated by weather, noting several segments on hurricanes that he has written for the weather channel and Nova. The contrast and fullness of the seasons in Western Maryland appealed to him strongly, and he decided to use the seasons as a theme for his restaurant.

In 1995 Laura Dubansky, a life-long Garrett County resident, joined The Avilton staff. Williams referred to her culinary talents as "unquestionable," and said he noted she had a "blossoming knack for gardening." He praised also her artistic inclinations. "Laura was destined to become the other half of the establishment's driving force," he stated. Together, he and Dubansky put about 100 hours a week into what Williams called "no less than a major production at the Avilton."

The surrounding fields are tilled and planted to produce each season's flowers and vegetation to be used in decorative arrangements, garnishes, and flavoring. Currently in production are about one dozen types of sunflowers and corn that will create the atmosphere of the "Autumn Harvest," which Williams called The Avilton's "most provocative, decorated season."

The Avilton's gardens are alive, not only with the flora of the area, but also with the fauna. Bird feeders abound among the greenery and host feathered visitors who add a visual delight for guests, who can view them from window-side tables or while dining on the terrace. "Hummingbirds are our trademark. We have so many of them. One got in the restaurant one time and came and sat on my finger," he related with pleasure.

The Avilton is not a quick-stop-off-for-a-bite-to-eat kind of place. Williams has instead created an environment in which diners may experience with all their senses the splendor and the tranquility with which Garrett County is blessed, and that sort of an experience can't be rushed.



He speaks with pride of what he has accomplished here. "Believe me, I'm no Vanderbilt, but I achieved this on my land with my money! I didn't need any free-spending, ram-rodding politicians snatching up taxpayers' dollars and public lands. Regardless of what I believe to be politicians' ill-fated efforts, Garrett County will eventually become Maryland's most fruitful tourist destination. When trying to attract tourist and convention goers to your estate, don't stop them at the gate!" he said emphatically, referring to the recent development of Allegany County's Rocky Gap as a state run hotel-cum-convention center.

Williams has invested much of himself in his adopted corner of Garrett County and has become a staunch advocate for the area. But it has never been his plan to stay forever. "When I came here, it was a five-year commitment. I told my family that I would do this for five seasons and this is the fifth season. I have been honest with my staff about this, too," he explained. He has thought that he may sell the place or "put it in moth balls," he said. After a hesitation, he added, "But now I'm not sure what I might do...."

The attention to the gardens and decorations at The Avilton is a mirror of that devoted to food preparation. "I bring in the best and freshest foods available," Williams said. The crisp greens of the salads, the herbed butter served with warm rolls and muffins, the firm, flaky texture of a perfectly prepared flounder filet all bespeak a pride in detail and presentation.

But with all this elegance and grace, The Avilton offers an atmosphere that is also comfortable. The subdued lighting and soft music also add to a peaceful, memorable dining experience.

Perhaps Mr. Williams will extend his commitment a little longer....

DINING FOR ALL SEASONS - Tucked in amidst the profusion of greens and splashes of colors, which change from season to season, The Avilton Restaurant and Terrace, in the photo above, offers a respite from a fast-paced world. Whether dining out by the gardens in the summer or indoors by the fireplace in the autumn, guests may find a menu to please the palate of many senses. A table on the terrace, at right, afforded dinner guests the sights, sounds, and warmth of a summer evening. The sign below is surrounded by an everchanging garden that welcomes and warns those approaching The Avilton about the abundant hummingbirds, trademark of the establishment.

Donham Receives Promotion From Context Systems

Context Information Systems Ltd. recently promoted Dee Dee Donham, a senior at Southern High School, to the post of customer service manager. Donham, the daughter of Clayton Donham, Loch Lynn, and Diane Park, also of Loch Lynn, joined Context in July as a trainee in the company's apprenticeship/scholarship program.

"Even though Ms. Donham is still a senior in high school, she has made significant contributions to Context's operations," commented Dennis League, president and founder of the Oakland-based information systems company. "Her new position will make her responsible for the coordination of the company's marketing, sales, and administrative and technical support for each customer."

Context is the developer of the Virtual Office System document imaging and management software.

Region I EMS Picnic Slated Near Finzel

All Garrett and Allegany County EMS providers and their families are invited to attend a family picnic at the Eastern Garrett Park, located near Finzel, on Sunday, Sept. 20, beginning at 1 p.m.

The picnic is sponsored by the Region I EMS Advisory Council and is subsidized by the Western Maryland Health Systems. Lunch and entertainment will be provided. Persons interested in attending may check with their EMS company for a sign-up sheet, or call Maggie at 301-334-2449 to register.

Marylanders May Suggest Design Of New Quarter

All Marylanders have been invited by Governor Parris N. Glendening to be a part of history by helping design one of America's newest quarters. Under the 50 State Commemorative Coin Program, the United States Mint is asking each state to create a design for the back of the coin. The special series of quarters will be issued in the order in which each state joined the Union. Maryland, the seventh state, will have its coin issued in 2000.

"This is the first time in our country's history that Maryland will be directly represented on an American coin," said Glendening. "I encourage everyone to participate and share with the rest of the nation and the world what makes our state so great. Future generations will be able to hold a piece of Maryland history in their hands."

The governor has appointed a Maryland Commemorative Quarter Design Selection Committee to review entries and recommend three to five finalists. These will be sent to the governor, who will then submit selections to the U.S. Treasury for approval by October 14. The U.S. Mint is expected to convert the concepts into designs and give approval to the governor in February 1999. The governor will select the final design to be submitted to the Mint by April 1999.

Entries should be sent to: Maryland Commemorative Quarter Design, Office of the Governor, State House, 100 State Circle, Annapolis, MD 21401. The telephone number is 410-974-5258.

For more information, persons may also access the design committee's website at <http://www.gov.state.md.us> or the U.S. Mint 50 State Commemorative Coin site at <http:\www.usmint.gov/50states>.

The federal guidelines for the entries are as follows:

"Suitable subject matter for design concepts includes state landmarks (natural and/or man-made), landscapes, historically significant buildings, symbols of state resources or industries, official state flora and fauna, and state icons.

"State flags and state seals area not considered suitable for designs.

"No inscriptions should be included in the state design concept.

"Inappropriate design concepts include, but are not limited to, logos or depictions of specific commercial, private, educational, civic, religious, sports, or other organizations whose membership or ownership is not universal."

Hafer, Edwards Honored By State Business Group

Both Senator John Hafer and Delegate George Edwards have been named recipients of the John Shaw Award, presented each year by the Maryland Business for Responsive Government (MBRG), a non-partisan, statewide organization representing business in political research and education.

The award is given to legislators whose voting records on issues important to Maryland's business community reflect MBRG's efforts to improve the state's business climate, according to Robert O.C. Worcester, MBRG president. He explained that the name of the award, John Shaw, is taken from a patriot who designed the national flag when Annapolis was home to the Continental Congress, a high point in Maryland's history.

To qualify for the honor, a legislator must achieve an MBRG score of 70% or higher over a minimum four-year period. This is based on his or her voting record on issues important to the growth and maintenance of business in Maryland. The elected officials' voting records are recorded in Roll Call, an annual MBRG analysis of the Maryland General Assembly. More than 25,000 copies of the document are then distributed statewide.

In this year's report, 86% of Delegate Edwards's votes were in the best interest of the MBRG. Senator Hafer's percentage was 80. Worcester has stated that based on the experience of MBRG, the states where the average legislative score is 70% or above are "the winners in the interstate competition for jobs and capital that stimulate economic development."

In addition to giving the two area legislators the award, the MBRG has also endorsed the men's candidacies.

Open House To Be Held At Salem Children's Trust

Salem Children's Trust, located near Grantsville on Lower New Germany Road, will host an open house on Sunday, Sept. 13, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Salem, a non-profit organization, provides a home and care based on Christian values to 24 children ages 6 to 18. Three homes and a special education school are currently in operation at Salem.

The open house will feature a horsemanship demonstration, 2:15-2:45 p.m.; tours of the houses and classrooms, 3-5 p.m.; and a vintage car show, sponsored by the Mason Dixon Street Rod Association, 2-5 p.m.

For 20 years, throughout the state, Salem has provided needy children with care that is based on the concept of the extended family. The atmosphere of the family is established by grouping up to eight boys and girls of different ages in a home with houseparents to provide direction.

Programming includes a structured daily living environment, psychotherapy, social skills teaching model horseback riding instruction, natural foods nutrition, and recreational activities. Salem may become home for a child for as long as the need exists.

The Salem School, a special education school, was opened to serve the children at Salem who have unique learning needs. The school is also open to residents of Garrett and Allegany counties on a day student basis.

The children, staff, and board of directors have invited the public to visit Salem for the open house. For further information persons may call 301-689-8176 or write to Maryland Salem Children's Trust, 605 Salem Dr., Frostburg, MD 21532.

High School Seniors Awarded Scholarships For GCC Study

BRANDY RUSH

KRISTIN HITCHENS

JULIE GEISLER

JESSE SHIMROCK

Five Garrett County high school students have been awarded the James H. Nordeck Memorial Scholarship at Garrett Community College this year in the Early College Admissions Program, according to Bretta Reinhard, advancement officer for the Garrett Community College Foundation. The Early College Admissions Program allows qualified high school students to complete their senior year on the GCC campus and receive credit for their first year of college simultaneously.

Brandy Rush, daughter of Lonnie and Vicki Rush of Oakland and a student at Southern High School, plans to study elementary education at GCC. She enjoys hiking and other outdoor activities.

Kristin Hitchins, daughter of Harry and Gloria Hitchins of Grantsville and a student at Northern High School, also plans to study elementary education. In high school she was newspaper editor and a member of the band.

Arthur Winter, son of Christopher and Else Winter of Accident and a student at NHS, will be a math/science major working toward his career goal of being a chemist. In high school he was a member of the golf and basketball teams, a section leader in band, representative in Student Council, and member of the academic team. One of a family of 10, he enjoys reading, computer programming, and coin collecting.

ARTHUR WINTER

Julie Geisler, daughter of Jerry and Nancy Geisler of McHenry and a student at NHS, is undecided about her college major but is very interested in adventure sports such as skiing and biking. She is a member of the Garrett Choral Society and the Garrett County Swim Team, and she has performed as a dancer. In high school she was assistant drum major for the band and a member of the prom committee.

Jesse Shimrock, son of Tom and Dana Shimrock of the Cove and student at NHS, will enter the general studies transfer program toward his goal of owning a business or becoming a college instructor. His interests range from wrestling, kayaking, hiking, and climbing to theatre and flying remote control airplanes. In high school he was a Student Council representative and member of the varsity wrestling team. Earlier this year he took second place in the Maryland wrestling finals.

Garden Club To Mark Anniversary

Mountain Laurel Garden Club will celebrate its 10th anniversary with a luncheon on Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the Silver Tree Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake. Charter members and past presidents of the club will be honored at the event.

Throughout the year the garden club, which currently has 67 members, plants and maintains the gardens at the Ruth Enlow libraries in Oakland and Accident. Members nurture a butterfly garden, the Arboretum at Dennett Road Elementary School, and a landscape design is currently under way for the Spruce Forest Village grounds in Grantsville.

At the October meeting, Pauline Vollmer of Baltimore will speak on planting bulbs. In November a workshop will be given on making Christmas crafts and ornaments.

New members may make reservations for the October meeting by calling club president Barbara Sanders, 304-789-6450, or Judy Finkel, 301-387-5488.

GCC Offering ABE Classes In Basic Life Skills

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College is offering an Adult Basic Education class in all basic skills, including reading, math GED preparation, and Md. High School Diploma. The classes are ongoing beginning in September, and students may just walk in. Adults who are not currently enrolled in public school and are 16 years of age or older and are interested in continuing their education may choose from a variety of classes designed to meet individual goals.

The class schedule is as follows: Bloomington School beginning Sept. 14 from 6 to 9:15 p.m.; Grantsville Elementary School beginning Sept. 14 from 5:30 to 8:45 p.m.; Friendsville Elementary School beginning Sept. 9 from 4 to 7:15 p.m.; Deer Park Community Center beginning Sept. 10 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and Oakland Center beginning Sept. 14 from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. or 6 to 9:15 p.m.

For further information on any of these course persons may contact Patricia Baer at 301-334-8304.

"CCC Boys" Recall When Hard Times, Hard Work Shaped Lives

by David Foster

The Great Depression conjures up certain images to those of us who were not alive at that time in our nation's history: cold, biting winds of unforgiving slate gray city skies as men with upturned collars shuffle their feet on the breadlines across the country; other winds, hot and dry, carry the life-giving topsoil from rich prairie farmland into the sky in the massive clouds of the dust bowl; "Brother, Can You Spare a Dime" floating into still, quiet air from a tinny-sounding Philco radio, as yet another pot of soup simmers on a coal-fired stove in a wallpapered kitchen.

Americans nationwide suffered hardships of many kinds during the Depression; yet as with every story, there is another side to this one — A story of people doing what they have to in order to get by, taking creative steps to meet the challenge and survive it, pulling together to make do with what they have today, always with hopes for a better tomorrow.

Some of the men who did just that during those years gathered for a reunion recently at New Germany State Park, as former members of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) came from across the state and surrounding region to mark the 65th anniversary year of the CCC's founding. Established by President Franklin D. Roosevelt less than a month after his inauguration, the CCC put over 3 million young Americans, mostly men between the ages of 18 and 25, to work in national service between 1933 and 1942 in 2,000 camps across the country. The "CCC boys" planted over 2 billion trees, carved out 13,100 miles of foot trails, built 3,409 fire lookout towers, and restored nearly 4,000 historic structures, among other tasks.

The New Germany reunion event was a homecoming for some of the 78 former CCC members who reminisced in the park's recreation hall, built six decades ago by CCC members. A number of them had been stationed in local CCC camps located at New Germany, Meadow Mountain, Swallow Falls, Backbone Mountain, and Potomac State Forest, and had constructed many of the state park and forest facilities enjoyed by Garrett County residents and visitors to this day.

One of the CCC boys on hand was Deer Park native Keith Paugh, the chairman of the reunion committee, who now resides in Baltimore County. "I enrolled in the CCC when I was 17 years old after graduation from Oakland High School," Paugh recalled. "I was stationed at the New Germany and the Meadow Mountain camps. The CCC boys built all the cabins here at New Germany, and my crew built cabins 9 and 10 under our foreman, Billy Otto, who was from Swanton.

"The CCC took the boys from the poorest families, although it seemed like everybody was poor back then," said Paugh. "My dad, Hickory Paugh, was receiving a small disability because he had been gassed in World War I, so our family needed money badly. The only work I had been able to find was for my uncle Bill Paugh on his farm in the Sand Flat, who paid me 10 cents an hour when he could afford to.

"So I signed up for the CCC. They paid us $30 a month for the work, $25 of which was sent directly to our folks; we got to keep $5 a month for our use. Believe me, that $5 was a lot of money to us back then. One of our sayings was 'Three square meals and a dollar a day.'"

Paugh and his fellow CCC members at Garrett County's seven camps earned their pay and keep by performing such tasks as draining the Swauger Grist Dam pond at New Germany to prepare for the lake's construction; building Herrington Manor Lake at the southern end of Swallow Falls State Forest; fighting forest fires; planting trees on state-owned lands throughout the county; and shoveling miles of snow-covered roads by hand in the winters.

"We would eat breakfast at 7 a.m. and were in the field by 8 a.m. to do physical labor by hand all day long. At the end of the day it was back to the camp for supper. We could eat all we wanted, and, boy, we sure did," Paugh laughed. "All of us put on weight and grew muscles we didn't have, because our families just didn't have the money to feed us the way we were fed in camp."

Fellow New Germany camp alumnus Will Shulman, a Columbia resident, agreed. "I started with the CCC when I was 17 years old, at 4 feet, 11 inches tall and weighing 118 pounds. When I left I was 5 feet, 5 inches tall and weighed 145 pounds. It was a great stepping stone to the future, with all the good food, fresh air, and exercise.

"In 1935 I had just graduated from high school in Baltimore," Shulman remembered, "I was walking down Eutaw Street one day, very depressed because there was no work to be had anywhere, when all of the sudden I get whacked on the back of the head, and I turn to see a 6-foot, 6-inch policeman looking down at me, and he said 'What's wrong?' I told I didn't have a job, and he hit me on the head again and said, 'You'll find something and be happy,' and walked off.

"So I walked a couple of more blocks, and on Guilford Street I see a bunch of young guys walking two-by-two. I said to one of them, 'What are you doing?' 'We're joining the CCC,' he answered, and I said 'What's that?' They told me and I found the recruiting officer up in the line and joined right there on the spot. I marched with the group to a restaurant where they were going to get a meal, and sat down for the first restaurant-cooked meal of my life — hamburger steak and french fries. I thought I was in heaven.

"From the restaurant we marched to Camden Station to board a train to Fort Meade for processing, then we were sent on to Skyline Drive in Virginia. I hadn't even gone home to tell my mom or say goodbye, because I just couldn't pass up the opportunity. A few weeks later the camp commanders felt sorry for all of us boys because we were so homesick, so they loaded us up on the old stakebody trucks and drove us back to Baltimore for a Fourth of July holiday. That was really nice of them, although it was kind of a scary ride.

"I worked at Skyline Drive for five months before being sent to New Germany, where I worked in the garage as a mechanic. That really helped prepare me for the future," Shulman said.

Along with the prized food and much-needed pay, years later Shulman, Paugh, and their buddies also recalled how important a part the CCC's discipline was to play as war clouds gathered on the horizon. "The Army ran the camps," Paugh said, "and we got up at 5:30 in the morning to make our beds and scrub the barracks, which had been built by CCC boys themselves. There would be inspections of the barracks just like in the military, and we would march too. "That discipline helped me after I left the CCC in November of 1941 to become a mechanic at the Martin Aircraft plant in Baltimore, and when I joined the Army in 1942 to fight in the war. My CCC experience really helped me get along in the Army."

Fellow reunion organizer Bill Bailey, president of the Maryland CCC Alumni chapter and a resident of Prince George's County, agreed. Bailey, who worked in a CCC camp near his family's farm in Nebraska during 1940, said "The CCC helped a lot of us break the apron strings at home and learn to get along with other people. Most camps had around 250 people each, and I don't recall a single fight in ours. As the war approached and the draft was passed in 1940, the discipline in our camp became stricter in the military sense. In August of 1940 I left the CCCs to join the Marines," he said.

DNR park naturalist and historian Offutt Johnson, on hand for the event, commented that the work of the CCC has had reaching effects to this day in Maryland and around the coun-

"CCC BOYS" GATHER AT NEW GERMANY - New Germany State Park, home to Civilian Conservation Corps Company 326, S-52, during the height of the Great Depression, recently hosted a reunion of former CCC members from across Maryland and the surrounding region. Seven CCC camps operated in Garrett County, and some of those present for the reunion had built many of the parks and other public facilities still in use today. Above, from left, Maryland Department of Natural Resources historian and naturalist Offutt Johnson presents reunion chairman Keith Paugh and Bill Bailey, president of the Maryland CCC Alumni chapter, with a proclamation by Governor Parris Glendening that named August as "Civilian Conservation Corps Month." At right is New Germany superintendent Mike Gregory, who welcomed the "CCC boys" in the park's recreation hall, which some of them had constructed in the mid-1930s — by hand labor.

CRIME SOLVERS

The Garrett County Crime Solvers organization is currently seeking information about the theft of a boat in June.

Between June 4 and 5 of this year, a 22-foot red and white Cobalt pleasure boat was stolen from the Salt Marina, McHenry.

The boat was later found abandoned on Short Mile Road in Friendsville, and its 454 cubic inch Mercruiser inboard motor had been removed and stolen.

Persons who have information about this or any other unsolved crimes are urged to contact Crime Solvers at 301-334-1975. Callers do not have to give their names nor do they have to appear in court. Rewards of up to $1,000 are available to persons who provide tips that lead to arrests.

GCC Slates Class In Small Business Planning, Finances

The Small Business Development Center of Garrett Community College has scheduled a class in the development of a business plan and the management of finances needed to run a small business. The class will meet at GCC's McHenry campus for four consecutive Thursday evenings, Sept. 10, 17, 24, and Oct. 1, from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. Clay Garland will be providing instruction.

"Whether you're starting a business or expanding an ongoing venture, a business plan will help you use your resources most effectively to achieve success," a spokesperson for the Small Business Development Center stated. "[A business plan] is also required by financial institutions for loans. A business plan helps in working out cash flow problems, budgeting resources, and planning for growth. This class will emphasize the elements of a good business plan and the essentials of finance necessary to run a small business."

Space for the class is limited, and persons interested in registering should do so immediately. To register or obtain further information, interested persons may call GCC's Small Business Development Center at 301-387-3080.

Haskiell Named Career Placement Coordinator At GCC

Stacie Haskiell, recent graduate of Fairmont State College and resident of Terra Alta, W.Va., has been named to the new position of career placement coordinator at Garrett Conunuity College. Haskiell earned a bachelor of science degree in human services at Fairmont, where she also had extensive experience working in the Career Placement Office.

"Her appointment is indicative of the emphasis GCC will be placing on helping students to choose the best career paths and to make connections between their academic programs and the world of future employment," said college spokesperson Joan Crawford.

Haskiell said she sees a two-fold objective in her new positiou. getting students to identify their career potential through self-assessment, and finding jobs for studenta as they complete their programs. She also plans to schedule individual conferences with studenta who are ready to graduate.

"Here I have a great opportunity to meet individual students," she said. "A graduate survey we took at Fairmont indicated that many students did not know the Career Placement Office existed. I don't want that to happen here." Haskiell added that she views her new position as a challenge, stating, "I understand why people do not want to leave Garrett County and I'm excited about the opportunity to help them."

At Fairmont, Haskiell was president of College Action for the Conunuity, for which she organized community volunteer projects and implemented fund-raising activities. She was recipient of the Outstanding Senior Award for the Sociology Department, being one of two students to represent FSC at West Virginia Association of Career and Employment Professionals. She was also named to Who's Who Among Studenta in Universities and Colleges.

BIG THANK YOU

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Resh want to express their thanks to all of you who sent birthday greetings to them. It made the week extra special for them.

RETURN TO COLLEGE

Kandi and Leslie Buckel returned from their summer work in Ocean City and are now ready to dig into their studies at Frostburs State University. Leah Stanton and Aaron are beginning their sophmore years at Alleganv Collega. Jessica Cooper begins her freshman year at GCC.

Jennifer Kolbe departed for Towson State College. It is a sad day for this writer as she leaves for school as she was almost like my own daughter for a long time. The last year she was a huge help for me. Before she left for school she came up to give my kitchen floor one last good scrubbing, and then took my girls to the Creamery for some ice cream.

Allison Buckel is now back at College Park.

Good luck to all these returning and new college students. I know some I have missed from the community, but if I don't get your news, I can't report it.

OTHER NEWS

Margaret and Jim Wagner spent the weekend in Martinsburg, W.Va. The McLister family from Frederick spent the weekend at the Wagner home.

Edna Beitzel was a recent patient at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and is now recuperating at home.

Cindy and Sam Stanton celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary last week.

Ellen, Sam, and Brent Housley and Eric Garlitz spent the weekend in Ocean City. While there they visited with J.D. and Kim Moore. Ellen reports that her daughter, Michelle Geis, who is attending Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, recently received the House of Delegates Scholarship for the coming year. Great news!

Ferne Beachy visited friends at Town View Village in Accident last Wednesday.

Ruth DiPaolo was entertained with a fanuly birthday party at the home of her daughter, Carol Bass, on Thursday night. The families were all in attendance and also included Dale Glotfelty and Courtney Englar. Friday after attending a meeting, Ruth and Jane Fox dined at Denny's in Oakland.

STATE FAIR

Kelsey Wells, Rockville, was crowned Montgomery County Fair Queen. Kelly is a granddaughter of Max and Bea Buckle. She will compete this week at the Maryland State Fair at Timonium.

The Rodaev Glotfelty family made a nasty trip to the State Fair on Saturday to enter the Bittinger 4-H Club Booth, when the planned ride for it fell through because of an injury in the Guard family. The booth was placed in time and won second prize. The Glotfelty kids were proud of it and as Elliot said, "Well, we are only pretty little kids." It's true the booth conunittee was made up with mostly elementary school-age kids, including the Glotfelty kids, the Bass boys, the Sussman girls, and Charlie Hockman. They did just about all the work on it themselves with the help of 4-H Leader Vicki, and Marci and Maggie. Good work!

A blue ribbon is rare at the State Fair. In 10 or more times that I competed there on the dairy judging teams, riding in the 4-H State Horse Show, and a couple times on the 4-H Dairy Show, I only won one blue ribbon and that was a first-place ribbon in the Horse Show. It was always a highlight of my summer to go to the State Fair.

Monday, Garrett County Schools started. I hated to see it. Claire and Caitlin were very excited about it. Their little sister Meredith will have to miss the first few days of her second grade because of a mild case of chicken pox. It doesn't seem to slow her down much as she is jumping and dancing around the room. She may have infected some of her under-6 soccer team since last week they started practicing. Meredith and Emma Bass are on the Sturgeon Team, coached by Betsy Herpel and Courtney Englar.

Yes, the soccer season is on its way. For my family it means three practices and maybe three games every week. It's tough enough just getting the homework done.

Last year's almost unstoppable under-12 team sponsored by Railey Reality almost got together again, but some moved up to the under-15 division. Claire Sussman, Torrey Poholsky, Jessie Railey, and Brent Housley are on the Striker Team coached by Lenny Poholsky. They will play their first game today (Thursday). Smce they are pretty much only 12 years old this year, they will have their hands run with playing much older kids.

Caitlin Sussman and Matthew Bass are on the Drop-Kickers team.

Crystal Smith celebrated her 7th birthday with a party on Saturday at her grandmother's house at McHenry. Crystal is a daughter of Chip Smith and Dee Dee Seaman and great-granddaughter of Lottie Brenneman. The birthday party and camp-out was held at her grandparents, David and Paula Seaman, McHenry. Among her guests were Claire and Caitlin Sussman. Mere was unable to attend due to the chicken pox.

BAPTISM

Linda and Pete Buckel, Kim and Doug Collins, and Larry and Lana Robey and Lottie Brenneman attended the baptism of Ryan Gallucci, son of Mark and Tina Gallucci, at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland. Following the baptism, a celebration was held at his parents' home with 32 people in attendance.

Jim and Donna Glotfelty were among those attending the wedding of Christina Susan Keller and Jason Lee Elliott at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland, Saturday evening, and the reception held at the Kingwood Eagles Club. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nolder, and Mrs. Jack Meyers, Lindsay and Allison, Baltimore. also attended, and visited briefly with the Jim and Tom Glotfelty families enroute to their homes Sunday morning.

Tom and Tim Gloffelty flew to Canada for several days of fishing before Tim entered Nortnern Middle School and Tom returned to Atlantic City, where he is stationed as pilot with Spirit Airlines.

HONESTY AND INTEGRITY

Honesty and integrity are assentials on the bench. One who is elected to sit in judgment of others should do so from a position of complete personal integrity and must have earned the respect of both the Bar and the public. I am proud of my life, my career, my wife and my children.

I have made no promises or commitments to anyone during this campaign and will make none. Those who have supported me in this grass-roots effort have done so from commuity commitment only. They know there is nothing to gain but a better justice system.

Corruption is something I have always hated and fought against, whether in government or in private life. Honesty is more than not getting in trouble. It is standing up for what you believe; having the courage to speak out on important issues forthrightly and being willing to take action when you know something is wrong.

I have tried to conduct my law practice honorably. I have turned down dozens of criminal cases during my career. I have always refused to fight a custody case unless I was convinced it was the right thing for the child. It has been my practice to settle cases where a fair settlement was possible, advising my clients to save themselves the pain and expense of a trial, when possible, by throwing in the projected attorney's fees (except where matter of principle dictated otherwise). I have always done my best in representing my clients when there was no other choice but litigation.

I pledge honesty and integrity from the Circuit Court Bench.

Colebank Earns FCSI Promotion

In the first of what was described as several expansion-based promotions, Financial Computer Support Inc. recently announced the promotion of Aaron Colebank to programmer.

A native of Fellowsville, W.Va., Colebank joined the FCSI Technical Support team in 1997 after graduating from Glenville State College with a degree in computer science/information services.

Colebank will assist FCSI's programming staff with the development of the company's data-based Client Asset Management System (db CAMS+), which is designed for use in the financial industry.

UPPER YOUGH RACE

The 18th annual Glorious Upper Yough Race was held last Thursday on the Youghiogheny River at Friendsville. The race, which was coordinated in its conception and is sponsored every year by Jess Whittemore, is a 5-mile race in class 4-5 white water. This first and oldest extreme race in the country starts at Gap Falls and finishes in Kendall, and draws racers from all over the U.S. In past years different world class champions have tried their luck on the river, but none seem to be able to beat Roger Zbel, owner and operator of Precision Rafting, and the winner 17 out of 18 tries, including this year.

The race this year consisted of 44 contestants racing mostly in one-man kayaks, and drew over 100 spectators. The top four finishers were Roger Zbel, Friendsville, with a time of 28:25; Ted Newton, Allentown, Pa., in 30:30; Jess Whittemore, Friendsville, in 30:52; and Brian Homberg, also of Friendsville, in 30:57. The top women's finisher was Colleen Laffey of Fayetteville, W.Va., in 34:36.

The age of the racers ranged from 15 years through 55, with 14 racers over the age of 40. The only 15-year-old in the race, Zach Davis, of Washington D.C., received the coveted "Wheel of Misfortune" award, which is handed down each year to the person who sustains the worst wreck. After having the worst wreck of the race, Zach was able to perform a self-rescue by swimming out of danger. He kept on racing and finished above 10 other racers with a time of 40 min. 7 sec.

The Youth River is deemed world class because of its five miles of continuous class 4-5 white water and is especially popular because of its dam-released water even during drought seasons.

Because of the river's popularity among white water enthusiasts, it has enticed two businesses to Friendsville, Demaree Inflatable Boats and Mountain Surf, which offer some 50 jobs to local people.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Friendsville Elementary School opened its doors to students on Monday, Aug. 31. The first day showed students were eager to be back and settled in without any problems. Enrollment so far this year is 209 students.

Fridays this year are deemed "Spirit Day" at the school, when students are permitted to wear hats all day long in school.

Parent volunteers are always greatly appreciated and are needed again this year. Volunteers are urged to come in and offer assistance where it is needed or to take projects home when possible.

In the spring of 1998, the school adopted a mascot named Zoomer, an eagle, who has had quite a summer traveling around the United States. Zoomer has visited 10 states since he "took flight" via the U.S. postal service in April. "He started his journey in Florida where he was spotted sun-bathing on the beach, then traveled to Texas, and even made a trip to the Mardi Gras," stated a school spokesperson.

This project has inspired a painted map on the wall in the school's hallway and is being used to track the travels of Zoomer. He is being mailed from state to state (of the recipient's choosing) with participants writing about his adventures in a journal that is mailed with him. He is even sending back pictures and postcards of all his visits.

"The last state Zoomer was heard from was Missouri. Hopefully he will visit all 50 states before he arrives back at Friendsville School," the spokesperson said.

Changes in the staff for the 98-99 school year are as follows: Judy Livengood, kindergarten teacher; Kim Paul, first grade; Joan Whetsell, second grade; Sandi Cornes, third grade; and Dianne Dean-Anderson, fourth grade. New to the staff are Katy Fresh, guidance, and Amy Yutzy, speech therapist.

All Garrett County schools will be closed on Monday, Sept. 7, for Labor Day, and Tuesday, Sept. 15, for the Primary Election.

ROTARY CLUB YARD SALE

The Friendsville Rotary Club will sponsor a yard sale Saturday, Sept. 12, to benefit the Friend Family Association Museum and Library. The yard sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the lot across the street from the museum on First Avenue. Refreshments will also be for sale.

The Rotary Club is asking for the town's support. Donated items are needed for the sale, as well as baked goods for the food sale. Anyone wishing to donate items for the sale may do so by bringing them to the yard sale at 9:30 a.m. that day, or persons may contact Mary Walcek at 301-746-8194 to arrange for pick-up.

Monetary donations are also welcome. Checks should be made out to the Friend Family Association and sent to Carol Calhoun, president of the Friendsville Rotary Club, at P.O. Box 119, Friendsville, MD 21531.

Members of the Friend Family Association, including Hugh Friend and Bernadine Friend, are assisting Rotary Club members.

Ina Hicks will have the museum open for visitors the day of the yard sale, and Bob Hicks will be helping with the sale.

For the last few years the Friendsville Rotary Club has actively supported the museum/library with cash

Training Course For Child Care Providers Slated

A three-part training course designed to provide professional development for child care providers has been slated by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College. Each session will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. and are approved for contact hours.

"Fall Frolics: Crafts for Fall Holidays" is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 8, at GCC's Oakland Center, and "Alternatives in Discipline" is set for Tuesday, Oct. 13, at the college's McHenry campus. The instructor for these two sessions will be Emily Hobby. The third and final session, "ABCs ot Tax Management," will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Oakland Center, with Fannie Crawford providing instruction.

Tuition for the course is $15, and an out-of-county and out-of-state fee will be assessed if applicable. Participants who register for these fall semester sessions may enroll in the March 1999 series at a reduced cost of $10, plus a differential fee if applicable.

For more information interested persons may call Patricia Baer at GCC's Oakland Center at 301-334-8304, or the local Child Care Administration office at 301-334-3426.

M. Steele Enters Comptroller Race

Michael Steele of Prince George's County has entered the race for the position of Maryland's state comptroller. Ellen Saurbrey, Republican gubernatorial candidate, has endorsed Steele's campaign.

The candidate gained attention in 1996 when he fought to keep the cap on Prince George's County property taxes by chairing the Truth in Taxation Committee. He was named the Maryland State Republican of the Year in 1995 and was recently voted Man of the Year at his church, St. Mary's Catholic Church of Landover Hills.

Steele currently serves at the chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Prince George's County — the first African-American to hold that post — and was an alternate delegate at the 1996 GOP convention in San Diego, Calif. He is a member of the Prince George's County chapter of the NAACP, the executive committee of the Johns Hopkins Society of Black Alumni, and Maryland State Republican Advisory Committee on Minority Affairs.

He is counsel and assistant secretary of the Mills Corporation, a real estate investment trust. Steele resides in Prince George's County with his wife Andrea and their two sons, Michael and Drew.

Shuttleworth Wins Statewide Recognition

Linda C. Shuttleworth, M.Ed., C.R.C., Garrett County native and former resident, was recently selected as the 1998 Rehabilitation Services Administration (RSA) Professional of the Year for the state of Arizona. She was recognized during this year's RSA Staff Conference for her "successful accomplishments and commitment to the mission" of the RSA.

Shuttleworth, currently of Scottsdale, Ariz., was nominated by her entire staff, who submitted their recommendations to the awards committee. Staff members praised her work during the time of an unsettled Tempe (Ariz.) vocational rehabilitation office.

"She stepped into the role of first-time supervisor, refocusing the office and, through the respect and remolding of office staff expertise, improved the quality of delivery of services and casework," the staff stated.

According to the staff comments, Shuttleworth also demonstrated courage in her dedication to the RSA mission statement and the philosophy of continued learning to keep abreast of changes in the delivery of vocational rehabilitation services.

It was also noted that Shuttleworth encouraged employees to increase their expertise through education and fostered a cohesive work environment. "She is dedicated to the advocation of client goals within a holist perspective," the recommendation stated.

The daughter of Earl Shuttleworth, Oakland, and the late Nora Shuttleworth, Linda is a 1971 graduate of Southern High School. From the University of Pittsburgh (Pa.) she received her master of education degree in rehabilitation counseling, with a specialized degree in "Psychiatric Rehabilitation of the Long-Term Mentally Ill, Hispanic Speaking Population.

Shuttleworth moved to Arizona in 1993 to complete an internship and was subsequently hired by the Arizona Rehabilitation Administration, where she worked as a counselor until July 1995. She was then hired as an RSA program representative for the Work Exploration Program. In 1997 she became the RSA unit supervisor for the Tempe office.

She is married to Bob Leatherbury, a former McHenry resident.

WOW LODGE 45

The WOW Lodge 45 met Aug. 20 at the town park and shared a covered dish picnic. Julia Sines, president, conducted the meeting. Irving Lowdermilk won the 50-50 drawing.

Lodge 45 will host the annual WOW Jurisdictional corn roast on Sept. 13 at the Grace Lutheran Church. Coit and Kate Jenkins will prepare their "famous" french fries.

The new pavilion housed at Blooming Rose is completed. The next WOW meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 17, at the new pavilion with a hot dog roast. The S.W.A.T. team will be picking up trash and will meet at the pavilion at 3:45 p.m.

The lodge will be selling raffle tickets for a quilt made by Mildred Friend. The drawing tor the quilt will be held at the annual banquet on Oct. 3 at the Sand Spring Church Fellowship Hall.

Mary Frantz, Robin Sines, and Julia Sines attended the July 29 picnic at the Youth Camp at Camp Fairview in Clear Spring.

VANSICKLE REUNION

The VanSickle reunion will be held at the Masadonia Farm on Trap Run Road on Sunday, Sept. 6. The picnic lunch will begin at 1 p.m.

SPEAR REUNION

The 16th annual Spear Reunion will be held on Saturday, Sept. 12, starting at 10 a.m. at the Mt. Top Fellowship Center on Rt. 40. This year's gathering will have a western theme. There will be a nail driving contest, afghan giveaway, and prizes and games. Dinner will begin at 1 p.m. and an auction will follow. People are reminded to bring gifts ranging from $3 and up. For more information, persons may call 724-483-6671.

Letters

To the Editor:

I am writing in support of current Commissioner H. Wayne Wilt, who will be vying for his position as District I commissioner of Garrett County.

I had the privilege of working for Mr. Wilt for 17 years in the Department of Juvenile Services. During that time Mr. Wilt gained the respect of local and state officials because of his dedication and integrity to the position of supervisor for the Garrett County office.

Mr. Wilt executes the same dedication and integrity as commissioner for Garrett County. Through the turmoil when Mr. Wilt became commissioner four years ago, he has shown leadership and sound judgment to bring our county out of debt and refrain from tax increases. Our county is growing in leaps and bounds — and we need a commissioner to help keep all decisions affecting all Garrett County residents in proper perspective.

Mr. Wilt and his family have been by my family from birth to death, and I extend my support and gratitude to him and encourage all voters to support Mr. Wilt on September 15 in the primary election.

Deborah Frantz-Wine

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to the sheriff of Garrett County. I have a problem with a few present and past facts. I hope you will address these incidents to the public.

Dear Sheriff Sanders:

When you were the 1st Sgt at the Md. State Police Garrett County Detachment in the early 1980s did you make the statement that Garrett County did not need a Sheriff's Office? The statement you made was that all the county needed was resident troopers.

In March of 1996 you were the chief deputy of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. At that time a combined investigation division was in the process of being formed. This program would consist of the Md. State Police Garrett County issues based on what he Sheriff's Office, and the needs is best for Garrett Garrett Co. State's Attorney's Office. Did you advise Sheriff Sines that no employees of the Sheriff's Office should be involved? So the paper work was never submitted to the higher-ups for approval.

I observed an article in the latest edition of The Republican newspaper that you were all for this program now. Why?

As I visited the Garrett Co. fair this year I observed several correctional officers from your office wearing a handgun. Do they have the arrest powers like a deputy? I always thought the correctional officers wore their handguns for prisoner transports, court transports, and anything pertaining to the county jail. Did we have prisoners at the local fair?

Are you still operating a privatesecurity/investigation business, which you had before becoming sheriff?

I understand that at a recent commissioners' meeting you became upset and acted very unprofessional.

I hope you can clear up these facts to the public before the election.

A concerned citizen,
Carl Schaeffer
Oakland

To the Editor:

Sheriff Sanders has been accused of "double dipping." The truth is that my husband is not in the Garrett County retirement system, nor does he use the Garrett County health insurance.

The truth is that he saves Garrett County thousands of dollars every year, and the same applies to his chief deputy, Gary Berkebile.

Rumor and gossip have no place in this "Campaign for Sheriff." Let's base our vote on the truth.

A loving wife,
Joanie Sanders

To the Editor:

Wayne Johnson: a good friend, a good neighbor, and a good county commissioner. Wayne has worked tirelessly for our community over many years and is dedicated to serving the people of Garrett County. In my opinion, Wayne Johnson fully understands the needs of our county and has earned the privilege of serving. Elect Wayne R. Johnson

Andy Anderson

To the Editor:

This is the first election I have decided to endorse a candidate. Wayne R. Johnson is my choice. He will reflect the wishes of the conununity and demonstrate the meaning of being a public servant. How do I know? His entire life has been lived in that manner.

Sincerely,
Susan M. Riley

To the Editor:

In view of the upcoming elections, I have considered each current Garrett County incumbent, and have reached this conclusion: They are smelling like a soiled diaper — It's time for a change!

William "Walt" Walters
Grantsville

To the Editor:

Wayne Johnson, a native of Garrett County, has a diverse background working in the fields of education, banking, and administration, as well as active participation in many charitable organizations.

Wayne has demonstrated his honesty, sincerity, and hardworking commitment throughout the years as he has presently in his job as county commissioner. Seldom does such a highly qualified man present himself for public service.

I highly recommend and support Wayne Johnson for the office of county commissioner.

Jonathan J. Eckhart
Colonel (Ret.) USA

To the Editor:

The old saying goes "You don't know a man until you have lived with him." I have been married to Wayne Wilt for 26 years and know him very well.

Wayne is a kind and gentle man with high moral and ethical standards. He is a man of strong family values and places our family before anything else.

Wayne is a quiet, soft-spoken man. He is honest almost to a fault. I have never known him to be dishonest to anyone for any reason.

Wayne is a strong man who will not bend to political pressures. He will vote County and its citizens.

Wayne believes in the citizens of Garrett County and believes in our county's way of life. He is committed to our educational system, he wants good paying jobs for our young people, he wants safe roads for our families, he believes in good law enforcement, he believes in good health care, and will work hard toward these goals.

Wayne has always felt Garrett County was the perfect place to raise our daughter. Our daughter is now grown and teaching school in Garrett County. We are now new grandparents and want our grandson to grow up and love the Garrett County way of life, too.

Sincerely,
Judy Wilt

To the Editor:

I was 20 years old when I met Bob. I think we both feel that it was the best thing that ever happened to either one of us. Since then, we have had three lovely children and the kind of marriage you read about in storybooks.

I can honestly say that he has been a wonderful husband to me and father to his children. He approaches all things with reason, and seldom, if ever, allows himself to be governed by emotions. This is not to say that from time to time he does not get impatient with circumstances around him. Although he is not a person to be pushed too far, Bob does not hold a grudge; he is always willing to try a second or third tune and to accept responsibility for mistakes.

In short, I think he is a great guy.

Sincerely,
Rita Watson

To the Editor:

For sale: Garrett County, Md. Includes 30,000 +/- residents and property owners. Contact county commissioners at 301-555-1984.

In a letter to The Republican readers last year, Chuck Merritt, a board member of Corridor H Alternatives (the anti-superhighway group of West Virginia) warned: "Do not let your local representatives sell you out!"

Steve Schlomarie sounded essentially the same alarm last week, referring to our intrusive "Big Brother" (powerful out-of-county entities) and "Baby Brother" (potent special interests within our own Chamber of Commerce) all of which could also be synonymous with "Big Money."

It's easy to see why politicians need Big Money. One commissioner's campaign billboard in Oakland has roughly half the surface area of New Guinea and is loud enough to hurt my ears. And I'm stone deaf.

The unfortunate fact is Big Money is the cancer of democracy. Once a representative is in office, his top priority becomes caring for "Number One," or insuring re-election. The entities and PACs underwriting Number One's campaign get taken care of first. Taxpayers get leftovers. Thus, if the Chamber of Commerce is financing Number One's campaign and wants a superhighway that will devour your property, the odds are Number One will champion the Chamber. And ignore your protests.

Unless you protest properly.

To "quantify the situation" as requested by T.C. Rissell: An informally verified eighty (80) percent of the county residents oppose the superhighway. If we are to successfully prevent our representatives from selling us out, we must first build an open, responsive local government from the ground up.

But be of good cheer. Not all commissioner contenders kneel at the superhighway altar. To name a few who don't, Insley, Hetrick, Sebold, Railey, Beard, Thaver, and Falter have declared their opposition to it.

All they are saying is, give change a chance.

R.C. Speicher
Grantsville

To the Editor:

I am supporting Bob Watson for judge primarily because of his character, which is well known to me. I have known Bob for almost 20 years. I have known Bob's wife Rita for her whole life. She was born and raised in Shallmar. Her mother, Vivian Tasker, was head of the senior citizens meals program.

Bob is a straight shooter. If you ask him a question you will get a straight, honest, and level-headed answer. He is compassionate and has an excellent sense of humor. His children, William, Colleen, and Bobbi, are bright, loving, and well behaved. The Watson family is solid and a loving family unit, the kind that is the bedrock of America. In all the years I have known Bob, I have never known him to do anything even remotely dishonest. He is a man of the highest character and integrity and I know he will make an excellent circuit court judge.

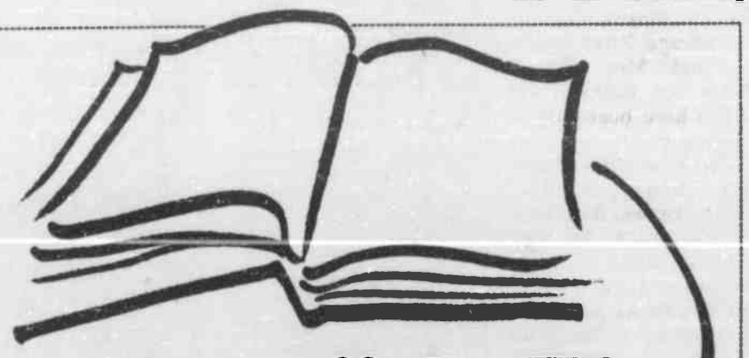
Sincerely,
David A Burdock

To the Editor:

I suppose in a state seemingly in the perpetual grip of radical liberals it is to be expected that Republicans, conservatives, if you will, are forever destined to have to vote for less radical hberals posing as Republicans. For sucn poseurs, the bar is set mighty kw. And not just because they set it for themselves either. Look at what they get to compare themselves to: runaway Welfare State Liberals, with their own brand of truth and no concept whatsoever of what their tax-aad-spend propensities do to working people. They, and the poseurs to a slightly lessor degree, don't know — or don't care that they are the primary reason one income no longer suffices to allow children to be raised in their own homes instead of in misbegotten Nanny State, daycare centers. In case you didn't know, Marylanders are the second highest taxed folks in the U.S. of A.

Let's take a look at our wonderful choices. In my opinion, we have an incumbent delegate who has almost single handedly, over the years, placed his constituents among the highest taxed and lowest paid body of workers — except for those on the various government payrolls, of course — in the entire state. And he's the career politician who introduced us all to the career politician's best friend — and invention, I might add - The Salary Advisory Commission. Have you ever heard of one recommending lower salaries for part-time elective offices? If he has ever had a fiscal conservative thought in his political career, that's now into its third decade, I'd like to know what it was.

From my vantage point, we have an incumbent state senator who has no firmly held beliefs. Therefore he has no political compass. Come to think of it, he has no rudder either. So if he were to find a compass, it would be worthless, too.



We have a former delegate, carrying some old baggage, but now handling it quite well apparently. He may be the best of a bad lot, considering he's not a career politician ... or a cowboy? Who was that masked man?

For co. commissioner, we have a comeback attempt by a man whom I consider was part of the one-two punch for higher taxes and higher government salaries

Re-elect
WAYNE WILT

Republican for
GARRETT COUNTY
COMMISSIONER
District One
BENEFITS
- During Wilt's tenure as County Commissioner, he has refused to accept any type of health insurance offered to other county employees.
- Wilt has not participated in the county retirement system offered to other county employees.
- Wilt has refused to accept a county owned vehicle for local county business and general transportation.
- Wilt's refusal to accept the above mentioned fringe benefits are a great financial savings to the county taxpayers, and if re-elected, Wilt will continue to refuse to accept the benefits.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
August 11, 1998

MARYLAND STATE BAR ANNOUNCES
ENDORSEMENT OF JUDGE SHERBIN

The Maryland State Bar Association is committed to the philosophy that Maryland's judiciary should be of the highest quality, and persons serving on the Bench should reflect this in character, integrity, judicial temperament, and knowledge. To preserve this tradition, the Maryland State Bar Association, Board of Governors, has passed a resolution endorsing James L. Sherbin, who will be on the ballot September 15, 1998.

Judge Sherbin is of the highest caliber and has served Maryland, and Garrett County, with distinction, in the performance of judicial duties as evidenced by his record.

Judge Sherbin has earned the confidence, respect, and support of the Maryland Bar. Garrett County citizens are fortunate to have a judge who is of the highest caliber and well-respected.

The public should not underestimate the importance of the vote this September 15th for Circuit Court judge. Maryland State Bar Association urges all Garrett County citizens to vote in favor of Judge James L. Sherbin.

Miss Sebold Is Again Named To Who's Who

Ann Sebold, daughter of Don and Charlotte Sebold, Sang Run, has received the distinction of being named to Who's Who Among American High School Students for consecutive years. Only five percent of the nation's high school students are included in this annual award, and only one half of one percent are honored for two or more years.

Miss Sebold is a senior at Northern High School, where she takes advanced placement and honors courses. She is working toward being a "completer" in the electronics program and is a VICA winner at the state level.

In both 10th and 11th grades, she was chosen by the Northern faculty as the Outstanding Female Student of the Year. She serves as the closing attorney on the school's mock trial team.

Miss Sebold is a member of Zion Lutheran Church, where she sings in the youth choir.

Broadwaters Meet For 89th Family Reunion

Approximately 300 persons attended the 89th annual Broadwater Reunion, held recently at the Grantsville Community Park.

Fiddle champion Grover Broadwater, accompanied by Robert Broadwater, Ed Rafferty, and George Llewellyn, provided music throughout the afternoon. Other entertainers were Janet Broadwater, Thelma Bittinger, Irvia Broadwater, and Raymond Wagner.

Prizes were given in several categories. The oldest man present was Jim Broadwater, 89, and the oldest woman was Cleo Broadwater, 85. Traveling the farthest was Dailey Kaeser, Tullohana, Tenn., and the most recently married were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rounds, Grantsville. The youngest baby present (3 months old) was the child of Mr. and Mrs. Tilton, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Harmon Broadwater family received the prize for most members present, and the gift for the couple married the longest went to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wampler, Savage River, and to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Broadwater, LaVale. Both couples have been married for 62 years.

Margie Garlitz conducted the children's games. The "guess cake" was donated by Ailene O'Neal and was won by Ben Hummel. David Broadwater assisted Margie Garlitz with the guest book. The grand prize, with names drawn by Shelley Garlitz, was won by Freda Broadwater, Baltimore.

The officers are Marvin E. Broadwater, LaVale, president; Ailene O'Neal, Cumberland, treasurer; and Margie Garlitz, Cumberland, secretary.

The 90th reunion will be held Sunday, Aug. 1, 1999, at the Grantsville Community Park.

and pensions of a previously mentioned delegate, a few years back. If he is trying to secure his county pension, his campaign slogan should be "Just One More Term... Pleeeeeeze!"

We have a front-runner for sheriff, by virtue of his having gotten yet another appointment, from the Oakland Political Clique, to that very position this time. What's that? Do you smell something too? Could he possibly be their boy?

Then we have a 15 yr. city police chief who would probably make at least an experienced candidate for sheriff, running for register of wills... because he can do nothing just as well as the long-time present incumbent.

Wow! What a great time to be a Republican! My real dilemma is, I'm probably going to have to vote for a couple of these je... people.

Cordially,
Ronald R. Rowan

To the Editor:

My name is Eugene A. Walsh. I am 48 years old and a candidate for Maryland's comptroller.

I graduated from Loyola College in 1971, B.S., accounting; and, the University of Baltimore Law School in 1974. I have been a Maryland attorney for 24 years.

In fiscal year 1997, the comptroller's office collected $9.216 billion in revenues. These revenues were collected at a cost to the Maryland taxpayers of 63 cents per $100 collected. This is less than the cost of two first-class postage stamps. Of the $9.216 billion collected, approximately $5 billion or 54 percent was collected through electronic funds transfers. These facts indicate a very well organized and efficiently operated comptroller's office.

Additionally, the comptroller's office has moved onto the world wide web. From the comptroller's web site you can get Maryland income tax forms, publications, instructions, helpful tax tips, and even request an extension of time to file your personal income tax return.

Also the comptroller's office continues to expand the use of electronic filing of income tax returns. For the tax year 1996, the office registered a 30 percent growth of income tax returns filed electronically.

As your comptroller, I would continue to provide the same responsive and efficient service to all of Maryland's citizens. I would strive to provide you, the Maryland taxpayers, the same self-less dedication you have come to expect from your comptroller's office.

Please vote for Eugene A. Walsh for comptroller on Tuesday, September 15. Thank you.

Eugene A. Walsh
Candidate for Comptroller

To the Editor:

We would like to endorse Wayne R. Johnson for County Commissioner, District 3. We know him as a man who has vast experience as a public-sector administrator, who has demonstrated managerial acumen in education, banking, and governmental service, and who has a strong reputation for unimpeachable integrity. We believe strongly that Wayne does offer "native leadership" for a better Garrett County.

Sincerely,
Don Forrester

To the Editor:

Wayne Johnson, who is a Republican candidate for county commissioner in District 3, is a fine, upstanding citizen of Garrett County. He is honest, conscientious, moral, fair, and an experienced administrator. If elected he will address all constituents' concerns promptly, thoroughly, and satisfactorily.

Let's return Mr. Johnson to the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, where he performed so very well after being appointed by the governor to full a vacancy.

To the Editor:

We have a fine, upstanding citizen of Garrett County who is a candidate for the State Board of Public Works, I would fully support the state's acquisition of Deep Creek Lake and the buffer zone, either by purchase or eminent domain.

Unusual Head Lice Treatments Reported

Each year 10 to 12 million Americans experience head lice infestation. Lice are tiny insects that live on the head, in the hair, and other parts of the body. Lice eggs (nits) look like tiny white grains that cling to hair follicles. If left untreated lice infestation can lead to severe itching, scratching, local infection of the skin, and weeping or crusting of the scalp.

Standard treatment involves removal of the nits (special combs are available) and use of medicated shampoos and other topical products that are toxic to the lice. Because many of the standard medicines used to treat head lice are not working as well as they once did, reports of unusual treatments are occurring. There is one report of a clinic that recommends a vinegar rinse to help loosen nits from the hair.

JUSTICE AND THE ADVERSARIAL SYSTEM

Our American System of Justice is an adversarial system based on the English Common Law. The theory behind it is that each person is entitled to have his or her day in court and to have an attorney to assist in presenting the case. The attorneys are substitutes for the "champions" of Mediaeval times who were appointed to represent their principals in "trial bycombat." The attorneys of today still engage in a form of combat. It is their job to represent their clients to the best of their abilities within the rules of ethics. The idea is that if each attorney does so, the cases will be fully presented and the Judge will be able to sort out the truth and do justice.

Winston Churchill once said, after hearing a diatribe on the evils of representative government, that Democracy is the worst of all possible systems of government except for all other systems. The same can be said for the adversarial system of justice. You can find many things to criticize in it, but compared to all other systems, including the British, our American system still provides the closest thing to justice yet devised by man, despite the political changes the Supreme Court has made in our law.

Of course, the system works properly, only if each of the participants does his or her job competently. And the better the Judge, the better the system works.

For 20 years, it has been my job to do surrogate combat as an attorney for clients. I have done that to the best of my ability. If you have been on the losing side in one of my cases, or have been unpleasantly cross-examined, please consider what I have said here. If elected to the Circuit Court bench, I pledge to do my very best, as I did as an attorney, to achieve justice in every case which comes before me. I believe that a Judge should be firm, should maintain proper court room decorum, should be courteous to all the participants in the trial and above all should be fair and impartial.

If you would like to discuss this more, please call me.

Loch Lynn Makes Elections Plans

Elections of municipal officials in Loch Lynn will be held in November. Residents will select candidates for the offices of mayor, two council members, and treasurer.

Candidate applications for office will be available soon at the town hall. An October primary is planned.

Further information on applications and deadlines for filing will be released shortly.

Registration For Evening High School Slated

Individuals who wish to enroll in evening high school in Garrett County may register on September 8 and 9 from 7 to 9 p.m. Registration will be held at both Northern High School and Southern High School on these evenings, according to Henrietta M. Lease, director of curriculum and instruction, 9-12, for the Garrett County Board of Education.

A registration fee of $50 will be assessed to each enrollee. For each course, a $20 deposit will be required as well. Deposits will be refunded upon return of textbooks and other school issued materials in good condition. All costs are payable at the time of registration.

Classes for evening high school students will begin on Monday, Sept. 14. Classes at Northern High School meet one evening per week through the school year. Classes at Southern High School meet two evenings per week and are scheduled by semester. Transportation to evening high school classes is not provided.

Persons who have not completed high school requirements and wish to take required courses for credit may do so through evening high school. Courses are offered based on identified graduation requirements and are subject to sufficient enrollment. First semester course offerings for Southern High School are limited to Art I, English I and II, Integrated Algebra, U.S. History, and Physical Activity. Special Education courses are offered on an "as needed" basis.

For additional information, persons may contact the guidance office at Northern (301-746-8669 or 301-895-5434) or Southern High School (301-334-1660) or the Garrett County Board of Education at 301-334-8930 or 301-334-3163.

try. "After a couple of centuries of mismanagement of our nation's forests, when trees were cut down without any thought of the future, the CCC was put to work in a massive reforestry effort. The project rivaled the building of the pyramids, really, by putting 3 million boys to work with picks and shovels to plant trees and build structures by hand that are still around today. The quality and craftmanship of some of their work was truly superb," he marveled.

Johnson, who is stationed at Patapsco Valley State Park, also commented that the logs for a recent building project at Patapsco by the Maryland Conservation Corps, a modern-day state works program modeled on the old CCC, came from trees planted by the CCC six decades ago in Savage River State Forest.

[illegible] built by the CCC as well.

Bailey, the first member of his family to graduate from high school, eventually became an agricultural research engineer at the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center and taught courses in agricultural engineering at the University of Maryland College Park and University of Connecticut as well.

"My experience with the CCC, when I worked with a crew constructing a series of demonstration farms in eastern Nebraska that were used by the Soil Conservation Service to teach farmers new land- and water-saving techniques, helped me," he said. "Although I had no hopes of going to college during my CCC days, when the military helped out later on with college tuition, I was able to draw on my CCC experiences in some of my classes."

As he watched the reunion gathering draw to an end and the white-haired men and women said goodbye to one another "until next time," Bailey thought of what they had all been through, including the Depression and war, and what lessons could be learned.

"Senator Daniel Inouye of Hawaii once said, 'The memory of this country is only about 15 years,'" Bailey said. "We have these reunions so that our CCC days aren't forgotten. I hope that future generations don't have to go through what we did, but if it comes to that, they'll be OK. We were just kids back then," he laughed, "and look, we came out all right."

Then he quietly added, "You never know what you're capable of until you have to find out."

School Upgrades Celebrated At Swan Meadow

by Peggy Santamaria

It was a day of celebration for the Swan Meadow School community. Teachers, children, Garrett County Board of Education administrators and staff members, neighbors, and parents came together to joyfully acknowledge what they had accomplished together. Another phase of the school building renovation was complete.

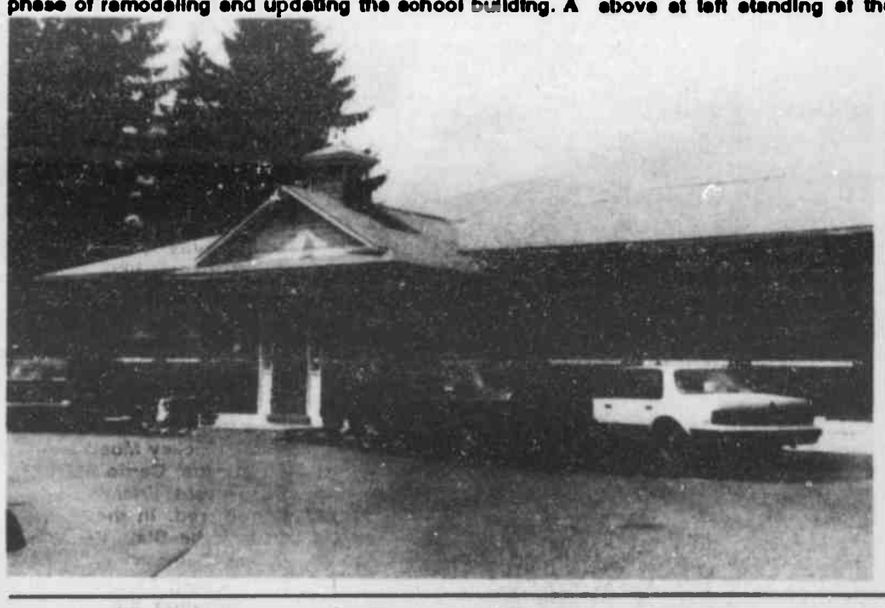
The group congregated in new media/resource center to recognize the efforts of all involved. The space housed rows of book shelves, desks, and computer work areas. The shiny light-colored tile floors combined with the freshly painted new walls to create a bright, open area.

Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of schools, addressed those gathered for the celebration and praised their endeavors and their results. A prayer of thanks was then offered, and the group moved from the newly constructed center out onto the school lawn for a picnic feast spread in the cool shade of the branches of the ancient oak trees.

Swan Meadow School has a history of strong community support that encompasses far more than lipservice. The current brick school building was constructed by the community with material supplied by the county school system. Its doors opened in 1958 to replace the old school. Several of the people who built the brick school 40 years ago were also part of the work crew this summer.

Community resident Paul Petershiem was in the last first grade class to attend the old school. "I started second grade in the brick school the year it opened," he remembered. Petersheim was part of the workforce that raised the walls and laid the floor joists for the current remodeling and expanding project.

Looking at the new building and pointing out the extended play ground area and ball field, Petersheim, whose youngest daughter graduated from Swan Meadow this year, is pleased with the project. "It's really a dream come true," he said.



Swan Meadow principal Linda Fleming praised the spirit and willingness of everyone who took part in the building project that created a joint venture between board of education maintenance workers, school custodians, and neighbors. "Everyone really worked hard on this. They came in here the day after school closed and started work. My staff has been in here for weeks, giving of their own time to get things ready. It's a great school," she stated.

Read. Then Recycle.

WORKING TOGETHER, members of the Swan Meadow School community, school staff, and employees of the Garrett County Board of Education have finished another phase of remodeling and updating the school building. A joyful group gathered last week to celebrate the completion of the project. Among those present were school superintendent Dr. Wendell Teets, pictured in the photo above at left standing at the far left with school board members Dale Carpenter and Pat Riley, and county commissioner Gary Fretz. Board member Charlotte Seibold, center, was also present, as were county commissioners Wayne Johnson and Wayne Wilt, at the far right. In the photo above principal Linda Fleming thanked Elma Swartzentruber for all her support and volunteer effort at the school. Below at left is the part of the school built by community members in 1958. In the photo on the right below is a view from the back of the school showing in new sections added and remodeled in the last two summers.

Accident Man Sentenced After Domestic Assault

An Accident man was handed a two-month jail term after pleading guilty to a domestic assault charge in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings.

Brett Wayne Fratz, 19, received a six-month sentence, all but two months of which was suspended, and was placed on two years of supervised probation. District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett also ordered Fratz to make a $196 restitution payment to the victim. An additional charge of malicious destruction of property was not prosecuted by the State's Attorney's Office.

Fratz had been arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in June after a domestic altercation at an Accident residence that he was sharing with a female acquaintance. He allegedly assaulted the victim and punched a hole in one of the walls of their apartment.

In other district court news, another domestic assault that occurred in the Accident area resulted in convictions on two counts of second-degree assault and one count of malicious destruction of property faced by 21-year-old Jason Davis Link, who had pleaded not guilty to each of the charges.

Link was handed a one-year suspended sentence and placed on one year of unsupervised probation after his June arrest by Maryland State troopers, after allegedly assaulting his mother and her daughter at their residence. He had allegedly grabbed and shook his mother and threatened her and the other woman with a tire iron, reportedly banging against the door of a car occupied by the two women.

Gloria Jane Friend, 34, Mtn. Lake Park, pleaded guilty to welfare fraud and was handed a 60-day suspended sentence, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to pay $698 in restitution to the Garrett County Department of Social Services. An additional charge of forgery was not prosecuted.

Sheriff's deputies had arrested Friend in June for allegedly forging documents in order to receive food-stamps. According to the charging statement she had drawn the payments while her boyfriend, Ronald Guthrie, was gainfully employed and residing with her.

Sandra Lovelady, 40, and Frank Michael Lovelady, 49, both of Pittsburgh, Pa., both pleaded guilty to a charge of marijuana possession; each defendant received a 30-day sentence with all but two days suspended, a $155 fine, and six months of unsupervised probation.

The couple were arrested in May by Maryland state park rangers who had reportedly observed them smoking marijuana at a Deep Creek Lake State Park campsite late at night.

Sheryl Darlene King, 38, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs, while additional charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia were not prosecuted. She received a 30-day sentence, all but four days of which was suspended, and a $100 fine, and was placed on one year of supervised probation.

King had been arrested by state troopers in June following a traffic stop in Friendsville for erratic driving. A search incident to her DUI arrest uncovered suspected marijuana in her vehicle.

Charges of trespassing and disobeying the lawful order of a law enforcement officer faced by Marvin Eugene White Jr., 20, Oakland, were placed on the stet docket. The charges stemmed from his May arrest by sheriff's deputies for trespassing in the parking lot of Browning's Foodland after having been expressly warned not to do so. As a condition of the stet ruling, White is required to perform 20 hours of community service.

A previous sentence stemming from a fourth-degree sex offense conviction of Lawrence Paul Fike, 38, Friendsville, was revised to reflect a probation before judgment.

Previously stetted charges of child abuse and second-degree assault that had been brought against Sheila Ann Vance Hardesty, 36, Swanton, were reopened and then revised to reflect no prosecution.

Russell Eugene Tasker, 27, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a charge of second-degree assault.

Students Earn GCCF Scholarships

TAMMY LEE

BRITTNEY DECKER

Two graduates of Southern High School have been awarded scholarships by the Garrett Community College Foundation, according to advancement officer Bretta Reinhard.

Tammy Lee of McHenry, daughter of John and Betty Louise Muir, has received the Oakland Rotary Scholarship.

Lee is majoring in math science at GCC and plans to be self-employed in the computer field. In high school she was advisor to the FFA, and her hobbies include gardening, needlepoint, bicycling, and skiing.

Brittney Decker, also of McHenry, is the daughter of Lloyd and Sharon Decker. She has received the Charles L. Briner Memorial Scholarship and the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club Bill Ravenscroft Memorial Scholarship.

Decker is majoring in business administration and, after receiving her A.A. degree, plans to transfer and complete a bachelor's degree. In high school she was a member of the Christian Club and the National Honor Society. She is a member of the Crellin Assembly of God and the Youth Group Powersource. Her hobbies are reading, piano, singing, and art.

FAIRNESS ELECT IT!

Fairness is not an abstract concept. It's not something that springs into being by itself. It's not even something that results from good intentions. It has to be worked at. It takes honesty and courage and a lot of hard learning and skill. Fairness is doing the right thing for the child in a custody case, making the correct decision in a complex civil case and handling criminal cases in a manner that can withstand an appeal that might result in injustice. Fairness is treating everyone as equal before the law regardless of social standing, wealth or political power. Fairness is honesty. It is directly proportional to competence. Fairness is the first casualty of sloppy justice. I pledge fairness from the Garrett County Circuit Court bench.

"On-The-Job Training"

As we celebrate another Labor Day, it comes to mind just how much of our lives we spend in the workplace. Certainly the workplace must be a training ground for each of us...not just training for our jobs, but for our lives.

At work, we have opportunities for personal growth. Whether it be interpersonal relationships, self-confidence, or self-control, these are only a few of the countless lessons we can learn in the workplace. A positive attitude and an open mind facilitates daily possibilities for becoming a more spiritually mature individual. Though reprimand is not as pleasant as praise, when received with positivity it too can be an opportunity for personal growth. August Wilson said, "Your willingness to wrestle with your demons will cause your angels to sing."

Finally and most importantly, worship God each week. In His House you will find faith...in God and in your own possibilities. With faith your training is complete.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ON BLAMING THE SNAKE

September 6, 1998

Background Scripture:
Genesis 3
Devotional Reading:
Romans 7:15-25a

As a teenager, I assumed that the sin of Adam and Eve was a sexual one. My assumption was understandable because people very often portrayed them in that light. The 'forbidden fruit'—usually depicted as an apple—was usually suggestive of sexual pleasures. It probably wasn't until my theological studies that I realized that their sin was much more encompassing. They disobeyed God in eating the forbidden fruit and it robbed them of their innocence, making them ashamed of their nakedness.

This misconception is only one of many which people entertain about the meaning of the Garden of Eden. Among others is that God counts us as sinners because of what Adam and Eve did aeons ago. One bright lad in one of my confirmation classes said he thought it was very unfair of God to hold us responsible because people disobeyed him so long ago.

My response was that this story is not to much about what happened long, long ago, but what is happening in our lives right now. Like Adam and Eve—not because of what they did—we willfully disobey God's commandments today. That responsibility does not rest with them, but each of us. It is not so much history as it is our story.

NOTHING TO HIDE

Just compare their situation with ours. Their initial relationship with God was an ideal one. They "were both naked," but they were "not ashamed." Innocent up to this point, they had nothing to hide, either from God or from each other. That is the kind of unashamed relationship for which God creates us.

Then, introduced into the story, is the one factor that always ruins that guileless relationship: the tempter. Note that the tempter in Genesis 3 is not the obvious "bad guy." Genesis portrays the tempter as a serpent, "who was more subtle than any other wild animal that the Lord God had made." The worst temptations are the subtle ones that persuade us that they are not temptations, but ideas that are fully rational and justifiable.

The tempter always tries to confuse us with suggestive words: "Did God say, 'You shall not eat of any tree in the garden'?" (Maybe politics is the world's oldest profession!). But Eve knew that God had restricted them from eating only the fruit of "the tree in the midst of the garden." She remembered also that God had warned "...lest you die." Note that Eve rejects the tempter's suggestion, not because God forbade them, but because she is afraid of the dire consequences.

EQUAL WITH GOD!

This is where the tempter excels: he makes us doubt sin's consequences. "You will not die," he tells Eve. "For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God knowing good and evil." He suggests a divine conspiracy to keep Adam and Eve from being equal to God. How much more effective these words are than if he had simply said, 'Go ahead and disobey God!' Eating the fruit will not be 'disobedience' but self-fulfillment! (How often we disobey God for the sake of 'self fulfillment'!)

Later, when God confronts them, it is evident that the serpent lied. They were not given the power to discern between good and evil, but only to

Alpha Alpha Has Summer Workshop

Alpha Alpha Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, recently held its summer workshop at the home of Lillian Reckner, Deep Creek Lake. Chapter members worked on society business and held installation of officers for the next biennium.

Installed as chapter president was Dr. Amy Harman, professor of biology at Frostburg State University. Irmgard Koscielniak, home economist with the Extension Office, will serve as the chapter's first vice president. Elected as secretary was Anna Beachy, retired Garrett County school teacher. Absent for the installation was newly elected second vice president Dr. Judith Pula, English instructor at Frostburg State.

The program theme for 1998-2000 is Education in a Global Community—Nurturing today for a non-violent community tomorrow.

A yard sale fund-raiser for chapter projects will be held this Saturday, Sept. 5, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., across from the Dental Health Group on Route 219 north of Oakland.

The next meeting will be a combined meeting with Eta Chapter from Allegany County on Sept. 26 at McClive's Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International promotes professional and personal growth of women educators and excellence in education. Members present at the workshop were: Dr. Amy Harman, Anna Beachy, Irmgard Koscielniak, Lillian Reckner, Anna Marie Miller, Anna Bishop, Alice Eary, Carol Slagle, Alice Hevner, Rosanne Sherwood, Barbara Flinn, Jean Grose, Jane Fox, and Jeanne Whitehair.

Highland Arts Performances Are Announced

Highland Arts Unlimited of Mineral County, W.Va., is opening its membership campaign for the 1998-1999 season. This will be the 26th season for Highland Arts existence. During those 26 years this organization has sponsored such artists as the Joffrey Ballet and the Vienna Choir Boys. Many times the artists come directly from Kennedy Center, where they have appeared the night before.

"Each year outside funding has dwindled," stated an HAU spokesperson, "but still HAU continues to bring the same high quality productions as in the past."

This year the season opener will be the Seachanters, the official vocal group of the United States Navy, which will appear on Thursday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m. in the Church-McKee auditorium of the Potomac State College Art Center in Keyser. This event, sponsored by HAU and Potomac State College, is open to everyone, free of charge.

The season will continue with the presentation of mime-comedian Dan Kamin on Thursday, Oct. 1. This entertainer has written acts for Charlie Chaplin and appeared in many movies. Some funding for this event comes from the Vira I. Heinz Endowment through the Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation.

"Salute to the Century," 100 years of musical moments by the 21-piece Hollywood Hills Orchestra, will be the third offering of this season and is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 13. This event features Mac Frampton, a well-known pianist in this area. The program will cover the most noted music of the past 100 years.

On November 17 at 8 p.m., Karen Vuranch will portray Pearl S. Buck, beloved West Virginian and world famous author of books about China, where she lived for many years. Vuranch will relate the story of Buck's life and the Asian culture she experienced.

Highland Arts will open the 1998 Christmas season on December 1 with "Christmas Music Through the Ages Around the World" by the Sabella Consort. This group excels in the use of many different instruments, which makes it sound like a full-fledged orchestra. At intermission, Christmas refreshments will be served. The program will end with a Christmas sing-along.

The Potomac State College Community Band and Community Chorus will present its annual Christmas concert on December 8. There will be no admission charge.

The musical Grease will be presented on February 25, 26, and 27 and March 4, 5, and 6 at 8 p.m. At 2 p.m. on February 28 and March 7 there will be matinee performances. HAU members may attend this event as many times as they choose just by showing their cards.

The spring season will begin with the Potomac State Jazz Combo and Jazz Singers on April 15. This event is also free of charge.

The final offering of the season will be a concert on Monday, April 19, by traditional folk musician and composer John Hartford of Nashville. His "Gentle on My Mind" composition is one of the most widely recorded tunes of all times.

Unless otherwise stated, all Highland Arts Unlimited events begin at 8 p.m. in the Church-McKee auditorium of the Potomac State College Art Center, which is handicapped accessible.

This 1998-1999 season is made possible by HAU memberships, the Mineral County Board of Education, Potomac State College, the West Virginia Commission on the Arts, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Wilson Completes Health Careers Program At WVU

Holly Wilson, Swanton, recently completed a six-week summer enrichment program sponsored by Health Careers Opportunity Program (HCOP) at West Virginia University, Morgantown.

HCOP is designed to promote careers in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and allied health for West Virginia and Western Maryland students. The program gives academic and social support to those students about to enter college, students who have graduated college and are entering professional school, and students who have graduated professional school and are about to enter professional fields.

Wilson plans a career in massage therapy after graduating from Garrett Community College this fall. She has volunteered with nursing home visitations and church childcare and helped in developing the Swanton High School Wetlands. Wilson has received several honors, including the Charles L. Briner Award.

HCOP is based at Robert C. Byrd Health Sciences Center. It is funded by the state of West Virginia, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the Health Resources and Services Administration, Bureau of Health Professions, and the Div' on of Disadvantaged Assistance. HCOP is a collaborative effort between WVU and Western Maryland AHEC.

GCC To Offer Infant/Toddler Caregiver Class

An Infant/Toddler Training for Caregivers course (45 hours) will be offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College. The course will be held at the Oakland Center of GCC starting on September 15, and continuing until October 29. It will meet from 5 to 8 p.m.

This course is designed specifically for those individuals who are daycare or Head Start child care workers. Topics will include safety and health; promotion of physical, cognitive, social, and emotional development; and family interaction. The instructor will be Rebecca Friend.

"September is Habitat For Humanity Month!" — "This is a great time to join the CARPENTER'S CLUB!!"

HABITAT HOUSES ARE:

•1,040 square feet in size •Built with volunteer labor
•"A hand up, not a handout" •Owned by families who can afford the mortgage, taxes, insurance, and utilities using no more than one third of their income and have contributed 500 hours of sweat equity.

All are built on a solid foundation of community support, including:
•Volunteer Workers
•Businesses
•Churches and civic clubs which provide meals and lodging
•Financial support from generous, committed individuals

The CARPENTER'S CLUB is a special way for you to support Habitat. Each square foot of living space costs $46.00, and Carpenter's Club members pledge to cover the cost of that one square foot in every house we build. Traditionally, Habitat builds two houses each year, so that the biggest commitment a member has is $92.00 a year. When we have reached our goal of 1,000 members, the biggest stumbling block Habitat faces—the start-up cost for each home, will be conquered.

PLEASE JOIN THE CARPENTER'S CLUB
by returning the pledge card below with your check for $92.00 made out to Garrett County Habitat for Humanity. Hereafter, you will be informed each time Habitat is about to break ground on a new home to remind you of your pledge.

The Board of Directors and fellow Carpenter's Club members thank you for considering this opportunity.

Skipper Files To Retain Seat On GOP Committee

William C. Skipper, Oakland, has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Garrett County Republican Central Committee. Skipper, a native of Garrett County, was born in Crellin in 1948, and has lived most of his life here. He is a 1967 graduate of Southern High School and earned his bachelor of arts degree from Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo.

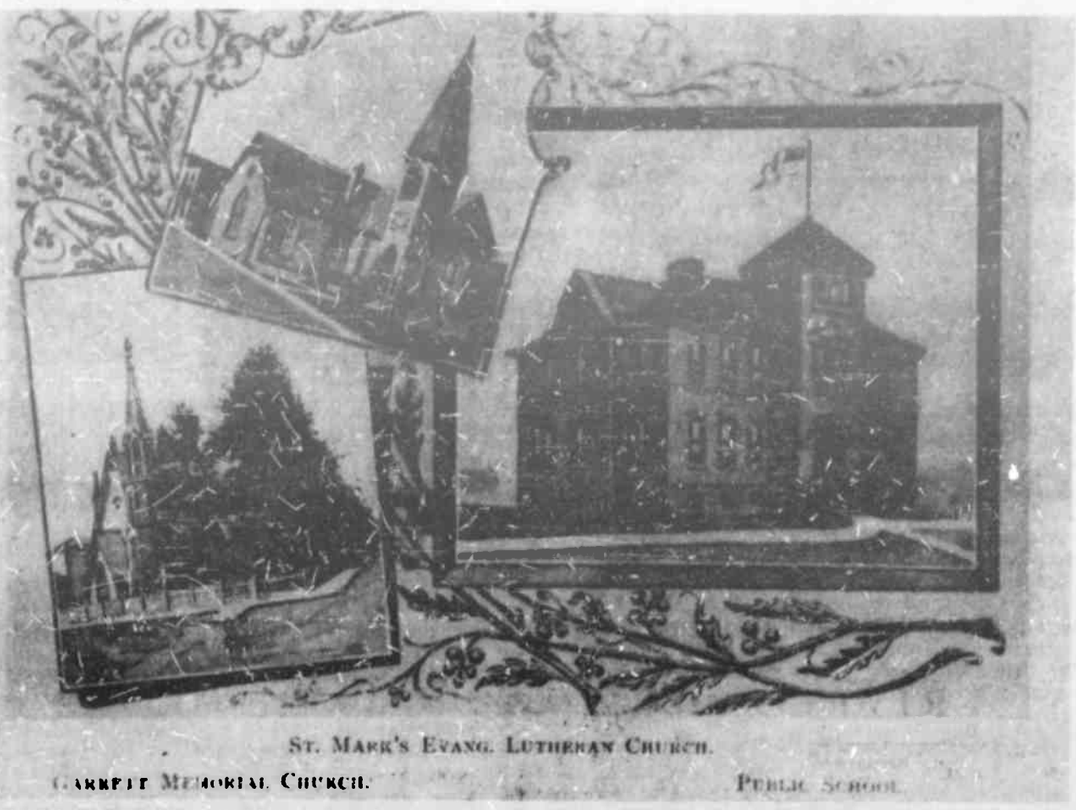
The candidate has been an active member of the Republican Party all of his adult life and has taken part in many Republican campaigns in local, state, and national elections. He served as Garrett County campaign director for the Phil Gramm presidential campaign in 1994 and is currently the Garrett County director of field operations for the Ellen Sauerbrey gubernatorial campaign. The candidate believes that his political experience of the past 30 years has well prepared him to help build and maintain a strong and active Republican party in Garrett County.

Skipper serves on the Board of Education Health Advisory Committee and also on the Garrett County Civil Service Commission.

Skipper has served as pastor of the Rocky Drean Assembly of God since 1986 and for several years was a salesman at Fitzwater Furniture. He currently resides on Bray School Road with his wife Donna and their two daughters, Candi and Stacy.

Candace M. Skipper is serving as the treasurer for the Skipper campaign.

Northern GOP Women Convene, Hear Candidates



The Northern Garrett County Republican Women's Club met at Hill Top Inn Aug. 25. President Carolyn Ganoe introduced the guest speakers, Camilla Rawe and John Richards, candidates for Garrett County school board. Both presented their ideas and were in agreement on most issues. The group asked questions.

The business meeting followed. A total of 30 hours were reported for Cora Bowser and Orpha Miller working in the Republican booth at the fair. A contribution was presented to Brenda Butscher for Hospice in memory of Martha Glottelty. The fruit basket was won by Zeola Robeson. The basket for Sept. will be provided by Carolyn Ganoe, Connie Burdock, Mary Durst, and Lillian Crowe.

Brenda Butscher spoke of her candidacy for Republican Central Committee and said she appreciates the club's support.

Members attending were: Stella Edwards, Laura Turner, Jean Friend, Helen Keller, Hazel Margroff, Cora Bowser, Lillian Crowe, Cleda Baker, Lois Rowe, Louise McKenzie, and Carolyn Ganoe. The next meeting will be held Sept. 29.

St. Mark's Evang. Lutheran Church. | Garrett Memorial Church. | Public School

THREE PROMINENT BUILDINGS in Oakland appear on this postcard from the early part of the century, one of which is now gone, another of which has been vastly renovated, and the third of which still stands similar to its original form. The building at top left was St. Mark's Lutheran Church when it was located at the corner of Third and Alder streets (current location of the Garrett County district court building). The building burned to the ground just days after the mortgage had been paid off. The structure at right is the Oakland Elementary School, later known as Center Street School and now, with major additions and renovation, houses the Oakland Senior Center and Rose Tarrson apartments. The church at lower left is today St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, previously a Presbytarian church and known as the Presidents' Church, since three American presidents have worshipped there. The photo is from the files of the Garrett County Historical Society Museum and is published courtesy of the society and The Republican.

Rotary Accepting Applications For Exchange Program

Rotary Clubs of Rotary International in District 7350 of Rotary International, which includes central Pennsylvania, western Maryland, and northeastern West Virginia, are receiving applications for the 1999-2000 academic year. Students in grades 10-12 are eligible to apply for the program, which involves a year abroad studying at the high school level and living with one or more host families under the sponsorship of a local Rotary Club.

The applicants will be selected on the basis of a written application and a personal interview conducted by the Rotary Clubs of District 7350 Youth Exchange Committee. Presently the Rotary Clubs of District 7350 are exchanging students with the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Chile, Costa Rica, Denmark, Ecuador, France, Germany, India, Japan, Mexico, Norway, Russia, Turkey, Ukraine, and Venezuela.

A total of 14 students from across the district are experiencing the 1998-99 academic year in another country. Applications must be received by John Koontz, 711 South Juliana Street, Bedford, PA 15522, District Youth Exchange Committee, by November 7, 1998. For additional information, persons may contact members of their local Rotary Club. A toll-free number is available at 1-888-768-2799, and information may also be obtained on the Web site at www.exchangestudent.org.

FSU Expands Criteria For Lascaris Awards

The Mary T. Lascaris Slider Memorial Endowed Fund, a scholarship fund through the Frostburg State University Foundation Inc., has expanded its award criteria and has additional scholarships to benefit undergraduate elementary and graduate education majors with a demonstrated interest in the field of reading.

The Mary T. Lascaris Slider Memorial Endowed Fund was originally established by the Western Maryland Reading Council and supported by the family and friends of Mary Lascaris Slider, a local reading teacher who was a native of Garrett County and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lascaris, Deep Creek Lake. The fund has grown and expanded to support additional scholarships. Available for 1998-99 are the following awards:

Undergraduate Reading Award - Recipient(s) must be a full-time or undergraduate student majoring in the elementary educational professions programs at FSU, with demonstrated interest in the field of reading as shown by previous scholarship, research, or avocation. A preference will be given to applicants who graduated from Southern Garrett High School, followed by Northern Garrett High School, followed by any resident of Garrett County, Maryland.

Graduate Reading Award - Recipient(s) must be a full- or part-time graduate student, majoring in the educational professions programs at FSU, with demonstrated interest in the field of reading as shown by previous scholarship, research, or avocation. Preference given to member of the Western Maryland Reading Council.

For more information, persons may contact the FSU Educational Professions Department at 301-687-4294.

MTN. LAKE PARK

CRIME WATCH

Crime Watch president Louis DiCarlo has announced that the next meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 15, 6 p.m. at Town Hall in Mtn. Lake Park. DiCarlo has invited Robert Ulino, a 26-year veteran of Division of Parole and Probation, to speak at the meeting.

Mtn. Lake Park has joined forces with other neighborhood Crime Watch groups for increased protection, but each group retains its own identity, DiCarlo said.

The second annual National Crime Watch Night Out party on August 4 was reported to be a great success. Sponsored by both Oakland and Mtn. Lake Park Crime Watch groups, the event at Veterans' Park was attended by hundreds of people, DiCarlo said. Besides enjoying a picnic supper, neighbors attended workshops on crime prevention and watched a demonstration of the use of trained dogs in law enforcement.

PARKWOOD

A picnic for the residents of Parkwood Apartments was held August 14. Because of the heavy rains, the party was held at the neighboring Oakwood East complex, where a covered area was available.

Parkwood manager Donna Moon arranged for a DJ to provide musical entertainment for the evening. The event included a housewarming for Cheryl Moon.

The picnic was well attended and residents said they enjoyed the evening.

OAKWOOD

Residents of Oakwood East apartment complex held a cookout on August 21. The social event gave tenants an opportunity to meet and get to know their neighbors.

All who attended the cookout said they had a good time, and there are hopes to have several more such get-togethers before the cookout weather ends for the season.

COVER STORY

Living in Captivity gives English a wide canvas

By Suzanne Gill
©TVData Features Syndicate

The Living in Captivity cast

"It's about, you know, what is the American dream in the '90s? What's going on in these subdivisions? And in a comedic way, what are we afraid of? Why are we in these gated communities?"

Actress Melinda McGraw (Melissa Scully, The X-Files) is raising the issues that her status-conscious lawyer character, Becca Marek, faces in Living in Captivity. The fall sitcom premieres Friday, Sept. 11, on Fox.

"(Affluent Americans) retreat into the suburbs," she continues. "And do we bring our fears with us? Can we really get out?"

That's a lot of questions for a half-hour sitcom to answer, even if it has the creative powers of Diane English (Murphy Brown, Love & War, Double Rush) at its disposal.

English is switching channels this fall. After a decade's association with CBS, she is nurturing the comedy conceived by her husband, Joel Shukovsky, and written by protege Tom Palmer.

Living in Captivity focuses on three couples who are neighbors in a gated suburban community. Becca and Will Marek (McGraw, Matthew Letscher) are a childless, two-career couple. She's a lawyer; he's a blocked writer. Carmine and Lisa Santucci (Lenny Venito, Mia Cottet) acquired their piece of the American dream through a muffler dynasty. Expectant parents Curtis and Tamara Cook (Dondre T. Whitfield, Kira Arne) are the first black couple on the block.

"The beauty of our show is that anybody can move in," English notes. "And if it doesn't work, they can move out."

That allows for quite an array of recurring and guest roles – but don't expect any precocious Fox moppets. This is one Friday comedy that's not about the children.

The pilot explores the neighbors' reactions as the Cooks move in, but race relations is just one topic in a fairly topical series. Upcoming plots involve status prescription drugs such as Viagra, frequency of sexual intercourse and coping with a major earthquake.

If English and company feel any strain, it doesn't show in the opening episode, which establishes the characters, sets up some laughs and knocks down some sacred (or at least trendy) cows such as sport utility vehicles and coffee bars.

The show has received unsportsmanlike criticism for not having a truly black point of view from ex-Double Rush regular D.L. Hughley, whose comedy The Hughleys, about a black family in a similarly upscale subdivision, debuts this month on ABC. But Arne defends the writing on Captivity.

"One of the things that was refreshing to me about this script was that it didn't seem like it was trying to sound like black people speaking to one another. (There wasn't any) presupposed notion of how black people should speak to one another."

Writer Palmer says he doesn't prepare a script thinking, "Gee, what would a black person say here? It's, 'What would a person say?' "

Sounds as if Living in Captivity could be a liberating experience.

Alberta Watson

Q: What is the story and background on Alberta Watson, who plays Madeline on La Femme Nikita? She's certainly one of the sexiest women on TV, but I've never seen her in anything else. –Rich via e-mail.

A: I'm glad you asked. As Section One's master strategist, Watson consistently gives one of the most fascinating and unjustly overlooked performances on TV.

Born and raised in Toronto, Watson dropped out of school at 15 to pursue a career in theater. After initial studies in Toronto, she moved to New York for 14 years.

Independent film audiences know her from her award-winning turn in Spanking the Monkey and the Oscar-nominated drama The Sweet Hereafter, both available on video. She also appeared in 1998's The Girl Next Door, another drama.

Since Nikita is filmed in Toronto, Watson is back in her native city, where she writes song lyrics in her spare time.

Q: Can you give me any information on an early 1970s CBS TV series called Sons and Daughters? –Randy Hartman via e-mail.

A: Emmy winner Gary Frank (Family) starred with Glynnis O'Connor in this short-lived drama. Apart from the two stars, as well as Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman regular Debralee Scott and Barry Livingston of My Three Sons, there were no other readily recognizable faces in the show, which lasted only two months in 1974.

Q: My husband and I are arguing about this: Is Jack Wagner of Melrose Place the same guy who sang the Top 40 hit "All I Need"? –TM via e-mail.

A: Yes.

Q: Is it my imagination, or did actor Morgan Freeman appear as a regular on the '70s children's show The Electric Company? –Scott Stanley via e-mail.

A: Yes. Freeman played Easy Reader on that landmark children's show.

Q: Is it true that Strife (Joel Tobeck), who was killed off on Hercules: The Legendary Journeys, will never be on that show again, but will star in the series Young Hercules? –Serine E. via e-mail.

A: Tobeck will make recurring appearances as Strife on Young Hercules – and executive producer Rob Tapert says he hopes to bring Strife back to Hercules and Xena as well.

But don't look for Callisto (Hudson Leick) to return from the dead for the umpteenth time.

Also, you'll see less of Joxer, Autolycus and Salmoneus (Ted Raimi, Bruce Campbell, Robert Trebor) as new characters are introduced.

LOAR AUXILIARY DONATES TO HOSPITAL — The Loar Auxiliary of Garrett County Memorial Hospital has donated 30 "Shadow Buddies" for the hospital's young patients. Shadow Buddies are dolls that are customized to have the same likness as that of the child who receives it. For instance, the Diabetic Buddy has finger sticks in its hand. Under the gown there is a fanny pack with syringes, insulin, and a red apple. Each doll has a smiling face and heart-shaped eyes, and is dressed in a child-print hospital gown. "The nursing staff can use the dolls to teach the child and family about their medical condition and how to take care of it. A doll is given to the child at no charge. Upon discharge the child has a new 'friend' to take home," explained Laural Grant, RN, education coordinator for Garrett Memorial. Pictured above with the dolls are, left to right: Denise Shay, Loar Auxiliary vice president; Betty Pritt, auxiliary president; and Mrs. Grant. "Thanks to the Loar Auxiliary, the hospital has Shadow Buddies for young patients who have diabetes, a respiratory illness, an orthopedic problem, or who are having same-day surgery," concluded Grant.

Maryland Students' SAT Scores Lead Region; Math Skills Improving

With more high school students than ever taking the SAT, Maryland's cumulative score for the national test remained unchanged from 1997, reflecting national trends that generally saw advances in the math portion of the test and little movement or slight decreases in the verbal portion.

Among the 12 states with 65% or more of students taking the SAT, Maryland's cumulative score of 1,014 is the fourth highest in the nation. Maryland's participation rate—which has been among the nation's highest throughout the 1990s—is up by 1% over 1997, the first time the participation rate has increased since 1992.

Regionally, Maryland's test takers led the pack of states with high percentages of students taking the SAT. Its cumulative scores surpassed those of jurisdictions with high percentages of students taking the SAT test: Virginia (1,006), New Jersey (1,005), Delaware (992), Pennsylvania (992), and the District of Columbia (964). Only West Virginia, with a cumulative score of 1,038, but a low participation rate of 18%, surpassed Maryland's scoring performance among Mid-Atlantic states.

On the more rigorous Advanced Placement (AP) tests, Maryland's public school test takers tied with Connecticut for fourth best in the nation. For all AP test takers in the state, Maryland tied with New Hampshire for sixth highest in the country.

"These scores reflect the reality of education in Maryland—that each child can learn and excel and succeed," said State Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick. "That our performance on the SAT and AP tests should be so superlative, considering the high numbers of students, speaks well for the overall instruction that our high school students are getting every day."

Even so, Dr. Grasmick said more must be done to address deficiencies highlighted by the test scores, which were released nationally and statewide today. Specifically, a slight drop on the state's verbal score—from 507 to 506 on an 800-point scale—indicates that the state's recent emphasis on improving reading skills is on the mark, she said.

A recent change in state regulations will require reading courses of middle and high school teachers for the first time. At the same time, the state superintendent has convened a middle schools task force to look for ways to upgrade academics in the middle years.

Nationally, scores on the verbal part of the SAT remained unchanged from last year, while cumulative math scores rose 1 point to their highest level in 27 years. Maryland's cumulative math score also increased by 1 point, from 507 to 508.

College Board officials attribute the rise in math scores to a nationwide emphasis in recent years on math and science instruction. In Maryland, data indicated a higher percentage of non- or limited-English speaking test takers as well as a drop off of students taking English grammar or composition courses, all of which might impact the state's verbal scores.

"We have certainly anticipated the problems in reading and language skills indicated by Maryland's performance on the verbal portion of the SAT," Dr. Grasmick said. "We believe that the actions we are taking today to bolster reading instruction will pay rich dividends in the future, not only on indicators like the SAT, but in the lives of thousands of Maryland children. Clearly, the math and science work done in recent years is yielding results and we see a similar trend developing for reading and language achievement."

Both Governor Parris N. Glendening and Lt. Governor Kathleen Kennedy Townsend said they supported Dr. Grasmick's goal of improved reading instruction and academic performance.

There were other notable trends within this year's SAT and AP data:

- Good students are doing better. Those 5,576 students who took the more challenging SAT II exam posted a six-point increase in verbal scores (622 to 628) and a five-point jump in math scores (641 to 646). The SAT II is a content exam that is required by many of the nation's most prestigious and rigorous colleges.
- AP participation was 10.7% higher than last year, with more than 16,100 Maryland students taking the specialized tests this year. Nationally, participation rose only 9.1%. Similarly, the number of public school test takers rose by 11.7% compared with a 9.2% rise nationally among public school students. There were also more African-American students than ever taking the SAT — 6,500 students, compared to 6,200 in 1997.
- Since 1994, both participation and scores for Maryland AP test takers have risen dramatically among both the general population and especially among African-American students. In the last four years, overall participation and scores have risen by more than 50%. Among African-Americans during that same period, participation and scores have soared over 100%. Despite those gains, however, African-American student performance on the SAT continues to lag. SAT scores among African-American public school students fell this year from 433 to 429 on the verbal part of the test, and from 421 to 419 on the math portion.

The SAT and AP trends were mirrored earlier this month when the 1998 results of the American College Tests (ACT) were released. Maryland students improved slightly on the ACT, rising from a composite score of 20.7 to 20.9. Nationally, the 21.0 composite score remained unchanged from 1997. Only 5,400 Maryland students take the ACT exam, while 35,800 Maryland students take the SAT.

The SAT is the principal college entrance exam for the east and northeast portions of the nation, while the ACT is more frequently administered in the western and midwestern states.

GCC Class Set On Workplace Team Building

"Building Productivity Through Teamwork," a class designed to help supervisors and managers strengthen the productivity of their workforce, will be held this month at Garrett Community College. The class focuses on developing leadership skills that will enable each participant to transform his or her workforce into a highly productive coordinated team.

Supervisors and managers will learn the dynamics of effective leadership; how to build commitment; how to use low-cost incentives; delegation skills; ways to empower employees to take responsibility; how to give meaningful feedback and measure results; how to get others to direct and motivate themselves; and ways to build confidence and self-esteem.

"Operating successful businesses and organizations in today's highly competitive environment presents many new challenges," said Sandy Major, small business counselor and instructor at GCC. "Conventional ways of managing are no longer effective. Today's leaders need to be doing all the right things 'right' in order to enable performance that attracts, delights, and keeps customers. Companies and organizations that succeed have managers and supervisors who have skills in the areas of enabling change, empowering employees, and achieving positive outcomes. This team building class is designed to strengthen the skills of managers and supervisors in each of these areas."

The class will meet on three consecutive Tuesdays, September 15, 22, and 29, from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. Those interested in the class should register immediately. To obtain information on this class or other business classes, call Cathy Fazenbaker, Alyce McDowell, or Julie Yoder at the GCC Small Business Development Center at 301-387-3089 or 301-387-3080.

SEXUAL ABUSE: PROTECTING YOUR CHILDREN
by Christina Browning

The most effective way of protecting your children from sexual abuse is to teach them to protect themselves. No matter how careful you are, you cannot control every aspect of your child's life. Therefore, it is essential that children be educated and empowered.

In order to teach children the skills to protect themselves, it is necessary to be frank. You must treat this just as you do fire and traffic safety. Children need to be given rights over their bodies and taught to trust their feelings in order to prevent sexual abuse. They must know their bodies are their own and that they have the right to say "No" to any touch that they are uncomfortable with.

The following children's rights, taken from Your Children Should Know by Flora Colao and Tamar Hosansky, are crucial.

- The right to trust one's instincts and funny feelings.
- The right to privacy.
- The right to say "No" to unwanted touch or affection.
- The right to question adult authority and to say "No" to adult demands and requests.

In dangerous situations:

- The right to lie and not answer questions.
- The right to refuse gifts.
- The right to be rude or unhelpful.
- The right to run, scream, and make a scene.
- The right to bite, hit, or kick.
- The right to ask for help.

These rights should be taught to children in simple and concrete language that they can understand. Encourage them to apply them in role-playing, imaginative, or what-if games. Children need to know that they are capable of protecting themselves in a variety of ways in order to be successful. To build their confidence, cheer their efforts in solving various situations. After you have prepared them the best you can, you simply have to take a deep breath and let them go.

New Germany To Feature Music Of Greg Latta

New Germany State Park will conclude its slate of summer programs on Saturday, Sept. 5, with a 7 p.m. performance by local acoustic musician and recording artist Dr. Greg Latta of Frostburg State University.

Set at the park's lakehouse, the "Appalachian Campground Concert" will feature Latta performing on a variety of instruments, including the hammered dulcimer, guitar, recorder, and harmonica. For further information interested person may contact New Germany State Park at 301-895-5453.

White Church To Mark 125 Years

The White United Methodist Church will celebrate 125 years of history with a homecoming on Sunday, Sept. 13.

The day's events will begin with church school at 10 a.m. and worship service at 11 a.m. At 12:30 p.m. there will be a picnic lunch, followed by the afternoon celebration service at 2 p.m. A former pastor will be guest speaker for the ceremony, and there will be special singing during the afternoon program.

The White United Methodist Church, located on White Church Rd., off Gorman Rd. (Rt. 560), was originally dedicated Oct. 16, 1873, and records show the deed was made Dec. 29, 1860, in Hampshire County, Va., and recorded in Allegany County, Md., in 1868.

The Methodist-Epiacopal denomination met in the church for 79 years and became known as a Methodist congregation through action of the church conference in 1939. In 1968 the conference again changed the terminology, this time to the United Methodist Church.

The church building changed little over the years until 1973, when the members erected a steeple and hung the bell in time to recognize the 100th anniversary. Other changes to the facility included remodeling in the basement to provide classroom space. New exit doors and a ramp were later added, and few other changes have been made during the past several years.

Everyone is invited to come and tour the building during the homecoming event and encouraged to wear "old fashioned outfits."

There will be a limited number of commemorative church plates available that day and "something special" for everyone attending the event.

Parsons Files For Re-Election To GOP Committee

Arzella T. Parsons recently announced her candidacy for a second term as a member of the Republican Central Committee. In 1992, she was presented the Republican of the Year award from the Garrett County Republican Central Committee and was later appointed to fill a vacancy on the committee. In 1994, she was elected to the committee. Parsons retired in 1986 as Garrett County treasurer after serving 20 years.

She is a member of the Republican Women's Club, for which she serves as treasurer. She is a member of the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, and also serves as treasurer of the Women's Fellowship and the Golden Rule Sunday School Class.

Parsons also volunteers for the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF), Red Cross, Autumn Glory Festival, and the Tax-Aide program, which prepares income taxes for senior citizens and low income persons.

Parsons is currently employed by the First United Bank & Trust in the marketing department. She resides at 1043 High Street. She stated that she would "very much appreciate" voters' support in the primary election on September 15.

Carol McNair is serving as her campaign treasurer.

Shriners To Hand Out Information

Local members of the Ali Ghan Shrine Club will be preseut at several local businesses this Friday and Saturday to hand out information about the 19 orthopaedic hospitals and three burn institutes that are maintained and supported for the benefit of children. Care at these facilities is rendered free of charge to the patient's family.

The Shriners will be located at Browning's Foodland, Treasure Island, and Farmers' Market. All are invited to pick up this free information. Donations will be accepted.

One In Four Need Remedial College Math

Though the majority of Maryland high school students heading for college are prepared for the curriculum, about one quarter of them are not prepared for college-level mathematics, according to a report issued recently by the Maryland Higher Education Commission (MHEC).

The information contained in the report is based on the number of students who are required to take remedial math. Those needing supplemental classes in English and reading are far fewer, the report stated.

Patricia S. Florestano, the secretary of higher education, noted that there is a need to encourage students early to "take an interest" in mathematics.

This information was published in the Student Outcomes and Achievement Report (SOAR). The statistics compiled for this report reflected the experience of 15,541 students who graduated from Maryland high schools in 1996 and enrolled in Maryland colleges.

The SOAR data distinguishes between students who graduated from a college preparatory curriculum (core curriculum) and those who did not (non-core curriculum). The report stated that the proportion of core curriculum graduates assigned to remedial math ranged from 40 percent of community college freshman to 15 percent of University System of Maryland (USM) students. Remedial English classes were required for 19 percent of core graduates attending community colleges and seven percent at USM.

Other statistics and significant factors are also enumerated in the SOAR reports.

Masons To Meet

Oakland Lodge No. 192, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons, will resume labor after summer recess on Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple. There will not be any degree work. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

ACCIDENT HOUSING CORPORATION ANNUAL MEETING DATE SLATED

The annual meeting of the Accident Housing Corporation will be held Monday, Sept. 14, 1998, at 7 p.m., at Town View Village, just off the Accident-Friendsville Road in Accident.

The Accident Housing Corporation was formed in June of 1978 to provide retirement housing for the community of Accident. Beginning with 30 members, Accident Housing Corporation broke ground for Town View Village in June of 1980. The first residents moved into the complex on July 1, 1981. In fact, some of the original residents still reside in the facility.

Town View Village offers 20 one-bedroom, one-bath apartments with full kitchens. This complex offers an on-site community room, laundry facilities, and a state-of-the-art security system. There is also a full-time on-site resident manager.

Under the jurisdiction of Farmers Home Administration, Town View Village caters to seniors and handicapped or disabled. The facility also offers one handicapped accessible unit.

Membership dues for the Accident Housing Corporation are only $5.00 per year. AHC is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing quality, affordable housing for Accident and Northern Garrett County. There are currently 35 members involved with Accident Housing Corporation, unpaid individuals who donate their time and energy to benefit the community.

Any individuals interested in becoming involved with the AHC or learning more about the organization are invited to attend the meeting. If you would like to become a member, you may mail your membership fee to: Accident Housing Corporation, P.O. Box 109, Accident, MD 21520.

NOTICE

The Garrett County Board of Education is required by its own policy and Federal and State Law to annually notify eligible students and parents who have children attending public school of the policy regulating the handling of student records and the information contained within them. Board of Education Policy #474.20 and Procedures 474.21, the "Confidentiality of Student Records Policy," establishes the guidelines that the Garrett County Public Schools employ.

The provisions of this policy are intended to preserve the right of students and parents to have full access to all official records about the students, which are maintained by the Garrett County Public Schools; to have removed from these records any information about the student which is determined to be inaccurate or misleading; to enjoy confidentiality and privacy in regard to the disclosure of information contained in those records to outside agencies; and to provide for efficient records management.

Individual pupil records maintained by teachers or other school personnel under the provisions of this policy are to be confidential in nature, and access to such records may be granted to professionals who are directly involved with the educational process of the individual student in a teaching, guidance/counseling, or consulting situation. Individual student records, with the exception of such records as are designated as permanent, and with such other exceptions as provided by law, should be destroyed when they are no longer able to serve professionals who are directly involved with the educational process of an individual student in a teaching, guidance/counseling, or consulting situation.

Institutions of elementary or secondary education of the Board of Education of Garrett County shall not permit access to, or release of, education records of students, or personally identifiable information contained therein (other than directory information), without the written consent of the parents of the eligible student. Education institutions of Garrett County, however, shall make the cumulative records of a student available to officials of other elementary or secondary schools or another school system in which the student seeks or intends to enroll. The institution of elementary and secondary education of the Board of Education of Garrett County will forward without consent cumulative records on request to a school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

Directory information means the student's name, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, date of attendance, and other similar information. Directory information may be made public without the consent of parents or eligible students. Student records limited to Directory information and student addresses may be made available at the discretion of the principal for legitimate educational purposes, such as post-secondary schools and Armed Services Recruiters, for the purpose of informing eligible students of post high school educational opportunities, to businesses officially recognized by the schools as requiring legitimate contact for purpose of graduation activities, yearbook production, and alumni associations of schools in the organization of class reunions.

The policy goes on to spell out the types of data in a pupil record, the types of student records, and how the records are transferred between schools, individuals, institutions, and agencies.

If access to a student's records is desired by an eligible student or parent, he/she should contact the appropriate school principal. In most cases, there is a charge for copies of student records.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Company B 121st ENGR BN (MECH) has enlisted Private First Class Patrick Chase Burnett as its newest member in the Maryland Army National Guard, Oakland.

PFC Burnett entered the MDARNG under the Officer Candidate School (OCS) enlistment option under the accelerated promotion program for college credits he earned while attending West Virginia University. He will attend the recruit training class September 12-13, and then attend basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C., beginning September 30. With the OCS option program, Burnett will not attend advanced individual training and will return to the local armory for monthly drills. In March 1999 he will attend the Maryland State Operated Officers Candidate School. He will attend the OCS program one weekend a month, with two annual training periods during the 15-month program. At the conclusion of the second annual training period, Burnett will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the officers' ranks.

PFC Burnett plans to attend West Virginia University during the spring semester and graduate in May 1999. He resides along Washington Street in Cumberland with his family.

Anyone interested in joining the local guard unit, or inquiring about its many benefits and college assistance may contact SFC Tom Bittinger at 301-334-9794.

Antiques

Q. My china dish is a molded pair of hands with a decoration of grapes and leaves at the bottom of the palms. It is marked with a buffalo and the letters "KT&K." All I know is that it's more than 100 years old.

A. The buffalo mark on the back of your dish was used from 1878 to 1885 by Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, a ceramics company that worked in East Liverpool, Ohio, from 1870 to 1929.

Your dish is an ironstone copy of a well-known glass dish called "Double Hands With Grapes." It was made by Atterbury & Co. of Pittsburgh about 1880.

Knowles, Taylor & Knowles apparently made a mold of the glass dish to make its own ceramic version.

Q. My two old Ken dolls are both marked "Mattel." They have brown painted hair, but they don't look alike. One is slim, with a crew cut and no facial expression. The other has more hair, a smile and a thick, muscular body. What happened?

A. Collectors call Ken's late '60s redesign his transformation "from geek to sleek."

Ken was introduced by Mattel in 1961 but marked "1960." He was marketed as Barbie's boyfriend. His hair went from flocked to painted the first year. His body stayed skinny until 1969, when he appeared with a more expressive face, bigger muscles, pinker skin and a 1968 copyright date.

Home Tips

LEFTOVERS – My husband and I do a lot of canning during the spring and summer, so I have a lot of extra glass jars with lids, sized 1/2 pint, 1 pint, 1 quart and 2 quarts. I save all the lids and use these jars for leftovers in my refrigerator. You can see what's in the jar, plus I find most foods stay good longer. Marie C., Newark, Del.

BROWNIES – I have a tip for cutting perfect brownies. After the brownies are cooled, around two or three hours, just cut with a pizza cutter. Start at one end and work your way down, making straight lines, then turn the pan around and do the same.

It is very easy and you have perfect brownies all the same size with no messy cuts like the ones you get when you use a knife. Janet S., Ellington, Conn.

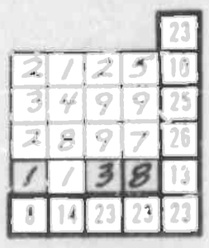
CLEAN DISPOSAL – I don't always use my dishwasher, so after I wash the dishes in the sink, I turn the garbage disposal on while the soapy water drains out.



I seldom have an odor problem and never have buildup of residue under the rubber flapper. The entire unit stays clean. Terri L., Simi Valley, Calif.

Biography®

GEORGE GERSHWIN: THE MEMORY OF ALL THAT

No composer has cast a wider net or left a more durable legacy in American music than George Gershwin. A crossover artist before the term existed, he wrote stage and film musicals, concert pieces and a landmark opera – all with a distinctly American sound.

September's Biography magazine recounts his brief but prolific career until his death of a brain tumor in 1937 at age 38. Along with his lyricist brother Ira, he brought a new level of sophistication to theater and film, composing for stars like Fred Astaire and Ethel Merman. He redefined classical music with works like his jazz-inflected Rhapsody in Blue, and wrote an opera for the masses with his crowning achievement, "Porgy and Bess."

September marks the centenary of Gershwin's birth, with celebrations at New York's Carnegie Hall, the San Francisco Symphony and the Kennedy Center in Washington D.C. The unique Gershwin sound was strongly influenced by traditional Jewish and black music, ragtime and Tin Pan Alley. He also skillfully used the blues to lend a haunting quality to even his upbeat tunes.

Gershwin's parents originally bought a piano for Ira to take lessons, but George surprised them all one day by sitting down and playing extremely well. To Ira's relief, George got the lessons. He dropped out of high school to pursue a musical career, starting as a piano demonstrator and moving to musical revues before composing his own melodies. Al Jolson's performance of "Swanee" galvanized Gershwin's career.

Gershwin's ego was as oversized as his talent but nobody seemed to mind. He was irrepressible and irresistible, dating some of the world's most beautiful women. When he once approached French composer Maurice Ravel for lessons, Ravel allegedly replied, "Why should you be a second-rate Ravel when you can be a first-rate Gershwin?"

Local Resident Invited To Go On China Trip

Garrett County resident Russell Sines, president/owner of Deep Creek Readi-Mix and the Midas shop in Oakland, was recently invited by Maryland state treasurer Richard N. Dixon to be part of a delegation of Maryland business and finance leaders on a professional study mission to the People's Republic of China.

"Your professional accomplishments in the business and/or financial fields indicate you could contribute a great deal to the delegation's success and achievements," Dixon said in the letter of invitation to Sines.

The program was coordinated by the American People Ambassador Program of People to People International, which was founded in 1956 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Sines said that he regretted not being able to participate in the excursion, as he had already committed to chaperoning a church youth group doing missions work in St. Croix.

"It was an honor to be asked to serve as a delegate and, I'm sure, it would have been a wonderful experience," Sines said.

Vanzant Attending Hampden-Sydney

Joseph Courtenay Vanzant III will enroll as a freshman at Hampden-Sydney College in August 1998. He is the son of Kathryn T. Vanzant of Mtn. Lake Park and Joseph C. Vanzant Jr. of Upper St. Clair, Pa.

The freshman class is the largest in the history of Hampden-Sydney and among the most selective.

According to Dean of Admissions Anita Garland, Hampden-Sydney "values personal honor, social responsibility, and the intellectual challenge of the classical liberal arts. Hampden-Sydney is unique not only because we are a college for men, but because we value the traditions which are still of value to our society."

The college is located in Hampden-Sydney, Va.

GED Exam To Change In 2000

The National Testing Center in Washington, D.C., which revises the Graduation Equivalency Diploma (GED) exam every 10 years, will issue a new exam in 2000.

The new exam may impact those who have taken but not yet passed all parts of the GED test. Individuals who have not passed all five sections of the test have five years to do so. However, after the revision this will no longer be possible. Once the new test is in place persons will need to take the entire exam, which will probably be computerized.

Anyone who currently needs to retest is encouraged to do so prior to the revision. For information persons may contact Pat Baer at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College, 301-334-8304.

Garrett Schools Get Nutrition Education Grant

Garrett County and nine other Maryland school systems are "getting a healthy start" to the school year with nearly $35,000 in nutrition education grants. The grants were awarded August 14 by "Healthy School Meals, Healthy Children," a joint project of the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) and Maryland Cooperative Extension (MCE).

Individual grant awards range from $2,500 to $4,254. Schools will use the money to work on projects ranging from production of a fitness video to taste tests of new School Meals recipes prepared by students. Garrett County schools will use the $4,101 grant to offer food safety training for schools and community organizations. Garrett also plans to use grant funds for back-to-school night nutrition education, a 5-A-Day promotion, and a nutrition fair.

To apply for the competitive grant, School Meals staff worked in partnership with their local MCE office and at least one other community organization.

"Through this project, Extension educators, community groups, and schools are working together to provide a learning environment that is inviting to students," said Dr. James C. Wade, associate dean and associate director of Maryland Cooperative Extension. "MCE is pleased to help establish these community connections and to encourage continued support following the grant period."

State Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick stressed the value of community support in teaching children about healthy eating habits.

"As we learn more about how children's food choices affect their health and their performance in the classroom, it is more critical than ever to reach children with effective nutrition education material," said Dr. Grasmick. "These grants provide innovative ways for children to explore the world of nutrition, and they also help lay the groundwork for continued support to schools that focus on the importance of eating right."

Of 19 school systems that applied, 10 won grants. Fifteen school systems received nearly $60,000 in grants in first-round awards in February 1998.

Maryland Cooperative Extension is an outreach education component of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Maryland, College Park, and of the University of Maryland, Eastern Shore.

The Healthy School Meals, Healthy Children project is funded by a Team Nutrition Grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Dairy Council of Greater Metropolitan Washington Inc., the Maryland Beef Council, the Center for Poverty Solutions Inc. (formerly Maryland Food Committee and Healthcare for the Homeless), the Maryland School Food Service Association, the Garrett County Health Department, the Southeast United Dairy Industry Association Inc., and the Garrett County Nutrition Council have agreed to support the project.

TASTE TESTING - Parents and students of Dennett Road Elementary School enjoyed a special treat last week during Back-To-School Night. As a benefit of the school's Team Nutrition Grant, over 300 people had the opportunity to sample the foods offered by the Garrett County Board of Education Food and Nutrition Services. Some new items on this year's menu were served and savored by the visitors. "We're introducing brownies made from a new recipe and pork prepared a new way," said Sue Damon, the food service monitoring specialist. Damon said she heard positive things from those who sampled the foods. Kitzmiller Elementary School has requested a similar nutrition offering for back-to-school night next Wednesday. And the favorite taste treat for the kindergarten students? "They all liked the pizza the best," Damon said. Mary Teets, cafeteria manager and Eugenia Cassidy, seen in the photo above, served up samples to the visitors at Dennett Road School. See story on the Team Nutrition Grant.

Deep Creek Cellars

Western Maryland's only winery and the first ever in Garrett County, Deep Creek Cellars, will hold its grand opening during the Labor Day weekend. Anyone interested in going "behind the scenes" at a small boutique winery, or in delicious, locally made products at reasonable prices is warmly invited, the owners said.

"We make dry but fruity and flavorful wines priced to be enjoyed everyday with food, family, and friends," said Paul Roberts, winemaker and co-owner of Deep Creek Cellars with his wife, Nadine Grabania. Roberts has experience in the California wine industry, and like his wife, a painter and visual artist, is also a museum professional.

They built their small winery and intimate sales room in 1997, along with a two-acre vineyard, six miles north of Friendsville on Route 42 at Frazee Ridge Road—a scenic 20-minute drive from Route 42's intersection near the lake with U.S. 219. From Pennsylvania, visitors turn south off U.S. Route 40 at Route 281, proceed through Markleysburg and follow the signs toward Friendsville. The winery is on the left at Frazee Ridge Road, less than five minutes from the National Road.

Hours for tours, tastings, and sales are held in the summertime on Fridays from 3 to 7:30 p.m., Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., and other times by appointment. County law prohibits sales on Sunday. The winery also will be open on Labor Day, Sept. 7, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. The phone number at Deep Creek Cellars is 301-746-4349.

The winery's first releases are called Artisan Red and Artisan White. A reserve red wine, from a special blend given extended aging—a perfect match for local venison tenderloin steaks this fall—and a sweet elderberry dessert wine will be offered later in 1998. Wines in coming years will include Chardonnay and Cabernet from vines grown at the winery.

Artisan Red has been sold in area stores and at the winery since early July. Sales are brisk at the winery, the owners say, with dozens of customers returning for case purchases.

Artisan White, a crisp wine with light oak flavors, goes on sale this week. "The white wine just wasn't ready to be bottled until now," explained Grabania. "We don't filter our wines heavily, or rush them, and so sometimes you just have to be patient. It's really true in our case that we will sell no wine before its time."

All wines currently are made from purchased grapes grown in the east and in California. The California fruit is refrigerated immediately after harvest and shipped in refrigerated trucks, arriving three days after harvest. All the winemaking goes on at the Asher Glade winery.

Last year, about 17 tons of grapes were crushed to make Deep Creek Cellars wines.

"We weren't sure it was possible to make fine wines from grapes grown 5,000 miles away," said Roberts. "But we had to try, because of the scarcity of Maryland grapes. We are so pleased with the results that we will probably continue to use some California fruit, especially for our red wines. The public response has been so positive that we will have to."

Marylanders currently grow only about half of what the state's wineries need. "It's a bad situation," Roberts said, "because it means that literally millions of dollars are being paid to people outside the state, when we'd like to see that income stay within Maryland. More growers need to understand the tremendous potential. With wine grapes, the income per acre is many times more than what a farmer makes on traditional field crops."

A major story in the current Baltimore magazine addresses the excellence of Maryland's wines and the more aggressive role to be played in coming years by the Association of Maryland Wineries, of which Deep Creek Cellars is a member. Through Garrett County's new winery, the magazine article also throws favorable light on Deep Creek Lake as a tourist destination.

While the lake area certainly was a good choice for a winery, Roberts has been less fortunate in finding farmers who see wine grapes as a viable alterative crop. He has made numerous presentations around the county in the last 18 months, but no one interested in growing grapes has stepped forward, even though the half-dozen wineries within an hour's drive of the lake provide a guaranteed market.

Although higher elevations are too cold for wine grapes, many hillside areas in the region are suitable. Deep Creek Cellars' vineyard is well situated, facing southwest on a slope at 2,000 feet above sea level. In fact, the vineyard on Route 42, a picturesque shortcut to Friendsville and McHenry for anyone traveling east on U.S. 40, is already something of a conversation piece.

"I think we're the first to grow wine grapes in the county," said Roberts. "It's also a perfect activity for retired or semi-retired people with a little space on a hillside. It doesn't require a lot of equipment. We'd like to locate six or even people to grow an acre or a half-acre of grapes on contract for us. Even with our own vineyard, we will still have to buy grapes or about half of our production."

Deep Creek Cellars also plans to team up with local restaurants i coming months for special wine and food programs. At the Deer Park Inn east of Oakland, where French owners Pascal and Nadine Fontaine purchase everything they possibly can from local producers—from vegetables to goat cheese—wait staff made a special effort this summer to recommend Artisan Red with the country French fare.

"It is a wonderful wine, like a Beaujolais, that matches with many of our foods," commented Nadine Fontaine. "We hope to see more and more products from the local area, and we will do our part to help."

Roberts and Grabania constantly direct winery visitors to lake area business owners and merchants willing to take the risks of producing and selling local products. "It's a little thing," said Roberts, "but everyone should think twice about driving 80 miles round trip to get everything you need at a national discount store. Seek out good local things. It's one of the best ways there is to look out for your neighbors."

Wines from Deep Creek Cellars are available at restaurants and retail businesses in Oakland, the Deep Creek Lake area, McHenry, and Friendsville.

Public Meeting Slated To Discuss Western Maryland Watershed Health

A public meeting to discuss the condition of Western Maryland watersheds will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 9, from 7 to 9 p.m., in Rooms 12-14 at Allegany College in Cumberland. The meeting, which will also focus on watershed restoration and protection strategies, is being hosted by Maryland's "Tributary Teams."

As part of the new federal Clean Water Action Plan, Maryland has conducted a preliminary statewide assessment of its watersheds and identified priority watersheds in need of restoration over the next two years. The assessment involved a broad spectrum of participants, including local, state, and federal agencies and representatives of many private organizations.

"We hope people will attend and tell us what they know about local water quality problems," said Tom Miller, chairman of the Upper Potomac Tributary Team. "This is a great opportunity for citizens to have a voice in setting priorities. We also encourage people to get involved in our Tributary Team activities."

The priority watersheds that have been identified as needing restoration are Conococheague Creek, Georges Creek, and Deep Creek Lake. Pristine or sensitive watersheds identified as needing extra protection include: Sideling Hill Creek, Tonoloway Creek, Fifteen Mile Creek, Town Creek, Evitts Creek, Georges Creek, Savage River, Youghiogheny River, Deep Creek Lake, Casselman River, the Lower North Branch of the Potomac, and the Upper North Branch of the Potomac. Watersheds can fall in both categories if they have signs of stress or degradation but still contain pristine or sensitive natural resources.

Public comments will be included in the assessment of Maryland's watersheds, help set priorities for watershed protection and restora-

Spruce Forest To Host Outdoor Christian Concert

Spruce Forest Artisan Village, located between the historic 1813 Casselman Bridge and the former stagecoach stop now known as Penn Alps Restaurant in Grantsville, will hold its second annual Outdoor Concert in the Park on Saturday, Sept. 12, rain or shine. In the event of inclement weather the concert moves to inside the Village Church.

The concert will feature local Christian artists Heirborn Promise and acoustic guitarist Chris Talley on the outdoor stage at Spruce Forest. Concert-goers may purchase tickets at the gate and cost will be $5 for persons over the age of 12. Children 12 and under are admitted free.

"The concert will begin at 7 p.m., and folks should bring their own blankets and chairs for comfortable seating," said village administrator Trish Morgan. "Prior to the concert, we encourage folks to stroll through the village and enjoy the historic, traditional flavor of our log cabins and schoolhouses."

Both Talley and members of Heirborn Promise will have their CDs and tapes for sale during and after the concert. Picnic snacks are welcome; however, there will be a concession stand available. Spruce Forest is a tobacco-free and alcohol-free campus.

This event is sponsored in part by the Maryland State Arts Council and is held to benefit the nonprofit Spruce Forest Artisan Village and its programs and activities. For more information on the village's year-round calendar of events, persons may call Ms. Morgan weekdays at 301-895-3332.

Elect A Leader

Chester H. Sines

For Sheriff

ISSUES AND POINTS

1.) MARKED AND UNMARKED SHERIFF CARS

I believe the taxpayers are being cheated when we see these personalized unmarked police cars. By being marked the sheriff's car in itself becomes a deterrent to crime and wrong doers. Unauthorized use also is most likely to take place. As your sheriff I will not have more than one unmarked sheriff's car in the fleet.

2.) COMMUNITY ZONE POLICING

As your sheriff, I will initiate an effective community - zone policing plan. Scheduling full-shift patrols will give higher visibility and coverage in populated areas. There will be more interaction with citizens to better know their problems and help find solutions.

3.) COOPERATION BUT SEPARATION

I want to make it perfectly clear that I think it is very important and essential to maintain good relations with all other law enforcement and related agencies, including the state police. But I feel we must have our state and local agencies separate. Each has its responsibility and duties to the citizens it serves. The sheriff's department should not become the retirement center for the state police, putting what we call double dipping into the taxpayers' pockets. I believe that if things stay status quo, we will see within the next four years more and more of this taking place, moving the sheriff's department into more control by the state and less by the citizens of Garrett County. It is very enticing for a trooper to take early retirement from the state police when he can see perhaps doubling his salary, making up to sixty or seventy thousand of the taxpayers' dollars a year. All I can say is, this is wrong, and the voters must take a hard look at this situation when thinking about their vote on Sept. 15.

4.) CHARACTER

Of all the issues I have talked about, this is the most important. Character is not something one can tell about himself. It is who a person is, what others perceive or describe an individual to be. Honesty, integrity and values are all attributes earned by someone over a lifetime. Character goes hand in hand with experience, education, and training. Please ask someone who knows me.

Please go vote on September 15.

The Right Republican for State Senate

This Republican stands out!

Once in a great while...a good man steps forward. A Republican who stands out, steps up and makes a difference. It's happened before. It's happening again.

And the word's spreading fast. There is a Republican in this year's primary who stands out in just that way, David Thomas. His courage is changing long odds. He knows the importance of common sense, hard work and keeping his word.

More and more people are getting the idea that Dave Thomas won't settle for politics as usual.

If you send him to Annapolis he will do you proud. He'll make every vote count. He'll speak out and talk straight. He'll work long hours. He'll see projects to completion.

There's something big happening in the Republican party in Western Maryland. Big enough to make Dave Thomas our next District 1 Republican senator. While John Hafer is making the same old promises, Dave Thomas is making a whole lot of sense.

David Thomas makes sense.

HIS RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

Authority: Brison "Rusty" Thomas, Treasurer

I would like to take this opportunity to clarify recent statements made which are misleading. Citizens are being lead to believe that by having a retired state trooper as sheriff or as a deputy creates an extra burden on the citizens of Garrett County.

- Neither my Chief Deputy or myself have nor will we receive county retirement benefits.
- Neither of us have nor will we receive medical insurance from the county.

While it is true that we receive a retirement from the Maryland State Police with associated medical benefits, this retirement enables us to decline the county retirement and medical benefits.

I have checked with the county Administrative Offices and found out that if a Sheriff and Chief Deputy were accepting the total county benefit package it would add an additional $17,257.78 to the county budget.

Remember, you currently have a Sheriff with 37 years' police experience and a Chief Deputy with 29 years' police experience, at a savings of $17,257.78 to the taxpayers of Garrett County. The alternative would be to spend an additional $17,257.78 and have a Sheriff and Chief Deputy with less experience or no experience at all.

On September 15th Vote for Experience.

USDA Serves Farmers Through County Committees

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a local connection with farmers—the Farm Service Agency county committee system, according to Michael R. Kozier, county executive director. County committees stand as a testament to USDA's commitment to empowering locally led decision makers. Since committee members are elected by their peers, and are themselves active farmers, they understand the issues that farmers and businesses are facing in their community.

Whether it is prioritizing conservation projects, determining eligibility for loan programs, or administering commodity and emergency programs, USDA understands that some of the best decisions that are made about agriculture are made by farmers themselves, said Kozier. County committees work with other local groups on behalf of the department to make a difference in their communities on conservation, marketing, and outreach projects.

Kozier said the USDA is proud of the dedication of county committee members in helping the department implement national agricultural policy. It is through the efforts of committee members that USDA is able to offer tailored assistance to our nation's rural communities and farms.

This year, the Garrett/Allegany Farm Service Agency elections will be for Local Administrative Area 2, which includes part of Garrett and Allegany counties. The LAA2 starts from Md. Route 495 in Garrett County east to U.S. Route 220 in Allegany County.

Agricultural equipment marking/lighting is more important every day. As fewer and fewer of us provide more food and fiber, the rest of the population has little knowledge of agriculture. Fewer of us have any idea of equipment size and relative speed of agricultural equipment on the highway. Equipment size and relative speed become a BIG problem at dusk or night and help to make agriculture the second most dangerous industry in the U.S.A.

To make Maryland's agriculture a little less dangerous, the Maryland Cooperative Extension is offering a "Reflective Materials" kit. The kit includes new SMV tape, six 2"x9" red and two 2"x9" yellow retroreflective tapes, and two 2"x9" red-orange fluorescent tapes with instructions for placement and proper installation. The materials are the new highly reflective materials you are seeing on trailer trucks. They have more than five times the visibility of the "old" materials we have been using.

The only requirement for getting the kit is sending your name, mailing address and equipment type of the proposed application: type (tractor, wagon, etc.), make, model, and approximate transport width to Dr. Lee Grant. Biological Resources Engineering, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742-5711.

Hurricane Bonnie Left Limited Moisture in Md.

Precipitation received last week from Hurricane Bonnie did little to improve soil moisture conditions across the state, and didn't appear to benefit most crops. The soybean crop condition declined after improving a week ago. Haymaking was active as growers worked to beat the storm. Topsoil moisture was 19% very short, 38% short, 42% adequate, and 1% surplus. Subsoil moisture was 19% very short, 37% short, and 44% adequate. These percentages were slightly lower than a week earlier.

Field corn moved toward maturity at a normal pace, with the dough stage slightly behind normal and corn in the dent stage slightly ahead of average. Harvest of silage and grain are also slightly ahead of average.

Maryland's crop progress for the week which ended August 30 follows, listing the item and the percentages for this week, last week, last year, and the five-year average.

Development: field corn, dough 74, 63, 79, 79, dent 55, 38, 49, 50, mature 24, 18, 7, 11; soybeans, setting pods 85, 74, 80, 76; sorghum, turning color 40, 16, n/a, n/a.

Harvesting progress: apples 19, 14, 17, 16; corn, silage 22, 21, 14 other hay, 3rd cutting 76, 53, 30, 40, 4th cutting 20, 11, 4, 6; alfalfa hay, 3rd cutting 90, 78, 70, 85, 4th cutting 29, 28, 16, 22.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER DISTRICT 1

GET OUT AND VOTE

SEPTEMBER 15, 1998

It's time we, the tax payers, started demanding and getting more value for our money. Commissioners have a basic overriding responsibility to make sure that there is a dollar's worth of goods and services provided for every dollar spent.

Waste erodes public confidence in government. Therefore, I pledge to you that I will do my best to eliminate waste in county government. No one wants higher taxes but everyone wants to see a county government where a dollar spent is spent for an essential purpose.

The litmus test I will use to determine the need for government expenditures will be as follows:

1) is it a proper function of government
2) is it cost effective
3) is it affordable?

Over one hundred thousand tax dollars are used each year to pay for the services of the three county commissioners. ($28,000 + benefits x 3). At these prices we have the right to demand a more effective and efficient county government, The commissioners' office is the peoples' office and the people are entitled to easy access to their leaders. I pledge to you that, once elected, I will maintain regular and convenient office hours in order to provide you, the taxpayer, your money's worth.

As your county commissioner, you concerns will be my concerns.

tion, and be used in developing implementation strategies to protect them, according to Miller.

"Through the efforts of the Tributary Teams appointed by Governor Parris N. Glendening, Maryland has a head start on this initiative. The teams have been working for three years to reduce nutrient pollution entering the state's rivers and streams. This program offers the opportunity to strengthen public health protections, target community-based watershed protection efforts in high priority areas, and provide communities with new resources to control polluted runoff," Miller said.

Why Vote DOUG RAILEY For County Commissioner?

Economic Development

Doug Railey is the only candidate who has presented the basis for the development of an actual economic recovery plan for our county. Such a plan would attract quality jobs to the county to help replace the many hundreds of jobs lost during past administrations. This plan would be "community based" so that all benefits citizens in all areas of the county.

Open and Honest Government

Doug Railey is the only candidate to declare a pledge that will make government open and honest by placing all county departments under a strict code of ethical conduct. If elected, he would welcome the involvement of responsible citizens who want to help return government to the people. He would also make the commissioners' office accessible to the public by holding community meetings at convenient times and places throughout the county.

Your Voice in County Government

Doug Railey will be your voice in county government. He will intelligently evaluate all public policy issues that come before the board of commissioners. He will make all decisions pertaining to county government without regard to personal political gain or cronyism. He will not engage in political schemes that undermine the integrity of the office of commissioner and the public trust.

Is All Of This Possible?

Yes, government that operates openly, honestly and fairly on behalf of its citizens can be a reality! Garrett County can join in the economic prosperity that much of the rest of the country is enjoying. This can only be accomplished by electing a candidate like Doug Railey who is firm in his convictions and has an actual plan to implement these policies.

Annual Open House Set By National Guard

The Maryland Army National Guard, Det 1, Co B, 121st Engineer Battalion, is holding its annual Open House at the Oakland armory, located at 14 North Eighth Street, on Sunday, Sept. 13, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There are numerous activities scheduled, including military displays, arrival of the state adjutant general (Gen. James F. Fretterd) by helicopter, assault demonstrations, military construction equipment of the 243rd Engineer Company, the Sheriff's Office's K-9 Unit, Brenda's Body Shop, karate demonstrations, and many other activities sponsored by the Oakland Armory NCO Club.

Additionally, there will be a dedication of the Distance Learning Center by the state of Maryland and the Garrett Community College for the Oakland armory.

All events are being held in recognition of the 51st anniversary of the Maryland Army National Guard's presence at the Oakland armory. Originally the armory was occupied by C Co, 121st Engineer Battalion, and the 115th Armor, and later, by way of reorganization, the Detachment.

The community is invited to attend this celebration of recognition.

Underage Drinkers Charged In Savage River State Forest

Natural Resources Police (NRP) officers charged six adults under the age of 21 and two juveniles in connection with an underage drinking incident in Savage River State Forest.

While on routine patrol on Red Shale Road around 11:45 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 28, NRP officers observed a group of individuals congregated around five parked vehicles, reportedly drinking beer. During a series of interviews, eight people admitted to consuming alcohol, and all the alcohol was seized for evidence.

Adult civil citations for possession of alcohol under 21 years of age were issued to: Donald Wayne Bray Jr., 20, and Michael Paul Miller, 19, both of Westernport; Lewis Stephen Kitzmiller, 20, Barton; Margaret Julia Mills, 19, Midland; Jon Robert Miller, 18, Lonaconing; Lauren Mary Warnick, 18, Frostburg. Two people were issued juvenile citations for possession of alcohol under 21 years of age and escorted to their residences by NRP.

Adorable Adoptables

International Literacy Day Is September 8

September 8 has been designated as International Literacy Day, according to the Garrett County Literacy Council, an organization that encourages reading and endeavors to teach adults how to read and write.

The local council was formed in 1986 and, with the help of the Frederick County Literacy Council, tutor training sessions were conducted bi-annually. The Garrett County Council became a chartered council member of Laubach Literacy Action in March 1987.

The mission of the council is to assist learners in meeting their goals in literacy and life skills. Volunteer tutors work one-on-one with participants in the program, and the service is free and confidential.

The council is a non-profit, volunteer organization funded by donations by businesses and individuals, and via fund-raising efforts.

The council tentative plans to offer tutor training in October. Anyone interested in learning more about the council may attend the next meeting, slated for Monday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m. in the meeting room of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Persons may also telephone 301-334-8606.

Black Bear Population Studies Track Trends Via Various Means

by Steve Bittner
Forest Game Biologist
Department of Natural Resources

The Maryland Wildlife and Heritage Division (WHD) utilizes various techniques in determining the status of black bear populations in western Maryland. These include reports of sows and cubs, nuisance complaints, bear vehicle collisions, reproductive information from radio-collared sows, and bear bait station surveys.

The WHD conducts black bear bait station surveys throughout Garrett and western Allegany counties. Survey routes are established in black bear habitat in the two-county area. Each survey route consists of a series of bait stations. Each bait station contains three partially opened sardine cans suspended from a tree branch with nylon twine. The cans are placed along the route at half mile intervals. The bait is left in the tree for a period of eight days. Each station is checked after the eight-day period for bear signs, including scratches on the tree, feces, or tooth puncture marks in the sardine cans.

In 1998, a total of 16 survey routes were established in Garrett County and one route was established in western Allegany County. These routes comprised 151 bait stations, 18 of which were visited by black bears, yielding a visitation rate of 11.9 percent. This is down slightly from 1997, when visitation rates were 12.5 percent. Compared to 1993, the first year of the survey, visitation rates are up from 3.1 percent.

New survey routes have been added since 1993, and some routes have been dropped from the survey. Comparing routes that were surveyed in 1993 and 1998, visitation rates increased from 3.5 percent in 1993 to 11.6 percent in 1998.

What does this mean as far as bear populations are concerned? The bait station survey will not provide an estimate of the number of bears that are in the area; however, it does provide information on the trend in bear numbers. Theoretically, if the visitation rate increases between years, one can assume that the bear population has also increased. There is a significant difference between visitation rates in 1993 and 1998. This survey will provide trend data over a long period of time.

The availability of natural foods during the July survey period can have an impact on the activity of bears and the visitation rate. If natural foods are scarce during July, visitation rates may be high. Conversely, if natural foods are abundant during July, the visitation rate may be low. However, mast surveys from these years indicate that summer foods have been fairly consistent between years.

Early indications are that there will be some acorn production this fall. Western Maryland had virtually no acorns produced in 1997. Mast surveys in western Maryland will be completed by Sept. 1. If acorn production is anywhere near average this fall, there should be a decrease in the amount of bear damage to cornfields. As bears fatten up for winter, they search for foods high in carbohydrates. Acorns provide this nutritional requirement. When acorns are scarce, bears turn to other foods, and they then cause additional damage to cornfields.

An upcoming article will include the summary from the mast surveys across western Maryland for 1998.

Good Will At Goodwill

by Miriam Looe and Clara Withnell
Goodwill Retirement Village

One of the best things about August is reaping the harvest of our own garden. In addition to enjoying the tomatoes, squash and onions, the residents raved about the sliced cucumbers that Elaine Yoder passed around. The residents helped till, plant, fertilize, water, and weed the vegetables, so everything tastes better because of their involvement.

The monthly Tea Party was hosted by Cherry Grove Church of the Brethren. The Pinto Mennonite Church hosted the birthday party honoring Elsie Weimer, Margaret Savage, Sally Lauchrey, Geraldine Garrett, Mildred Vance, and Valerie Mikulaitis.

We're grateful to the following people for the Chapel services on Thursdays: Bill Durst (son-in-law of Ethel Maust); George Loar of Pentecostal Holiness Church in Lonaconing; Steve Rose of Rush Baptist Church (Fred Humberson and Margaret Rush, resident members); and Bill Treibey of St. John's Lutheran Church in Addison (Geneva Glass and Augusta Witkowski, resident members).

Jack Smouse reported on the following evening programs: Ted and Arnetta Stoner sang to tapes; Elmer Beachy of Mountain View Christian Fellowship; Janet Chalkley played the organ and involved the audience in a name game; Cindy Brant and her daughter played the piano and sang; Maple Glen Mennonite Church had a group of singers; Shirley Kinsinger and her three daughters sang; Allen Birkby sang to fiddle, guitar and piano; Joseph Harper from Frostburg sang; Frank & Helen West played guitar and sang; Cherry Glade Mennonite Church choir sang; Rev. Sam Putt of Sand Spring Church of God played piano and entertained with a chimpanzee from his suitcase; the Jubilators quartet gospel singers; Ken Smith and family; Oak Dale Mennonite, four ladies sang; Hammers and Strings had two violins, guitar and dulcimer; Jim Miller played piano and sang; World Lighthouse Worship Center presented a program; Joe DiSimone and his four granddaughters sang (he is the grandfather of Carrie Getson, social-worker designee); Bill Arthur and 12 young people sang; Mary Downton of Grantsville played piano; Friendship Haven Chapel of Cumberland sent 51 people, ages 3 months to 72 years who sang to piano; Glendale Assembly of God of Swanton sang to piano and guitar; Martha Albright of Myersdale (Ruth Whitacre's granddaughter) brought her two daughters, Megan and Morgan, and a friend who sang some of the songs they performed in Annie; Swanton Mennonite Church sent a group of singers; The Starlighters of Berlin played bells and sang: Church of Brethren of Bear Creek people sang to the piano; Karen Durst and Jack Smouse played duets on piano and organ, and nursing home resident Helen Shay whistled and Geraldine Garrett sang.

One of the best programs of all is Garrett Community College's Pipes & Drums. They had their full contingent of 17 people. After performing out on the parking lot, some of the group spent a lot of time visiting residents in their rooms and showing them the bagpipes.

Dorothy and Jack Smouse celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary at the home with a large cake for all the employees and residents.

The yearly Volunteer Appreciation Dinner was highlighted by the presentation of awards for service. Naomi Cutter and Elsie Green received flower arrangements for their 20 years. Esther Kolb and Catherine Armbruster were given pen sets for their 10 years. Darla Tice and Jack Smouse got one-year certificates. The 61 people attending represented volunteers from all categories, such as helping with crafts, Bingo, current events, exercise, visiting residents, etc.

We've been especially fortunate this year to have Teresa Miller, aged 15 (daughter of Bea Miller, who works the laundry) and Christy Anderson, aged 13 (daughter of Leslie and Robin Anderson, both certified nursing assistants at Goodwill). These enthusiastic and energetic young ladies have spent many hours helping and now that they're back in school, we'll really miss them. With all the volunteers listed above, anyone would think we had more than enough, but not so! We still have a constant need for a variety of helpers. If you have any time, no matter how little, you can choose your hours and also the activity you'd feel most comfortable with. Just call Idella Bender, activity director, at 301-895-5194. We'd welcome you with open arms!

The Goodwill Retirement Villagers would like to welcome Jo and Bill Ennis, who moved from Berkeley Springs, W.Va. Jo's mother, Muriel Waits, is a resident in the Goodwill Independent Living apartments.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE
Situate in Election District No. 5, Garrett County, Maryland

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage from David D. Vitez dated July 24, 1997, and recorded in Liber 713, Page 625, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, and having been duly assigned to the undersigned for purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will, on at the hour of 10:00 o'clock a.m.

in the Rotunda of the Court House, in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale, and sell to the highest bidder at public auction the following described property:

ALL those pieces or parcels of land situate in Election District No. 5, Garrett County, Maryland, known as Keysers Ridge Estates, with frontage on Route 40 and Interstate 68, a development now known as Appalachian Village, as conveyed unto David D. Vitez on July 9, 1993, in Liber 605, page 707, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland. The residue is approximately 65 acres, more or less. This is a development which has 25 lots remaining, some of which are recorded lots, some are approved and ready for recording, and some are planned. Some have electric and phone UG which provide access to the lot. There is a recorded Corporation of the Property Owners in Liber 9, page 286, among the Corporation Records of Garrett County, Maryland. A certain additional document entitled Declaration of Common Interest Community for Appalachian Village Subdivision has since been recorded in Liber 684, page 585. Two lots are improved with dwellings which are a part of this proceeding.

SUBJECT, however, to all reservations, covenants, exceptions, restrictions, conditions and out conveyances as contained in prior deeds of record.

TOGETHER with the buildings and improvements thereon, and the rights, roads, ways, waters, privileges and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

TERMS OF SALE: Twenty percent (20%) deposit by cash or cashier's check on date of sale with the balance payable upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland. Taxes and other assessments and charges to be adjusted to date of sale. The costs of documentary stamps, transfer and recording will be paid by the purchaser.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust from RANDALL S. LOWERS and TAMMY S. LOWERS, husband and wife, dated September 17, 1993, and recorded September 22, 1993, in Liber No. 613, folio 65, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, I hereby give notice that I will, on in the Rotunda of the Courthouse, in the town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale, and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the following property, to-wit:

Friday, September 11, 1998
At the hour of 10.00 a.m.

ALL those lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in ELECTION DISTRICT NO. 14, Garrett County, Maryland, and being all of the remainder of the lands conveyed by Boyd Hardesty to Boyd Hardesty, Nancy J. Barnard and Rita D. Shillingburg by deed dated June 4, 1977, and recorded in Liber No. 376, folio 581, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 32.72 acres, more or less, and more particularly described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and intended to be a part hereof.

BEING the same as conveyed by Nancy J. Barnard to Randall S. Lowers and Tammy S. Lowers, husband and wife, by deed of even date and recorded or intended to be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, just prior to these presents.

SUBJECT, HOWEVER, to all conveyances, covenants, restrictions, reservations, easements and any other matter of record.

The property will be sold subject to all conditions, liens, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A cashier's or certified check of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($5,000.00) shall be paid at the time and place of sale, except no deposit shall be required of the note holder, its successors or assigns, balance in cash at settlement, except that if the note holder, its successors and assigns, is the purchaser, a credit will be allowed for the mortgage debt, which shall be twenty (20) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court of Garrett County, Maryland, unless said period is extended by the Trustee, her successors or assigns, for good cause shown, time being of the essence. The property will be sold subject to all restrictions, liens, covenants and encumbrances of record. In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, the property shall be re-sold at purchaser's risk and expense. Taxes, water, rent, and all other municipal liens and charges, if any, to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any, document preparation and title insurance and/or examination shall be borne by purchaser. If the Trustee is unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit, this sale shall be void and of no effect and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustee or the noteholder. The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition without either express or implied warranty or representation, including, but not limited to, the description, fitness for a particular purpose, use, physical condition, access, habitability, zoning, subdivision, environmental condition, merchantability, compliance with building codes or other laws, ordinances or regulations, or other similar matters. The Trustee, her attorneys and/or the noteholder, shall not be liable individually or otherwise for any matters relating to this sale and/or the property.

FAIR SUMMARY OF MTN. LAKE PARK CHARTER AMENDMENT PUBLIC NOTICE

The Mayor and Town Council of Mtn. Lake Park hereby gives notice that it will hold public hearings on Resolution No. 98-2, pursuant to Article 23A, Volume I of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1996, Replacement Volume, as amended, that the Mayor and Town Council of Mtn. Lake Park adopted on the 11th day of August, 1998, an Amendment to Section 26-54 of its municipal charter, said section being titled "Authority to Employ Personnel."

A fair summary of the Resolution is as follows:

The Amendment deleted the language "Providing no member of the Council be employed by the Town" and provided that no member of Town Government may conduct or contract any business with the Town of Mtn. Lake Park, Unless in accordance with the Town's newly adopted ordinance governing said matters or the ethics thereof, to the affect that the newly adopted Section 26-54 is proposed to read as follows after its effective date:

26-54 Authority to employ personnel

The Town shall have the power to employ such officers and employees as it deems necessary to execute the powers and duties provided by this Charter or other State law and to operate the Town government providing that no elected member of the Town government shall conduct or contract for any business with the Town except as may be provided in any ordinance adopted by the Mayor and Town Council of Mtn. Lake Park dealing with the same or with the ethics thereof.

This notice is in accordance with the policy adopted by the Mayor and Town Council of Mtn. Lake Park for the adoption of resolutions, and gives notice of the date and time of the scheduled public hearing of said Resolution.

The full text of Ordinance 98-2 is available at Town Hall Monday through Friday during business hours.

RAM NOTES

News from Southern Garrett High School
by Chuck Harkins, SGHS Faculty

Beginning this week, this column will appear on a regular basis to inform the Garrett County community about academic and extra-curricular activities at Southern Garrett High School. As always, parents and interested individuals are encouraged to become actively involved in the educational process by volunteering in the classroom or simply visiting the schools.

As SGHS students returned to the classroom on Monday, they were surprised to see the entire staff sporting red T-shirts emblazoned with Southern Support Team (SST). During first period, students were presented with Student Agenda Books (SAB), which will be used to track attendauce, assignments, deportment, and all areas of student progress. Students discovered that they are part of the SST and that the T-shirts were designed to show staff unity for the new discipline policy. The SABs are an intrinsic component of this program.

Many SGHS teachers were involved with workshops this summer. Workshops included the development of the new discipline policy and the SABs, and an ongomg grant-writing workshop for Comprehensive School Reform, to name but a few. More information will follow in coming weeks concerning these and other workshops.

The staff and administration of SGHS were completely overwhelmed by the turnout at the freshman orientation meeting on Thursday, Aug. 27. More than 500 people turned out to collect schedules, tour the school, and meet the staff.

Please don't forget the following activities taking place during the coming week: Monday, Sept. 7, Labor Day, schools closed; Tuesday, Sept. 8, Board of Education meeting; and Wednesday, Sept. 9, SGHS Open House, 6-8 p.m.

Many agree that the opening of school this year was the most successful and troublefree in recent memory. Our thanks to the parents and students who made this possible.

Community participation in academic and extra-curricul r activities is essential to a school's success. Please get involved with your community schools. If you have any questions or would like to volunteer your time at the high school, please contact us at 301-334-9447.

Homecoming Set At Otterbein UM

The Otterbein United Methodist Church in Swanton will hold its aanual homecoming on Sunday, Sept. 20, an event which honors all members of the church who are senior citizens.

Sunday school will get under way at 9:45 a.m. and be followed by worship at 11 a.m. and a dinner at approximately 12:30 p.m. A special afternoon service, which will include special music, will begin at 2 p.m.

Rev. Meredith Ball, pastor, invites all to attend.

THAT'S NOT SNOW blowing over the mountain at Wisp Resort, but smoke from a Tuesday afternoon fire at the McHenry House that caused at least $75,000 in damages. The blaze reportedly broke out as contracted roofers were working to install flashing, a process that involves the use of blowtorches. Fire companies from Deep Creek, Accident, Oakland, and Friendsville fought the flames for just under an hour. There were no injuries reported. The rebuilding of the roof is well under way, according to a spokesperson, and most of the shops and recreational activities at Wisp are open as usual. See story.

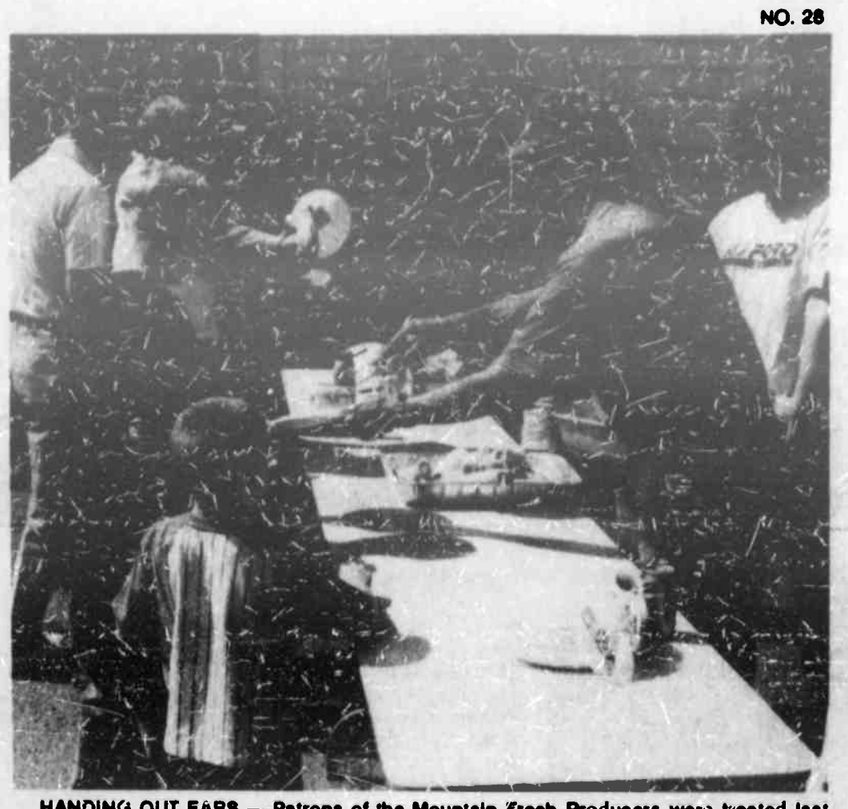
Teenager Chosen As Local "Most Beautiful" Person

A teenager has been honored this year as the local selection by the Maryland You Are Beautiful (MYAB) committee. Heather M. Butler, a sophomore at Northern High School, has been chosen as Garrett County's "Most Beautiful" person. She will be honored locally by the Garrett County Commissioners on Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 9 a.m., with a proclamation and the official announcement of her honor.

According to Pat Light, the county MYAB coordinator, Miss Butler is a very active teenager from the Grantsville area. She has logged over 1,500 hours of volunteer time. She began volunteer work when she was 9, helping out with activities in the Specialized Alzheimer's Unit at the Frostburg Village Nursing Center. She was recognized for giving 611 volunteer hours at the nursing center, where she offered her help on weekends and holidays from 1993 until 1995.

The teenager came to the Mountain Glade Medical Adult Day Services in 1995 when her mother transferred there to work as a program assistant and certified nursing assistant. Miss Butler volunteers during her summer vacation and holidays, and has given 941 hours of help at Mtn. Glade.



In addition, Heather helps her grandmother, Elsie Green, at the Grantsville Thrift Shop, where she has about given about 50 volunteer hours. She attends the Oak Grove Mennonite Church in Grantsville and is active in her church's youth group. She also helps in the nursery.

In the winter months, Miss Butler belongs to the Casselman's Sports Club and competes in shooting matches. She helps in the kitchen when needed. This summer, on Saturdays, she worked at the Grantsville Sale Barn as a waitress.

Upon graduation from Northern, Miss Butler hopes to pursue a nursing career. Her hobbies are quilting, embroidery, and reading, and she loves animals, especially dogs. She also likes to work on the computer and would like to eventually have one of her own.

According to a spokesperson from Mtn. Glade, Miss Butler "has a special ability to relate to handicapped people and the elderly. She is friendly and outgoing, and at Mtn. Glade, she is a very impor-

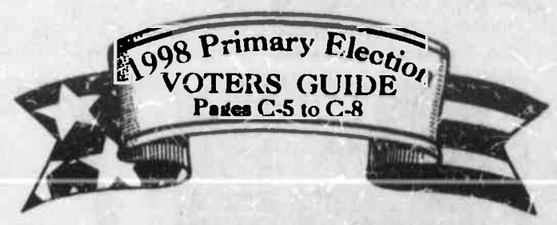
HANDING OUT EARS — Patrons of the Mountain Fresh Producers were treated last Saturday to roasted corn at the Oakland pavilion, where the producers have been selling their harvested goods all summer. The weather was bright and warm for the annual event, and the roasters were kept busy for hours. Ernie Oregg is pictured above right as he serves the hot corn to some young hungry folks. The growers will continue vending their wares until the Autumn Glory Festival, which will be held the second week in October.

Single-Vehicle Mishap Reported By State Police

A single-vehicle accident on North Glade Road last Thursday was reported by Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Dianne Reilly, 43, Chantilly, Va., was eastbound on North Glade, east of Glendale Road, at 10:43 a.m. when she reportedly failed to give full time and attention to driving. Reilly ran off the road and struck a tree, police said.



Southern Rescue Squad transported Reilly and a juvenile passenger to Garrett Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries.

No charges were filed in the incident.

Three-Wheeler Flips

The driver and a passenger were injured when the three-wheeled vehicle on which they were traveling overturned.

Hospital Board Votes To Begin Affiliation Talks With WVUHS

The board of governors of Garrett County Memorial Hospital unanimously approved a formal resolution for the hospital to enter into negotiations with the West Virginia United Health System, according to Joyce Bishoff, board chairperson. The resolution to [illegible] WVUHS was approved following a recommendation from the ad-hoc Affiliation Steering Committee, consisting of both board members and physicians of the medical staff.

The nine-member steering committee has been meeting over the past several months to review and discuss the numerous proposals received from many different health systems interested in establishing an affiliation with GCMH. Three health systems whose proposals best met the pre-[illegible] board of governors affiliation criteria were each invited to make a formal presentation before the steering committee members in mid-August.

Following these separate presentations and a report from the GCMH medical staff leadership regarding the affiliation process, the Affiliation Steering Committee recommended to the board that WVUHS offered the best future affiliation options for GCMH. WVUHS, established in 1996, includes West Virginia University Hospital, Morgantown, and United Hospital Center, Clarksburg. Earlier this year, it began negotiations with Davis Memorial Hospital, Elkins.

The West Virginia United Health System was selected based on numerous factors, Bishoff said, including the breadth of its medical and clinical services; its expansive programs portfolio; its educational and research missions; its historic financial performance; the depth of its physician specialists and clinics; and its historical and current operational performance.

Bernie Westfall, president of WVUHS, said the Maryland hospital is a "good match" for the system. "We share the same values and goals," Westfall said. "Our system is made up of hospitals and physicians who place the patients first, and who believe in meeting the needs of the communities they serve."

"It is the board's opinion that an affiliation with WVUHS will significantly benefit GCMH, our physicians, our patients, and the community," said Bishoff. "We are excited about the future possibilities of being affiliated with this premier health care system."

Bishoff noted that the affiliation process requires lengthy negotiations that she hopes will lead to a mutual agreement between the two parties. However, Bishoff clearly stated that the board of governors is "very interested in maintaining local governance over the hospital and continuing

W.Va. Man Jailed After Incident In GCMH Lobby

A Bayard, W.Va., man was arrested early Saturday morning after an incident of loud and disorderly behavior in the lobby of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Robert Lee Suter III, 29, allegedly entered the lobby shortly after 4 a.m. and began to scream and curse in front of the eight to ten people present. Eyewitnesses also said that as the outburst continued, Suter began beating the receptionist's counter with his hands and tore off his shirt, reportedly yelling that he wanted to kill someone.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Suter for disorderly conduct, and also served him with an outstanding warrant for two counts of assault and numerous traffic violations. Following an appearance before the court commissioner, Suter was released from jail on a $500 bond.

In other sheriff's news, Harry William Mayles, 61, Oakland, was arrested on Sunday after a reported domestic incident at his residence. The alleged victim, who resides at the same home, stated that Mayles refused to let her leave the house that day, and took her car keys, tampered with her car's wiring, and pulled the phone cord out of the wall. She said was eventually able to flee to another home to call for assistance. Allegations were also made concerning a February incident when Mayles reportedly fired a gun inside the house during a domestic altercation.

Mayles faces charges of first- and second-degree assault, reckless endangerment, false imprisonment, and malicious destruction of property. He was released from jail after posting a $1,000 bond.

A domestic altercation at an Oakland-area residence on the morning of Thursday, Sept. 3, resulted in the arrest of Karen Elain Nazelrod, 35, Oakland. She was arrested and charged with second-degree assault after allegedly striking a male at the home, and was subsequently released on her own recognizance.

Dixie Marie Heavener, 23, Burlington, W.Va., was arrested at 3 a.m. on Saturday morning after deputies

Plans Finalized For First Brew Fest To Raise Funds For SOS

Plans have been finalized for the first-ever Western Maryland Brew Fest, set for this Saturday, Sept. 12, from noon to 5 p.m. at the Garrett County Airport. The festival is being held to raise money for Save Oakland Station (SOS). The group recently purchased the historic Oakland Railroad Station to be used as a visitor center for the Oakland area.

The station was built in 1884 when tourism to the area had peaked and a convenient station was needed to accommodate passengers. It is one of the finest examples of Queen Anne architecture in the nation and a critical part of the history of Garrett County. The station was purchased in February and will require extensive renovation to provide a cornerstone for the continued revitalization of downtown Oakland. Dave and Lee Saba of Deep Creek Brewing Company organized the festival and selected SOS to receive the benefits of the Brew Fest to help the group with the purchase price of $150,000.

The Garrett County Airport site was selected to help highlight the airport and its importance to the county. Over July 4th weekend, over 50 planes came in and out of the airport. People can come and tour the airport and see many different types of planes that utilize the airport.

Ten breweries have been selected to participate in the event. Deep Creek Brewing, Old Dominion, White Marsh, Independence, Victory, West Virginia, Frederick, Wild Goose, Rock Creek, and Gettysbrew will each bring two beers for tasting. All attendees will receive a free 4-ounce testing glass, cour-

McHenry Roof Fire Damages Building

A tower of black smoke rose from the Wisp Resort ski lodge, known as the McHenry House, Tuesday afternoon as four fire departments worked to douse a blaze. According to reports, contracted workmen were installing flashing with the use of blow torches and apparently didn't realize for a short time that the roof had been ignited. When they did see the fire, it was out of control.

The Deep Creek fire company responded to the scene, accompanied by the Accident, Friendsville, and Oakland departments, and the volunteers worked for just under an hour to extinguish the blaze. Also attending were units of the Northern and Southern rescue squads. An initial damage estimate of $75,000 was announced, but apparently the amount could be significantly more when all assessments are complete.

The Garrett County Health Department closed the restaurant facilities inside the building until further notice, pending the clean-up of the area. Rudy's Ski Shop remains open, however, and golfing is continuing as usual.

Rudy's Ski Shop experienced damages as a result of the blaze because a significant amount of merchandise from the store was in the main lodge for the annual Labor Day sale. When the fire started, the merchandise was taken outside in the rain. According to a shop spokesperson, a damage estimate has not yet been determined. The downstairs shop was essentially kept damage-free as a result of a quick-thinking employee, who sealed the shop's windows and doors with duct tape and rugs to keep the smoke out.

The roof is now being rebuilt, a Wisp official said this morning, and workers are apparently taking the opportunity to complete some renovations in the area as well.

Voters League To Hold Second Candidate Forum

The League of Women Voters of Garrett County reminds the public that the second candidates' forum will be held this Sunday, Sept. 13, at Garrett Community College, starting at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium. This forum will cover the [illegible] education and [illegible]missioner races, with the [illegible] are the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce and the Civic Club of Oakland, with additional support from the Business and Professional Women, American Association of University Women, the Commission for Women, Delta Kappa Gamma, and the Women's Coalition of Garrett County.

As with the first forum, candidates will be asked predetermined questions that none of them have seen. Citizens will have an opportunity to speak with the candidates during a break and at the conclusion of the forum, around 4:30 p.m. This forum will follow the same format as the first one, rotating the order in which the candidates will speak and answer questions.

Candidates for all offices may distribute campaign literature in the lobby outside the auditorium. Light refreshments will be served after the county commissioner portion of the forum.

Those unable to attend the forum will be able to School Vouchers Subject Of Debate, Vote By BOE

The Garrett County Board of Education, following an emotional debate, voted Tuesday night to accept a choice in education resolution rather than to support the anti-voucher resolution, as requested by the National School Boards Association.

Board member Jim Raley made the motion to endorse a stand opposing the issuance of tax dollars through a system of vouchers to parents sending children to private rather than public schools. Raley said he was "putting on his hat as a school board member" when addressing the issue. He referred to the mission statement of the school board to provide a learning environment for all students.

"As a public school governing body, we should take a stand against this. It shouldn't be our job to ask to have our tax money given to private schools," he stated. Raley's motion to endorse the anit-voucher resolution received no second.

Board president Pat Riley, relinquishing his seat to Raley so that he might make a motion, introduced a resolution for choice in education. Stating that he believed that the vast majority of parents would continue to choose public schools, Riley emphasized his support for a voucher system, which he said would increase the options and choices available to parents.

"Opposition to vouchers shows fear that we can not compete with private schools," he said. Competition, Riley noted, is good not only for the market place but for the school system. "We request those organizations which oppose and even fear the education choices of parent to refocus their efforts toward producing schools which are capable of competing should education markets become more open," he read from his resolution.

Also addressing the issue, board member Rodney Durst reflected on knowledge acquired through his experiences serving on the state legislative committee for the school board. "We're talking about a national issue. I've heard a lot of horror stories about schools in Baltimore and other places," he noted.

Durst expressed his belief that a voucher system would offer an option for people living in areas where the public schools are dangerous. "I can't support this (anti-voucher resolution) nationally. Parents need to COME SEE THE NATIONAL GUARD SUNDAY — The annual open house celebration at the National Guard Armory in Oakland is slated for this Sunday, Sept. 13, from 11:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. The event is free to the public, and citizens are encouraged to come take part in games and raffles, explore the guard's equipment (as in the photo above, taken at last year's event), and see various communication set-ups. In addition to the activities, the opening of the armory's new distance learning lab will also take place. The facility is located along Eighth Street.

Firemen's Events, Big Bucks Bingo Set For AG Fest

Garrett County's 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival will celebrate the glory of the fall foliage season from Thursday, Oct. 8, through Sunday, Oct. 11. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department will open the festival with a variety of events on Thursday evening in downtown Oakland.

The first event on the Autumn Glory agenda will be the ever-popular Oktoberfest meal held at the Oakland fire hall on Third Street from 4 to 7 p.m. Oakland firefighters will bring "a little of old Germany" to Garrett County with German-style food and drink.

The Firemen's Parade, which will begin at 7 p.m. that same evening, will feature bands, drill teams, fire equipment, antique fire apparatus, and rescue apparatus traveling over 200 miles from throughout the tri-state area. Participating departments are judged in several categories. Firemen from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and the surrounding areas are invited to join the parade. Prior to the parade, apparatus judging will be held at the Farmer's Market parking lot on Route 219 north of Oakland from 5:30 p.m. until parade time, when the participants will parade south on Route 219 through downtown Oakland.

Wrapping up the evening will be the Oktoberfest Celebration. This popular event takes place each year at the Oakland fire hall immediately following the parade. The celebration includes German-style food, drink, a live "oompah" band, and presentation of the Fireman of the Year Award by the Garrett County Firemen's Association. There is no admission charge.

On Friday, Oct. 9, beginning at 6 p.m. at the Elks Lodge on Elk Street in Oakland, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and the Oakland Elks will host "Big Bucks" Bingo. Tickets are $30, include all regular games, and are available from any fire department or Elks member. Everyone must be 18 or over, and refreshments and food will be available. For tickets and information, perrons may call 301-334-1119 or 301-334-3535.

For more information on this event or a free festival brochure, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 301-334-1948; www.garrettchamber.com; or E-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

COUNTY CITES NAT'L ALCOHOL/DRUG ADDICTION RECOVERY MONTH — The Garrett County commissioners this week signed a document proclaiming the county's observance of September as National Alcohol and Drug Addiction Recovery Month. The proclamation states because the Garrett County Health Addictions Service has shown dedication to helping individuals and their families in need of professional addictions treatment, and in light of the commitment of the professionals who work to improve lives and help restore families and communities, all citizens are urged to become fully aware of the value of and contribution made by this treatment agency. Pictured at the signing are the commissioners, left to right: Wayne Johnson, Chairman Wayne Wilt, and Gary Fratz. Standing in the same order are Linda Bolding Colaw, addictions counselor; Dorothee Bittinger, secretary, Ed Campbell, addictions counselor; Cheryl Pachilla, social worker; Joseph Shaffer, addictions counselor; Debra Smith, secretary; Olive Corliss, director; Fred Herath, coordinator of special programs; and Gail Dever, associate prevention specialist.

Auditions Set For The Devil & Daniel Webster

Our Town Theatre will hold auditions for the play The Devil and Daniel Webster this Sunday, Sept. 13, 1-3 p.m., and on Monday, Sept. 14, 7-9 p.m. Persons who would like to read for a part but who cannot make either time slot should call the theatre at 301-334-5640 to schedule a separate audition.

According to Jane Avery, artistic director of the theatre, the play includes four or five leading roles and about 20 minor parts for persons age 15 and older.

Written by Stephen Vincent Benet, this one-act play concerns the age-old theme of a man who sells his soul to Satan and then regrets the deed, Avery said. Daniel Webster, the most famous lawyer of his time, argues the case against the devil. Avery said the play "has a powerful message tempered by humor and a wonderful patriotic spirit."

She said rehearsals will be fairly flexible and will take place in the evenings. The play is scheduled for October 22-24 and 29-31. After the production on Halloween, there will be an Artists' Ball. Each person taking part is encouraged to dress as his or her favorite work of art, artist, literary character, or writer.

Children's Theatre, Coffee House

Our Town Theatre has planned two events for this Saturday, Sept. 12. A theatre class for children from 5 to 8 years old will be held from 1 to 2 p.m., and a teenage coffee house is scheduled for Saturday night, 7-11 p.m. The cost for classes is a donation, and the cover charge for the coffee house is $2 per person.

Improvisations for kids are scheduled on Saturday, Sept. 19, 1-2 p.m., and on September 26, a theatre class for children ages 9-12 is tentatively scheduled from 1 until 2 p.m.

Perrons with questions about these events are encouraged to call the theatre at the number noted above.

EYM Announces Beginning Of Fall Ministry

The Ecumenical Youth Ministry (EYM) will begin its fall ministry program this Sunday, Sept. 13, at St. Matthew's Parish Hall in Oakland. Youth in grade 6 and older are invited to take part, and are to meet at the hall at 1 p.m.

The 1998-99 ministry will include sign language and drama in the fall music programs, according to Lynn Broderick, director of the group. The sign language is for those students who would like to learn to sign songs and scripture readings. The drama ministry will prepare students for dramatic scenes related to the scriptures for performance within the worship service or concert programs, she explained.

The music portion of the program is for youth who enjoy singing sacred and secular music for both enjoyment and performance. Those interested in playing an instrument might wish to join the band or ensemble that will accompany the singers on tour.

EYM was founded in 1995 and since its inception, the members have performed for over 10,000 people in Maryland, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. EYM has utilized the visual arts talents of many of its members and has also presented four fully staged musicals from Broadway, into which Christian themes were woven.

New singers are always welcome, Broderick said. Interested persons are urged to call the ministry office at 301-334-6300 to obtain a current schedule of rehearsals and activities.

HARLAND TICHNELL
Republican Candidate for Sheriff, presents:
YOU make the CALL!

In September, 1997, the office of sheriff was vacated.
Three people applied for the position.
The Republican Central Committee interviewed the candidates and recommended Harland Tichnell to the governor with Bill Ferry's & Dick Sanders' names being submitted.
The Maryland State Police provide the security and transportation for the governor.
Dick Sanders is retired from the Maryland State Police and received an interview from Democratic Gov. Parris Glendening.
Neither Harland Tichnell or Bill Ferry received the courtesy of an interview.
Was This A Fair Selection Process?
YOU make the CALL!
Vote HARLAND TICHNELL for SHERIFF on September 15th

GCSO Seeks Leads In Four-Wheeler Theft

The sheriff's office is investigating the theft of a 1997 Honda TRX 300EX four-wheeler from the 5400 block of Avilton-Lonaconing Road. The $3,000 vehicle was discovered missing on Wednesday, Sept. 2, and was apparently taken sometime during the previous three days.

Citizens with information on this or any other criminal investigation or possible criminal activity are encouraged to call the sheriff's office at 301-334-1911 or the Crime Solvers number at 301-334-1975.

Oakland Woman Injured In Hutton Road Collision

A two-vehicle collision on Hutton Road at Crellin Street on Saturday evening resulted in the transport of an Oakland woman to Garrett Memorial Hospital for minor injuries, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Lisa Lynn Rager, 27, was traveling westbound on Hutton Road at 5:45 p.m. when she initiated a left turn onto Crellin Street; as she did so, a Ford truck driven by Patrick Lee Athey, 31, Laurel, attempted to slow down but skidded into the rear of Rager's AMC Eagle.

Rager was transported to the hospital and subsequently released. No charges have been filed in the accident.

A one-vehicle ATV accident along Old Crellin Road injured a 16-year-old juvenile on Saturday evening at 7 p.m. The juvenile was operating a Honda 110 ATV by himself when its left rear tire came off, spilling both the vehicle and the driver into a ditch. The victim was not wearing any safety equipment, and was transported to Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad. The Department of Juvenile Justice is continuing the investigation.

An Oakland man was injured Saturday evening when his motorcycle overturned as he was negotiating a turn on Nest Lick Acres Road. Alex Bartholomew Mellott, 22, a volunteer firefighter, told deputies that he had forgotten to put his kickstand up as he was returning from a fire call with his volunteer company. The kickstand caught on the pavement and threw the motorcycle off balance.

Mellott was treated at Garrett Memorial Hospital for injuries to his leg and shoulder, and subsequently released.

Town Hall

GRANTSVILLE

The mayor and council held a brief town meeting on Monday, Sept. 7.

- Grantsville will host a meeting of the Allegany/Garrett counties municipal league on Wednesday, Sept. 23.
- Work on the storm water pond project continues on schedule with completion slated for November 18.
- The council discussed several town office issues.

The next meeting will be held Monday, Sept. 21.

LOCH LYNN

The town meeting was held Tuesday, Sept. 8.

- Residents were present to discuss concerns about dilapidated property in the town and the hazards caused by such properties. The property owners or their representatives will be contacted in an attempt to seek a solution to this problem.
- Town insurance issues were discussed. A representative from LGIT will meet with the mayor and council to review insurance needs.
- Residents spoke to the council about problem behavior of some young people in the town. All residents will be reminded that there is a 10 p.m. curfew in Loch Lynn for persons under age 18.
- The town is accepting applications for office of mayor, two council seats, and treasurer. The town clerk will place an advertisement to this effect. Applications are available through the town office.
- There was discussion of the town picnic, which was described as a success by those present.
- Some digging is under way to assess sewer problems that some residents are experiencing.
- Bids will soon be requested for street paving projects.

The next meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 5.

MTN. LAKE PARK

The mayor and town council met on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

- It was noted that the flags in the park were donated by American Legion Post 71.
- The town has drafted a new ordinance outlining the rules, punishments, and fines governing behavior m the two town parks. The first reading was held at the meeting. A second reading and hearing are scheduled for Sept. 22, 5:45 p.m., at town hall.
- The mayor appointed Delbert Bittinger, James Moore, and Randolph Reichard as members of the Mtn. Lake Park public ethics board. The names were approved by the council.
- Bids proposals for heating the town garage have been received and will be reviewed.
- There was discussion of junk cars and dilapidated property in town. Letters will be sent to owners of such properties.
- Council work sessions will be held during the winter to review the town charter and amendments.
- Oct. 31, 5-6:30 p.m., was noted as the time for Halloween trick-or-treat night for children through age 12.
- Ann Forrester was named as alternate to the zoning board to replace Lou DiCarlo.
- The council approved the idea of high school students earning community service hours by assisting the elderly residents of the town. Liability for such a program should be assumed by the school board rather than the town, it was agreed.
- Some of the property at the park has been damaged and needs repair. The council will ask the Boy Scouts if they would be interested in helping to maintain the town park.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 22.

Margraff Seeks Re-Election To Orphans' Court

Wilmer W. Margraff has announced his re-election candidacy for judge of the orphans' court.

Having held the office for 23 years (18 years as chief judge, appointed by the Governor of Maryland), Margraff feels he has filled this position to the fullest and can continue to do so. A lifetime resident of Garrett County, he was raised on a 200-acre farm in Accident. Some of his past accomplishments include: working for the U.S. Government Re Settlement Administration as foreman, a working welder for Baltimore shipyards, a self-employed timber and sawmill businessman (32 years), owner and operator of a Garrett County School Bus (60 years to date), one of the founding fathers of the Accident Volunteer Fire Company (14 years as President), an active member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church (where he served as councilman), and Accident town councilman (4 terms).

Keeping current with Maryland Codes required for the office, Margraff said his experience, honesty, common sense decision making, and consistency in the job have made him an effective judge and a worthy re-election candidate. "If re-elected, I will serve Garrett County to the best of my potential, as I have done in the past years," the candidate said. "Your vote is greatly appreciated." Remember: Experience and Knowledge make for a job well done. Honesty assures it Is done correctly.

A System Flaw...

While dealine with all of the election information, advertising, and letters, we have stumbled upon what we believe to be a major flaw in our electoral system. Among the candidates on next Tuesday's ballots will be three men vying for the Garrett Count Circuit Court judgeship. Their race is the only one that will be bipartisan, that is, appear on both the Republican and Democrat ballots.

The flaw, however, is that only registered Republicans and Democrats will be permitted to vote for these candidates. Those voters who are registered as Independents or Libertarians or whatever other party that is legally recognized by the state election board will not be afforded the same opportunity. Granted, the numbers of these voters are reasonably low, especially in Garrett County, but the fact that they are not permitted to vote in this extremely important race seems a disservice to them at best, and a violation of their rights at worst.

An easy fix for the problem would be to simply allow non-Demo/GOP voters to vote by way of a paper ballot, and their votes would then be counted with the rest. Again, in Garrett County it would be a snap since there are so few voters who are not registered either Democrat of Republican. With growing disillusionment in the two major political parties there may well be growing numbers of registered voters in other parties anyway.

Speaking of the circuit court judge race, we are not making public endorsement of any of the three candidates, but we want to state how important this position is in Garrett County and to remind voters that the person elected will be in that seat not for the next two, four, or six years, but the next 15 years. The circuit court judge in a one-judge county wields far more power than most of us realize. His or her decisions and way of conducting a court of law have significant and far-reaching effects on the entire county. So our caution to each voter is to do the necessary homework before selecting a candidate in this race. This means really listening to what they have to say and what others say about them, reading carefully and listening to what they have to say about themselves, and looking closely at their past experiences and track records. It also means a lot of reading between the lines and sorting out fact from fiction. It should not be a popularity race.

It is gratifying to see so many citizens seeking various offices in our county. Apathy is apparently not a problem, as scores are taking the risk and assuming the cost of a campaign to try to make a positive difference. We hope that those of us not running for office will turn out in large numbers next Tuesday to give the best candidates this opportunity.

Editor's note: The writer of the following letter to U.S. Senator Paul Sarbanes requested that it appear in this column.

Dear Senator Sarbanes:

The people of Friendsville, Accident, Deep Creek Lake, and McHenry are in need or your assistance in a potentially dangerous situation.

Our TV cable company has changed a few times in the last few years and now is the FrontierVision Company out of Tennessee. They have changed their line-up of channels and in so doing have removed the radio FM band from their services. As they have the monopoly in our mountainous region, they, in effect, control our lives in many ways, and we feel are responsible for supplying this service along with their cable TV.

We can not receive on our radios the Oakland and the Frostburg stations that we rely heavily upon for all the school cancellations, flash flood warnings, or other local announcements. In other words, we no longer have an emergency broadcast source. This is a dangerous situation. After the tornadoes that devastated our area this year, many of us are really upset that we can't get those stations.

When one calls FrontierVision, the girls tell us (and there have been many calls to them from this area) the supervisors are not taking calls on this issue. Is there something in the 1996 Telecommunications Act that could possibly require them, as they are a monopoly here, to supply this service? School started Monday and without bus information, parents are concerned.

The company address is: FrontierVision, 1108 Snapps Ferry Rd., Groenville, TN 37744.

Sincerely,
Joyce A. Schroyer
Friendsville

To the Editor:

I would like to acknowledge my support for David Beard as the District 1 county commissioner.

I've known Dave to be an honest, hard-working, and dedicated servant in each and every task he has undertaken.

Dave will certainly be a valuable asset to the county residents as a representative for District 1.

To the Editor:

Recently I and my son went to Swallow Falls State Park. We live only about 10 or 11 miles from the park but we hadn't been there in about three years. Muddy Creek Falls and the park were beautiful. We enjoyed sitting on the rocks near the falls, and we enjoyed having a very peaceful time letting the water rush over our feet. It's sad that the people of Garrett County forget what beautiful scenery we have in our own backyard.

There were a few things that concerned me about the park, though. I was sad to see that there was a $1 fee per car, I know this seems a small amount, but Blackwater Falls in W.Va. charges no fee to use its park. I'm sure the state of Maryland is better off than the state of W.Va.

I also was sad to see a lot of rotted trees and other overgrown foliage, as this seemed to distract from the park's beauty.

The one thing that upset me most was the poor condition of the road which leads into the park. It is terrible and is in need of immediate paving. This park is one of the main tourist attractions of this county. I feel it is a shame that it is in this shape.

Swallow Falls State Park is a beautiful place. We need to do all we can to enhance its beauty. I hope those responsible for its upkeep read this letter, as something needs to be done about this.

Norma Rodeheaver
Oakland

Dear Mrs. Rodeheaver,

In reference to your concern about fallen, rotting trees in the park, the DNR wants the forest to be kept as natural as possible, and fallen, rotting trees in any forest are certainly natural. Only when such trees block a trailway or pose a danger will they be removed by park personnel.

To the Editor:

I have been so angry for a very long time, I felt I need to tell you a story — a very true story — and to ask for help. I am not a Christian, but I've found out one positive fact: The only person any of us have to really depend on is the good Lord above.

My grandson is 2 years, 4 months old. He has been going on three-day visits with Daddy since he was eight weeks old. The child evaluation report from Kennedy-Krieger. This is a very serious matter. Please, if not for my sake, do it for Little T. Please get the prayers going for him — God is the only answer right now.

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to endorse the candidacy of Dave Beard for Garrett County commissioner.

Dave Beard was a member of the Garrett County Board of Elections Supervisors for nine years. During this time he served one term as president of the board.

Dave never missed a board meeting and attended all state meetings required.

As a former employee of this board, I can attest to his administrative skills and fairness when dealing with office personnel.

We were very fortunate to have Mr. Beard's leadership and dedication on our board.

I would encourage you to join with me and vote for Dave Beard on September 15th.

Sincerely,
Carole Paugh Retired,
Board of Elections
Supervisors

To the Editor:

There comes a time in one's life when one is faced with a dilemma — I can't vote in Garrett County. I am a resident of Florida and come to Garrett County for the summer.

Wendell Beitzel is my nephew. He is running for county commissioner in District 3. I have been in close contact with him all his life, as his mother is my sister. He is from a family of 11 children, and I'm proud of them all.

Wendell is a family and business man, is honest and loyal. He will make a good commissioner, as I have talked to him about many things this county needs. My concerns are his.

Since I can't vote, I would appreciate your vote for Wendell.

Thank you,
Mary Bowser Thornburg
Friendsville and Astor, Fla.

To the Editor:

This election, perhaps more than any other, will determine the future for Garrett County and its citizens. Will we enter the new millennia poised and ready for the future, or will we continue to depend on the failed policies of the past and those who represent them? This choice will be made by the voters on September 15th, when they begin the process which will elect their next Board of County Commissioners. As your Republican candidate in the third district, I would like to give you an overview of what I would hope to accomplish during my term as your commissioner.

My first priority would be to adopt a strict code of ethical conduct that would be imposed on all county departments. This code would help make certain that all county business is conducted openly, honestly, and fairly in the best interests of the citizens.

My next priority would be to implement a plan of "community-based economic recovery" that would benefit all citizens of Garrett County. I am presently working on a plan that will bring together professionals from many different aspects of business and merge them together with educators, elected officials, and community leaders for the purpose of developing a strategy to attract decent jobs to the county. This group of volunteers consists of individuals who are prominent in their respective fields of manufacturing, product distribution, digital technologies, medicine, printing, and a number of other skilled professions. Once we have developed our economic recovery plan, we will then market our area and work-force to attract the types of employers we want to have in our county. We will be looking for environmentally friendly jobs that have good pay and benefits. I do not believe that we need to destroy our beautiful county with an international trade corridor that may result in a number of dead-end jobs at some distant point in the future. We need and deserve better! I would like to see a county where all of our citizens, including our young people, can continue to reside and be gainfully, willfully, and happily employed.

In order to achieve this plan, it will require the combined efforts of our volunteers, the public, our work-force, our educational system, and our state and local governments. We are literally faced with the challenge of turning around decades of complacency, misdirection, and economic despair.

I believe that I am the only candidate with an actual plan to initiate the process of economic recovery for our county. I need your vote and support in order to succeed.

Thank you!
Douglas R. Railey

To the Editor:

We support David Beard for county commissioner of Garrett County. Dave is a friend and co-worker, who is dedicated and committed to serving the public. David is an honest man, and a highly qualified candidate to run government. We ask your support for him on election day.

To the Editor:

Readers with long memories have been asking what happened to the letter war that was fought on these pages between Jann Dehus and me a few months ago. The battle is over - it ended by default. Jann, in the face of my rapier wit, was forced to leave town. She left with bags and baggage for the North Carolina coast to brood and lick her wounds. Her timing was unfortunate, however, as she landed in time to be hit with the full force of a hurricane (I forget the name already, hurricane Bubba?) and was washed out to sea. Witnesses say that in her complete devastation and apathy, she failed to even put up a struggle and was last seen

FROM SEEDS TO SAUCE

My garden is a wreck. There is, nevertheless, an abundance to be harvested. Twice in the past month I have filled a 12-quart stock pot and a second, smaller pan with ripe, red tomatoes, and then reduced them — step by step — to sauce.

There are three varieties of tomato which are producing well in my garden despite my long absence earlier in the summer. They represent the corners of the earth. The plum tomato, called Debarao, which constitutes the basis of the 14 quarts of sauce, comes from Siberia. At its ripest it is a fiery red tomato and as sweet as it is bright red.

The other tomato that I have been putting into the sauce is called Costoluto Genovese, from the Italian Riviera. A scallop-shaped tomato, it is gorgeous when sliced onto a plate. It is also a meaty tomato, so it works well in sauce.

The third tomato in my garden is Black Krim, an extremely unusual-looking tomato. When dead ripe it has a black cast to its outer edge. The tops never get red, remaining a blackish-green. The flavor is as unusual as its appearance.

If sweetness is the most desired characteristic of a tomato, then Black Krim would not be your first choice. Sugar and flavor are not the same thing, however, and this is a highly flavorful tomato. It is a meaty beefsteak-style tomato, so there is plenty of food in every fruit. I do not know the ultimate origins of Black Krim, but I got my seeds from the Fedco seed company in Maine.

Growing all three of these tomatoes has been highly satisfying for me because I started them from seed back on Ash Wednesday. I have watched them through every stage of development. In the case of Black Krim, I am saving seed so the cycle will be complete next year when I plant the seeds in flats — probably on Ash Wednesday again.

The other abundant crop in my garden are summer squash, yellow crookneck, zucchini, and patty pan. I made two big casseroles of zucchini Parmesan which are now in the freezer waiting for an evening when I am invaded by company.

I have eaten steamed squash, grilled squash, marinated squash (steamed first), squash sauteed with peppers and onions, fried patty pan squash, squash cooked in Italian tomato sauce, and yellow squash casserole (my own recipe: steamed lightly, covered with cheese sauce in a casserole dish, and then topped with bread crumbs before baking).

Other gardeners and home canners will, no doubt, resonate with the feelings of satisfaction and security I glean from these modest efforts at food production. While I have been harvesting bushels of food from this wreck of a vegetable garden, I have been listening to news from Wall Street and around the world.

In addition to the front-page story of volatility on the stock markets, there are the quieter stories of dismay, likely the possibility of a 40% bankruptcy rate among midwestern farmers. I wonder what big transnational conglomerate will buy out those bankrupt farmers for pennies on the dollar. I also wonder who will produce food for the world when the transnational corporations move on, as they always move on — sooner or later. We are told, meanwhile, that the fundamentals of our economy are sound.

Self-sufficiency is far, far away, but those 14 quarts of sauce — and whatever else I can add to them before frost — build a buffer between me and the brutal world of free-market economics. This buffer is as cozy and comforting as any material thing may be. Whenever I spend a day canning, I wonder if it is really worth it. When I look at the results on the shelf, I always answer, "yes."

Class Of '96 Survey Results Viewed By BOE

Garrett County's 1996 high school graduates are attending college in increasing numbers, and state that they feel were well-prepared by the county school system to continue education and to enter the work force, according to a recently released report by the Maryland State Department of Education.

The Garrett County 1996 Graduate Follow-up Survey was presented to the members of the Garrett County Board of Education during their meeting this week. Of the Garrett County graduates contacted, 88.4 percent responded to the survey. This was the highest percent of cooperation from any district polled.

The report was submitted to the board by JoAnn Vent, director of Career and Technology Education (CTE). Vent explained that though some years only the CTE students are surveyed, the current report reflects responses from all 1996 graduates.

Of the 252 graduates responding to the survey, 57.1 percent indicated that they were enrolled in some form of post secondary education program. Included in this category are 4-year colleges 2-year colleges, and technical and trade schools. Of the total number pursuing education, 61.9 percent were Northern High School graduates, and 54.8 percent graduated from Southern High School. "This is an increase. We previously had only about 35 percent going on to college. Our percentages are going up," Vent commented.

Of the respondents, 65.1 percent reported being employed either full- or part-time. Among these, 64.3 percent were NHS graduates, and 65.5 were SHS graduates. "Since graduates were allowed to respond in more than one category, totals do not equal 100 percent," Vent explained.

In the area of the graduates' perceptions of the adequacy of the their education, 95 percent of Garrett's former students said they felt they had been satisfactorily prepared in basic reading, writing, and math.

In the categories of importance of attendance and knowing how to work accurately, 93 percent felt informed.

The lowest score registered in the eight categories of the students' perceptions of educational adequacy was in the area of what to expect on the job. Of Garrett's graduates, only 71 percent said they felt they had been sufficiently prepared. This number exceeds the statewide percentage of 61 percent who agreed they knew what to expect in the workplace.

Vent also pointed out that with the exception of one category -- basic reading, writing, and math — Garrett County surpassed statewide percentages in all areas of graduate perception of the adequacy of their education.

"OLDIES" PARTY HELPS HOUSE OF HOPE — A special "oldies" party, held at the Courtyard Lounge at McClive's recently, raised over $300 for the House of Hope. Music was provided by local DJ "Skip Around Town," and McClive's donated a portion of the food and beverages served at the event. In addition to the money raised, food donations for the House of Hope's four food pantries were also collected during the party. Pictured are Doug McClive as he presents a check to Patty Walls, a board member with the House of Hope. McClive is planning to host a similar fund-raiser on Friday, Oct. 16, to benefit the same charity. All are invited.

the present management team."

"The board believes that now is the time to negotiate, when the hospital is in a position of strength and can obtain the best of benefits from an affiliation agreement," she added. "The board of governors and physicians went to assure the community that during the negotiation process historical physician-patient referral patterns will remain unchanged."

A GCMH negotiating committee consisting of board members and physicians will be appointed to initiate and conduct negotiations with WVUHS during the next 90 days. "The goal of the board is to maintain a full service hospital presence in the county and to increase medical service opportunities locally, while reducing our operational costs," said Bishoff. "We look forward to the success of our future negotiations and their potential outcomes."

"The possible affiliation by GCMH follows a similar plan of many small, rural hospitals seeking a relationship with a larger health care system. Such a relationship allows the smaller facility to gain certain opportunities to improve the local hospital and the medical services offered that could not occur as a sole community, free-standing hospital," said Walter Donalson, GCMH Hospital president.

As part of a larger health system, Donalson said that GCMH will have the opportunity to expand into new medical services and to further improve its current medical services. Further, GCMH will be able to strengthen its current market share and possibly increase that share. Other opportunities can come in areas of cost savings, improved services, access to future capital dollars for major medical equipment and expansion, and to become a local provider in managed care programs offered by the health system. "These are all important future issues and benefits for GCMH, our physicians, and the citizens we serve," said Donalson.

"Brook" Brookhart, Well-Known Retired Businessman, Dies

Maurice S. "Brook" Brookhart Jr., a well-known retired Oakland businessman and banker who was actively involved in community efforts, died Sunday, Sept. 6, 1998, at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, at the age of 83.

Born May 12, 1915, in Forest Hills, he was the son of the late Maurice Solomon Brookhart Sr. and Sarah (Durham) Brookhart. He was also preceded in death by his wife, Martha Maurene (Engle) Brookhart, whom he married Nov. 19, 1938.

He graduated from a business college in Baltimore and later joined the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), which brought him to Garrett County.

He served in the U.S. Navy in Panama during World War II. After the war he and his business partner, Claude Stanton, opened the Garrett Truck and Implement Company where they sold International Harvester machinery. For many years the company was located in the building they constructed along Rt. 219, now occupied by CVS Pharmacy (formerly Revco). When the business was sold in the mid-1960s, Brookhart joined the Garrett National Bank (now American Trust). He retired as vice-president and cashier in the late 1970s. Throughout the 1980s and 1990s he remained professionally active, preparing real estate appraisals for the Veterans Administration.

In his six decades in Garrett County, he contributed to his community through his service in such organizations as Boy Scouts of America, St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Rotary Club, Elks Club, American Legion, Knights of Pythias, and Veterans of Foreign Wars. He served on the Garrett County Board of Education in the 1950s, ran for the state senate on the Democratic ticket in 1962, and at the time of his death, was serving on the Oakland Planning Commission.

He received the Citizen of the Year award from the Oakland Rotary Club in 1977, the Democrat Award for Exemplary Service from the Garrett County Democrats in 1991, and a silver cup inscribed "'Brookie' A True 'Friend of Scouting' and Potomac Council 1997."

Survivors include one son, Maurice S. Brookhart III, Chapel Hill, N.C.; two grandchildren; and his caregiver, Charlene Copeland.

Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service was conducted earlier today, Sept. 10, with the Rev. Roger Harrison officiating. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens, Oakland.

The family requests that memorials be directed to the Potomac Council Boys Scouts of America, P.O. Box 212, Cumberland, MD 21501, or a charity of the donor's choice.

REV. WILSON W. HARVEY

The Rev. Wilson Ward Harvey, 89, Keyser, W.Va., died Sunday, Sept. 6, 1998, at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CANDIDATE

During the last few weeks my belief that Garrett County is some place special has been reaffirmed time and time again.

I have met many wonderful and interesting people who have gone that extra mile to lend their support and encouragement. More than once I was deeply moved by the honesty, sincerity, and openness of those citizens who truly wish to see positive changes in Garrett County.

My sincere appreciation to all those who have worked for me during these primary elections. As always, your concerns will continue to be my concerns.

School Vouchers

have the ability to get their children into good schools," he stated.

Board member Charlotte Sebold echoed Durst's concern for children attending schools in buildings that are in poor repair and where their health is jeopardized by environmental and social hazards. "Children should not be in schools like the ones Mr. Durst has described. We have a society that is failing those kids," she said.

Attempts to remedy the problem schools through the current system have not succeeded, Sebold pointed out. "State money is tied up trying to fix these bad city schools," she said. However, the problem remains unchanged. Sebold underscored that her concern for children and education could not permit her to favor the NSBA resolution. "Support of the anti-voucher resolution look like support of the status quo," she said.

The final board member to voice an opinion, Dale Carpenter commented on the investment of each member in the issue under discussion. "Very deeply held convictions are being expressed here," he noted. He acknowledged the varied opinions of his colleagues on the positive and negative effects of a voucher system, agreeing that there were stroug arguments on all sides. "But I can't sit ou the fence on this one. I support school choice," Carpenter stated.

School superintendent Dr. Wendell Teets, recognizing that the resolution would be a statement by the board, said that a voucher system would impact the ability to adequately fund programs. "Financially, I don't see how we could have the money to operate," he said.

Assistant superintendent Dr. Brenda McCartney concurred with Dr. Teeta. "Vouchers would affect us. School funding would be spread thinner and thinner," she said.

Comments were made by several people attending the meeting, including Irene Sigel, president of the Garrett County Education Association. Sigel spoke of the impact felt when the proposed school budget for the current year needed to be reduced. "Where would this board be if its funds had been divided additionally among private schools in the county?" she asked.

She described the roie aud goals of the public school system. "We welcome every child into the system. We must work together to provide safe, quality public education," Sigel stressed. She also questioned the possibility of ridding schools of problems that arc imbedded in the fabric of society.

The choice in education resolution received a favorable vote from Sebold, Riley, and Durst. Carpenter abstained. Raley asked to go on record as opposed to the motion.

Administrative Concerns

The board members voted on several administrative recommendations during the public session of the meeting. The Capital Improvement Program was presented by Michael Sines, director of facilities maintenance and operations, and Chuck Trautwein, computer resource teacher. Covering recommended construction, repair, equipment. and installations, the program was approved by the board and will be submitted to the state.

A cargo van bid was awarded to Pilly Bender Chevrolet Geo Inc., and the fleet insurance contract was awarded to BGS&G. The insurance will be provided by The Hartford.

A vote was also taken on a proposal to contract with Affiliated Power Purchasers Inc. (APPI). Originally introduced by Sines at last month's meeting, such a contract would prepare the board in anticipation of deregulation of electricity, which is yet to be enacted in Maryland.

APPI would include the board of education in a pool of purchasers of electric power, whereby the cost of power to the county school system would be reduced, Sines explained.

Instructional Concerns

The board heard presentations on the school information calendar, and the programs of studies for grades 9-12 in English and social studies. The programs of studies are currently in a working draft form and awaiting state approval of content standards for those courses of study.

The board voted approval of programs of studies for mathematics K-5 and music 6-8. The music text, Share the Music, was also adopted by the board.

National Cholesterol Education Month

September has been designated National Cholesterol Education Month by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute. Cholesterol is a fatty substance found in most cells of the body. It is necessary for the production of hormones and cell membranes. Most of the cholesterol in our bodies is made in the liver. While we need a certain amount of total cholesterol, too much can lead to heart attacks and strokes. The ideal amount of total cholesterol in the blood should be less than 200 mg./dl. The portion of cholesterol referred to as HDL cholesterol ("good cholesterol") should be greater than 35 mg./d. The goal is to keep HDL cholesterol levels high and LDL ("bad cholesterol") levels low. Studies published in the early 1990s show that for every 1% increase in total blood cholesterol there is a corresponding 2% increase in the incidance of coronary heart disease (CHD). For every 1% decrease in HDL cholesterol there is a 2 to 3% increase in CHD. A study published recently in the New England Journal of Medicine indicates that persons who are at risk for CHD can achieve a significant improvement in blood cholesterol levels through a combination of a healthy diet and regular exercise. In this study, diet alone failed to significantly reduce LDL cholesterol.

Apple Fest, Fiddle/Banjo Contests Set

The 25th annual Burlington Old-Fashioned Apple Harvest Festival, to be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 3-4, will feature the Apple Harvest Fiddle/Banjo Contest on Sunday afternoon. This year's top banjo award will be given in memory of the late banjo player Cory Staggs of Burlington, W.Va., who died last November, shortly after he took top banjo honors during the inaugural Apple Harvest banjo contest.

"It is fitting that the Apple Harvest Festival honor the memory of this fine young man," stated contest chairman Stan Merritt. "Cory loved the banjo and began winning contests at a very young age. Despite the health problems which claimed his life at the age of 21, he played with a maturity beyond his years and was an inspiration to young and old alike," he stated.

The festival fiddle/banjo contest will begin at 1 p.m. on Sunday. Musicians will compete in youth, adult, and senior categories and cash prizes and certificates will be awarded to the top three contestants in each instrument category. A grand champion for the contest will also receive an award.

The contest sponsor, Burlington United Methodist Family Services, is a member of the International Bluegrass Music Association. Participants come from the bluegrass-rich areas of West Virginia, Virginia, western Maryland, and southwestern Pennsylvania.

Festival visitors are encouraged to bring lawn chairs, as on-site seating is limited for both the fiddle/banjo contest and the general festival entertainment.

Admission to the festival grounds and entry in the fiddle/banjo contest are free of charge. For a contestant application or general festival information persons may contact Apple Harvest Festival Headquarters, P.O. Box 69, Burlington, WV 26710, or phone 304-289-6010 or 304-788-1953.

Corridor H Committee To Meet In Bayard

The Corridor H Action Committee, an organization that supports a fully completed Corridor H highway, will have its 18th meeting in Bayard, W.Va., on Thursday, Sept. 24, 7 p.m., in the Bayard fire hall, located along Al Brown Road, off Rt. 90. Pro-Corridor H citizens are urged to attend this meeting. For more information, persons may contact Jim Kingsbury at 304-636-3293.

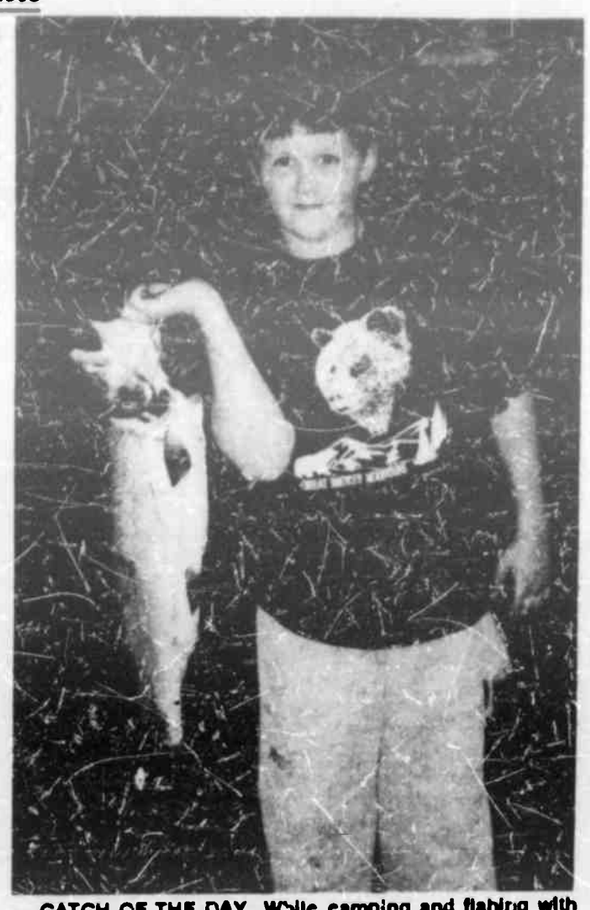
Durr Completes Training, Named To Who's Who

Stacie Durr, a senior at Preston High School, has recently completed training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for the West Virginia Army National Guard.

Durr has also been selected to be listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, an honor earned by only five percent of the nation's students.

Stacie is the daughter of Brent and Debbie Durr, Terra Alta, W.Va. Her grandparents are Frank and Elaine Durr, Aurora, W.Va., and Allen and Nellie Hussing, Mastontown, W.Va.

Following graduation Stacie hopes to attend West Virginia University.



Banjo, Fiddlers' Contest Planned During Festival

The 57th Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festivrl will be host to the 20th Annual Banjo and Fiddlers' Contest, set this year for Saturday, Sept. 26, at Preston High School in Kingwood.

This year's contest will feature music by Northwest Territory, an area bluegrass music group, whose members are Mike Gorrell, Kerri Hershberger, Michele Birkby, and Radford Vance.

Music begins at 6:30 p.m., followed by the contest at 7 p.m. The cost of admission at the door is $5 per person. Children 12 years of age and younger will be admitted free of charge.

The public is invited to attend this and the many other attractions planned during the Buckwheat Festival, which will run from Thursday, Sept. 24, through Sunday, Sept. 27, in Kingwood.

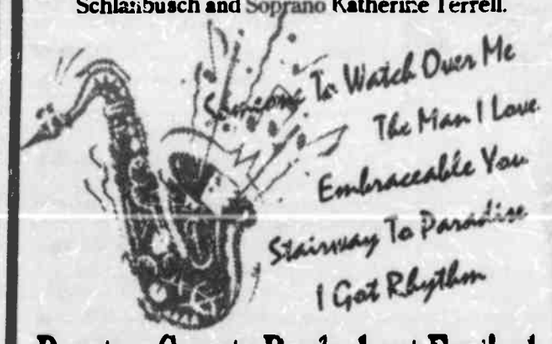
Belgian Draft Horses To Visit Buckwheat Festival

Among the many parade attractions scheduled to appear during the 57th Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival in Kingwood will be the Coors Belgian draft horses, a team of working horses most commonly seen pulling beer delivery wagons.

The team of horses, scheduled to appear in both the 2 p.m. School-Community Day parade on Friday, Sept. 25, and again during the Farmers' Day Parade at noon on Saturday, Sept. 26, are sponsored this year by Preston Distributors. Visitors to the Buckwheat Festival will also be able to view the horses each of those days on the festival grounds, below the sheep barn.



The Belgian draft horses were often teamed up in the early 1900s to deliver beer, according to Dick Sparrow, who raises Belgian horses, and drives the six-horse team that will visit the festival. "In fact," he said, "the word 'draft' means 'to pull,' and traces its origins to draft beers as they are 'pulled' from the keg.

"After 1930, delivery trucks came on the scene," Sparrow added, "and the Belgians were kept more as pets than working horses." In America today, Belgians are the most plentiful and popular draft horse breeds, according to Sparrow, a category that includes Percherons, Clydesdales, and Shires.

At birth, the average Belgian foal weights about 150 pounds. It gains about three pounds a day for the first three months and will be about half its mature weight at one year. The

Aldene Wilson has been residing with her daughter and husband, Deanna and Clifton Arnold, at Aurora but recently was taken to Ohio by her grandson, Nick Arnold, where she will be cared for by another daughter.

Grace Denison Ashby of Aurora has been transferred from Garrett County Memorial Hospital to the Cuppett Weeks Nursing Home.

Hancell and Mildred Teets, and Jackie and Alma Snyder, all Aurora, visited Aug. 30 in Fairmont with their sister and husband, Grace and Jerry Winter, in celebration of Grace's birthday.

Madeline Hauser was taken last Monday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, but on Saturday returned to Cortland Acres Nursing Home, where she has been a resident.

Howard Losh of Thomas is a patient at Ruby Memorial Hospital and is reportedly quite ill.

Jane Teets Maye of Daleville, Va., spent three days last week with her parents, John and Rebecca Teeta, Eglon. Her brother and his wife, Leland and Ardis "Sandy" Teets of Eglon, spent last week at Rehobeth Beach, Del., with their children, Nathan and Nicole, who are visiting them at Eglon this week before returning to their home in N.C.

Don and Neva Frantz of Eglon returned their grandson, Wyatt Frantz, to his parents, Donnie and Heather Frantz, in Dover, Del., Aug. 30. Wyatt had spent several weeks with his grandparents while his father was away on duty. That same weekend, another son and wife, Melvin R. and Melissa Frantz, moved to Virginia where he will be stationed at Langley Fie'd. Both boys are in the U.S. Air Force.

Joe Spaid of Eglon is undergoing several surgical treatments for his back and was an outpatient last week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Eugene Fike of Zanesville, Ohio, underwent bypass surgery at Columbus last week and has returned to his home. He is the son of Elda Fike of Mtn. Lake Park and the late Earl Fike.

Bob and Ruth Maxey of Clinton, Md., were weekend visitors here with their parents, Theta Maxey at Gnegy Church, and Charles and Audra Teets and Curt at Eglon.

Eugene and Irma Whitcomb of Greenville, S.C. are visiting Irma's father and step-mother, Paul and Erma Gnegy, Amboy.

CLUB OBSERVES 50TH

In July 1998, the Lantz Ridge Sunshine Club celebrated 50 years since its founding, and on September 1 members held a dinner at the Lantz Ridge Community Building, to which all former members were invited. Each of those attending was given a brief history of the club and its work.

The club presently has 11 members. In the past 50 years, the club has been a source of unity for the community and has provided an opportunity for fellowship, which was lost when both the church and the school were closed according to a club spokesperson. The club has also been a source of financial support, providing monies both in the community (as for the community building) and for other worthy causes. Members also provide bereaved families with after-funeral dinners.

Because of the Sunshine Club's efforts, the community building has been available for reunions, parties, showers, and other gatherings. The club provides funds for maintenance of the building.

To assist in the financial provision, an annual shooting match is set for September 26. The matches start at noon, and 12, 16, and 21 gauge shotguns and 22 rifles may be used.

KNOTTS REUNION

The descendants of Peter H. and Marietta (Knapp) Knotts met Aug. 9 at the Lantz Ridge Community Building for their 41st annual family reunion, with 88 in attendance. Entertainment was in the form of gospel music, games for the children, and horseshoe pitching, with a trophy won by Kevin Wiles.

Door prizes were awarded according to drawn numbers. At an election, the officers were voted to remain the same: president, Junior Knotts, and secretary and treasurer, Elizabeth Stemple; and the date is also the same, the second Sunday in August.

Those attending from out of the are were Vic and Wanda White and their grandson, Christopher White of Roseville, Mich., and Dorothy Adams of Florida.

PERSONAL MENTION

Delores Kight Harsh is recuperating at her home in Brunswick, Ohio, following a heart attack and catheterization. She would appreciate hearing from her relatives and friends here. Persons may contact the family for her complete address.

Madeline Hauser died Monday night at Cortland Acres Nursing Home, and funeral plans are incomplete.

Word of the death of two other locally known people was also received. Bernard Shillingburg, 60, Terra Alta, died Sunday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Services were held Monday for Betty Swartzentruber Beeghly of Oakland, who died Saturday.

Bernard was the son of John Shillingburg of Aurora and the late Kathleen Arnold Shillingburg. Betty was the widow of Harry Beeghly and sister of Harriet Moon, with whom she resided.

Ward Harvey, 89, Keyser, died there this past week, also. He was a son of the late Guy and Dessa Harvey, who resided near Eglon, and was a minister in the United Methodist Church.

On Sunday the family of Avenell Parsons honored her with a birthday dinner at her home in Eglon. Those present were Bill, Sandra, Wade, Joe, and Beth Hauser; Gary, Frances, Jason, and Lauren Roth; Bruce, Mary, Shawn, and Craig Rembold; Ron Parsons; and Doyle and Helen Roth of Ohio.

Paul and Rebecca McCollum left Tuesday to return to their home in Scottsville, Ky., after spending the weekend with Mrs. McCollum's parents, Claude and Jean Winters, Eglon.

Emily Lewis of Charleston spent the weekend here with her parents, Tom and Linda Lewis and Sara, Eglon, and returned Tuesday to her home.

Ellis Teets of Silver Lake was hospitalized on Monday of this week at Preston Memorial Hospital.

Horses To Visit

average Belgian horse stands 17.3 hands high and weighs more than 2,000 pounds.

Each of one of the Coors Belgians pulls from a specific, selected location, Sparrow said. "The bigger horses are used at the 'wheel,' the spot closest to the wagon. These Belgians do most of the pulling. In the 'swing' position, or middle, the Belgians are generally a little smaller. The 'lead' horses must be the smallest and quickest because their position in the hitch requires them to cover twice the distance of a 'wheel' horse on a turn," he concluded.

The Coors Belgians are a "performing" hitch which, according to Sparrow, means they demonstrate a wide variety of techniques--"stage coach gallop," "beer unloading at the turn-of-the-century," "figure eights," and other controlled maneuvers at rodeos and other scheduled venues.

The team's visit to Kingwood during the Buckwheat Festival promises to delight animal lovers of all ages. General Chairman Ray Thompson and members of the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department, sponsors of the festival, invite everyone to visit this attraction, as well as the many others scheduled during the four-day event, set for Sept. 24-27. (A more detailed schedule of events will be listed in next week's edition of The Republican.)

GARRETT COUNTY COMMISSIONER
District One
JOBS

- Wilt's number one priority is to continue to work with the Department of Economic Development to bring good paying jobs to our county. One example of cooperation is Simon Pearce, Inc., who will be in operation by Fall, 1998, at the former Bausch and Lomb building.
- Wilt supported the moving of all agricultural services to one location in Mt. Lake Park, and renaming the center to the Roger P. Glotfelty, Sr. Building. Mr. Glotfelty, who put "Service Above Self," served as County Commissioner from 12-13-94 to 12-11-97.
- Wilt supports the employees and the new management of the Garrett County Health Department.

Runnin' Rams Look Good To Continue Dominance

The Runnin' Rams of Southern High School, who have been a dominate force in the region and state cross country scene for several consecutive seasons, will open their 1998 season this Saturday by participating in Mount St. Mary's Invitational at Emmitsburg, of which the Southern boys are the defending champions. Their first home competition will be next Tuesday against University, Preston County, Morgantown, and Grafton high schools.

The Southern boys' program, coached by Carl Booth, captured its fifth straight Maryland state 1A championship last season and finished the 1997 season with an incredible 130-2 record. Another state title this year would tie Oakland Mills High School's Maryland record of six championships.

"Five of our top six runners have returned from last year," beamed Coach Booth. "Nobody in this sport does what our kids do, the way they do it, at the level at which they do it, with the success they have."

Booth said that he believes their success has a lot to do with respect and priorities. "These young people show a lot of respect for themselves and others," he said, "and as coaches we emphasize the priorities: church, family, school, and then comes cross country."

Among the top returnees on Southern's boys' team are Eric Rexrode, Casey McBee, Beau Gibson, Rusty Strubin, and Ted Wolfe, while the most outstanding girls' team members back are captains Amy Snyder, Angie Sincell, and Katelync McBee, along with Erin Hoaicraft and Beth Sauder.

The Southern girls, coached by Louie Newcomb, finished second in the state last season after winning the title in 1996. They were second in 1995, third in 1994, and fourth in 1993.

As in the SHS boys' program this year, the Southern girls' team lost only one of its top runners to graduation, so the girls will be among the favorites to regain the state championship this season.

"With only one top runner gone trom last year's team, we have great expectations this year," Coach Newcomb said.

"These are the best kids anywhere, and we have the most supportive parents going," he added. "The bottom line is, the Runnin' Rams are like one big family, which is one major reason for our success."

The Rams' home course is located in Broadford Park. Spectators are invited to attend the meets, free of admission.

FIVE-TIME STATE CHAMPIONS In the last five consecutive seasons are the members of the Southern High School boys' cross country team, who will begin their quest for a sixth straight Maryland 1A title this Saturday at the Mt. St. Mary's Invitational in Emmitsburg, an event that they won last year. In fact, the Rams defeated 130 of 132 opponents last season, and return most of their top runners this year. Pictured from left above, kneeling, are: Eric Rexrode, Casey McBee, and Beau Gibson. In the second row, same order, are: Rusty Strubin, Ted Wolf, Matt Frederick, Kyle Conroy, Chris Cornelius, Dan Shafer, and Coach Carl Booth. In the back row are: Jamie Bosley, Robert Kortas, Jared Fike, Steve Elswert, Pete Porcaro, and Andrew Sisler. Not present for the photo was Tom Crozier.

TAKING THE TRAIN? No, they'll just run. That's what the members of the Southern High School girls' cross country team do extremely well, as they have finished among the top four single-A teams in the state the last five seasons, including a state title in 1996 and a second-place finish last year. All but one of the Runnin' Rams return this season, so they are among the favorites to regain the state championship this year. Pictured seated, from left, are: Angie Sincell, Erin Hoaicraft, Amy Snyder, and at far right, Keri Strubin. Standing from left are: Marie Hines, Coach Louis Newcomb, Erin Lucas, Haley Gillespie, Kate Mooreau, Faryn Shafter, Anissa Jamison, Katelyne McBee, Beth Sauder, Elizabeth McDonald, Lauren Rudy, and Laura Hollingsworth. Members not present for the photo were Kristen Spurrier, Nichole Frazee, and Rilane Lloyd. The Rams will open their season this Saturday in the Mt. St. Mary's Invitational at Emmitsburg.

5K Classic Slated During Buckwheat Fest

Among the activities planned during the 57th Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival, set for Sept. 24-27 in Kingwood, W.Va., is the 7th Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival 5K Classic, an event slated for Saturday, Sept. 26, beginning at 8:30 a.m., at the Preston Country Club .

Participants are still being sought for this 5K run or two-mile walk, which will begin and end at the country club, located near Camp Dawson, just outside of Kingwood. The cost of registration is $12 prior to Sept. 26, and $15 on the day of the race.

There will be awards for various age groups in the run/walk, according to this year's chairman, Tom Dolan. The first 125 registrants will receive free T-shirts.

The annual event is sponsored by Scott Ford Mercury in Kingwood, and is partially underwritten by Preston Memorial Hospital. Proceeds from the run/walk will benefit Hospice Care Corporation.

For more information, or to register, persons may call the hospice office at 1-800-350-1161, or stop by Scott Ford Mercury, along Rt. 7, outside of Kingwood.

Yale Women's X-C Team Trains On Mountaintop

The Yale women's cross-country team recently completed a week of pre-season training in Garrett County and has returned to New Haven, Conn., to begin its Ivy League competitions.

In addition to their mountaintop workouts, the runners held a car wash fund-raiser at Markwood's Citgo. They noted the support of several other local businesses during their stay in the county, including the Donut Connection, the Fun Zone, Lakeside Creamery, McHenry Beverage, Naylor's Hardware Store, Railey Realty, the Silver Tree Restaurant, and The Republican newspaper.

"A MESSAGE TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY"

From

F. WILLIAM "BILL " FERRY

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

As the primary race for sheriff nears its conclusion, I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to my family, friends, and supporters, for making this an experience I'll remember for the rest of my life.

You, the voters, have invited me into your homes, in many cases given me your support and in most all cases, your friendship. For this I will be eternally grateful!

I have attempted and I believe succeeded in conducting my campaign in a manner that is indicative of the professionalism required of any law enforcement official, especially one that desires to be sheriff.

I have strived to emphasize the positives of my 26 years of law enforcement experience, rather than to dwell on the past failures or inconsistencies that may be applicable to any of my opposition. I have always been aware that the citizens of Garrett County are not to be taken for granted and that they have long and accurate memories.

As I had stated in the League of Women Voters forum, I have been preparing for this opportunity for my entire career. I have sought to continually improve upon my education, as it pertained to law enforcement, and have always endeavored to seek and maintain the trust of the people I am sworn to serve.

In the police academy a young officer learns many facts to assist them in performing their job. There are two areas that stick out in my mind, which I have attempted to follow throughout my long career.

(1) A policeman or policewoman becomes a law enforcement official because they believe they can make a difference!

In my 26 years I have constantly tried to make a positive difference in people's lives. Whether it is counseling a young, confused adult, or maybe just lending an ear to an elderly person that just needs someone to talk to, I have always tried to be there.

(2) A law enforcement officer must administer his duties, blindly, without favoritism or prejudice. I believe this is the most important lesson that a policeman can learn, for without it, the term "law enforcement" is just a hypocritical and meaningless term.

In closing I would like to reiterate what I have said time and time again. The people of Garrett County owe me nothing, it is to them that a debt is owed. Please help me to start repaying that debt by voting for me for sheriff on September 15. Thank you all, and may God richly bless you!

RAMS BLANK HUSKIES - The first boys' varsity, inter-county soccer clash of the season occurred Tuesday evening on the Southern High School athletic field, where the Rams hosted the Northern High Huskies and handed them a 5-0 defeat. Above, Southern's Chris Friend attacks with the ball, while Northern's Andy Fike (#2) positions himself to take the ball away. The Huskies and Rams both opened their seasons on Saturday with ties, as Northern played Beall to a 3-3 standoff and the Rams recorded a 2-2 deadlock with visiting Fort Hill. Southern will play again this Saturday at home against Bishop Walsh and the Huskies will host Flintstone next Tuesday.

RAMS BEGIN WITH A WIN - The first-ever varsity girls' soccer match played at Southern High School ended with a big 2-1 victory for the Rams over visiting Fort Hill. Coached by Nan Gangler and Ron Petrella, assistant, the Rams rallied from a 1-0 deficit with a pair of goals within the final three minutes of the first half, and then held the Sentinels scoreless in the second half. Laura Friend and Gina Reeves accounted for Southern's goals. Above left, Southern's Megan Burner works her way around a Fort Hill defender. Going for the ball in the above photo for Southern is #7, Laura Hollingsworth. In the right background is Southern defender Miriam Sincell. Ram Booters Tie Fort Hill Before Disposing Of Huskies

The boys' varsity soccer team of Southern High School kicked off its 1998 season this week by playing to a double-overtime, 2-2 tie with visiting Fort Hill Saturday night, and then recording a big 5-0 victory over county-rival Northern Tuesday night.

The Rams took a 1-0 lead over Fort Hill when John Andrews scored off an assist by Nick Glotfelty with 13:14 expired in the first half. Fort Hill came back to tie the contest about five minutes later when Steve Brett scored an unassisted goal 18:06 into the first half. The score was still tied 1-1 at halftime.

Brett put the Sentinels ahead for the first time by scoring off an assist by Andrew Monn at the 30:06 mark. With just under 20 minutes remaining in regulation time, Andrews knotted the score by scoring off an assist by D.R. Parsons.

The match was still deadlocked when regulation time expired. Two 10-minute overtimes followed, but there was to be no more scoring and the match was left a tie.

The Sentinels led in shots on goal by a 29-18 margin. Jonathan Price was credited with 30 saves in goal for the Rams, while Jared Alam was credited with 11 for Fort Hill. The Sentinels also led in corner kicks, 10-4.

The Southern junior varsity opened its season in the preliminary match by recording a 5-1 win over the Sentinel jayvees.

Andrews also led the Rams in scoring against Northern Tuesday night, as he finished the evening with a hat trick, but it was sophomore Andrew Grant who drew first blood for the Rams, as he headed into the goal a ball crossed to him by Andrews at the 13:05 mark of the first half.

Andrews doubled the Rams' points when he scored on a power shot off a feed by Derrick Nelson with just under seven minutes left in the first half to give the Rams a 2-0 halftime advantage.

Andrews recorded his second and third goals, both unassisted, in a time period of just over three minutes, at the 27:42 and 24:30 marks of the second half. The final insurance goal for Southern was recorded by Nick Glotfelty, also unassisted, with less than two and one-half minutes to play in the match.

Northern keepers Jimmy Kenner and Josh Henderson recorded 19 saves, while Price finished with eight for the Rams. Southern dominated in shots on goal, 25-8, and also led in corner kicks, 6-1.

The Southern junior varsity upped its record to 2-0 in the preliminary match with a 3-0 win over the Northern jayvees.

The Huskies came into the contest after finishing in a 3-3 tie with Beall in their season opener on Saturday (see separate story).

The Rams will host Bishop Walsh this Saturday, with the junior varsity match slated to begin at 6 p.m. and the varsity contest at 7:30. Northern will host Flintstone next Tuesday, with the same starting times (6 and 7:30 p.m.) for the jayvee and varsity games.

Northern Girls Winners Over Beall In First-Ever Match

The first girls' soccer match ever played by a Northern High School team was a success for Husky fans, Coach Katie Kane, and her young team, as the Huskies defeated Beall, 2-1, in Frostburg Tuesday evening.

Northern took a 1-0 lead less than five minutes into the game when Kara Kenner scored off a feed from Emily Rawe at the 35:42 mark of the first half. That lead held up until about 16 minutes into the second half of action when Ashley Warnick doubled the Huskies' score with an unassisted goal at the 24:05 mark.

The Mountaineers, also playing their first girls' game in the school's history, avoided a shutout when Jackie Aylor scored an unassisted goal less than two minutes later at the 22:10 mark.

The Huskies finished with a 9-5 advantage in shots on goal, while Beall led in corner kicks by a 9-2 margin. Cheri Simmons had seven saves for the Mountaineers.

The Huskies will play their home opener next Monday against Bishop Walsh.

Southern Girls Top Sentinels, Lose To BW In First Matches

The advent of girls' soccer at Southern High School was a positive one for Ram fans, as Coach Nan Gangler and her team recorded a big 2-1 victory over visiting Fort Hill Saturday evening. The Rams saw their record evened at 1-1, however, last night when they were topped by host Bishop Walsh, 4-2.

Two goals in the closing minutes of the first half against Fort Hill proved to be enough, as the second half of the contest went scoreless. Fort Hill took a 1-0 lead when Jamie Brant scored off a feed by Michelle Whited with 21:35 left in the first half.

Laura Friend scored the first-ever goal for Southern with just 2:50 left in the half, and then crossed a pass to Gina Reeves just 70 seconds later, which Reeves drove into the goal for what would be the final point of the evening.

Becky Martin recorded eight saves in goal for the Rams, while Sentinel Becky Beeman was credited with seven. Fort Hill finished with a 5-2 lead in corner kicks.

The Rams also found themselves ahead 2-1 at halftime last night at Bishop Walsh, but the Spartans rallied for three goals in the second half to capture their second win of the season in three starts.

Megan Burner scored off an assist by Sarah Teets at the 30:56 mark of the first half to give the Rams their first lead. BW's Kaitlin Sweeney answered with a goal just moments later as she punched in a corner kick taken by Lauren Zapf with 29:14 remaining.

The Rams resumed the lead with just 2:33 left in the first half when Laura Friend scored off a feed by Desiree Spady.

The second half was controlled by the Spartans, who knotted the score at the 28:52 mark on a goal by Zapf. They took the lead for good when Jen Tola scored off another corner kick by Zapf with 21:32 remaining. Tola then fed Shera Rowan, who scored an insurance goal with just 3:22 left in the match.

The Rams were out-shot on goal by a 20-14 margin and from the corners by a 6-4 mark. Martin earned a dozen saves for Southern, while Amy Smith and Tiffany Wagner each had four saves for the Spartans.

The Rams will play again next Tuesday when they host Allegany in a 7 p.m. contest.

Huskies Play To 3-3 Tie With Beall, Fall To Rams

It wasn't a victory, but it also was not a defeat for the young Northern High School boys' varsity, as the Huskies played to a 3-3 tie Saturday morning with Beall in Frostburg. The Huskies then traveled to Oakland on Tuesday and dropped a 5-0 match to county rival Southern (see separate story).

One of the brightest spots in the match for Coach Tom Ables and his team in the match against Beall was when the Huskies rallied from a 3-0 halftime deficit, and then kept the Mountaineers scoreless in two 10-minute overtime periods to preserve the tie.

Beall's Larry Werner put the first two goals on the board when he scored off an assist by Lee Ajang midway through the first half, and then connected off a feed by Jamie George. George followed with an unassisted goal to give the Mountaineers a commanding 3-0 lead at halftime.

The Huskies weren't ready to give up, however, and came back to dominate the second half of action, although all three of their goals were scored with less than 16 minutes remaining in regulation.

Josh Gilpin struck twice, both times unassisted, at the 15:16 and 9:28 marks, to cut Beall's lead to 3-2. Jimmy Kenner then sent the match into overtime when he scored an unassisted goal with just 3:13 remaining.

Josh Henderson finished with 11 saves in goal for the Huskies, compared to seven stops by Beall's Daniel Miller. Beall finished with a 21-7 advantage in shots on goal.

The Northern junior varsity was blanked in the first match, 3-0.

The 0-1-1 Huskies will go after their first victory of the season next Tuesday when they host Flintstone.

Huskies' Swarming Defense, Late Offensive Burst Downs BW 24-6

Northern's defense shut down the Bishop Walsh attack Friday night, and bided its time until the Huskies' offense got in gear in the final quarter with a four-touchdown outburst that buried the Spartans 24-6. The big blue won't be resting on its laurels though, as history shows that the Huskies have won their season opener over the three previous years as well, only to fall to Westmar in the second contest in each of those seasons. Possible redemption awaits as the Huskies travel to Westmar tomorrow evening for yet another second-game matchup, with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff slated.

Although BW managed a touchdown in the first quarter Friday night on a four-yard run by Mike Baker that came after a Northern fumbled inside its own 10-yard line, the Husky defense did not allow a first down until the second half. "Our gang-tackling was the best we've had since 1993," head coach Phil Carr said of his swarming Huskies defense. "It seemed as if we had eight or nine blue helmets on the ball each tackle. Our front five did a great job of stuffing the gaps, and BW's longest run for the night was less than 10 yards."

Offensively, Carr and his coaching staff had to make some changes to cope with a Spartans' defense that stymied the Huskies for much of the contest. "We struggled on offense throughout the first half," Carr commented. "BW was stacking a number players on their defensive line, which didn't give us a lot of running room; when we went to the pass, they blitzed and shut down our air game too. Luckily we were able to make some halftime adjustments that the boys began to execute by the middle of the third quarter.

"Rob Dozier, a sophomore, was a big key to our offensive recovery. We started running a split-back scheme, and Rob came out of his slot to throw a number of good blocks for senior fullback Mike Auvil, and made some fine runs himself."

A Dozier block allowed Northern to dent the scoreboard for the first time, as he put his 6'5", 195-lb. frame to good use in helping the offensive line clear a path to the endzone for Auvil's 13-yard touchdown run in the opening minute of the final quarter. The score remained knotted at 6-6 for a good portion of the quarter until Dozier scored on a five-yard run to make the score 12-6.

Following an interception by junior defensive back Adam Brenneman, the Huskies racked up another touchdown on a five-yard scoring run by junior fullback Ryan Brenneman to take an 18-6 lead, then a 32-yard TD run by sophomore halfback Mark Wolf with two minutes to go delighted the home crowd once more.

The Huskies finished with 236 yards of offense, while holding the Spartans to just three first downs (two additional first downs came through penalty calls) and 91 yards of total offense, only 10 of which came through the air.

Auvil was the game's leading rusher with 88 yards on 18 carries, while Dozier added 56 yards on nine carries. 201 yards of Northern's offense came on the ground. Tony Caporale was BW's top ground gainer with 31 yards on 15 carries.

"We're pleased to win," Carr said afterwards, "even though we didn't play as well as we could have. It took a while to get the offense going, and the special teams suffered through punt return penalties; both areas need improvement. Still, we're happy with the team's performance, especially considering the number of juniors and sophomores we have on the varsity. They're gaining a lot of valuable experience."

Looking ahead to tomorrow night's matchup at Westmar, Carr said, "We'll be concentrating on improving our offense this week in practice; if we can get it clicking, we'll do well. Westmar's defense looked good on film as they beat Williamsport last week, they're quick and they bend but don't break.

"Our defense will be ready; we know Westmar always has a wide-open attack. They have a good quarterback in Josh Glass, who can run a shotgun offense when he has to; we'll be using stunts and other strategies to pressure him. The Wildcats like to throw to receivers coming out of the backfield, especially Tony Talbert, and David Zailer, their other running back, is an excellent ball carrier.

"We feel the two teams match up pretty well," Carr continued. "All three of our second-game losses to Westmar over the past three years have been close, hard-fought games. We hope to set the tone for the rest of the season with a victory this year."

Ram Defense Excels, But Offense Sputters At Keyser

Despite an outstanding defensive performance, the Southern High School varsity football team offense just could not get on track, and could not capitalize on some golden opportunities, Friday night in Keyser, and the Rams went down to a 12-0 defeat in their season opener.

Southern's tough defensive unit held the speedy Golden Tornado offense to just 82 total yards, but Keyser's punt return team put one touchdown on the board and one of only two completed passes was a 13-yard scoring strike. All 12 points of the game were scored in the second period.

After a scoreless first quarter, in which Southern drove the ball to the six-inch line of the home team, but was unable to punch it the rest of the way for a score, Keyser's Thad Burner broke loose on a punt return and raced 60 yards to the end zone with 6:54 remaining in the first half. It would be all the points needed by the Tornado. The kick for the extra point was no good.

The only successful drive by the Tornadoes came on their next possession, when quarterback Blaine Hott connected with Brent Barrick on a 13-yard touchdown pass with 2:48 left in the half. The conversion kick again failed.

The second half was all defense, as neither offense could penetrate the big strong lines of their opponents. Southern's Jason Weaver was the leading ground gainer of the evening, as he recorded 67 yards on 20 carries.

A grand total of 23 yards was the number recorded by Keyser's leading rusher, Rodney Twyman, on 14 carries. Teammate Burner finished with 20 yards on 11 attempts.

The best average of the evening was earned by Southern's Josh Bosley, who carried four times for 16 yards.

Southern recorded 105 yards in total offense with six first downs, while Keyser had 82 yards and seven first downs.

"It was truly a disappointing loss for our players, our coaches, and our fans," stated Rams head coach Toni Woods. "On our first two or three series we had three golden opportunities to score, but we just didn't get it done. Then we got down on ourselves a little bit."

While the Rams return a number of veteran players from last year, Woods ex-

Glade Mennonite Leaders In Men's Softball Playoffs

Glade Mennonite won three games this past week in the playoffs of the Garrett County Christian Men's Softball League. Glade defeated Bethel United Methodist, 21-11, whipped Pleasant View Baptist, 24-13, and stopped Maranatha Assembly of God (score not reported).

Rick Brenneman was the winning pitcher in all three contests. Hitting a home run for Bethel in the first game was Terry Chapman.

In the game against Maranatha, Terry Brenneman hit a homer for Glade and Gary Hay smacked one for Maranatha.

week to the biggest offense on our schedule this week."

The Applemen employ a 4-4 defense and are led by Arbogast at tackle, Mosby at linebacker, senior Trevor Shade (5-10, 185) at defensive end, and senior Ryan Parsons (5-6, 140) at an outside linebacker spot.

"They once again have excellent special teams," Woods said, but he added that Musselman is in somewhat of a re-building mode after losing so many seniors to graduation last year.

Musselman will come to Oakland with a 2-0 record, having thrashed Martinsburg in their opener, 40-13, and crushing Monticello, Va., last week, 46-7.

"This should be just a great football game," Woods said. "We think that we match up well from a strength standpoint, and they are not as fast as Keyser. We also have two advantages this week that we didn't have Friday night: it will be our second game and we will be at home."

Woods said that, going into the season, he and his staff believed it was crucial for the Rams' playoff chances to win one of their first two games. "We've lost the first one, so now we have to win this one," he said.

A boost to the Southern line-up this week is the return of senior lineman Josh Teets (6-1, 225), who was out of action with a stress fracture. "We have a few bumps and bruises, but overall we are quite healthy," Woods said.

Friday's kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. Woods also noted that the Homecoming game is set for Oct. 2 and the annual Hall of Fame contest will be the following Friday, Oct. 9.

plained that many of them are playing new positions. "We have a lot of experience overall, but we have a lot of kids playing new positions," he said.

"Defensively we played a whale of a game," he continued. "Offensively, we need to learn to be more efficient and to cash in on our opportunities. We aren't blaming just one or two people for our problems on offense, either. There were lots of mistakes by linemen as well as our backs."

The win evened Keyser's record at 1-1.

Woods said that his team has regrouped, though, and has "high spirits" this week in preparing for an always-talented Musselman team that will come to town this Friday night.

"We believe that we have already played the quickest team on our schedule (Keyser), and we did extremely well defensively," he said. "I think we will match up quite well with Musselman because they are a more power-oriented team this year, unlike most years when they have a lot of speed and a lot of skill players."

Musselman returns only four starters on offense and four on defense, but they are outstanding players — and they are big. Returning at tackle is junior Dwayne Robinson at 6-4, 300 pounds, at guard is junior Paul Arbogast at 6-2, 300 pounds, and at the other guard spot, Ben Frye, 5-10, 200 pounds. A returning starter in the backfield is tailback Todd Mosby (6-3, 195).

"They run from the wing-T and just keep banging away on the inside behind those big linemen," Woods said. "We are going from the quickest offense last

Lemley Memorial Golf Tournament Slated Sept. 18

The Al Lemley Memorial Golf Tournament will be held on Sept. 18 at the Oakland Country Club, beginning at 1 p.m. with a shotgun start.

Proceeds from the event will be divided among the Southern and Northern Garrett County rescue squads, the Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire Company, and the Garrett Memorial Hospital Foundation.

Persons interested in participating should call the Oakland club at 301-334-3883 to register. The entry fee is $50 for members and $80 for non-members.

Prizes, a buffet, and beverages will be provided for all who take part in the fund-raiser.

Women Golfers Hold Tourney

The Fall Tournament of the Oakland Golf Club's Women's Association ended September 2, with Annis Colaw winning the championship in the First Flight, and Pat Filsinger, runner-up.

In the Second Flight Cheryl Wotherspoon was winner, with Mary Spencer runner-up. Carolyn Sleightholm won in the Third Flight, and Kaz Hamill was runner-up. The Fourth Flight was won by Marion Boehmer, with Helen Nordeck runner-up.

Members of the association met for Flight Play September 3, with June Bray winning low gross in the First Flight, carding 85. Marianna Naylor claimed low net, scoring 70. In the Second Flight, Anne Jesnak carded 89, winning low gross, while Mary Spencer's 67 won for low net. Carolyn Sleightholm won low gross for the Third Flight, scoring 107, and Carolyn Deverse won low net with 75. In the Fourth Flight Marion Boehmer's 113 won low gross, while Vickie Regnier claimed low net with 74.

Husky, Ram Golfers Battle For Season Lead On Local Links

Northern High School's golf team stands atop area greens action after mounting a 9-0 record so far this season, while Southern's golfers are hot on the Huskies' spikes with a 7-1 record. The Rams split a pair of matches in this past week, one of which was a loss to the Huskies, who won their only match of the week.

At the Oakland Golf Club last Thursday, the Rams came out on top with a 166 over Keyser's 191, Allegany's 21, and Westmar's 217.

Kane Wengard led Southern to the victory with a 34, while Bryson Paugh shot a 39. Joe Fairall led Keyser with a 40, Sam Long led the Campers with a 47, and Westmar was led by Jason Clard's 49.

The win set up a match of undefeateds on Tuesday, as the 7-0 Rams hosted the unbeaten Huskies in a triangular field that also included Beall.

The Garrett County battle came down to a one-shot difference, as Northern took the contest with a 178 over Southern's 179. Beall scored a 195.

A.J. Thomas shot a 37 to lead the Huskies, Ryan Butler added a 45, and Matt Settle and Ian Derney added 48s. Wengard led Southern's valiant effort with a 39, runner-up low score of the day, and Paugh shot a 43, Jordan Swerbinsky had a 48, and Bryson Myers shot a 49. For Beall, J.C. Armstrong had a 41, Derek Yates had a 45, Jason Shaw 54, and Jason Turner a 55.

The Huskies will play Rockwood at Seven Springs Resort, Pa., this afternoon, while the Rams travel to Cumberland Country Club to take on Fort Hill's Sentinels on Monday.

Vikes, Raiders Win In Youth Football Action

The Parsons Vikings remained undefeated and the Oakland Raiders were also victorious in NFL Division play of the Oakland Youth Football League on Saturday.

The Vikings upped their record to 3-0 by edging the Oakland Jets, 20-19, while the Raiders topped the Oakland Ravens, 6-0.

The Raiders are now 2-1 on the season, the Jets are 1-2, and the Ravens are 0-3.

In NCAA division play, the Gonder Insurance Tigers edged the Rinker Construction Nittany Lions, 57-52, the Team One Terps nipped the First United

TROUT FISHING REMAINS GOOD IN LOCAL RIVERS

Fly-fishing has been good recently and should continue to improve as the water temperatures cool a bit. On the North Branch, fishing has been excellent. Productive patterns there include terrestrials and attractors. The Savage has been producing on blue winged olives and caddis patterns. The Yough has fished best with hoppers, beetles, and crayfish imitations, as well as sculpins and muddlers.

PROTECTING AGAINST ZEBRA MUSSELS

As some of our local lakes are drawn down, some local anglers will be traveling with their boats to fishing haunts outside the area. This can open our area to zebra mussel infestation if certain precautions aren't taken. Zebra mussels have spread throughout the Great Lakes and its waterways of 19 states since their accidental introduction into Lakes Erie and St. Clair in the 1980s. One way these mussels spread is on the hull of both commercial and recreational vessels. Adult mussels may attach to hard surfaces. Their young, called veligers, are transparent and very small and may be able to survive in any residual water.

Nearly anything that has been in zebra-infested waters may have the mussels on them. The list of potential carriers includes: plants aud animals, fishing gear and bait buckets, any water, scientific equipment, snorkeling and scuba gear, boats, trailers, and related equipment. Placing these in uninfested waters without measures to prevent mussel spread may lead to accidental introduction of these pesky mussels. Here are some actions to follow after using a boat or other equipment in any body of water.

1. Remove any visible vegetation from items that were in the water.
2. Flush engine cooling system, live wells, and bilge with hot water.
3. Air dry boat and other equipment for five days before using in uninfested waters. (Zebra mussels may survive up to two weeks out of water.)
4. Examine boat exterior for mussels if it has been docked in infested waters.
5. Do not re-use bait. Empty bait buckets on land, not into water.

TREE SEEDLINGS AVAILABLE

The DNR Maryland Forest Service is offering seedlings at an attractive price for the establishment of wildlife habitat. The John S. Avton State Forest Tree Nursery grows seedlings to be planted for wildlife habitat and other conservation purposes. The program offers selections of 250 seedlings for as little as $40. Species available include white oak, red oak, sawtooth oak, pin oak, walnut, cherry, crabapple, dogwood, ash, cypress, spruce, white pine, red cedar, redbud, and bicolor lespedeza. To order and/or get a catalog call 1-800-TREES-MD (873-3763).

EXPERTS PREDICT FEWER DUCKS THIS FALL

Fewer ducks will be flying south this fall, according to the fall flight index from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The USFWS forecasts that 84 million ducks will migrate from northern breeding and nesting grounds to wintering areas in the southern United States, Mexico, and South America.

Last year, wildlife watchers and hunters enjoyed a modern-day record fall flight of 92 million ducks, including 14.4 million mallards. Biologists say this year's lower numbers can be attributed to a dry winter and a warm early spring on the central continent prairies.

Matthew Connolly of Ducks Unlimited said that this year's dip in numbers are a direct response to weather conditions, and though overall numbers are down slightly from last year, most duck species are well above long-term averages. Local hunters should expect to see duck numbers similar to last year.

LEGENDARY WHITETAILS

A recently released book from Wildlife Images called Legendary Whitetails features the stories and photographs of what are regarded as the greatest bucks of all time. Among the featured deer are the world-record typical and non-typical. Some bucks in this book are classic examples of the whitetail's beauty and grace, while others sport gigantic racks, a few bordering on the bizarre.

The book, all 200 pages, is full color throughout. Excellent photography brings these remarkable bucks to life and showcase their headgear. In addition to the photography, score sheets provide all the dimensions of each buck and the stories that recount each hunt. The book has been compiled by a team of whitetail hunters/writers and published by Venture Press of Bigfork, Mont. Copies are available from Wildlife Images, 1115 West Liebau Road, Suite 300, Mequon, WI 53092. The price is $39.95 plus $4 shipping and handling.

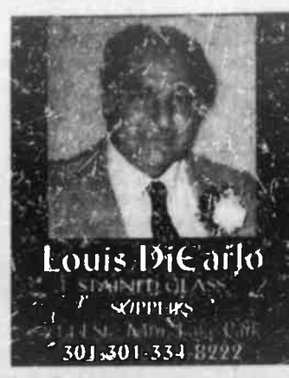
Bass Tourney With Hank Parker To Raise Funds For United Way

The County United Way will launch this year's fund-raising campaign to support local charities with the third annual bassfishing tournament with Hank Parker at Deep Creek Lake on Saturday, Sept. 19. Over 200 fishermen are expected to compete for over $5,650 in cash prizes. Bass '98 contestants will have a chance to win a 1998 Ford Ranger 4x4 if a new Maryland state record smallmouth or largemouth bass should be caught during the tournament.

National television and fishing personality Hank Parker will be present at the Silver Tree Inn on Friday, Sept. 18, at 6 p.m. The public is invited to join Parker for a reception at a cost of $10 per person.

Parker hosts his own television program, Outdoor Magazine, shown weekly on TNN. He is the two-time BassMaster Classic Champion, 1978 NBA Angler of the Year, and winner of the Bass Grand Slam.



The County United Way supports programs developed by human services organizations to address social problems in the community. Big Brothers/Big Sisters, with an office in Oakland, helps reduce incidences of child abuse, teen pregnancy, and drug and alcohol abuse through one-to-one friendships between adult role models and children.

Garrett County Lighthouse, Oakland, is a community-based psychiatric rehabilitation program which promotes consumers' abilities to participate in community activities, supports employment to help facilitate maximum integration into the work force, and offers a rehabilitation option to enhance recovery and supportive services for people with severe persistent mental disorders.

Mountain Glade Adult Day Services, Oakland, and Maple Glade Adult Day Services, Accident, enable adults who need medical supervision or assistance with activities of daily life to live in the community. A respite is offered for families caring for relatives at home while loving care enables older citizens to continue to feel worthwhile.

Western Maryland Catholic Charities, with offices in Oakland and Grantsville, offers affordable professional counseling to families, individuals, and couples regardless of need. School consultation is also provided.

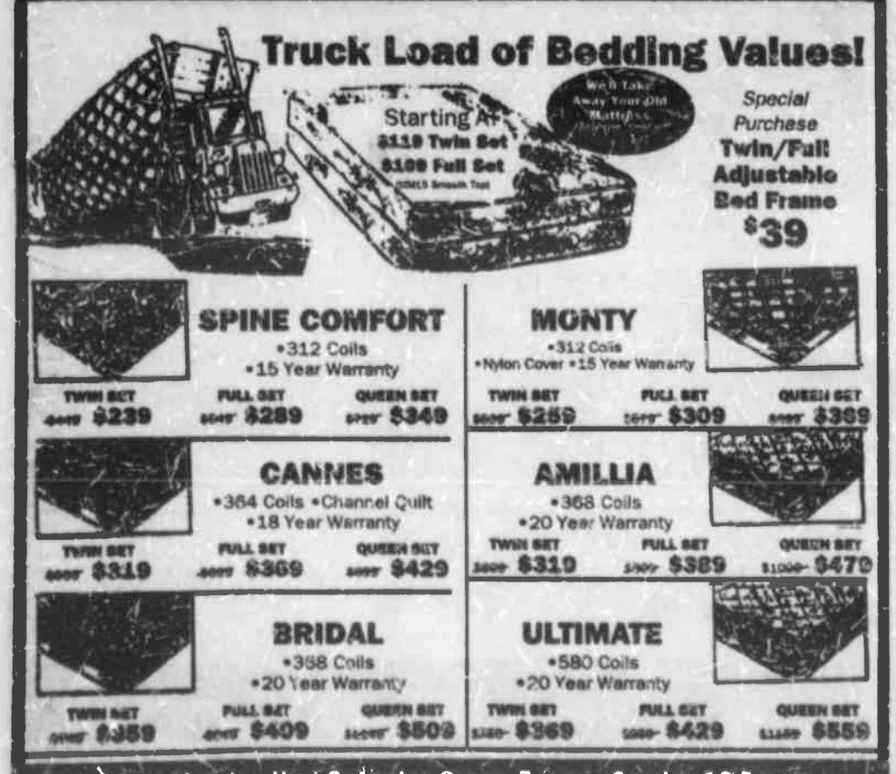
LIBRARIES

Many of our county residents are regular patrons of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, and branch offices in Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville, and Kitzmiller.

During Wilt's tenure as County Commissioner, he supported many improvements in the library system. He voted to construct an addition to the library in Accident in 1996, and he supports the future construction of a new library in Grantsville.

FIRE DEPARTMENTS/RESCUE SQUADS

Wilt supports our fire departments and rescue squads. Their members are well trained for all emergencies. They are respected and professional in every way. Many examples of their heroism and expertise can be given. Two recent disasters are classic examples of the type of people that we all depend on every day: The tornadoes in Friendsville, Accident, Finzel, Frostburg, and Salisbury, Pa., and the accidental fire that destroyed the G-P Garage in Grantsville.



Wilt gives thanks to all who gave their volunteer service to the communities on these occasions and the many other times that they have been called upon to save lives and property.

On September 15, 1998, the citizens of Garrett County must make an important aud crucial decision when selecting a candidate for Sheriff.

As retired members of the Maryland State Police we represent over 903 years of law enforcement service and experience. We well realize the importance of honesty, integrity and professionalism in law enforcement; however, also of utmost importance is the need for an "experienced" police administrator. Policing in today's "high tech" fast paced society is complex and requires a great deal of knowledge about modern law enforcement principles. Good police administration can only be acquired through past experience in supervising and managing daily law enforcement operations.

We have ail known Sheriff Dick Sanders for more than 25 years. He is the only candidate that possesses the necessary attributes, ability and experience to administer and lead a modern law enforcement agency into the next century. To that end, we strongly urge you to cast your vote to keep Dick Sanders as your Sheriff.

Southern Volleyball Off To Slow Start, Looks To Preston

The Southern High School volleyball team is still in search of its first victory after opening the season by losing at home to Bishop Walsh 3-2, and falling at Allegany 3-0.

The Rams had the Spartans on the ropes Tuesday, Sept. 3, as they took the first two matches by scores of 15-13 and 17-15; however, BW rallied to take the final three matches, as the hosts lost 2-15, 6-15, and 14-16.

Keri Niner led Southern with 11 service points and four kills, while Jessica Saturday added 10 kills and two blocks. Other Ram standouts were Brittany Slider with 6 kills; Erica Wilt with 3 ace serves, 10 service points, and 8 assists; Jennifer Teagarden with 14 assists; and Jody Bowser with three kills. No stats were available for BW players.

At Allegany last night, the Rams were swept by match scores of 16-14, 15-10, and 15-5. Southern was led by Teagarden's eight points and six assists, while Saturday contributed five kills and one block. Niuer and Slider also put in fine defensive performances. Corrie Kendall led the Campers with 11 service points and five aces.

Allegany won the jayvee match as well, 15-8 and 15-7. Laura Johnson scored six points for the Rams, while Aleena Mahal scored 10 service points and Jasmine Gilbert tallied eight aces for the Campers.

Southern's next match is home against Preston County this coming Monday evening, followed by a Wednesday night battle at Northern. Both games begin at 6 p.m.

GCC Netters To Open '98 Season In Essex Tourney

Garrett Community College's volleyball team opens its campaign on Saturday, Sept. 12, with a tournament hosted by Essex Community College. The tourney's field of competitors is composed of Potomac State College, Charles Community College, Howard Community College, Essex, and Garrett.

During the 1997 season the Lakers' squad compiled an impressive 30-10 record and finished second in the Region XX Tournament, marking the second time in three years that the team competed for the Region XX title.

Several standouts are returning from last year's squad, including Mindy McCarty, who was named to the All-Region XX First team and the Region XX All-Tournament team; Andrea Barrick, All-Region XX honorable mention; Sindy Niner, Southern High School alumna; and Erica McBride, Hampshire High School alumna.

Rounding out the team are several newcomers: Laurel Wolf and Kerri Since, both graduates of Northern High School; Lana Groves, a Preston County High School graduate; Melissa Yutzy, a Keyser (W.Va.) High School graduate; and Crystal Kimble, a graduate of Circleville (W.Va.) High School.

The Lakers are coached by Margaret Quinn, who enters her thirteenth year as head coach. She is assisted by former GCC standout and 1989 graduate Stacy Sines.

Huskies' Netters Take Season Opener Over Frankfort, 3-1

Heidi Frazee led Northern High School's volleyball team to a 3-1 victory at Frankfort Wednesday evening with 16 service points and two kills as the Huskies downed the Falcons by match scores of 15-0, 15-9, 10-15, and 15-12.

Jacki Brenneman added 11 points for the Huskies' varsity, and Mimi Harvey had eight points and one ace. Frankfort's Andrea Flanagan tallied 11 service points and teammate Becky Whiteman added 10.

The Huskies junior varsity took its match as well, 9-15, 15-7, 15-13. Malia Collins had 11 points for Northern, while Jessica Lopez scored 17 points for Frankfort.

Northern's schedule for the coming week includes a battle with the Southern Rams at the Igloo in Accident. That match will get underway at 6 p.m. on Wednesday evening.

NORTH/SOUTH HIGHWAY

During my campaign for County Commissioner, I have been asked on numerous occasions what my position is for the location of a north/south highway. My position is as follows: I am OPPOSED to a north/south highway being located through Accident and Deep Creek Lake. However, I do favor the highway being located in an area east of Finzel, to be shared by Garrett and Allegany counties.

VOTER INFORMATION

Another question that I have been asked is: Are voters allowed to vote for one commissioner candidate in each of the three districts?
Answer: Voters are allowed to vote for one commissioner candidate in each of the three districts, not just the district in which the voter resides.

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

COMMODORE'S REGATTA; SEASON-END AWARDS

By Dan Mass

Labor Day weekend may not be the last of sailing on Deep Creek Lake, but it is crammed with intense racing activity. The Conunodore's Regatta is held on this weekend and it consists of five races, two on Saturday, two on Sunday, and one on Monday. The race is run by the two conunodores of the Deep Creek yacht clubs at Deer Haven and at Turkey Neck. The rules are a bit different for a regatta. In the regular weekend races the boat is scored no matter who is in the boat; in a regatta the skipper must not change, the total number in the crew must not change, and a crew member can be changed only to a similar crew member and with the permission of that fleet's captain.

We had everything this Labor Day weekend; Saturday dawned beautiful, but with light wind out of the west. Sunday was also beautiful, with perfect racing wind. Labor day Monday morning the weather looked terrible. We had a severe thunderstorm alert and the wind was howling as it had been all night long. Only the strong went out (and, of course, those in contention for a cup). But as the starting signals went off, the sun came out briefly, the wind moderated, and they had another race with perfect conditions.

We had a real scare in the third race on Sunday. We were approaching the starting line close-hauled on the starboard tack with about 20 seconds to go in a good 10-knot breeze when a port tack boat came tearing down on us. I didn't even have time to yell. His boom hit our forestay and bounced off. A blow like that could have broken the forestay and dismasted us, but it didn't. So we smiled on, halfway up to the first mark I looked back to see that skipper doing his penalty turns after the start as required. The blow had unhooked one of our jib snaps, so my brave crew, Marilyn Filemyr, climbed up on deck and re-snapped it. Well, racing being what it is on Deep Creek Lake, he passed us in spite of his penalty, but we just nipped him at the finish, so truth and justice prevailed!

Meredith Dodd, 13 years old and a product of the Deep Creek Sailing School, sailing with her grandmother, Barbara Meredith, took first place in the Flying Scot B Fleet in the Conunodore's Regatta and third place in the July-August series. We are very proud of Meredith.

Our stalwart permanent race commander, Matt Matthews, received a very special award this year; in recognition of how many times Matt retrieves the committee boat anchor he was presented with an electric anchor winch. (The guys said that they had ordered a wench, but they had sent the wrong thing.)

A word about some of the season awards. The Fleet Championships are given to the skippers with the best scores qualifying for both the June and the July-August Series. The Filemyr Handicap Awards are given to the most improved racing teams based on a historical handicap system. The Sportsman of the Year Award is self-explanatory, but this year John Meredith received a standing ovation when it was presented to him. We have had several racing teams in which the male/female team has alternated skipper/crew roles. In these cases I have called them co-captains.

COMMODORE'S REGATTA

Flying Scot A - Harry and Karen Carpenter, first; John Skoog and John Meredith, second; Don and Barbara Griffin, third; Dick Gregory and Allison Felix, fourth.

Flying Scot B - Meredith Dodd and Barbara Meredith, first; Bruce Lothrop and Stephanie Mahan (co-captains), second; Gary Schubert with Alice Rosanski and Ryan Schubert crewing, third; Ken Gibbs and Susan Meehan (co-captains), fourth.

Roaring Knob Raceway Park

John Flinner of Cranberry Twp., Pa., drove his W.R. Minton & Sons sponsored MasterSbilt to an impressive Late Modal win Sunday afternoon at Roaring Knob Raceway Park halting "Rollie" Nolan Dalton's consecutive win streak at three. Also winning feature events were Louie Krushansky, E-Mods; Jesse Sturbatzel, Modified Stocks; and Jack Rosenberger, Pure Stocks.

Flinner took the point from Garry Sisson on the third lap and built up a sizable lead until a tenth lap caution tightened up the pack. Dalton, who started last in the field, tried to establish a groove around the very top of the track, but the laps ran out before he could mount a serious challenge to the leaders. Flinner picked up the uncontested win while Sisson drove to a season's best second with Chris Canner a solid third, Mal Minnick Jr., fourth, and Scott Brode, fifth. Six through ten were Jim Kutas, Dalton, Bill Demmig, Rick Strickler, and Jeff Ferguson. The two heat races were won by Dalton and Sisson.

Louie Krushansky holds the honor of winning twice in the E-Mod division at the Knob, but in different cars. Piloting his own ride this week, Krushansky wrestled the lead away from Cliff Cochran, who was driving the car that Louie had taken to the winner's circle three weeks ago. Once in front, Krushansky went on to win by nearly a straight-away over Brent "The Kid" Trimble, Renee Dean, Cochran, and Dana McIntyre. Right behind McIntyre was newcomer Mike Lewis, followed by Ron Clevenger, first time visitor Bob Skwara, and Shawn Davis. Davis was the heat race winner.

Picking up where he left off last week, Jesse Sturbutzel, out of McClellandtown made it two Modified Stock feature wins in a row as he narrowly defeated Greg Hauger, Tom Humberson, Jeff Keener, and Tom Truxell. Six through 10 were Lonnie Hoffman, Ken Brown, Mike Bakalon, Bob Neratka, and Thad Wilson. Truxell picked up the heat race win.

The "demo before the derby" took place in the Pure Stocks as a record 12 cautions were recorded before Friendsville's Jack Rosenberger took the checkered flag for his second win this season at Roaring Knob. Rosenberger assumed the lead from Jimmy Shaffer during the fifth circuit, and the field finally settled down for several consecutive green flag laps of racing. Shaffer held on to the runner-up spot with Jim Beadishaw third, Doug Foster fourth, and Fred Perkey Jr. fifth. Roger Coffman was sixth, Lee Kendall seventh, Jamie Kemp eighth. Scott Herring ninth and Ed Kemp rounded out the top ten. The heats were won by Rosenberger and Bart Tressler.

Gary Crosko was declared the winner of the Bates Tire & Auto Salvage sponsored demolition derby, which followed the regular racing program. His cousin Jamie Crosko was awarded second with Rich Fike third.

Roaring Knob's season will conclude this Sunday afternoon, Sept. 13, with the running of the $2,000 to win Late Model "King of the Knob 40." Also on tap is the "Rockin the Knob" extra distance race for the E-Mods along with the Foster's Welding & Mine Service "Rod Burning Special" for the Modified Stocks, and regular racing for the Pure Stocks.

Gates open at 12:30 p.m. with racing set to begin at 2 p.m. If needed, a rain date has been scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 27.

Interstate 79 Speedway

Rick Aukland of Fargo, ND, won the 4th Annual Mark Balzano Memorial at Interstate 79 Speedway on Saturday night. Aukland started the evening by setting the fast time of 16.408. After starting at the tail of the fast dash, he quickly moved up and finished in the second spot giving him the outside pole position for the 50-lap STARS feature event which paid $8,000.

Steve Francis led the first few circuits but Aukland had his sights set on the lead and went to the front. His lead increased to almost a straight-away at several points but cautions bunched up the field behind him on four occasions. Francis held on to the second spot throughout the race but never challenged Aukland for the win. Some hard racing was going on for the third through tenth spots between Mike Balzano, Tim Hitt, Rick Eckert, Gary Stuhler, Bart Hartman, and Davey Johnson. Donnie Moran passed more cars than anyone. After starting ninth, Moran was the first caution and tagged the tail. He worked his way back through the pack for a seventh place finish.

At the checkered flag, it was Auklaud taking the win over Francis, Eckert, Stuhler, Balzano, Hitt, Moran, Johnson, Hartman, and Steve Shaver. Heat winners were Denny Chamberlain, Balzano, Eckert, and Moran. Francis won the fast dash. Robbie Blair won the B-Main.

In other racing action, the Steel Block Late Models ran the Outhouse 40 with Mike Benedum picking up the win over Tim Senic, Chris Smith, Mike Hawkins, and Allan Baker. Six through 10 were Greg Lemley, Stephen Hollabaugh, Roy Gibson, Kevin Hamrick, and Steve Wilmoth. Heat races on Friday evening went to Mark McGill, Wilmoth, and Baker. Lemley won the fast dash while Kevin Jones picked up the consi win.

The Backyard 30 for the UMP Modifieds became a 15-lap race after the 30 minute time limit expired just short of halfway. As a caution flew, the drivers were informed that it was a green, white, checkered race from there. Shawn Davis led at the flag followed by Brent Trimble, Cliff Cochran, Dave Defibaugh, Louie Krushansky, Steve Cook, Phil Jeffries, Vic Vandergrift, Dana McIntyre, and Jerry Teter. On Friday evening, Defibaugh and Teter won the heats while Trimble picked up the fast dash.

One more racing event remains on the 1998 schedule at I-79 when the ENDURO cars return for the 200 lapper along with a big Demo Derby on Sunday, Sept. 27.

FAIRNESS ELECT IT!

Fairness is not an abstract concept. It's not something that springs into being by itself. It's not even something that results from good intentions. It has to be worked at. It takes honesty and courage and a lot of hard learning and skill. Fairness is doing the right thing for the child in a custody case, making the correct decision in a complex civil case and handling criminal cases in a manner that can withstand an appeal that might result in injustice. Fairness is treating everyone as equal before the law regardless of social standing, wealth or political power. Fairness is honesty. It is directly proportional to competence. Fairness is the first casualty of sloppy justice. I pledge fairness from the Garrett County Circuit Court bench.

EXPERIENCE

I would like to take this opportunity to clarify recent statements made which are misleading. Citizens are being led to believe that by having a retired state trooper as sheriff or as a deputy creates an extra burden on the citizens of Garrett County.

It is true that my Chief Deputy and I receive a retirement from the Maryland State Police with associated medical benefits; this retirement enables us to decline the county retirement and medical benefits.

I have checked with the county Administrative Offices and found out that if a Sheriff and Chief Deputy were accepting the total county benefit package it would add an additional $17,257.78 to the county budget.

Remember, you currently have a Sheriff with 37 years police experience and a Chief Deputy with 29 years police experience, at a savings of $17,257.78 to the taxpayers of Garrett County. The alternative would be to spend an additional $17,257.78 and have a Sheriff and Chief Deputy with less experience or no experience at all.

SMOKE SIGNALS

Ratad PG - Running time: 1:28

Probably any film involving the history and culture of Native Americans would have to be tragic in a way, since their history has been tragic since the late 15th century. And Chris Eyre's Smoke Signals does have tragic overtones. But it is a surprisingly lighthearted treatment of the "Indian" psyche, showing many different ways the people have of looking at their collective lot in life in the post-Columbus age.

The story opens on an Idaho reservation in 1976, the year our two protagonists were born. Victor is described as a pillar of fire; Thomas as a pillar of ash. The narration is actually done by Thomas (Evan Adams), now in his 22nd year. He describes a huge fire that broke out in the year of his birth, in his house, where his parents and Victor's were having a party. The two babies were saved, but Thomas's parents perished, anesthetized by alcohol. Thomas was reared by his grandmotber (Monique Mojica), and steeped in the tradition of the spoken word. Thomas loves to tell stories, some of which are true, that all have some meaning--at least to him. Victor (Adam Beach), always silent, has little patience for his talkative co-survivor, feeling that the proper way for an Indian to act is brooding and pensive. "Get stoic," he says. Victor is an angry young man, full of pent-up resentment for his father Arnold (Gary Farmer), who left home for Phoenix when Victor was 12. The events that lead up to his departure are played out in a series of flashbacks, cleverly interlaced with the present story, in which the 12-year-old Victor is played by Cody Lightning, with Thomas played by Simon Baker.

When Victor's mother Arlene (Tantoo Cardinal) learns that her ex-husband has died in Arizona, they decide Victor must go to retrieve his remains, but neither of them have any money. Thomas has saved up some change, and he offers to help Victor fund his trip on one condition: that he take him along. So the two young men embark on a bus trip heading south. When they arrive at Arnold's trailer, they meet Suzy Song (Disney's voice of Pocahontas Irene Bedard), Arnold's apparent last lover, who tells them many stories about Arnold's recent years. Most of the stories involve Arnold telling stories . . . about Victor. Some of them are true, too.

The plot of this movie, on the surface, is inconsequential. But what makes Sherman Alexie's story so enjoyable is the mood it achieves, one completely different from any other film on the market. Somehow, among the small events and the storytelling, we are given a feel of the Native American way of life in the late 20th century. The injustice of history, the scourge of alcohol abuse, and and the pleasure of frybread are woven together and inextricably linked to Victor's relationship with Thomas and with his father. And his journeys, both physical and emotional, are deeply textured and complex. This film almost dares you to decipher all the symbolism.

Smoke Signals is likely to be loved by the Native American peoples, in part because it is the first film ever written, directed, and produced by Indians. But from the standpoint of the general public, it may seem a bit inaccessible. I think that's the whole point, though: The peoples' way of life is inaccessible to everyone else; no one else can really understand. Still, with such an excellent cast and Eyre's quirky, impressionistic directing style, it is a film worth watching for everyone. ★★★★½

RETURN TO PARADISE

Rated: R - Running Time: 1:51

Now (fall and winter) is the time when the Oscar contenders start coming out, and Joseph Ruben's Return To Paradise is the second (after Saving Private Ryan) that I consider to be undoubtedly deserving of Best Picture consideration. Like Ryan, it is as disturbing as it is excellent. It has romance, it has tragedy, cruelty and the deepest love. All carefully crafted by screenwriters Wesley Strick and Bruce Robinson into a beautifully layered study of character and endurance. Anne Heche absolutely shines in this movie, as does Joaquin Phoenix and Vince Vaughn. All are deserving of recognition from the Academy, as is director Ruben.

This is one of those "it could happen to you, and thank God it didn't" movies. It all starts innocently enough, with three guys on an extended vacation to Malaysia. Two of them, "Sheriff" (Vaughn) and Tony (David Conrad) are friends from New York; the third, Lewis (Phoenix), is an environmentalist they met along the way. They're there to have fun, make love to beautiful native women, and smoke the best (and cheapest) hashish they've ever encountered. In fact, the stuff is so cheap, they buy too much. When their money runs out, Sheriff and Tony must return to their reality in New York, but Lewis plans to remain and volunteer on a project to help save abused orangutans.

After two years have passed, Tony and Sheriff have lost contact, Tony is engaged to be married, and Sheriff has an unfulfilling job driving rented limos. One evening, a woman named Beth (Heche) climbs into his car and asks him to drive around. She then informs him that she is a lawyer representing Lewis, who has spent the last two years in a Malaysian prison for drug trafficking. It seems the police discovered him, one man alone with all that excess hash, and convicted him on the spot. He has spent over 700 days and nights in a squalid, reeking prison cell, and is sentenced to hang in eight days. But there is one way out: If Sheriff and Tony agree to return to Malaysia and admit to their part-ownership of the drugs, the three of them would only share a possession charge. They would each have to spend three years in that very same prison. If one of them goes, he'll be in for six. But Lewis would be spared.

So begins an incredible psychological journey, bringing into play every emotion in the spectrum. Beth begins working on the men, trying sweetness and threats, appealing to their valor, always aware of the shrinking time until Lewis's hearing. Sheriff is weighing the fact that his life has been bereft of honor and of meaning, and that he is partly responsible for the chain of events leading up to Lewis's arrest. And Tony is trying to explain to his intended bride why he is considering leaving her for three years (at least). And added to this is the fact that if one goes and the other stays, it's a 6-year sentence. Is it to be all for one, or every man for hunself? The dynamic at work among these three is something to watch.

Lewis is one of the nicest people they had ever met, selfless to the core. But is he worth such a large part of their lives? And what about this prison? Is there torture? Disease? Overcrowding? How do they know they won't all be hanged? Those are the questions Beth tries to answer; she has maintained contact with Malaysian officials, who have apparently agreed that each man would have his own cell and there would be no physical abuse. But even so . . .

The powerful portrayals in this film are rivaled by its powerful story. The plot is so richly detailed that, though it seems a ridiculously simple premise, it is brought to life with horriffic realism. There really isn't much violent footage, but what there is is hard to watch. When Sheriff visits Lewis in prison, and Lewis tries to describe his life of the last two years, knowing that his friend has still not yet agreed to the deal . . . what a scene.

Heche's acting is exquisite. Her character is so multi-faceted; her ability to remain seemingly detached, despite her own personal connection to the case, is astounding. This is one of the most difficult characters I could imagine having to play, and she does it with grit and grace.

I find no flaws in this movie, unless you consider the unpleasant subject matter. Of course, the media is the real villain as usual, but in this case, the scenario is very believable. The four leads turn in some of the best performances I've seen in a long time, and Reynaldo Villalobos's cinema is top-notch. If you love good cinema, do not miss it. But be prepared: it isn't easy. ★★★★★

DEAD MAN ON CAMPUS

Rated R - Running time: 1:36

During the early '90s, many movies and TV shows suffered a great deal because of the "politically correct" phase the industry was going through. Now, as if the pendulum is in full backswing, there seem to be a rash of films intentionally created to go against the PC grain. Such has been the case with recent releases like There's Something About Mary and Bulworth, both of which seemed intended to upset someone, or everyone. And Alan Cohn's hilarious directorial debut, Dead Man On Campus, fits right into that style, too. While some will criticize its casual attitude toward college-style drug and alcohol abuse, Dead Man's humor can't be denied.

This is not to say that the film is without faults. Written by a foursome of newcomers (Anthony Abrams & Adam Larson Broder [story] and Michael Traeger & Mike White), it does have some major plot holes that, if you let them trip you up, can ruin the whole show.

The story is this: Josh Miller (Tom Everett Scott) is starting his freshman year at Daleman College. He's a studious kid; in fact he's there on an academic scholarship, and he must maintain a B average to keep it. He has no money, so if he lets his grades slip, he's out. But Josh's roommate, Scott Cooper (Mark-Paul Gosselaar) is a true party animal. This is the latest of several schools he's been to (he's been kicked out of the rest), and he has no intention of straightening up now. But Cooper knows that his father, the wealthy CEO of a toilet cleaning business, is fed up. If Cooper ruins his last chance, he will be forced to go into biz with his dad. And not in some cushy desk job, either. He'll be in the, er . . . trenches. Josh also meets up with a very attractive and sensible girl, Rachel (Poppy Montgomery), with whom he'd like to build a relationship.

After the boys party a little too hearty and Josh fails a test, he realizes that it's mathematically impossible for him to retain a B in that class. While brooding over a beer, they learn of an obscure clause in the college's bylaws: if a student commits suicide, all his or her roommates will receive straight A's. (See "plot holes" section above.) So after a few brief moments of conscience, Josh is convinced by Cooper that if they find a student who seems to be already suicidal, they can get him to move into their dorm and then "push him over the edge"--psychologically, of course.

After this laborious and ridiculous first section is done with, then the fun really begins. We meet several different characters, each hilarious in his own way, whom Josh and Cooper try to work into their plan. There's a thrill-seeking frat boy (Lochlyn Munro) who spends all his time hanging off high ledges for fun, a paranoid (Randy Pearlstein) who thinks Bill Gates is out to get him, and a supposedly British lead singer in a grunge band (Corey Page) who patterns himself after Kurt Cobain. Needless to say, their plan falls flat every time, and Rachel becomes increasingly suspicious of Josh's emotional stability.

This could really be a terrible film, were it not for the energetic performances of the cast. An MTV production, the film shows the youthful spirit that institution is known for. There's even a cameo appearance by MTV newsman Kurt Loder, as himself. The resolution of the story is as hard to swallow as the promise, but the performances are funny enough to compensate for this. Dead Man will remind any college grad of the fun and freedom of freshman year, and the wide variety of personalities met there. ★★★★

GIVE YOUR TEETH A SPORTING CHANCE

Between 1 and 3 million teeth per year are knocked out from sports related injuries. Not only do the "contact sports" of football and hockey result in trauma, but youth baseball and softball now lead all sports in head and oral injuries. The non-contact sports of basketball and soccer make up nearly 30% of all these injuries.

The main reasons parents give for their child not wearing protective sports mouthguards are that they are uncomfortable, loose fitting, and cause gagging.

Your dentist can custom make a mouthguard, usually within 1 day. This will not only be more comfortable for the athlete, but should also be more protective.

A little help from your dentist can go a long way to ensure that your child is smiling for that trophy at the end of the year.

Thank You

I would like to extend my thanks to ALL my supporters for their hard work and dedication on the behalf of my campaign for Sheriff of Garrett County.

I would have liked to have had the opportunity of meeting and speaking with everyone. Since that was not possible, I would appreciate it if you would consider, now, the following qualifications...

— 19 years with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, including 9 years as Chief Deputy.
— Graduate of Western Maryland Police Training Academy.
— Graduate of the F.B.I. National Academy with studies in police administration
— Certified instructor with Police and Correctional Officer's Training Commission
— Formal training from Drug Enforcement Administration
— Attended Harvard Associates of Police Sciences.
— Formal training in child and sexual abuse.
— Attended numerous other law enforcement schools and conferences.

...and vote HARLAND TICHNELL for SHERIFF on September 15th!

Mishap Reported

Police reported that yesterday at about 12:30 a.m. William S. Caslow, 35, Oakland, was operating a Honda 200M three-wheel all-terrain vehicle on Sangamore Drive off Oakland-Sang Run Road, when the incident occurred.

Caslow was reportedly giving Kimberly A. Leveutic a ride home, when he lost control of the vehicle, which overturned, ejecting both driver and passenger. Southern Rescue Squad transported Caslow and Leveutic to Garrett Memorial Hospital, where they were treated and released.

Caslow was charged with driving while intoxicated, driving under the influence, negligent driving, and operating an unregistered vehicle on a roadway.

DWI

The following arrests for driving while intoxicated were reported by state police: Kenneth Wiley, 29, Accident, Aug. 28; Perry Kamp, 40, Lonaconing, Sept. 5; Thomas Dittmer, 49, McHenry, Sept. 6; and Evan C. Slonaker, McHenry, Sept. 6.

Man Jailed

stopped her Pontiac Sunfire on Maryland Highway just east of Oakland. She was charged with driving while intoxicated, speeding, and passing in a no-passing zone. After signing the charging statement, Heavener was released.

Elect
Wayne Johnson
County Commissioner
Sept. 15

It appears that all candidates for county commissioner has support ive of the same goals: roads, education, jobs, public safety, secure citizens' homes, good housing, and open government. In my brief campaign for commissioner, I have worked very hard to advance and fulfill each of these goals.

Since everyone is in agreement that these are important issues, I would like to remind local voters that I have spent my entire adult life serving the students, parents, and citizens of this same Garrett County. Throughout a career spanning over three decades as an educational professional, I have touched the lives of many children and their families. My contact with students, parents, and co-workers was most gratifying and I am proud of the positive difference I made in these people's lives. My educational career clearly exemplifies my dedication to the communities and county of Garrett County.

I have been involved in many civic groups such as Rotary Club, the Hospice of Garrett County, the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Board of Governors, and many others. Being a member and officer in each of these organizations, I have taken pleasure in assisting many as these organizations continue to maintain such efforts and continue to make a positive difference in the lives of my neighbors and fellow citizens.

With your support and vote for County Commissioner, District 2, on September 15th, I will have the opportunity to continue to serve the citizens of Garrett County.

Thank you very much for your vote and your confidence in my leadership.

There are three leads and numerous small parts for men and women. The rehearsal schedule will be light because the play is a one-act.

People who have busy schedules or people who have a hankering to be involved in a play production should not miss this one. The production of a play is interesting and fun. You meet and get close to new people as well as old friends, and best of all, you have the opportunity to witness first hand the amazing talent and creative ability of Jane Avery and Ben Sincell.

Come and audition! Like jumping into cold water, it seems hard at first, but you get used to it fast and it becomes comfortable and fun. If you have to miss this one the next audition call comes in October for the comedy The Nerd. For more information, call 301-334-5640.

To the Editor:

First of all I'd like to commend the schools of Garrett County for purchasing daily planners for our children to use during the school year. Thank you very much. I believe the planner teaches organization and responsibility, while giving the parents an outlook on their child's day.

This is great, but I don't want to know what time my child went to the bathroom today! This is what you'll see if your child goes to the bathroom while class is in session at Southern High School. Yes, it's their bathroom pass, hall pass, and lunchroom pass. If don't have their planner in their hands when they go to lunch, they will be sent out to retrieve it!

This dirty, germ-infested planner that has been lying on the bathroom floor (maybe they had to prop it against the toilet) or it is quite possible that they would lay it down to wash their hands. Where is a clean place in a bathroom used by hundreds? Why wash your hands, then pick up your dirty planner that's been who knows where?! Can we put these planners under a microscope after a weeks? This should be a school requirement also.

Although this "rule of the planner" being by your child's side at all times had good intention, I feel it will prove to have bad results. What happens when our children start spreading around bacterial infection or possibly e.coli?

Why do we teach healthy habits in a health class, then require them to carry around a health hazard?

Respectfully,
Amanda Louie

To the Editor:

"He who holds no laws in awe, he must perish by the law" — (Byron).

To burn the flag of a patriot is akin to have someone burn the Bible of a Christian or Jew. There may not be a written law against it, but there surely is a moral one.

My friend DeCorsey must be over-indulging to state that burning the flag is a freedom of expression rather than rebellion. Rebellion against authority is rebellion against God, who established it. If burning the flag is not rebellion, then burning crosses by the KKK, burning down L.A., or forming private militia groups isn't either, the degree of the act being determined by the perpetrators of so-called "freedom of expression."

If DeCorsey has bought this sales-pitch of extremism he shouldn't object if the courthouse flag or his campaign posters were burned. (He would be the first to squawk.)

Get the people's opinion, bring on the ballot box. It wouldn't cost any more than he lawmakers spend investigating law-breakers in their own ranks.

Bob Groves

To the Editor:

Several weeks ago I had occasion to travel north to Buffalo, New York on Route 219. Having read and heard about the plans to build or not to build the 219 upgrade, I returned to my home pondering the potential of just such a plan. Here is my report.

The majority of 219 is not unlike our local version. For every mile of dual-lane there are two miles of roads that make our 219 look like I-95. Much of the ground I covered resembled our fair county, and the thought of plowing some four-lane through the middle of it gave me room for pause.

I admit, this reporter is biased, but I find no reason to confirm a belief that this plan will bring the people of Garrett County much, if anything.

With the American road infrastructure very much in question, why would it be prudent to construct yet another road so desperately not needed? Surely you wouldn't put an addition on a house in need of major structural repair. We already can't chew the bite we have! I see no reason to be on the cutting edge of a proposal that could very well fall on its face. "Fools rush in...."

I suggest we bide our time and wait until more cards are played before we bet the farm. Until I am convinced there is a real and active interest all along the route, I will remain against a project that could change forever the beauty and natural wonderfulness this area clings to in the face of an ever-encroaching east coast of here. Be careful what you ask for.

tery of Deep Creek Brewing Company, to sample the beers. A special bonus has been arranged, as Deep Creek Cellars, the new winery in Friendsville, will have its first wines available for tasting.

This festival will feature food from local restaurants. Pizzazz Pizzeria at the Wisp will provide pizza. Smiley's "famous wings" will be available there, and the Kolaty Corner Restaurant will provide Lasagna, Spaghetti, Meatballs, Sausage and Pepper Sandwiches, and Beef Barbecue with the entertainment with some acoustic rock and the popular Bear Bones Band from Virginia singing some serious blues the rest of the day. Exhibits will include planes, train memorabilia, antique automobiles, and Harley-Davidsons.

The younger crowd will have a separate area from the brew tasting that will provide face painting, train rides, and other games for the entire family. Tickets for this area will be sold at the gate at a cost of $5 for adults and $3 for children.

Tickets are now on sale for the Brew Fest at Cheers Wine and Spirits Shop and at Cobblestone Alley. Tickets are $15 in advance and $20 at the door. The Wisp is offering a package deal for those needing a room for the night. The package includes a room, breakfast, and tickets to the festival.

"This promises to be a fantastic day for the entire family and an event that is not to be missed," said an organizer, who added that further information can be found on the web at www.deepcreekbrewing.com.

SAMPLING THE FRUIT OF THE VINE - Visitors to the Deep Creek Cellars Winery for the grand opening last weekend sampled wines and chatted with winery owner Paul Roberts. Those drawing chairs up to the trestle table in the tasting room to sip the red and the white wines came from as nearby as Friendsville and Mill Run and as far away as New Zealand and Norway. "I didn't expect that I would enjoy the retail part of the business as much as I have," Roberts noted, referring to the intriguing conversations shared around the table as the visitors came and went. Sales were brisk, he reported, with repeat business over the weekend. "We sold 100 cases in about six weeks," he said. In the photo above are some of the people who enjoyed tasting a new wine and making new friends last week. One the left are Missy Humberson, foreground, and Terri Grove, both from Garrett County, and on the right are Christie Bayalinger, Pittsburgh, background, and Michelle Boesler, Westminster. Roberts is pictured standing. The winery is located on Frazee Ridge Road, north of Friendsville.

Local Student Volunteer Assists At Rose Terrace

Autumn Dumire, a fifth grade student at Terra Alta Elementary School (W.Va.), is the newest and youngest volunteer at the Rose Terrace Home in Oakland.

Operated by Garrett County Community Action's Area Agency on Aging, Rose Terrace provides personal residential care to senior citizens.

First going to Rose Terrace to visit her grandmother, who is a caregiver there, 10-year-old Autumn soon began to use her time there helping the residents. "She goes for short walks with them and holds their hands. She has a smile and a hug for each of them," said Alice Bell, director of Rose Terrace.

Autumn also assists with some chores at the home. "She is willing to help by setting the tables, vacuuming, taking out trash, and serving ice water," she noted.

When not volunteering her time to help at Rose Terrace, Autumn said she enjoys swimming and listening to music. "When school starts she will be missed, but she promises to come back on weekends, when possible," Bell said.

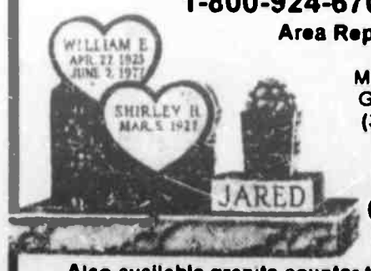
More Marylanders Are Buckling Up, Governor Says

Governor Parris Glendening announced last week that 83% of highway travelers in Maryland are using their seat belts, constituting a 13% increase since this time last year. The jump is reportedly attributed to high-visibility law enforcement efforts and public education initiatives launched when the primary seat belt law took effect on Oct. 1, 1997.

"This 13% increase in seat belt use is excellent news," Glendening said. "Clearly our enforcement and outreach efforts are working. We must continue our drive to make every Maryland citizen understand a simple message: Seat belts save lives."

More people wearing seat belts translates to at least 50 lives saved and the prevention of nearly 2,200 serious and minor injuries per year, according to the governor. Information from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration indicates the 13% increase saves $138 million per year, based on the number of deaths and injuries prevented.

"The trend we have seen during the past year puts Maryland on course to reach our goal of 85% use rate across the state by the year 2000," said David Winstead, transportation secretary for the state.



Maryland results were obtained from observational surveys conducted at over 100 sites across the state. The increase is compared to survey figures from September 1997, just prior to the enactment of Maryland's primary enforcement seat belt law. Maryland State Police officers have issued approximately 61,000 safety belt citations to date, according to the governor's statement.

Why Are Grandparents Grand?

Some words are not taken literally until we ponder them. One of these is grandparents. What does that really mean?

Grandparents are grand parents to their grandchildren. Why? It's their thought pattern. For example, grandchildren are angels who can do no wrong...a little mischievous perhaps, but never bad. Everything the grandchildren do and say is either "precious" or "adorable" and always "cute" or "funny." Parents usually tolerate this thought pattern (which has certainly changed through the years since they had children) because it makes their children happy (and gives them a little space).

Grandparenthood is a state of being in and of itself...the most mature and yet pure and joyous love. They can influence young lives as they tell them of the past and have the time to share their thoughts about the present and the future.

May God bless grandparents everywhere as we worship this Grandparents' Day. They've earned it, for parenthood came first.

FREEDOM FOR ALL?
September 13, 1998

Background Scripture:
Exodus 2:23-25; 5:1-2; 11:1-8; 12:29-32; 15:1,2, 19-21
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 105:37-45

In the 1960's, when many of our citizens were engaged in the struggle to realize the American dream of "liberty and justice for all," I well remember those who could not imagine why Christians would become involved in what they regarded as "a secular matter." "Just preach the gospel." I was admonished, "and leave civil rights and social justice to others!"

A decade or so later, when in various Central and South American countries, Christians, Protestant and Roman Catholic, joined with the oppressed in working and sometimes fighting for freedom, I heard much the same arguments. Quite free to speak his opinion without fear, one man said, "You don't have to be free to be a Christian."

True, one can be in some kind of bondage and still be a follower of Jesus. Slaves, convicts and prisoners of all kinds have found Christ in their bondage and served him well. But, if one is a Christian, the desire for freedom burns ever more brightly and Christian discipleship cannot help but bring us into eventual conflict with totalitarian authority. Often, it is not enough to "give unto Caesar" the things that are Caesar's, for they are usually not content unless they can also possess what belongs to God.

JUST FOR SOME

Too many Americans believe in "liberty and justice," not "for all, but just for some." In Robert Nathen's book, The Enchanted Voyage, he writes: "Liberty, he thought: you've got to be willing to give it to others if you want to have a yourself." None of us are ever truly free if we deny it to others.

Contrary to what many think, I believe "freedom for all" is a spiritual matter. We cannot possibly understand the Old Testament if we think the quest of freedom has little or nothing to do with God. Its pivotal event was and is the Exodus. "And the people of Israel groaned under their bondage, and cried out for help...And God heard their groaning" (3:23,24a). Apparently they did not think that their oppression was not a matter for God. Neither did God.

He not only listened to their cries, he answered their cries with a message for the Pharaoh. (Pharaoh may not have been an evil man per se, just a 'practical politician' who was concerned about the economy!) "Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel," says Moses and Aaron, "Let my people go..." (5:1). The denial of freedom is contrary to the will of God and "Let my people go" has been the rallying cry of the oppressed through the centuries. The Passover is still at the heart of the Jewish faith and Jesus' celebration of the Passover with his disciples is the central sacrament for Christians. How, then, can we say that freedom is not a spiritual matter?

CONTRARY OPINION

Sometimes we assume that freedom is only for the "worthy" (usually those who believe as we do). John Stuart Mill, one of freedom's greatest prophets, said "If all mankind minus one were of one opinion, and only one person were of the contrary opinion, mankind should be no more justified in silencing that one person, than he, if he had the power, would be justified in silencing mankind." If we truly are committed to liberty and we trust in God, why are we so afraid of opinions contrary to ours? Might it be that we do not really trust in God?

God acted in history to obtain the liberty of his people. After their escape from the Egyptians, they knew that it was because of God that they were now free and they gave him the thanks and praise: "I will sing to the Lord, for he has triumphed gloriously... The Lord is my strength and my song, and he has become my salvation..." (15:2).

If we examine the democratic ideal upon which our revolution was founded, we will find undisguised the God who said "Let my people go!"

Maryland Forward Summer Program Concludes Year

Once again this past summer, a number of young people in Garrett County were employed under the Maryland Forward Summer Youth Program. The project was developed by the Western Maryland Consortium and the Board of Education's Maryland's Tomorrow Program.

Through Maryland Forward, which operated under the direction of M. Sue Shockey, the Western Maryland Consortium supervisor, and JoAnn Vent at the Board of Education, students in Garrett County were offered an opportunity for employment with a difference — mentoring and one-on-one supervision on the job. The training was geared toward helping young people learn skills and gain work experience that will enable them to succeed in the workplace.

Harry L. Biggs, of the Garrett County Board of Education and the program's director, coordinated the worksite program and provided remedial help in any area related to Maryland functional testing. He also visited each site and counseled each student worker.

Biggs explained that Maryland Forward, unlike other types of summer youth employment programs, placed the participants with private sector employers. The businesses varied in size, sales volume, number of employees, and types of services and products. Typical positions held by summer workers included sales clerk, custodian, fast foods clerk, car wash attendant, childcare associate, grocery clerk, paint sales associate, and landscaping and plant maintenance worker.

As in past years, upon completion of the program, participants had the opportunity to be considered for continued or future employment. Several employers expressed their intentions of keeping youth workers on the permanent staff, and this component is coordinated with Robin Shaffer, liaison for the Consortium.

Program participants were Jeremy Moyers, Richlana Reedy, Tasha DeWitt, Joey Brown, Tereka Tasker, April Ringer, Jessica Bittinger, Matt Waligorski, Christie Kinser, Rebecca King, and Heather Boyce.

The businesses and supervisors working in partnership with this program included: Puenix Technologies, Accident, Kevin Frazee; Crystal Clean Car Wash, Bel Air, Patrick Browning; and S&S Market of Friendsville, Freda and Vernon Sines.

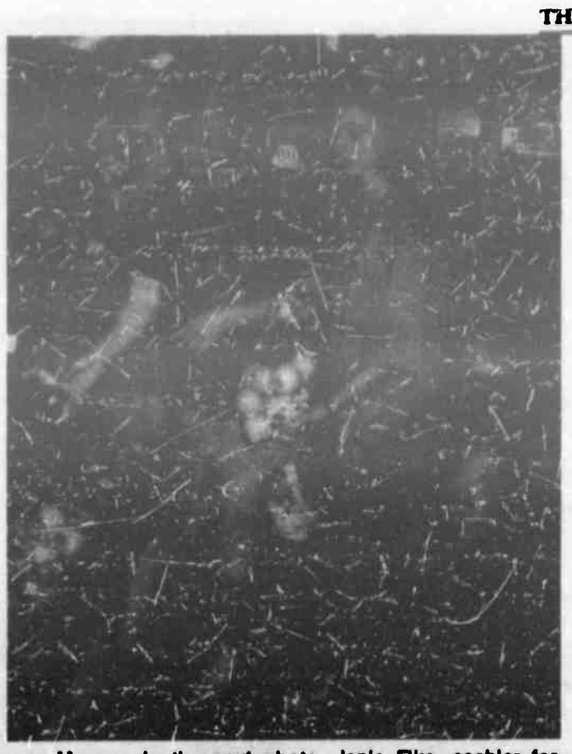
Participating businesses and supervisors for this past summer in the Oakland area were: Garrett's Eden, Brian Branthoover and Don Soukovich; TCI Computer Systems, David Moe and Adelade Savage: Long John Silver's Restaurant, Jason Miller; Arby's, Mike Sloan; A.D. Naylor Company, Don Mason and Moe Miller; Kiddie Korner, Linda Bittinger; Red House School Country Mall, Harold and Karen Upole and Tracy Arnold; and Get N' Go, Kiley and Traci Royce.

Some of the employers had comments on the program's success this year. Traci Royce, owner of Get N' Go, said, "I like this program. We would be interested in participating next year!"

Don Mason, store manager of Naylor's, stated "Matt (Waligorski) has done a great job for us this year. We are considering keeping him on our regular staff."

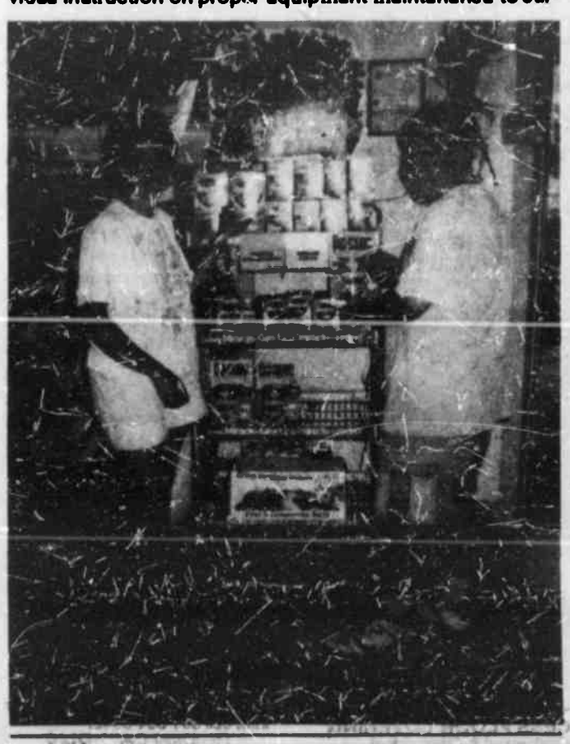
Julie Weaver, sales associate at Garrett's Eden, commented, "Joey (Brown) has worked out very well for us this summer. Don (Soukovich) has given him some extra attention this year, and he has learned to do a number of different tasks. We're all very pleased with Joey's contributions and willingness to learn."

Phenix Technologies production manager Kevin Frazee noted, "Jeremy (Moyers) has done a good job for us these past weeks. He is always willing to try new things."



Patrick Browning, manager of Crystal Clean Car Wash in Bel Air, said, "Richlana (Reedy) has done an outstanding job for us these past two summers. This program has really helped her to prepare for future employment. She will receive very good references from our company regarding the work that she has done for us while part of the Maryland Forward Summer Youth Program."

Karen Upole, owner of Red House School Country Mall, replied, "Becky (King) is so sweet. She has done a great job for us this summer. We would recommend her to future employers as an outstanding young person."



Biggs commented, "Maryland's Tomorrow program in Garrett County focuses on giving support and assistance to students who can benefit from extra motivation, and assisting those students in meeting educational and graduation objectives. The summer's Maryland Forward Program provides a bridge during the summer for these students."

Employers interested in participating in next summer's Maryland Forward Summer Youth Program may contact Robin Shaffer at the Consortium office at 301-334-8136.

Gorman VFD To Celebrate 50 Years Of Service

The Gorman VFD will mark its 50th anniversary with a community celebration on Saturday, Sept. 12, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Several events at the fire hall on Route 560 are planned for the occasion. An open house will offer an opportunity for members of the community to see the department's fire and rescue equipment.

The volunteer firefighters will demonstrate an auto extrication, and present fire prevention and fire saftey tips. Children will be able to meet Smokey Bear, dress in firefighting turn-out gear, squirt water, and get free balloons.

A chicken barbecue dinner will be served, and every 50th person will win a free meal. Door prizes and a 50-50 drawing are also on the agenda.

Everyone is welcome to attend and celebrate 50 years of community service.

Church Street Fair Scheduled

Grace Lutheran Church will hold its annual Street Fair at 251 Maple Street, Friendsville, on Saturday, Sept. 19, beginning at 9 a.m. Ham dinners will be served, with take-outs available. Baked goods and crafts will be available, and there will be a flea market. Anyone wishing to set up their own table may do so by donation only.

GCC Offering Calligraphy

A basic calligraphy course is being offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College. This course will be held at the Oakland Center of GCC beginning October 13. Sessions are scheduled to be held each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon for a total of six sessions.

After learning this art of beautiful handwriting, students may use their skills for poster lettering, writing notes, or addressing cards and invitations.

Students will need a basic calligraphy pen set to use during instruction. For more information, persons may call 301-334-8304.

ROBERT E. WATSON
CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE
Authority, Rita L. Watson, Treasurer

DON'T VOTE WITH THE MARYLAND STATE BAR ASSOCIATION (MSBA)
(AND DON'T BE MISLED BY IT, EITHER!)

·IN JUNE MSBA ADOPTED A BLANKET RESOLUTION ENDORSING ALL SITTING JUDGES IN MARYLAND (CIRCUIT AND APPEALS COURTS)
·THIS IS THE RESOLUTION UPON WHICH MR. SHERBIN BASES ADVERTISING OF HIS ENDORSEMENT BY MSBA.
·MSBA DID NOT INTERVIEW OR INVESTIGATE ANY CANDIDATE. THIS IS THE HAM SANDWICH APPROACH TO ENDORSEMENTS.

MSBA ENDORSES SITTING JUDGES BECAUSE IT ACTIVELY OPPOSES THE ELECTION OF JUDGES BY THE PEOPLE NOT BECAUSE OF THE SUPERIORITY OF ANY PARTICULAR CANDIDATE IN ANY PARTICULAR RACE.
·THE PRESS RELEASE ISSUED BY MSBA ENDORSING MR. SHERBIN WAS A STOCK PRESS RELEASE.
·MR. SHERBIN IS A MEMBER OF MSBA. BOB WATSON IS NOT.

MSBA:

·Is A PRIVATE ORGANIZATION, not affiliated with the state.
·Is DOMINATED BY lawyers from Maryland's METROPOLITAN AREAS.
·Has NO RATIONAL BASIS for the endorsement of any candidate in this election because IT HAS MADE NO INQUIRIES.
·SHOULD NOT INTERPOSE ITSELF into Garrett County elections, especially without complete information.
·Has NOTHING TO DO WITH THE GARRETT COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION, which has not endorsed any candidate for judge.
·BELIEVES THAT ALL JUDGES SHOULD BE APPOINTED and that there should be no elections.
·Is ATTEMPTING to use its endorsements of sitting judges TO UNDERSCORE ITS CONTEMPT FOR THE DEMOCRATIC ELECTION PROCESS and thus for the people of Maryland and of Garrett County.

"...I have not joined the MSBA over these 20 years, despite many solicitations to do so, because I disagree with its agenda and do not want MSBA to speak for me in promoting it..."

NHS CLASS OF '58 REUNITES - Members of the Northern High School Class of 1958 held their 40th class reunion on July 25 at the Avilton Community Building. The evening's event was catered by Avilton Community Association chefs Jo Ann Kamp and Pat Miller, who prepared an "all-you-can-eat" buffet, salad bar, and dessert bar. Music was provided by the Back Up and Push band, led by Ed Rafferty. Those who attended are pictured above. In row one left to right are John Hummel, Wayne McKenzie, Ward Humberson, Ray Beltzel, Wayne Moser, William "Bill" Miller, James Smith, Gary Deniker, and Roger Lohr. In row two are Denny Margroff, Lawrence Fike, Glenn Bittinger, Kenneth Durst, Morris Resh, Jackie Caton, Eleanor Georg, Carol Smith, Helen Frantz, Thelma Emory, Doris Sacco, Jane Green, Eva Lou Harman, Darlene Almon, Donna Rae Selby, Judy Perkins, and Ellee Rabego. In row three are Eileen Snyder, Iva Kathryn Dixon, Eileen Devine, Lester Green, Rendall Herman, Sam Bowmen, Joanne Durst, and Judith Wilson.

Maryland Closes Fiscal Year '98 In The Black

Maryland State Comptroller Robert L. Swann announced that the state closed fiscal year 1998 on June 30, 1998, with an undesignated General Fund balance of $117,096,709. "However, a law enacted by the 1998 Session of the General Assembly requires the governor to appropriate all surplus revenue that exceeds $10 million into the Revenue Stabilization Account of the state's reserve fund," Swann said.

The comptroller said the surplus came primarily from state income taxes, death taxes, lottery revenues, and interest earnings that exceeded estimates, as well as appropriations returned to the General Fund by state agencies. "We continue to see growth in employer withholding tax revenue, which represents the growth in employment, wages, and hours worked," Swann said. "Revenues also benefited from the stock market activity in the past year, which generated significant growth in capital gains income."

Net state income tax revenue totaled $4.42 billion for fiscal year 1998. The net figure does not include the amounts refunded to taxpayers or the local income tax distributed to local governments.

State lottery receipts totaled $361.5 million, while death taxes totaled $127.8 million, and interest on investments amounted to $76.8 million.

Warm winter weather slowed the growth of two large sources of General Fund revenue. Sales and use tax revenue totaled $2.2 billion, $5.8 million less than expected, in part because business utility use was lower during the warmer-than-usual winter months. Business franchise taxes, which are paid by utilities, totaled $178.1 million, $5.6 million less than anticipated, reflecting the impact of lower heating demand on utilities' incomes.

Despite the negative impact of the warmer winter weather on the utilities' portion of sales tax revenue, the consumer sector continued to show growth. Computer sales, particularly in reaction to business efforts to fix the "Year 2000 problem," also remained strong.

"Maryland continues to operate in the black with a solid economy that is providing good incomes for our residents," Swann said.

ACCIDENT HOUSING CORPORATION ANNUAL MEETING DATE SLATED

The annual meeting of the Accident Housing Corporation has changed its meeting date to Monday, Sept 21, 1998, at 7 p.m., at Town View Village, just off the Accident-Friendsville Road in Accident.

The Accident Housing Corporation was formed in June of 1978 to provide retirement housing for the community of Accident. Beginning with 30 members, Accident Housing Corporation broke ground for Town View Village in June of 1980. The first residents moved into the complex on July 1, 1981. In fact, some of the original residents still reside in the facility.

Town View Village offers 20 one-bedroom, one-bath apartments with full kitchens. This complex offers an on-site community room, laundry facilities, and a state-of-the-art security system. There is also a full-time on-site resident manager.

Under the jurisdiction of Farmers Home Administration, Town View Village caters to seniors and handicapped or disabled. The facility also offers one handicapped accessible unit.

Membership dues for the Accident Housing Corporation are only $5.00 per year. AHC is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing quality, affordable housing for Accident and Northern Garrett County. There are currently 35 members involved with Accident Housing Corporation, unpaid individuals who donate their time and energy to benefit the community.

Any individuals interested in becoming involved with the AHC or learning more about the organization are invited to attend the meeting. If you would like to become a member, you may mail your membership fee to: Accident Housing Corporation, P.O. Box 109, Accident, MD 21520.

Local Christian Women's Club Slates Luncheon

The Oakland Christian Women's Club invites local women to attend a luncheon at the Will O' the Wisp Restaurant on September 19 at 11:30 a.m.

The theme for the luncheon will be "Spicey Ideas Mint for You." Homegrown herbs, pottery, and specialty teas will be presented by Sheila Hetrick. The guest musician and speaker will be Doris Ortman of Chambersburg, Pa., who will share her "thymely" insights through years living with MS.

A free nursery is available to children 5 years and younger. Reservations for the luncheon and nursery may be made by contacting Penny Hughes at 301-387-7488 no later than September 17. The cost of the luncheon is $7.50.

Reservations not kept must be honored. Persons are asked to send checks to Gayle Richter, 360 Pergin Farm Road, Oakland, MD 21550.

COVER STORY

O'Brien is five years beyond 'rocky start'

By Suzanne Gill
©TVData Features Syndicate

Conan O'Brien

Late-night talk show host Conan O'Brien is celebrating five years and nearly 1,000 hours on the air.

But even though he's under contract at NBC to do Late Night With Conan O'Brien until 2002, O'Brien suspects no one will ever let him forget how hard it all was in the beginning, when he took over the post-Tonight Show slot from David Letterman.

"I've often thought," he says, "that if I explode an asteroid and save the Earth from annihilation, the headline is going to be, 'Conan saves Earth from asteroid after rocky start.'

"(And the story will say,) 'Conan O'Brien has saved the civilized world from total annihilation, after a rocky start. (Washington Post TV critic) Tom Shales called him a bumbling boob who can't tie his own shoes. Many critics wished he would die. He received a medal from the president.' "

Slightly more serious, he adds, "I'm not a slick professional. Though I wish things had gone smoothly (on the show) from the beginning, that's part of my story now, and I'm sticking with it."

O'Brien has been sticking with it since Sept. 13, 1993, when his only qualifications, other than being handpicked by Saturday Night Live creator Lorne Michaels, were some clever scripts he had written for The Simpsons and improvisational comedy experience. He still doesn't put on a show for every taste, but at such a late hour he doesn't need to.

Viewers who aren't Late Night owls can sample the show in prime time Wednesday, Sept. 16, on NBC. Late Night With Conan O'Brien Fifth Anniversary Special includes many of the host's favorite clips from past shows, as well as some new comedy bits.

"This is an opportunity for our show to be seen by people who are awake and fully alert," he says.

"We want to show people who aren't able to be up (later) what we're doing, and we hope some of them will see it and say, 'Hey, that looked funny. I'm going to start drinking a lot of coffee and watch this program.' "

Along with two or three guest interviews each night, O'Brien and sidekick Andy Richter indulge in racy, off-color or just plain tacky humor. Acknowledging the adolescent larceny in his heart, O'Brien admits many of the jokes are "impossible to defend." It's just that he finds them funny, though he tries not to let a gag wear out its welcome.

"The thing about these shows is that it's every day," he says. "And you're only as good as your last show."

Still, he notes, "no one forces people like us to try these shows. We get paid a lot of money. I reserve my real sympathy for people with a disease."

And after five years, the critics are giving better notices. Recently Shales dubbed O'Brien "modest, wry, self-effacing and demonstrably the most intelligent of the late-night comics" and his band, led by Max Weinberg, "the best in late-night TV."

So, Conan, if you're thinking of saving the world, now might be a very good time.

Joshua Jackson

Q: Did the actor who plays Pacey on Dawson's Creek also play Charlie in the three Mighty Ducks movies? No one else believes me! –Emmalee Harris from Michigan.

A: Then they're just wrong, Emmalee! Yes, before landing his role on Dawson's Creek, Joshua Jackson did the Disney movies you mention.

Q: I recently saw the movie Combat Academy on TV, co-starring Wally Ward. He looks familiar. Has he changed his name, and is he on a sitcom today? –Skeefe via e-mail.

A: Yes to both questions. Since making that 1986 comedy, the actor has gone back to using his real name – Wallace Langham – and currently is playing Josh Kirstie Alley's fussy assistant on NBC's Veronica's Closet. He also played head writer Phil on HBO's The Larry Sanders Show, which ended its run a few months ago.

Q: Greetings from Berlin, Germany! I recently caught Beverly Garland in a repeat of the original Perry Mason series. What is she doing now? Does she still act? –C.B. Keiker via e-mail.

A: Garland does indeed still make occasional acting appearances. She appeared in the 1995 Roger Corman TV movie Hellfire, but more recently she has done guest appearances on such sitcoms as The Simple Life and Ellen.

Not that Garland has to work to support herself. She is married to land developer Fillmore Crank, who built two hotels that bear his wife's name.

Q: I read somewhere that David Duchovny was in Working Girl, but I couldn't find him when I watched the movie on TV. Who did he play? –Jenny Cohen via e-mail.

A: You must have blinked. Duchovny had a tiny role as "Tess' Birthday Party Friend."

Q: My mother says that Paul Reiser used to star in a show with Jamie Lee Curtis that resembled Mad About You. Is she right? –A reader in Mitchell, Ind.

A: No. She's thinking about Anything but Love, the 1989-92 ABC sitcom in which Curtis and comic Richard Lewis played friends and colleagues (and eventually lovers) at a Chicago magazine.

Q: Is Candace Cameron Bure (Full House) related to Kirk Cameron (Growing Pains)? –Stephanie via e-mail.

A: They're siblings.

Q: PLEASE tell me the cast changes for the new season don't include Sam Waterston leaving Law & Order! –Linda via e-mail.

A: Relax. Waterston will, indeed, return this season. Newcomer Angie Harmon joins the cast as Assistant District Attorney Abbie Carmichael.

In Focus

Veteran actress Angela Lansbury is profiled in A&E Network's Biography, airing Sunday, Sept. 13.

Angela Lansbury: A Balancing Act examines her career, which stretches back to National Velvet in 1944. In addition to her dramatic film and TV roles, Lansbury has performed in comedies such as Bedknobs and Broomsticks (airing Wednesday, Sept. 16, on The Disney Channel), narrated documentaries and provided voices for several animated films.

Trivia

Prior to this year's scheduled four-hour Emmy telecast on NBC, the longest Emmy show was 1987's edition on Fox, at three hours, 40 minutes.

Trivia

The only person ever to win Emmy Awards for acting, writing and directing is Alan Alda, who won them all for *M*A*S*H*.

Social Services Counselor Will Present Workshop

Wendy Bauer, family investment counselor at the Garrett County Department of Social Services (DSS), will present the workshop "Social Servicer — How It Works Now" on Thursday, Sept. 17, at 1 p.m. in Room 305 of the Continuing Education Building at GCC. This program is free and open to the public.

At both the state and local level, the Department of Social Services has undergone many changes in the last year, which have impacted the programs offered, participation requirements, services that may be provided, and other departmental functions. Bauer will offer workshop participants the opportunity to learn about the new programs and services and how to access them. The session will include time for questions after her presentation.

Bauer has a degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and has begun course work toward a master's degree in business administration at Frostburg State University. She has 14 years' experience in dealing with social programs for both private citizens and participants in social services programs.

This workshop is sponsored by the New Dimensions, the New Horizons, and The Caring Connection programs of Garrett Community College under the direction of Barbara Frey. For additional information or to register, interested persons may contact Frey at 301-387-3071 or Virginia Jeffrey, intake/counselor specialist for the New Dimensions and The Caring Connection programs, at 301-387-3103.

The New Horizons program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds in the amount of $45,000 are made available to the New Horizons Program through the Division of Career Technology and Adult Learning, which is approximately 89.6% of the total program budget, with GCC contributing an additional $5,200, which is 10.4% of the total budget. The Caring Connection is 100% funded by the Maryland State Department of Education in the amount of $20,000. The New Dimensions Program is 100% funded by the Department of Human Resources.

GUILT WON IN AMI RAFFLE - A Double Wedding Ring quilt, stitched by the Springs (Pa.) Mennonite woman's quilting group, was the prize in a fund-raising raffle held by the Garrett County chapter of the Alliance for the Mentally Ill. Volunteers from the Mountain Top Mental Health Association, Lighthouse, and AMI sold chances on the quilt at the AMI booth at the Garrett County Fair. Ticket purchasers represented 14 states, and the winning ticket was held by Barbara Elliott, McLean, Va. The quilt, which carries the same design on the front and the back, is displayed in the photo above by the winner and her children. From left they are Jim, Barbara, Betsy, and Nick Elliott. The AMI Support Group meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. at Garrett Community College. For more information, persons may call 301-895-5366 or 301-245-4349.

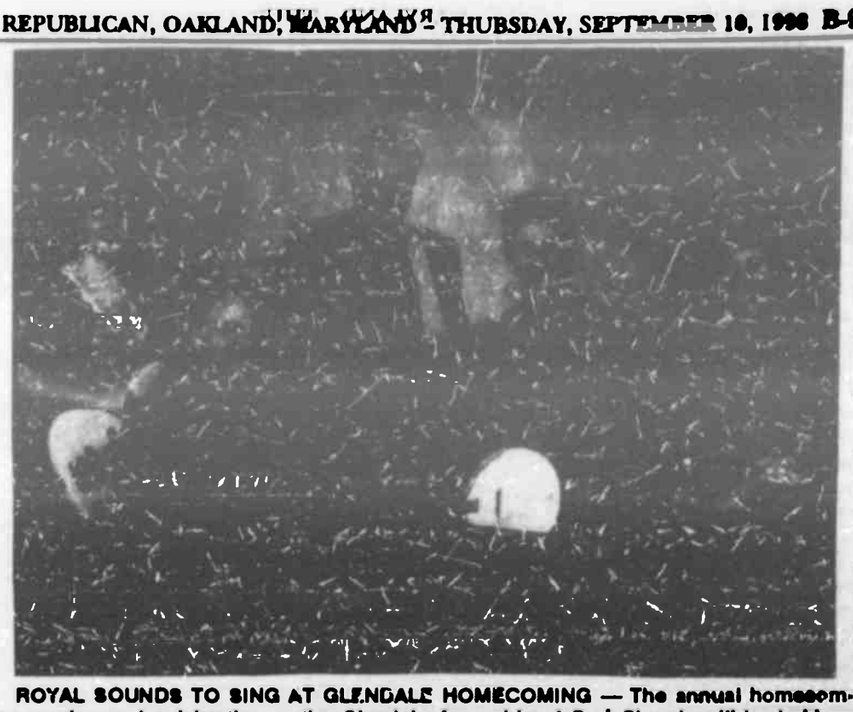
Dance Ensemble "Footworks" To Perform At FSU

Frostburg State University's 1998-99 Cultural Events Series, in celebration of both the centennials of FSU and its sister school in Ireland, Mary Inunaculate College, will present "Footworks Percussive Dance Ensemble" Saturday, Sept. 26, at 8:30 p.m. in the FSU Physical Education Main Arena.



"Footworks," whose appearances with the London-based Riverdance show were met with great acclaim, promises an evening of fast, furious, and highly skillful traditional percussive dance with roots in Irish and Appalachian history. This group has performed in Japan and Canada, and on major stages in the United States, including New York's Lincoln Center and Washington's Wolf Trap and Kennedy Center.

Internationally recognized Irish dancer J.R. Vancheri, who recently finished a tour as dancer and backup lead male dancer with Riverdance, will be the guest artist.

This event, funded in part by the FSU Centennial Committee and the FSU Campus Activities Board, is free and open to the public. For more information, persons may contact 301-687-4411.

The 1998-99 Cultural Events Series is funded in part by the Maryland State Arts Council and is presented in association with WFWM 91.9. Events in the Performing Arts Center are partially sponsored by the PAC.

Persons with disabilities may request accommodations through the ADA Compliance Office, 301-687-4102, TDD 301-687-7955.

ROYAL SOUNDS TO SING AT GLENDALE HOMECOMING — The annual homecoming service and celebration at the Glendale Assembly of God Church will be held on Sunday, Sept. 13, and will feature the music of the Royal Sounds. The services, including Sunday School, will begin at 10 a.m. A covered dish luncheon will follow, and the Royal Sounds will give a concert at 1:30 p.m. The church is located along Glendale Road. Pastor Paul Goldizen invites all to attend the celebration.

Pastor Myers To Lead Services At Asher Glade

Craig Alan Myers, Columbia City, Ind., will preach revival services, September 13-18, at the Asher Glade Church of the Brethren, 13633 Friendsville Road, Friendsville.

Myers is pastor of the Blue River Church of the Brethren, Columbia City. A native of Markleysburg, Pa., he was licensed to the ministry in 1985 and ordained to the ministry at Asher Glade in 1991. He graduated from the Pennsylvania State University in 1985, and received the M.Div. degree from Ashland Theological Seminary in 1990. He was summer pastor at the Laughlin Church of the Brethren near Grantsville and the Dunnings Creek Church of the Brethren, New Paris, Pa.

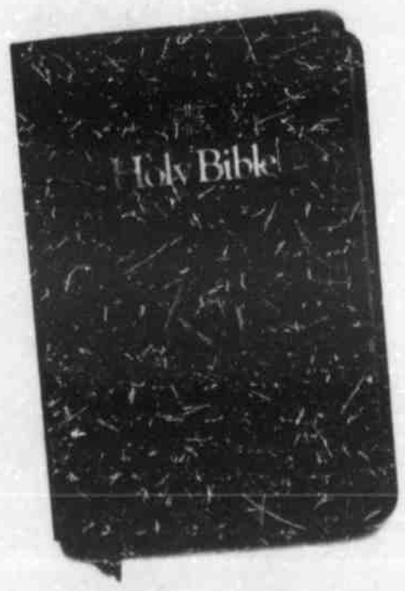
Myers is vice chairman of the Northern Indiana District board, serves on the board of the Brethren Revival Fellowship, and is assistant editor of the Brethren Revival Fellowship Witness. He has taught at the annual Brethren Bible Institute at Elizabethtown College since 1990. He also served on the denomination's Committee on Ministerial Leadership from 1990 to 1996.

He is the son of Fern Myers of Markleysburg, Pa., and the late Fred W. Myers, and most recently spoke at Asher Glade during its centennial celebration in 1995.

Asher Glade Church of the Brethren is located on the Friendsville Road (Rt. 42), seven miles west of Friendsville and 2.5 miles south of Markleysburg, Pa. Sunday services begin with Sunday School at 10 a.m., followed by morning worship at 11 a.m., and all evening services are at 7 p.m. Pastor Samuel G. Moon invites the community to attend these special services.

Funds Offered For Job Skills Training Program

The New Horizon, New Dimensions, and The Caring Connection programs and the Single Parent/Displaced Homemaker and Single Pregnant Women projects of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Continuing Education Division of GCC, will provide tuition assistance for the Employment Skills Training Program to begin September 28 at GCC. Employment Skills Training is a 600-hour, 19-week program designed for the individual who is interested in short-term vocational training in the areas of nursing assistant, small business management, and office skills. Each successful program completer will be awarded a certificate and will be ready to seek gainful employment in his or her chosen field.



Tuition assistance through application for the Pell grant is available for this training. Additional tuition/book costs not covered by Pell may be covered for individuals who meet the eligibility requirements of the New Horizons or its sister programs, New Dimensions and The Caring Connection.

Interested persons may contact the New Horizons office at 301-387-3071 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for further information or to determine eligibility for the programs, or stop by the New Horizons office in the Continuing Education building at GCC in Room 302.

The New Horizons Program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds made available to the program through Career and Technology Education comprise 89% of the total program budget, with GCC contributing 11% of the program budget. The Caring Connection is 100% funded by the Maryland State Department of Education. The New Dimensions program is 100% funded by the Department of Human Resources, Women's Services Division.

WE NEED A SHERIFF...
That Sheriff Would Be
HARLAND TICHNELL
We need a sheriff who is thinking BEYOND a political, four-year term of office.
We need a sheriff who can rebuild the office into a MORE stable, professional, trained, and efficient one.
We need a sheriff who can provide a more VISIBLE law enforcement presence throughout Garrett County.
That sheriff would be someone with 19 years of HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.
That sheriff would be someone with 9 years of experience as Chief Deputy, working closely with the sheriff and AS sheriff in his absence, to provide the citizens of Garrett County with JUST such a sheriff's office.
THAT SHERIFF WOULD BE...

Tent Ministry To Be Offered At Rush Baptist

Rush Baptist Church in Friendsville has announced that it will soon offer new forms of ministry. The congregation has recently acquired a tent that will provide opportunities to hold a variety of services and functions. Among the ones planned for the tent are vacation Bible school classes, youth crusades, revivals, and other church-related events.

The first program to be held in the tent will be a revival that is scheduled to begin September 13 and to continue through September 18. Sunday revival services will start at 11 a.m. Evening services will be held at 7 p.m. each night and will feature music and singing.

The Rev. Kenny Heath, associational missionary for the Western Baptist Association, LaVale, will be the guest speaker. Ministering for more than 12 years, Rev. Health has served several church congregations.

The public is invited to join members of Rush Baptist Church for the revival services in the new tent. The church is located 1985 Old Morgantown Road, west of Friendsville. Persons wishing more information may call Pastor Steven Rose at 301-746-8459 or 301-746-5184.

TROOP 22 TACKLES ROPES - Scouts from Troop 22, sponsored by the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, recently participated in group-building activities at the Meadow Mountain Ropes Course. The Scouts participated in team-building exercises that stressed cooperation and individual effort. The Scouts participated in a number of low and high ropes exercises, some of which were 40 feet above the ground. Troop 22 is planning a number of high adventure activities this fall. For more information on Troop 22 persons may contact scoutmaster Bob Stephens at 301-334-1189. In the photo above in row one left to right are Eric King, Doug Stephens, and Robbie Bowman. In row two are Curt Taylor, Wesley Thomas, Lee Brown, and ropes instructor Tim Murphy. Instructor Ken Welch is in the back. In the photo below Scouts are pictured as they worked together on one of the low ropes elements.

FSU To Host Brass Quintet

The Frostburg State University's 1998-99 Cultural Events Sunday Afternoon Series will present the "Bay Street Brassworks" on Sunday, Sept. 20, at 3 p.m. in the FSU Lane Center Greenhouse.

This brass quintet, under the direction of trumpeter Glen Johnson, has played to rave reviews throughout Maryland. David Kucharski, trumpet, Seung-Hee No, French horn, Darren Bange, trombone, and Nicholas Wallin, tuba, round out the quintet.

For ticket information and reserved seating, persons may contact the FSU Lane Center Information Desk, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at 301-687-4411.

This event is funded in part by the FSU Foundation Inc. The series also acknowledges the Peabody Institute of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore for its support for the performing arts. The 1998-99 Cultural Events Series is funded in part by the Maryland State Arts Council and is presented in association with WFWM 91.9.

Persons with disabilities may request accommodations through the ADA Compliance Office, 301-687-4102, TDD 301-687-7955.

Several Students Complete Career Planning Class

The New Horizons/New Dimensions programs of Garrett Community College recently completed the first in the fall series of five-week, 10-session Career Planning classes taught by Mary Kirkland, intake/counselor specialist with the New Horizons Program of GCC. The class included learning about job hunt strategies, getting to know oneself, what self-esteem means to a non-traditional student returning to classes or to the work world, ways to build self-esteem, what stress is and how to handle it, combining working with family obligations, time and budget management, résumé writing, and job interview techniques.

Several interest tests were administered to participants to determine their career interests. These tests included the Career Assessment Inventory (CAI), the Holland Code Self-Directed Search, and the GATB (General Aptitude Test Battery).

The recent group of students attending the class included: Melinda Elliott, Jodi Frazee, Sarah Kirk, Laureen McCormick, Elizabeth Pritt, and Marcia Simmers.

The next Career Planning Class is scheduled to begin on Monday, Oct. 5, at Garrett Community College, McHenry campus. Anyone interested in enrolling in the Career Planning Class should call New Horizons weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 301-387-3071 or 301-387-3102 for complete information. "The class is a great beginning for a support group and has proven beneficial for re-entry individuals to make career decisions and to enter training in their areas of interest," stated Barbara Frey, program director for New Horizons and New Dimensions.

The New Horizons Program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds in the amount of $45,000 are made available to the program through Career Technology and Adult Learning, which is 90% of the total program budget, with Garrett Community College contributing an additional $5,200, which is 10% of the total budget for New Horizons. The New Dimensions Program is 100% funded by the Department of Human Resources, Community Services Administration, Office of Transitional Services Division, in the amount of $14,998.

Women of the ELCA, Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, held their monthly meeting on September 1.

Devotions opened with the reading of Psalm 146. Leota Baker led a discussion of the topic "Seeing the Poor." Based on Luke's version of the Beatitudes, the lesson emphasized God's promises to the materially poor and hungry, evidence that economic divisions existed in first-century Palestine. The text was compared with the Sermon on the Mount as recorded in the Gospel of Matthew.

The study concluded with the reading of the hymn "Lord, Save Your World."

Judy Stanton presided over the business meeting.

Ten dozen washcloths were received in the washcloth shower for the Lutheran Home in Kane, Pa.

Tribute to the memory of Norman Baker was made through a gift offering for specific ministries. This offering is being forwarded to Women of the ELCA-Churchwide, designated for the crisis program Supporting Children at Risk.

A quantity of invalid gowns have been made from men's shirts.

Q. Can you give me some information on my straight-necked, pint-sized, aqua bottle? On one side, there's an eagle carrying a ribbon above a shield. The words on the other side say, "Dyottville Glass Works, Philada."

A. You have an American Eagle historical flask made between the early 1830s and 1850 at the Dyottville Glass Works in Philadelphia.

Dr. Thomas W. Dyott, a druggist, patent-medicine vendor and physician, purchased the Kensington Glass Works about 1819. By 1833, he had expanded his business and renamed the factory.

Dyott's legal problems forced him out of the Dyottville firm in 1838. The glassworks continued operating until about 1923.

Your flask was made in aqua, olive-yellow, puce and amethyst. The aqua flasks are the most common. Yours is worth about $110. A puce flask in perfect condition recently sold for more than $5,000.

Collectors know the flask as McKearin No. GII-38. The number is a reference from the "American Bottles & Flasks and Their Ancestry" book by Helen McKearin and Kenneth M. Wilson

TIP: "Lead rot" is a disease of lead soldiers and other lead toys. Gray dust forms on the toy, and eventually the toy will disintegrate. It is not contagious, but it often appears on a group of soldiers stored together because it is caused by oxidation brought on by the environment. It seems to appear if lead items are stored in new wooden cases, so use metal cases instead. Old wooden cases that are sealed with latex paint seem safe.

Home Tips

LEAD POISONING – I am writing in response to a Home Tip I saw recently concerning storing cans of tuna in the refrigerator to keep them chilled.

I was brought up to believe that if you put store-bought cans into a refrigerator that causes lead to seep from the can into your food and can give you lead poisoning. Am I wrong in this belief? Please clarify this for me and others who may believe the same. Thank you. Christina N., Lavergne, Tenn.

EDITOR'S NOTE – We checked on this for you. Apperently, when cans were made of tin, this was true. However, in the U.S., cans are no longer made with tin and this is no longer a problem. Do keep in mind, however, we have no such assurances on canned products from other countries, so it's better to be careful with those.

BODY MIST SPRAY – Do you get a lot of body mist spray as gifts? Well, they're great to use as air fresheners. Believe it or not, the scent stays in the air for a good while. Rita S., Smyrna, Tenn.

TOM CRUISE: HIS LIFE, LOVES AND MYSTERIOUS NEW MOVIE

Clad only in an oxford shirt, underpants and socks, Tom Cruise exploded onto movie screens in "Risky Business" in 1983. Engagingly sexy, with perfect Chiclets teeth and a grin to defrost your freezer, Cruise went on to play everything from a fighter pilot ("Top Gun") to a paralyzed war veteran ("Born on the Fourth of July"), a small-time pool hustler ("The Color of Money"), a vampire ("Interview With the Vampire"), a scheming sports agent ("Jerry Maguire") and who-knows-what in his new hush-hush Stanley Kubrick film, "Eyes Wide Shut," opening in 1999.

The cover of October Biography magazine, he's held his own opposite Paul Newman, Dustin Hoffman, Gene Hackman and Jack Nicholson, been nominated twice for an Academy Award, and made five $100-million-plus-grossing movies in a row. Offscreen, he's married to Australian actress Nicole Kidman. The couple adopted Isabella, now 5, and Connor, 3. Cruise became the doting dad he'd never had.

He may be a supernova today but, as a kid, Cruise, skinny and dyslexic, struggled academically and socially. His father constantly moved the family in search of employment and left when Cruise was 11. His mother juggled three jobs while Cruise worked for spending money. When he was 17, his mother remarried. Sidelined from wrestling by an injury, Cruise tried out for Nathan Detroit in the school's production of "Guys and Dolls" and discovered acting.

Without even graduating, Cruise headed for Manhattan and the requisite starving-actor period, which lasted until "Risky Business" brought stardom. Another reward was leading lady Rebecca De Mornay, his first serious girlfriend.

He married his next girlfriend, actress Mimi Rogers. After three years, the union ended in divorce, with Rogers complaining about being eclipsed by Cruise. Soon after, he met and wed Kidman, whom Cruise calls his "soul mate." Says Cruise, "I just do my work, live my life and love my family."

Miss Wolford Married To Mr. Cadotte In April Ceremony

Lisa Kay Wolford and Michael Timothy Cadotte were united in marriage April 4, 1998. The double-ring candlelight ceremony took place at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, Oakland, with pastor Mel Menker and family friend Rev. Earl McCombs of North Augusta, S.C., officiating.

The pianist/organist was Linda Wengerd, and Susan Peterson was flutist. Processional music included Canon in D and Bridal Chorus. Stephen Vajo, brother-in-law of the bride, served as acolyte. Christy Wilson, cousin of the bride, read the scripture from I Corinthians 13. During the playing of Sunrise, Sunset, the mothers of the bride and groom lighted the family candles.

The church was decorated with fresh greens consisting of smilax, sprengeri, tree ferns, and large ivory satin ribbons. Family pews were marked with smilax roping with double ribbon accents.

The bride is the daughter of Jarryl and Betty Wolford, Loch Lynn Heights. The bridegroom is the son of Thomas and Barbara Cadotte, Cumberland.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin, featuring a full skirt with a Venice lace bodice and long medallions flowing onto the natural waist. The gown featured a V-neckline and short cap sleeves. The back waist was enhanced with a pearl and crystal decorated rosette. The hemline ended with a semi-cathedral length train. Her fingertip veil consisted of a narrow Venice pearled tiara with a double short pouf and two layers of pencil-edged illusion.

The bride's jewelry consisted of a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and pearl earrings. She carried the handkerchief that her mother carried on her wedding day. Her bouquet consisted of dendrobium orchids, lavender freesia, stephanotis, and ivy.

Serving as matron of honor for her sister was Tammy Vajo, Sykesville. Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Jennifer Wolford, Columbia. The bridesmaid was Sarah Cotner, Stephens City, Va., cousin of the bride. Wearing identical floor-length gowns of sage matte satin with ivory lace bodices, the attendants carried cascading bouquets of lavender iris, lavender freesia, stephanotis, and ivy.

Serving as best man was John Malach, McLean, Va. Groomsmen were brothers of the groom, David and Kent Cadotte, Cumberland, and Stephen Vajo, Sykesville.

During the playing of Ave Maria, the couple lighted the unity candle from the family candles. The couple presented both mothers with long stem white roses.

Sara Groves, Augusta, W.Va., cousin of the bride, served as guest book attendant, and Andrew Demyan, Beckley, W.Va., and Joey Cotner, Stephens City, Va., cousins of the bride, distributed programs. Katie Demyan, Huttonsville, W.Va., cousin of the bride, served as birdseed attendant.

A buffet reception was held at the Will O' the Wisp on Deep Creek Lake. The three-tiered wedding cake was baked by Alice Wilt. The ivory-colored cake was decorated with sprengeri and dendrobium orchids, lavender freesia, and stephanotis. Serving the cake were Charlotte Thomas, Elkins, W.Va., Judy Cotner, Stephens City, Va., and Sue Demyan, Beckley, W.Va., aunts of the bride. A champagne toast was given to the couple by the best man. The photographer was Doug Buckley and videographer was Debbie Demyan, Huttonsville, W.Va., aunt of the bride.

The bride chose as her going-away outfit a sage suit with ivory accessories and a corsage of dendrobium orchids.

Following a honeymoon cruise in the Caribbean Islands, the couple set up residence in Arlington, Va.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School and Frostburg State University with a bachelor of arts degree in mass communications. She is associated with Cox, Matthew and Associates of Fairfax, Va. Mr. Cadotte is a graduate of Allegany High School, Cumberland, and Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, N.Y. He is associated with the Hecht Company in Arlington, Va.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Cornish Manor, Oakland. The bride was guest of honor at a surprise lingerie shower hosted by her attendants and held at the home of Tammy Vajo. Friends of the bride, Sheila Hetrick and Joanne Whitehair, hosted a shower at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren. The bride's mother's family hosted a family shower at the home of Charlotte Thomas, aunt of the bride, in Elkins, W.Va.

A Message from the Employees of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and the Garrett County Detention Center

We, the employees of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and the Garrett County Detention Center, endorse P.R. "Dick" Sanders for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County.

As we have all worked closely with Sheriff Sanders in the past, we can attest to his ability to lead this department with honesty and integrity into the future. During the period of time that he has served as sheriff, he has made many improvements for the employees and citizens alike.

His opponents have called for the restoration of respect to this department. Obviously, they do not realize that Sheriff Sanders has restored the respect to this office, and he has the confidence and trust of us all and many of our citizens. It is our belief that any other such leadership at this time would be detrimental to this office and the services we provide to our citizens. We fully support Sheriff Sanders and we urge all citizens to exercise their right to vote.

GCC Professor's Art Featured At Windrush Gallery

The public is invited to an artist's reception for local artist Ron Skidmore at the Windrush Gallery in Friendsville on Saturday, Sept. 19, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The reception marks an exhibition of Skidmore's works in several media, including painting pottery, and his popular miniature etchings, that will be on display at the Windrush Gallery through Oct. 4. Refreshments will be served at the artist's reception.

A resident of Garrett County, Skidmore has been the professor of art at Garrett Community College since 1981. His works have been exhibited at a number of shows at galleries, including the Adams Gallery in Washington, D.C., the West Virginia Juried Exhibition in Charleston, W.Va., the Tomlinson Collection, The Rotunda, Baltimore, and the Gallery Next Door and the Frostburg State University Gallery in Frostburg. In 1997 he received the Friend of the Arts award from the Garrett County Arts Council (GCAC). He has been a member of the multi-discipline panel of the Maryland State Arts Council, and has served on the board of directors of the GCAC since 1982 and was the president from 1992 to 1996.

In explaining his artistic vision, Skidmore said, "My primary interest in any subject in art is not the mundane identity of the subject, but rather how it involves space and its relativity to time and place. To me, the composition is visual poetry, or visual chants, or dances. Whether it's music, literature or art, the artist is a composer. My art is not about me, but about other things. If art becomes too personal I feel you lose the ability to mean something to someone else."

RON SKIDMORE'S WORKS AT WINDRUSH - An public showing of the works of local resident and GCC art professor Ron Skidmore will be on display through Oct. 4 at the Windrush Gallery in Friendsville. The public is also invited to meet the artist at a reception scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 19, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Skidmore is shown above with a painting of trees. "I enjoy their wonderful variety," he commented about trees, common subjects of his work. "The awesome designs of nature, the inspiring effects of light, and the harmony of it all."

Windrush Gallery spokesperson Crede Calhoun commented, "Many of Skidmore's works relate to his connection to the natural world and many of its simpler components. His compositions sometimes feature the light and shadow of sunbeams through the trees, a cow in the middle of a country road, or the simple arrangement of a farm and a wetland in his miniature etchings. His works are not based on complicated concepts, but rather seek to connect us to the beauty and composition of the world's elements that are all around us."

A new endeavor recently embarked on by Ron and his wife Lorie is a ceramic studio called Laurel Ridge Pottery. "Pottery to us is a three-dimensional canvas," said Skidmore. "Up on Laurel Ridge Hill we have bears that visit us, and a raccoon that eats the cat food. Some people hunt deer, I like to go hunting with a camera. I like to fish too, and I enjoy admiring the fish then setting it free. I feel it is very important for an artist to have other activities to be involved in so that they have an ability to reflect upon the experience of their own life."

Skidmore's etchings are known as his trademark. The process involves scratching away a protective coating that covers a metal plate. The resulting exposed metal is then etched away by dipping the plate in an acid bath. The resulting grooves or indentations are then inked, and the plate is printed onto a paper. This process is very complicated and often times involves numerous steps and acid treatments to achieve the desired result. "I enjoy the process, and I'm fascinated with the endless possibilities of creating textures in the metal plates," Skidmore commented.

Skidmore holds a B.S. degree in art education, and a master of fine arts degree in printmaking from West Virginia University. In 1996 he was selected for Who's Who Among America's Teachers.

The Windrush Gallery is housed in the historic Leslie Friend home, located riverside at 720 Morris Avenue in Friendsville. Fall gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information or to arrange a visit at other times, interested persons may call Carol or Crede Calhoun at 301-746-4083.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER

Candidate For Mikulski's Seat Visits County

George W. Liebmann, a candidate for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by Barbara Mikulski, visited Garrett County recently to share his views and goals, and explain why he believes that "22 years in Washington for Mikulski is enough."

"Barbara Mikulski has been in Washington for more than two decades and has grown increasingly out of touch with Maryland's needs, particularly the needs of our older cities and suburban areas," the 58-year-old Baltimore attorney said. "As the agent of single-issue advocacy groups, she has opposed efforts to end federal interference with school discipline, to reform welfare and public housing, to preserve the solvency of our social security and medicare systems, and to restore the freedom of action of state and local governments."

Liebmann considers education reform as the primary theme of his campaign. He favors federal vouchers to help families pay private school tuition, he promotes merit pay for teachers, and he advocates local control over classroom discipline.

"I feel outrage at the total effect of federal guidelines and restraints on education policy," he said.

Liebmann, who switched parties from Democrat to Republican about 10 years ago, is a Dartmouth College graduate and holds a law degree from the University of Chicago. He worked as an assistant Maryland attorney general in the late 1960s and later as an executive assistant to then-governor Harry Hughes on energy and environmental matters. He has practiced law for 30 years, first specializing in constitutional litigation and now working primarily in bankruptcy law at his Baltimore firm.

He is the author of four published volumes on Maryland legal procedure and two recently published books on constitutional law and local government. He has been a lecturer at both Johns Hopkins and the University of Maryland law schools, and is a member of numerous boards, foundations, and commissions, including serving as chairman of state study commissions on medical malpractice and antitrust law.

He is a former member of the Army Enlisted Reserve, serving at Ft. Jackson and Ft. Holabird, and subsequently received a direct commission in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate's Corps inactive reserve.

Liebmann is married to the former Anne-Lise Grimstad of Ornes, Norway, and they are the parents of three grown children.

"I believe that this election presents Maryland voters with a clear choice between small-minded politics consisting of a series of offerings to victim groups, and leadership which seeks new mechanisms for addressing domestic problems," Liebmann said. "If the public understands what Senator Mikulski's voting record is and what her positions have been, there is a good chance she will be returned to private life."

Neubert Enrolls At Princeton U.

Eric Neubert, a resident of Grantsville and a 1998 graduate of Northern High School, will attend Princeton University in Princeton, N.J., beginning this fall. Neubert, who was Garrett County's first National Merit Scholar finalist and scholarship winner in several years and the only National Merit Scholar in the three westernmost counties of Maryland this year, had been awarded a four-year, Type 1, full-tuition ROTC scholarship by the U.S. Air Force to use at the school of his choice.

At Princeton, Neubert plans to double major in mechanical and aerospace engineering, and obtain a certificate in international relations from the institution's Woodrow Wilson School. After completion of a career in the Air Force, he hopes to obtain a position as an international representative for an aerospace company, government agency, or consulting firm.

Neubert is the son of Cathy and John Neubert of Grantsville.

New Ambulance Service Provider Opens In County

A new ambulance service is being provided in Garrett County by Garrett Medical Transport, announced owner Jon Zeigler. Two fully staffed Advanced Life Support Ambulances are on call 24 hours per day. The service opened its doors for business on August 3.

"I am very proud of our staff. They were able to make us fully operational in only 31 days. Many who know this industry believed such a feat to be impossible," said Zeigler.

The Garrett Medical Transport staff is headed on the operations side by John E. Nelson, operations manager. Wayne Rounds is the BLS call manager, and Carla Zeigler supervises the office staff. The rest of the GMT staff includes Ralph Lichty, Sean and Cathy McGoldrick, Sam and Christy Moon, Danny Moon, David Moon, Helen Neel, and Linda Welsh.

The ambulances are housed at 222 N. 3rd Street in Oakland temporarily, pending completion of construction of the operations center. The business center is located at 354 Spring Glade Road, Oakland. Anyone needing ambulance transport may call 301-334-7900.

Candidates Back Cigarette Tax; List Published

The list kas been released of candidates who have endorsed the Maryland Children's Initiative proposal to increase the state cigarette tax by $1.50 per pack to reduce teen smoking. The information was announced last week by Vincent DeMarco, executive director of the Maryland Children's Initiative.

Among the 181 candidates for the Maryland Oeaeral Assembly listed who back the proposal are 22 incumbents in the Senate and 52 incumbents in the House of Delegates. Gov. Parris Glendening was the single gubernatorial candidate to endorse the initiative.

Of the candidates supporting the tax action, 178 signed a pledge to back the Md. Children's Initiative legislation, which would phase in the increase in cigarette taxes over a three-year period.

DeMarco noted that this proposal would bring in almost $300 million per year in state revenue. "The Maryland Children's Initiative proposes to earmark a substantial portion of this money for teen smoking reduction and smoking cessation programs, drug and alcohol abuse programs, increased mammography screening," he stated.

The group will also address other child-related issues. "We will also request that the governor use part of the increased revenue to fund in the state budget other pro-child programs, including reducing class sizes in public schools, after-school and day care programs, and community-wide plans that focus on measurable results aud increased opportunity for children," DeMarco concluded.

The Maryland Children's Initiative is a project of Smoke Free Maryland, the Safe and Sound Campaign, the Maryland State Teachers Association, and the Maryland Association of Student Councils.

IN SUPPORT OF

I have known Wendell R. Beitzel since he was just a small boy. My wife, Mary Miller Strauss, and I both taught him in school. Mrs. Strauss taught him in the old Accident Elementary School and I taught him Biology at Northern Junior Senior High School. Wendell was an excellent Biology student, very alert, thorough and conscientious in his studies as well as class projects.

Mrs. Strauss and I were both happy and pleased when Wendell chose to enter Fairmont State College to further his education. He graduated with a BS degree in Biology. Instead of choosing a career in teaching, he accepted a position with the Garrett County Sanitation Department. He advanced rapidly and soon assumed full responsibility for the Garrett County Sanitation Department projects.

Wendell has been a member of the St. Paul's ELCA Lutheran Church in Accident, Maryland, his entire life.

Wendell has served his congregation well, and is still on the church council. He has also been a successful and honest businessman for many years.

Wendell has been, and is still, a responsible and caring father and husband to his wife, Ruth, and to his two children. Wendell has been a resident of Garrett County his entire life.

I personally feel that if Wendell is given an opportunity to serve as a County Commissioner he will perform his responsibilities with fairness, integrity, and honesty.

Respectfully,
Charles F. Strauss, Sr.

NOTICE

The Garrett County Board of Education is required by its own policy and Federal and State Law to annually notify eligible students and parents who have children attending public school of the policy regulating the handling of student records and the information contained within them. Board of Education Policy #474.20 and Procedures 474.21, the "Confidentiality of Student Records Policy," establishes the guidelines that the Garrett County Public Schools employ.

The provisions of this policy are intended to preserve the right of students and parents to have full access to all official records about the students, which are maintained by the Garrett County Public Schools; to have removed from these records any information about the student which is determined to be inaccurate or misleading; to enjoy confidentiality and privacy in regard to the disclosure of information contained in those records to outside agencies; and to provide for efficient records management.

Individual pupil records maintained by teachers or other school personnel under the provisions of this policy are to be confidential in nature, and access to such records may be granted to professionals who are directly involved with the educational process of the individual student in a teaching, guidance/counseling, or consulting situation. Individual student records, with the exception of such records as are designated as permanent, and with such other exceptions as provided by law, should be destroyed when they are no longer able to serve professionals who are directly involved with the educational process of an individual student in a teaching, guidance/counseling, or consulting situation.

Institutions of elementary or secondary education of the Board of Education of Garrett County shall not permit access to, or release of, education records of students, or personally identifiable information contained therein (other than directory information), without the written consent of the parents of the eligible student. Education institutions of Garrett County, however, shall make the cumulative records of a student available to officials of other elementary or secondary schools or another school system in which the student seeks or intends to enroll. The institution of elementary and secondary education of the Board of Education of Garrett County will forward without consent cumulative records on request to a school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

Directory information means the student's name, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, date of attendance, and other similar information. Directory information may be made public without the consent of parents or eligible students. Student records limited to Directory information and student addresses may be made available at the discretion of the principal for legitimate educational purposes, such as post-secondary schools and Armed Services Recruiters, for the purpose of informing eligible students of post high school educational opportunities, to businesses officially recognized by the schools as requiring legitimate contact for purpose of graduation activities, yearbook production, and alumni associations of schools in the organization of class reunions.

The policy goes on to spell out the types of data in a pupil record, the types of student records, and how the records are transferred between schools, individuals, institutions, and agencies.

If access to a student's records is denied by an eligible student or parent, he/she should contact the appropriate school principal. In most cases, there is a charge for copies of student records.

A - I enjoy a good reputation as someone who deals fairly with people. I'm a good listener. As Commissioner, I'll ensure that all of us get the best return possible on our public investment of tax dollars. I'll maintain an open door policy. I'm used to hard work and long hours, and I thrive on long work days. As Commissioner, I'll work tirelessly in the public interest to benefit all the people of Garrett County.

JON THAYER
SWANTON

Bio - Jon Thayer is a retired Naval Officer and healthcare administrator. He is a Garrett County native and a 1964 Southern High graduate. He has completed a B.A. degree and 30 plus hours of graduate study. Jon, his wife Jeanne, and sons, Dan and Evan, live near the Glendale Bridge.

A - Today's circumstances require commissioners who can maintain what we have in Garrett County and enhance it. I have diverse experience dealing with people and industry. I can handle complex issues or those requiring common sense or compassion. I will ask the hard questions and make decisions based on what is best for the county not what gets me re-elected. I do not plan to make commissioner a career, but I do plan to make a

Park Polling Place Moved To Dennett Road

The polling place for Mtn. Lake Park voters has been moved from the now-closed Loch Lynn Elementary School to Dennett Road Elementary School, according to Frederick Sanders, election director for the Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County.

Sanders also noted that, even though the Red House Elementary School building no longer serves as the site for that school, Red House voters will still cast their ballots at the same location.

ERNEST J. GREGG
MTN. LAKE PARK

Bio - Degree in pharmacy from West Virginia University. Successfully completed several business and management seminars from various educational institutions. Successful business person for over 35 years. President of Gregg, Inc. which includes Gregg's Pharmacy and Renaissance Learning Center. Previously served 12 years as a Garrett County Commissioner.

A - During my 12 years as a Commissioner, county government operated free of scandal and unrest. An atmosphere of harmony and trust existed among employees. There was a recognized sense of fiscal accountability with good business practices. Through effective leadership, county government was managed with planning and positive direction. During this period, the tax rate dropped over 14%. I will bring back this kind of leadership. My record speaks for itself.

H. WAYNE WILT
OAKLAND

Bio - As a native of Garrett County, I have served the public in positions of deputy sheriff, supervisor of Maryland Department of Juvenile Services, & bailiff of the Circuit Court. I am presently County Commissioner, which is my only job. I have an AA degree from G.C.C.

A - I feel I am the best candidate because of my experience and history of getting things done. Because of my commitment to good jobs, Simon Pearce, Inc., will be in operation in the Fall, 1998. I am committed to good schools, better roads, good law enforcement, and I supported new laws for public bidding, purchasing and leasing. In addition, I was instrumental in developing new policies in personnel and new finance control. I have supported

ACCIDENT

Bio - Graduated from Northern High School in 1956. Attended the University of Maryland. Served 3 years in the U.S. Army. Worked in management for approximately 30 years. Active in community organizations. Own and operate a beef and crop farm South of Accident.

A - Having served as Commissioner in District 2 for the past year plus I have become familiar with issues facing the county. I feel I am best qualified to continue serving the people of Garrett County for the next four year term. Unfortunately the past term saw two new faces in the Commissioners Office. I feel the knowledge I have acquired would most benefit the citizens of the county at this time.

ACCIDENT

Bio - I was raised on a farm in Garrett County by loving parents. I was educated in Garrett County schools and went on to obtain a master's degree in Business Administration and Management. Since 1981, I have been administrator of Garrett County's Sanitary District in addition to being a successful business owner.

A - As a native of Garrett County, I understand the culture of our people. I have a broader range of education, status and experience in the public and private sector than any other candidate. I have the financial knowledge necessary to balance the budget and reverse the current trend of creating greater debt. I seek this position—not for the job—but view this as an opportunity to serve Garrett County's people in a greater capacity.

DOUGLAS R. RAILEY

Bio - Graduated 1969 Southern High School. Graduated 1970 Lear-Siegler Institute Business School. Employed locally for past 25 years in insurance and financial services business.

A - I feel I am the best candidate due to my ability to recognize the existing problems within the commissioners office and my determination to solve them in a responsible manner. I am an advocate of open and honest government and I am dedicated to economic growth and development through the creation of good paying jobs and community development. I also support the public school system and would work closely with the class room teachers to improve

My strong belief that education is the foundation of any great society. Being retired, I will devote full time to doing my civic duty and will restore meaning to the term public servant. I will work for open government and through the Grace of God we will get the job done together.

Sanders Answers Questions About Primary Ballots

Frederick Sanders election director for the Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County, responded to some questions about next Tuesday's primary elections that have been frequently asked in recent days.

Sanders said that all voters in the county will be permitted to vote for one candidate for county commissioner in each commissioner district. In other words, voters are not restricted to voting just for one commissioner candidate in their own district.

Sanders also said that voters should not try to find on the primary ballot the names of candidates for the Garrett County Board of Education because there were not enough candidates to file to warrant a run-off in the primary. The names of the board candidates will appear on November's general election ballot.

Only registered Democrats and Republicans will be permitted to vote in next Tuesday's primaries. The only set of candidates that is bi-partisan and thus will appear on both the Republican and the Democrat ballots is that for Garrett County circuit court judge, which includes James Sherbin, Jack Turney, and Robert Watson.

In the judge race, if one candidate wins the majority of Democrat votes and the majority of Republican votes, he will be declared the winner of the judge seat. However, if one candidate wins the majority of Democrat votes and another candidate wins the majority of Republican votes, the two will face each other in November's general election to determine the winner.

F. WILLIAM FERRY KITZMILLER

Bio - (26) years law enforcement experience. Past Assistant Chief Deputy - Garrett County Sheriffs Department. Vietnam Veteran - United States Navy. College Degree - Justice Studies. Graduated #1 - Maryland Police Training Academy. Trained Homicide Detective - West Virginia University School of Medicine. FBI Negotiator. Certified Police Training Instructor. Graduated - National Fire Academy - Arson Investigator.

A - Trust is a small word, with a very large meaning. For over 26 years I have served the residents of Garrett County in a law enforcement capacity. I have sougnt and believe gained the trust of the people I serve and have vowed to never betray that trust. If elected, I will use my education and experience to make the Garrett County Sheriffs office the best law enforcement agency in the state.

CHESTER H. SINES OAKLAND

Bio - Garrett county native, Graduate - Southern High School, Associates Degree - Police Science, One Year Psychology, Certified Police Officer, Certified Criminal Code Training, Former Chief of Police, Staff Sergeant E-6, Vietnam Veteran - Purple Heart - Bronze Star W/V Device, Supervisor - Steel Warehouse, President - Vice President - Head Umpire - Coach - Ohio Hot Stove Baseball &

A - My experience, education, maturity, and values make me best able to serve the citizens of Garrett County as sheriff. I will work hard to elaborate on programs that are already working well, and will initiate new programs important to serving citizens better. My areas of focus demonstrate a plan of action. I will always remember that I was entrusted with the position of sheriff by the citizens and will never abuse that trust.

HARLAND TICHNELL FRIENDSVILLE

Bio - 9 of 19 years with Garrett Co. Sheriff's Office, was Chief Deputy, performing Sheriff's duties in his absence. Responsible for selecting, training, scheduling, and supervising all employees. Has written and attained grants for community programs. In 1984, had distinction of graduating from F.B.I. National Academy in Quantico, Virginia.

A - I have wholeheartedly dedicated my career to the citizens of Garrett County. Starting with the Sheriff's Office in 1976, I began working toward my ultimate goal within the office: to become Sheriff! With the experieuce I have attained throughout the years, I believe NOW is the timel The Sheriff's Office is in need of a person who has the experience and dedication to bring honesty and trust back to the citizens of Garrett County.

Bio - Graduated, Iowa Wesleyan College, 1967. Graduated, University of Baltimore School of Law, with honors, 1970. Appointed Deputy State's Attorney for Garrett County, 1975. First elected State's Attorney, 1978; elected to five consecutive terms. Appointed Judge of Garrett County Circuit Court by Governor of Maryland, July 5, 1996.

A - I was the only candidate who applied for Judge in 1996, subjecting myself to personal and professional investigation by the Governor and Maryland State Bar. I received extensive training at Maryland Judicial Institute. I am 53 years old and in excellent health. I enjoy the work and look forward to continuing my service. Most importantly, I care about people and justice. I'm endorsed by the Maryland State Bar Association.

Priorities: Economic Development - have highest unemployment rate in State, need to attract jobs, working on several initiatives. Education. Easier access to health care. Black bears. Deep Creek Lake.

Education: After school care and activities and summer activities are as important to rural areas as urban areas. The State should continue the programs they have plus work with the State Board of Education to see where improvements can be made.

HMOs: Doctors are liable so HMOs should be also. The doctor knows the patient best and should be able to prescribe best treatment. HMOs sometimes don't have doctors giving answers to doctors. If system is abused get rid of abusers.

DeCORSEY E. BOLDEN

Background: My background experiences for this office is 12 tears previously representing the District 1A from 1971-1983. My education was 3 years attending the Univ. of Maryland and serving as a Lt. in the U.S. Navy air corps as a flight instructor.

Transportation: A continuous program of overlay on our State highways. The severe weather conditions takes a tole annually. Funded through the Transportation Trust Fund.

Priorities: The loss of the Bausch and Lomb plant in Garrett County was a mortal blow to our work force, consequently the need for manufacturing jobs is a top priority. Control of the wild black bears causing chaos in our rural community.

Education: The local government should increase the availability of after school activities for the children. Of course the State should help financially with the overseers of these activities.

HMOs: The State should set a standard for medical liability the same as the Hospital Cost Review Committee set standards for the hospital costs.

Along with their daughter Erin they travel thousands of miles annually, crossing denominational lines. For further information, persons may call the church office at 301-334-3667.

Cub Scouts Set Back-To-School Event

Cub Scout Pack 31, sponsored by Oakland Benevolent Protective Order of Elks 2481, will host an informational back-to-school night on Monday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m. at Dennett Road School. Any boy in first through fifth grade is invited to attend to find out more about Cub Scouts and to join the pack.

Pack 31 offers the Tiger Cub program for first graders, Wolf for second graders, Bear for third graders, and Webelos for fourth and fifth graders. Pack meetings are held the third Monday of the month at Dennett Road School.

Among Pack 31's activities slated for the coming year are miniature golf, bowling, swimming, fishing, and trips. The pack also participates in activities sponsored by the Potomac Council, such as camping and a ski night at the Wisp.

For more information about becoming a member of Pack 31 interested persons may call Liz Goldsborough at 301-334-2108 after 5:30 p.m.

Eastern Star Chapter Meets

Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 8 p.m. at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple in Oakland.

Worthy Patron Delmar Sliger called the meeting to order, and all joined in the pledge of allegiance to the flag and singing the national anthem. Worthy Matron Lois Evans opened with a reading titled "The Difference," and then greeted Wilda Hile, Deputy Grand Lecturer of Maryland, past patrons, officers and members of the Oakland Chapter, and two Brothers holding Masonic honors, Ted Raynovich and Delmar Sliger.

The altar was draped in memory of Martha Glotfelty, who served as organist for the chapter for 23 years. Signs and passes were reviewed by the Conductress, Hile, and Worthy Patron Sliger.

Worthy Matron Evans closed the meeting with a reading titled "Gem of the Day," and refreshments were served by Kathleen Stuart.

The next meeting of the Eastern Star will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 15, as the chapter will mark the anniversary of its founding with a covered dish dinner set to begin at 6:30 p.m. The regular meeting will follow at 8 p.m.

HotSpot Outreach Set In Grantsville

Representatives from several Garrett County service offices will be at the Grantsville town hall on Friday, Sept. 11, 1-4 p.m. to answer questions and provide information concerning services and assistance to victims of crime and/or family violence. This is part of the HotSpot Community Outreach program.

The following groups will be represented: the Dove Center, Garrett County Community Action, the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, the Office of Parole and Probation, and the State's Attorney's Office of Garrett County.

4-H Club News

RED HOUSE
by Marcella Moreland

The main topic at the September meeting of the Red House 4-H was the fair. Everyone agreed that this was the best fair ever and we all appreciated the hard work that was done by the Livestock Association on the barns and fairgrounds.

Pledges were led by Ryan Fitzwater and E.J. Upole. Amanda Hinebaugh took roll and read the secretary's report. Cloverbuds and leader Daneille Upole were dismissed to their meeting area. The booth they entered got a participation ribbon and had "Great Job!" written on it. We all enjoyed watching them work on it at the August meeting. Daneille and Amanda Green are doing a great job with our "buds."

Adam Sanders talked about his trip to Upper Chesapeake for the Casting Kids Tournament. He won 4th place and will go to White's Ferry next.

The Livestock Association buyers' dinner was discussed, as was the idea of Cookie Evans making a skirt for around a wagon for the floats. The junior leader Marcella passed out the beef/hog raffle tickets and asked if we were interested in doing the dolls and bears as a club project. We voted to do it and all members are asked to bring a baby outfit to the October meeting. We also voted to have a family dinner for our December meeting, along with our club awards program. Details will be finalized.

Stacey and Michelle Holler and Zachary Rhodes attended "pet day" at the Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home in August. B.J., Zachary, and Travis Sanders want to carry leaves in the Autumn Glory Parade. We decided as a club to have a bake sale during the parade. All members are asked to bake as much as they can.

We all want to thank all our parents for their help at the fair, especially the fathers: Glen Sanders, George Beckman, Jim Brenneman, Chuck Fitzwater, Ron Green, Rodney Hinebaugh, Mike Holler, Tim Skipper, Robert Upole, and Royce Moreland. We could never keep things straight without you "great dads."

The meeting was adjourned by Matthew Fitzwater and Anthony Green.

ROBERT E. WATSON
CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE

PLEDGE:
I pledge the following if elected to the Circuit Court Bench:

1. FAIRNESS: There will be no special justice for anyone, but full consideration of each case without partiality.
2. COMPETENCE: I have regularly handled cases in all areas of the law for 20 years. One candidate in this race has spent virtually his whole career in the criminal law, which is only a small part of what comes before the Circuit Court. Another has been away from the law for five years.
3. EXPERIENCE: I have more current experience than my opponents. All judges start out as lawyers. Sitting on the bench takes no experience, but knowing the law, the rules of evidence and the rules of court takes years. The Circuit Court deals mostly with non-criminal matters, from zoning to family law. I have successfully handled thousands of such cases. The court is the wrong place for on the job training.
4. HONESTY AND INTEGRITY: I will set a proper standard and example in both my personal life and my family life.
5. PROPER COURTROOM DECORUM: The conduct of the Judge in the court and his ability to control the lawyers and the litigants is of the utmost importance. I will conduct the court with firmness and patience.
6. PROPER JUDICIAL TEMPERAMENT: I will be courteous to parties and their attorneys. But a judge cannot try to please everyone. The judge must be firm and remain in control.
7. TO DISCOURAGE REPEAT OFFENDERS. I will take pains to impress upon first offenders what will be the consequences of a repeat offense, and I will follow up to be sure that those consequences are actually applied if there is a repeat offense.
8. TO LISTEN CAREFULLY TO THE EVIDENCE. I will listen to all sides and all parties in each case, INCLUDING THE VICTIMS IN CRIMINAL CASES.
9. TO UPHOLD FAMILY VALUES. I believe that the sanctity of the family is the bedrock of our society. I come from a humble background. My father worked in a butter factory and later on the B&O Railroad. My mother was a farm girl from Carroll County. They had sixth grade educations, but they provided my brother and me with a rich family life.
10. HARD WORK. I am a hard worker and will apply myself to the business of the court with diligence and energy.

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to endorse the candidacy of Dave Beard for Garrett County commissioner.

Dave Beard was a member of the Garrett County Board of Elections Supervisors for nine years. During this time he served one term as president of the board.

Dave never missed a board meeting and attended all state meetings required.

As a former employee of this board, I can attest to his administrative skills and fairness when dealing with office personnel.

We were very fortunate to have Mr. Beard's leadership and dedication on our board.

I would encourage you to join with me and vote for Dave Beard on September 15th.

Sincerely,
Carole Paugh
Retired, Board of Elections Supervisors

To the Editor:

If four years ago someone had promised to implement a system of welfare reform that would result in a 63.9% drop in welfare rolls in Garrett County, no one would have believed it. Yet, that is exactly what has happened, and I would like to thank Senator John Hafer for his support in making this possible.

I am writing because Senator Hafer is a modest man who is uncomfortable with praising himself.

Over the past four years, I have served with Senator Hafer on the Senate Finance Committee. As the chairman of the Welfare Reform Subcommittee, I can testify to Senator Hafer's integral part in the success of Maryland's innovative welfare reform program. As a result of Senator Hafer's support, Marvland's welfare caseload has dropped by 49% since January of 1995. In Garrett County alone, the welfare caseload has been reduced by 63.9%.

Thank you for the opportunity to bring to the attention of the people of Garrett County the remarkable progress our state has made on welfare reform and the important role that Senator Hafer has played in its success.

Sincerely,
Martha G. Madden
State Senator
Howard & Prince George's Counties

To the Editor:

I would like to acknowledge my support for David Beard as the District 1 county commissioner.

I've known Dave to be an honest, hard-working, and dedicated servant in each and every task he has undertaken.

Dave will certainly be a valuable asset to the county residents as a representative of District 1.

Arthur Lake

To the Editor:

Wendell Beitzel has the education, experience, and administrative skills to make him the ideal candidate for county commissioner. He has been the administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District for 17 years and made it the successful and well-organized agency it is today. Wendell has extensive organizational, professional, and managerial skills and has applied the skills to the growth and development of the Sanitary District. He is experienced in preparing annual budgets and fiscal reports. He deals well with the District personnel and has a good relationship with the staff, commission members, and other government agencies.

All of these skills make Wendell the perfect candidate for county commissioner. The county's gain will certainly be the Sanitary District's loss.

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy R. Leuba
Chairperson
Sanitary Commission

To the Editor:

The time to exercise our responsibility and privilege to vote is fast approaching. It is our sincere hope that the citizens of our county will carefully consider the issues and where the candidates stand on them.

We have the highest confidence in the candidate for county commissioner Charlotte Sebold. She has shown, through her service on the Garrett County Board of Education, that she is a committed public servant. She studies the issues thoroughly and is careful to receive public comment before making decisions. She spends a great deal of time preparing for meetings and staying informed about the community.

Clearly, Mrs. Sebold would make a fine county commissioner.

Sincerely,
Mark T. Domenick

To the Editor:

Several months ago I went to a commissioners' meeting, at which time I presented why the commissioners should not donate any monies to non-profit, non-govt. organizations. The money extracted from Garrett County property owners may not, morally, be given out to non-govt. entities. I explained that it was not theirs to give; however, I see they went ahead and gave away more of our funds in spite of the warning. Whether it be to the KKK, the rifle club, the protect the bear club, or to the arts club, the taking of our money and giving it away for non-govt. activities is basically not only stealing, but it, in my opinion, is not within the constitutional parameters of our state or nation.

As a result, the voters should exercise their individual freedom of removing these three commissioners from office. The problem is, however, that while all three men are nice people, none are truly conservative. Most of the candidates running for commissioner are totally unaware of what the meanng of conservativ is, and consequently, will continue to spend as the present ones do.

One of the biggest total taxpayers' waste in recent history is the new promotion center which will run one million dollars, plus cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars each year to maintain. Why is it a total waste? Look at the increase of population in the last 30 years--from 20,000 to 30,000. The lake is crowded and has been. This all came about with a $500 building at lake's edge; and many people working to promote the county—not with extravagant spending! The commissioners have spent over 5 million dollars in the last two years in non-essential spending, because they are not considering any money under a nullion dollars as money. They simply look to "where can we spend more." Our tax rate should be $2.00, instead of $2.59.

Unfortunately, our great town of Oakland is and has been on a spending spree since our good mayor has been in office, and while he is a wonderful person, he too has no concept of how most of us must earn our money. I am in great pain to see such waste and, unless the voter begins to sort out who is conservative, and who isn't, the spending will continue, and get worse. There are several candidates seeking office who fit this mode, but the voter must research, or we will continue to see extravagant spending. In conclusion, I see the same people seeking to wipe out 2,200 acres of our county so they can have another expressway. There are numerous govt. warnings that our nation's bridges on the interstates are in need of repairs and they have no money to repair them. Taxes must be raised to do the repairs. Wake up, voters, before we are spent into insolvency!

A very concerned taxpayer,
Thomas E. Doyle

To the Editor:

I have known Bob Watson for about 16 years, since he became town attorney for Oakland. One of the reasons he was hired was the excellent job he did representing Mtn. Lake Park. He still represents these towns, as well as the Garrett County School Board.

The reason I am working for Bob is based on my years spent on Oakland City Council with Bob as our attorney. We faced one of the most difficult times in Oakland history. The town was under a mandate to construct a sewer system, the state had sued the town, and we had major problems with both state funding and one of the contractors who was to complete the project. These things could have bankrupted Oakland. Bob's service to the town was invaluable.

Oakland faced many other challenges during that time. Bob never attempted to express his political or philosophical opinions on the issues. He gave us our legal options and always did an excellent job representing the town.

If Bob is elected he will take a significant pay cut. He is motivated by civic spirit, dedicated to excellence, and has the courage and conviction to be an excellent judge.

Sincerely,
Terry Helbig

HONESTY AND INTEGRITY

Honesty and integrity are assentials on the bench. One who is elected to sit in judgment of others should do so from a position of complete personal integrity and must have earned the respect of both the Bar and the public. I am proud of my life, my career, my wife and my children.

I have made no promises or commitments to anyone during this campaign and will make none. Those who have supported me in this grass-roots effort have done so from commuity commitment only. They know there is nothing to gain but a better justice system.

Corruption is something I have always hated and fought against, whether in government or in private life. Honesty is more than not getting in trouble. It is standing up for what you believe; having the courage to speak out on important issues forthrightly and being willing to take action when you know something is wrong.

I have tried to conduct my law practice honorably. I have turned down dozens of criminal cases during my career. I have always refused to fight a custody case unless I was convinced it was the right thing for the child. It has been my practice to settle cases where a fair settlement was possible, advising my clients to save themselves the pain and expense of a trial, when possible, by throwing in the projected attorney's fees (except where matter of principle dictated otherwise). I have always done my best in representing my clients when there was no other choice but litigation.

I pledge honesty and integrity from the Circuit Court Bench.

September is Habitat For Humanity Month!
This is a great time to join the CARPENTER'S CLUB!!

HABITAT HOUSES ARE:

•1,040 square feet in size •Built with volunteer labor
•"A hand up, not a handout" •Owned by families who can afford the mortgage, taxes, insurance, and utilities using no more than one third of their income and have contributed 500 hours of sweat equity.

All are built on a solid foundation of community support, including:
•Volunteer Workers
•Businesses
•Churches and civic clubs which provide meals and lodging
•Financial support from generous, committed individuals

The CARPENTER'S CLUB is a special way for you to support Habitat. Each square foot of living space costs $46.00, and Carpenter's Club members pledge to cover the cost of that one square foot in every house we build. Traditionally, Habitat builds two houses each year, so that the biggest commitment a member has is $92.00 a year. When we have reached our goal of 1,000 members, the biggest stumbling block Habitat faces—the start-up cost for each home, will be conquered.

PLEASE JOIN THE CARPENTER'S CLUB
by returning the pledge card below with your check for $92.00 made out to Garrett County Habitat for Humanity. Hereafter, you will be informed each time Habitat is about to break ground on a new home to remind you of your pledge.

The Board of Directors and fellow Carpenter's Club members thank you for considering this opportunity.

Kenton Bender, Ida Maust, Cosette Harman, Bob Huebner, Pam Trydahl, Skip Case, Art Naylor, Ann Hill, Judy Finkel, Rich Trydahl, Frank Custer, Virginia Grove, Ed Hill, Marilyn Regentin, Duane Yoder

*Some members of the Carpenter's Club want to commit to 2 or more square feet of living space for each home. We invite you to join at the level that works best for you.

To the Editor:

It has often been thought that we live in a democratic republic. This is becoming a very common misconception, when in reality we have the beginnings of a socialist state. One of which begins with your property rights. Do you realize if you own in Garrett County, let's say several acres, and you want to sell or let your children have part of it, but not all of the acreage, you cannot do this without permission of the County Planning and Zoning Board? This I found out when I attempted to sell 15 acres of land to my cousin. I feel that if we own the property and pay our taxes, which are rather high, we should at least have the right to do with it as we see fit, not as our politicians impose on us.

When I inquired about this regulation, I was told that the state of Maryland enacted this law in 1972, though not enforced in Garrett County until July 1997. What I would like to know is how our elected officials could even conceivably enact such a rule that is undeniably against the citizens and the Constitution of this county, state, and nation. It is not too late to change the rules, as every four years we can elect new officials to help in returning the government to the people to whom it belongs.

Do we really need such laws to force us to do, as a select few want us to? I think not! Present Commissioner Wayne Wilt voted against this ordinance when it came up several years ago. He felt at that time it was taking advantage of the people of this county. It also needs to be known that the Realty Board of Garrett County knew about this law, but for some reason known but to them, it was not published. In my personal opinion we were intentionally kept in the dark.

What I do know is that last year some property was subdivided and then redivided by the realtor and there did not seem to be any problem. This leads me to believe that some laws and rules were put in place to aid a few, to make terrific gain at the expense of us, the property owners. I feel that bodies of people with conflicting interest have no place in government, as they take away from the people. In other words, let's keep business out of government as they only act in their own interest and not necessarily those of the people. I know we need to have regulations; but do we need them when they reflect our private lives? We need to speak out as citizens and say enough, it is time to stop our leaders from putting us in a socialist society. This is surely where we seem to be heading.

If elected to office this is just an example of things that with you, the people's backing, I would change. I would also hold meetings on weekends or in the evenings when I know people could attend. This I would do even if I was the only elected official to show up.

Thank you,
Clyde E. Hetrick

To the Editor:

Here in Garrett County, we are not always given the same serious attention by our state government as is paid to other counties. Recognizing this, we have to be careful in looking after our own interests. This is especially true in county election matters where a very few votes can become a deciding factor.

While all elections are important, of less obvious consequence is our selection of a new circuit court judge. This is a position that requires a keen understanding of the law, plus good judgment and fairness in its application. It is important that the person we elect have a good sense of and belief in the character and moral values of our community. In addition, the length of the county circuit judge's term of office is significant because of its extreme length — 15 years.

Some years ago, former judge Jack Turney resigned his appointed position as District Court judge before completing his full term and has now chosen to run for a term as circuit court judge. A difficulty here is that, if elected, he could only serve a little over three years before reaching the maximum age limit for the office. The law requires a mandatory retirement at age 70. Because this would result in an unfulfilled term, the next governor would appoint a replacement. This would mean that, once again, the final selection would be out of the hands of the voters of Garrett County.

A somewhat similar situation occurred recently when Judge Thayer retired. The governor's replacement, Mr. Sherbin, was at that time serving in our courthouse as state's attorney. To those of us disgusted with the scope of the investigation over the misuse of county funds uncovered at the time, this was a questionable choice. As it turned out, it was only through the efforts of two private citizens that the matter was pursued and justice allowed to prevail. This is not the way government is supposed to work.

All of this gets back to my original point that we must take every opportunity to safeguard the standards of our local affairs. Everyone's vote is important and we should exercise this right.

Howard Bailie
Deer Park

To the Editor:

The Maryland State Bar Association (MSBA), through its board of governors, has endorsed the Honorable James L. Sherbin for election to Garrett County's Circuit Court bench. As president of the MSBA, I wish to respond to certain matters which have appeared in The Republican in what looks like paid political advertisements pertaining to the pending judicial election in Garrett County.

The MSBA is a voluntary professional organization comprising over 18,000 of Maryland's 27,000 attorneys and judges, with membership and representation throughout our state. At last count, 23 of the 28 attorneys and judges currently with principal offices in Garrett County are MSBA members. Furthermore, we make regular requests to all attorneys and judges in Maryland who are not members to join and participate in our Association.

Before commenting on the endorsement process, I should note that I have known Judge Sherbin for 30 years, having attended law school at the same time and having served on the Association's board of governors together before Judge Sherbin was appointed to the bench. As it happens, I am a taxpayer in Garrett County, but my residence is in Carroll County, and my law practice, as it has always been in the past 28 years, is at Westminster in Carroll County. It should be made clear that this letter is written by me as president of, and on behalf of, the Maryland State Bar Association and on its behalf alone...to set the record straight.

The MSBA has consistently over the years supported the movement to change Maryland's circuit court judicial elections from its current "contested election" format to a "retention election" in which the public would vote to retain or terminate a sitting judge. Recognizing that no system is without imperfection, our statewide board has taken the position that the intense scrutiny of Maryland's judicial nominating and appointment process provides a means of insuring that those appointed to the bench will come from a pool of candidates who are most likely reflective of the character, integrity, experience, and temperament which the public expects and deserves. Judge Sherbin (then state's attorney), as an eligible and potential candidate for appointment from Garrett County, subjected himself to that intense scrutiny, was judged "most fully and professionally qualified," and was subsequently appointed.

Consistent with our belief in "retention elections," the Association supports the principle of endorsing "sitting judges" in any contested judicial election. That is not to say that the board of governors could not choose to withhold an endorsement; however, in the current Garrett County election, the board (which has representation from the western counties of Maryland) unanimously voted to endorse Judge Sherbin, a sitting judge, for election.

Very truly yours,
Charles M. Preston
President
MSBA

To the Editor:

It seems everywhere you look today some Maryland state agency is pushing more emphasis on tourism to solve all Garrett County's economic problems. This concerns me more as the state plans to buy Deep Creek Lake. Will we still be Maryland's best kept secret? I remember an old saying, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket." The hospitality basket is one of the first emptied if the economy skips a beat. Hospitality jobs also are at the bottom of the ladder and stay there with minimum wages, no benefits and seasonal work. Too many of our young people who were raised here have to move away to get a good enough job to raise their own families.

I feel that as we are pushed into being the leisure capital of Maryland we will become a tremendous magnet for leisure crime. I know we already have increasing drug, etc., problems on a small-time scale. Are we becoming ripe for the picking by big-time sophisticated criminals?

We as county residents are at a crossroads with the upcoming election. For the first time in 30 years, we have a choice to elect a circuit court judge. We won't have another chance in a contested election for 15 years. We have three candidates this September 15 from which to choose: One, if elected, who would have to retire in just a few years at the mandatory retirement age of 70 and one who was appointed judge to complete an unexpired term and is an amiable man.

However, we also have another candidate — Bob Watson — who has been practicing law here for 20 years. He moved to Garrett County from Howard County, where he witnessed a quiet rural community get swallowed up by big-time development. He also has a young family in our public schools system. We need a circuit court judge with the highest stakes at risk who has seen the other side of the mountain and has the intelligence to deal with outside crime and their armada of big-time lawyers.

E. Marshall Stacy

To the Editor:

As a registered voter in Garrett County, I have some questions that I would like to direct to a few of the candidates for sheriff. Before voting in the upcoming primary election, I want to make myself a more informed voter.

My first question is addressed to Mr. Chester Sinea, who is running as a Republican for the post. My question is, Mr. Sinea, in your latest "Issue and Point," you state that taxpayers are being cheated by the current administration's use of unmarked cars and that you, if elected, would have no more then one unmarked vehicle. Mr. Sines, how would this be feasible? What about detectives who may be working "undercover"? The Sheriff's Office currently has two detectives that I'm aware of. Would your policy be to give one of them an unmarked car and one a horse? Admittedly marked cars deter crime. But, isn't it also an undeniable fact that unmarked cars are inconspicuous and aid in the conduction of investigations?

My second question to a candidate for sheriff goes to Mr. Dave Martin, Democratic candidate for the post. I have heard Mr. Martin say, "You don't need experience in law enforcement to be sheriff." While this is true because it is an elected position, this statement is troublesome. While Mr. Martin has stated that he has taken criminal justice courses at GCC, my concern is, I have a bachelor of science degree in criminal justice and would not view myself as qualified for this position. Regarding the idea of having no experience in law enforcement and still feeling qualified to be the chief law enforcer of the county is also troublesome. My concern would be in comparison, would a voter want a judge with no experience in law to decide their fate? I know that I certainly would not.

I would appreciate a response from these candidates via the paper before the primary election so that I may be a more informed voter.

WHY?

My purpose is to state why Robert (Bob) E. Watson should be elected Judge of the Circuit Court in the forthcoming election. It goes without saying Bob is a man of impeccable character and, very important, he is a man who cares. He cares about the little people in this County-a man who is not political and will not stand by for injustice committed at any level. In as few words as possible, the following substantiates WHY Bob should be elected:

Back in December 1993 I accumulated evidence indicating our county government was not complying with the law for procurement of road equipment-a case in point was the procurement of $1.5 million worth of heavy road equipment. In accordance with the Freedom of Information Act, I requested that the County Commissioners furnish information on the procurement. They refused to comply with the Act.

I then presented the evidence I had accumulated to the Garrett County State's Attorney and to the Maryland State Prosecutor. They listened, but refrained from taking any action.

As a final resort, I went to Attorney Bob Watson. Bob listened, investigated, and filed a court case against the county to obtain the requested procurement information. While all of the requested information was never received, he concluded that there was sufficient evidence to prove that the equipment had been purchased without the County following the required bidding procedure. A Court case was then filed by Bob for the illegal County procurement.

At the time Mr. Robert Fousek was instrumental in carrying out the affairs of the County. He carried multiple County titles, including County Clerk, County Roads Administrator, and County Finance Officer. As County Roads Administrator he was responsible for procurement of road equipment. In the course of events that followed, it appeared he had convinced the Commissioners of no wrong doing. Consequently, several attempts to settle out of court failed.

Notwithstanding, when the time arrived to go to Court the Commissioners apparently realized they were not going to win and they would have to return the illegally procured equipment. They then agreed to settle out of Court. As a part of the settlement Mr. Fousek was to become a "retired" County employee.

Shortly thereafter, it was learned that Mr. Fousek would "retire" but would stay on as a County employee in a somewhat undefined capacity. I felt we had been betrayed. Bob then began an intensive investigation on his own, without any compensation. His investigation revealed questionable illegal activities by Mr. Fousek, including an outrageous amount of money that had been paid by Mr. Fousek (as County Finance Officer) to none other but himself. In a series of letters written by Bob, his findings were published in The Republican and other news media. His printed findings shocked me and virtually every person in the County. Throughout all of the discoveries made by Bob, and later by Bob and Mayor Charles Tressler, acting together, and even with the public outcry which ensued, those with the power to prosecute failed to take any action.

After reading the letters, former Senator John Bambacus called Bob to express his outrage at the things going on in the County and to ask why the State's Attorney had not taken action. He stated that he would call the State's Attorney and demand action, telling him that "his judgeship was in danger" if he did not take action. (At that time Senator Bambacus was supporting the temporary appointment of the State's Attorney as Circuit Court Judge, pending the forthcoming election).

Finally, after waiting two years, the State's Attorney issued a press release stating he would request an investigation by the Maryland State Prosecutor. The State Prosecutor convened a Grand Jury and Mr. Fousek was prosecuted, found guilty, and sentenced for his wrong doing.

The end result of all of this is that we now have a much improved reorganized County government. A government now accountable to the public and responsive to requests for information, and with a more revealing budget process, a better procurement law, etc. This we owe to the care and perseverance of Bob Watson. This is the kind of man we want to serve as our Circuit Court Judge. Vote for Bob Watson.

RIBBON CUTTING MARKS OPENING - First Peoples Community Federal Credit Union's grand opening in the Grantsville Plaza was recognized by members of its board of directors, along with state and local officials, who conducted a ribbon cutting ceremony last week. A member-owned not-for-profit financial cooperative, First Peoples has served its members since 1960. Previously, membership was open to persons who lived or worked in Allegany County or in Mineral County (W.Va.)., and who did not have primary eligibility to another credit union. Early in 1998, the National Credit Union Administration expanded First Peoples charter to include anyone who lives or works in Garrett County. Membership is also available to all family members, as well as employee groups and associations of any size. "We are pleased to be part of the Grantsville Community," said First Peoples' board president Paul C. Herring. Among those participating in the opening event were Garrett County commissioners, members of the credit union board of directors, and office staff. In the photo above in the first row from left to right are commissioner Gary Fratz, chairman of the board of directors Berlin Collette, director of the board Marlon Leonard, vice chairman Kenneth Witmer, and secretary John A. Korpela. In row two are commissioner Wayne Johnson, Grantsville mayor Fred Holliday, Sen. John Hafer, and president/treasurer of the board Paul C. Herring. In row three are commissioner Wayne Wilt, office manager Bill Clark, and Del. George Edwards. In the photo below is Clark with tellers Krista Stekem, Misty Kamp, and Melissa Antal.

EEEP Openings Noted At Three School Sites

The Extended Elementary Education Program (EEEP) in Garrett County has immediate openings for 4-year-old children at Accident, Friendsville, and Route 40 schools.

EEEP offers an all-day pre-kindergarten program, funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and available to Garrett County residents. Families may apply to a school which is outside the area in which the child resides. However, in such cases, transportation must be provided by the family.

Anyone interested in the EEEP openings may get more information by calling any one of the following principals: Accident Elementary School, Sandy Nesbine, 301-746-8867, Friendsville Elementary, Douglas Gaither, 301-746-5100; or Route 40 Elementary, Patrick Duleney, 301-689-6132.

Smith's Time In Jail Lengthened By Four Years

Judge James Sherbin handed down a four-year jail term last week to David A. Smith, 32, who has faced numerous charges in the past several months. Smith, formerly of Oakland and currently an inmate in the local jail, had entered a plea of guilty to the charge of fourth degree sex offense in proceedings last month, and the judge deferred sentencing until the receipt of related guidelines, according to the court report.

The charge was incurred by Smith after a Garrett County Sheriff's Office investigation revealed that he had apparently forced a teenage girl to have sexual relations with him in the spring of 1997. She was reportedly babysitting in his home at the time of the incident. Charges of second degree rape and fourth degree sex offense were dismissed by the state's attorney after Smith entered the guilty plea.

In another Smith case, a charge of second degree rape and other related charges were dismissed after the victim in the case requested that the state's attorney, Lisa Thayer Welch, not pursue the matter. Welch said the state reviewed the case and decided to accommodate the victim, who has since moved from the area. Welch also noted that the events were alleged to have occurred in 1992.

In another ruling, Sherbin sent a Mtn. Lake Park woman to jail for one year. Sandra L. Craver, 29, was convicted of possession of marijuana with intent to distribute. She had entered a guilty plea to the charge in July and Sherbin had ordered a pre-sentence investigation at that time.

Craver was charged by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force in May after quantities of marijuana were found in her home during the execution of a search warrant.

An Oakland man was given probation before judgement (PBJ) for a third degree sex offense charge. Dennis E. Knotts, 24, had earlier entered a guilty plea to the violation, and Judge Fred Thayer had withheld sentencing until the completion of treatment and therapy for the defendant.

In addition to the PBJ, he was also placed on unsupervised probation for one year. The defendant was charged after officials learned he had engaged in an ongoing sexual relationship with a 14-year-old girl, apparently with the knowledge of the teenager's parents.

Oakland Visit Of Bloodmobile Nets 108 Units

The American Red Cross bloodmobile visited the Oakland Elks Lodge on Friday, Aug. 21, and collected a total of 108 units of blood from 114 would-be donors.

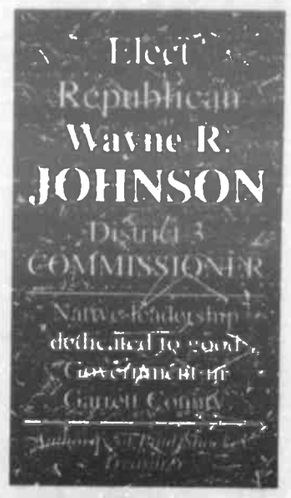
Reaching the seven-gallon level at the visit was Janice Tackett, Aurora, W.Va., while Carl Rebele, Deep Creek Lake, hit the four-gallon level and Jack Cavalier, Oakland, reached three gallons. Attaining the one-gallon mark were Ada Peachy and Cheryl Skipper, both of Oakland, and Dale E. Harvey, Swanton. Andrew Crowe, Eglon, donated for the first time.

Local volunteers who assisted with the visit in various capacities were. Rosalie Baker, Artie Dixon, Elizabeth Huxford, Barb Sweitzer, Anne Forrester, Russ McConnell, Jonathan Wildesen, D.J. Dimick, Junior Ferguson, Jean McConnell, Josh Rodeheaver, and Mary Rodeheaver. Elizabeth Huxford serves as the volunteer bloodmobile chairperson.

Canteen donations were provided by Junior Ferguson, Taste Unlimited, and Cumberland Coca-Cola Company.

The next Oakland visit of the bloodmobile is slated for Friday, Oct. 23, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the parish hall of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Fourth and Oak streets.

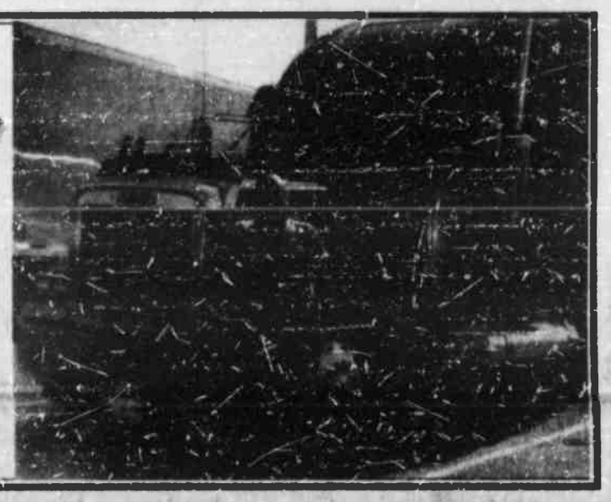
Moe Running For Seat On Republican Central Committee



David Moe is a candidate for the Republican Central Committee and will be among those listed on the Sept. 15 primary ballot.

The candidate is the operator of TCI Computer Systems, located in downtown Oakland. His business has been in operation since 1986, serving business and personal computer users throughout the tri-state region.

He is president of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Garrett County Private Industry Council, a member of the Garrett County Economic Development Corporation, and member and past president of the Oakland Rotary Club.



In addition to these organizations, he has been active in community affairs, assisting in the organization of the Garrett Cooperative Ministries. He serves as the vice president. The ministry recently established a non-profit charity thrift store, Christian Crossings, located in Loch Lynn.

He is married to Linda J. Moe, director of the Garrett County Home Health Agency of the county health department.

Let's Dream Again!

One morning, while having breakfast with my family, my daughter Tori told us of a dream she'd had the night before. As she recounted her dream to us she stated, "It was really a wonderful dream and I was in a beautiful place, but I just can't remember all of the details or what eventually happened in it."

Upon hearing this, my other daughter, Trista, stated quite simply, "Well, that's not a problem — when you go to bed tonight just dream again."

Since that morning, I've thought a lot about that statement and realized that in a way it is an analogy of Garrett County. We live in this beautiful county, whether by birth or by choice, with its wonderful people and community spirit of caring individuals and organizations. We all have hopes and dreams of succeeding in life and achieving our goals through honest, hard work and enterprise. But somehow, our dreams now seem distant or forgotten and our goals unreachable. What's changed?

"Let's dream again" and make those dreams reality. If elected I promise to work towards solving the problems facing our county and will work on implementing plans to improve our economy to give everyone a chance to realize their goals and dreams without leaving this wonderful place.

On September 15th, vote for:

DAVID C. INSLEY
County Commissioner, District 1
Authority of Kathaleen M. Skipper, Treas.

Jon Thayer, a 52 year old Garrett County native, retired Naval Officer and healthcare administrator, is a candidate for the Republican District One county commissioner seat.

Jon retired from the Navy in 1989, as a Lieutenant Commander, after 22 years of service. He is the son of the late Percy and Lois Jean Thayer of Oakland. Jon and wife, Jeanne, a Garrett Co. home health nurse, have two sons, Dan and Evan. Jon is a 1964 graduate of Southern High, and he has completed a BA degree and more than 30 graduate hours in administration. Since his return to the county, Jon has been an active community volunteer with the Lions clubs, Hospital Foundation and several other organizations.

FROM THE CANDIDATE

"After serving our country for 22 years, I would consider it an honor to serve the people of Garrett County as their District One commissioner. I am confident that my management and leadership skills along with a strict code of conduct and ethics, which I bring from my Navy career, will help me to guide our county into the next century. As your commissioner, I will work for new jobs. I will work to enhance our school facilities and resources. I will work to maintain Garrett County's special qualities and to prepare for our future growth and economic development.

I will work to improve the quality of life for all of Garrett County's citizens."

THE COMMITTEE TO ELECT
ROBERT E. WATSON
JUDGE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY
P O BOX 390 OAKLAND, MD. 21550

WHY WE SUPPORT BOB WATSON

Bob with Committee Chairman
Terry Helbig and Treasurer Dave Burdock

AND WHY WE NEED YOUR HELP!

We are endorsing Bob Watson for three important reasons: He is HONEST He is COMPETENT. He is FAIR.

His HONESTY is known to us. You need only observe Bob with his family to know the quality of his character. He is civic minded and cares about the good of the community. His selfless free work, on the Lake Commission where he fought the state and opposed preferential treatment for a special few, and his exposure, as a private citizen, of wrong-doing in county government are more than enough to convince us.

Nothing could better witness his COMPETENCE than his reputation as an attorney. Win or lose, those who have been in cases with Bob, attorneys and parties alike, will tell you that he was well prepared and knew what he was doing. His experience is by far the widest of those running and includes all areas of the law, not one narrow field. And his knowledge is current.

He prides himself on FAIRNESS and a commitment to the law. It is the main reason he has such broad support. Bob is a man who applies reason to the problems before him and who follows what reason tells him is correct. Some of the members of our committee share his conservative views; others do not. But all of us believe he will be a fair judge in whose court all will stand equal before the law.

This election in not yet over. We need your help to win it. Bob needs your endorsement. Our committee needs your help and, if possible, your contribution, no matter how small. We need you to distribute signs (available at Bob's office); to talk to your friends; to make phone calls; and to knock on doors. This chance will never come again. Most of us will never see another contested judicial election. The election is near. So, please chip in and give us a hand.

Terry Helbig, Chairman
Dave Burdock, Treasurer

JOIN THE TEAM

Just fill out the coupon below and mail it to us at P.O. Box 390, Oakland, Maryland 21550. We are planning an active campaign, and if you would like to help financially we would appreciate that as well. Yard signs are available at Bob's office. And thanks.

Dear Terry and Dave,

I would like to add my name to the committee and endorse Bob Watson.

CLEVER ENDORSEMENTS?

The sitting judge has suggested voters ask various people connected with the courts if he is doing a good job, putting those people in a difficult position. Some of us have done so. The responses were surprising. If you elect not to do so, please don't assume the answer. We hope you will vote based on the record and not on clever advertising

Farming In Maryland.....

Dairy Farmers Sent Dividends From Md. & Va.

Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Cooperative Association Inc. distributed 80% of its patronage dividends in cash to its members, totaling $4.1 million, or 21 cents per hundredweight for milk shipped during 1997. The remaining 20%, or 5 cents per hundredweight, has been issued in certificates held in the cooperative's revolving fund.

According to President Jack Hardesty, a dairy farmer from Berryville, Va., "Because of the cooperative's excellent financial condition, the board of directors for Maryland and Virginia has been committed to returning as much cash as soon as possible to the cooperative members."

By law, cooperatives are required to return only 20% in cash to their members, making Maryland and Virginia's 80% distribution four times higher than required. The cooperative distributed 70% for the three previous years, and averaged 57% over the last 10 years.

General Manager George Walgrove added, "Even though farmers in Federal Orders 4 and 5 are receiving over $1 per hundredweight more than one year ago, we realize there's a lot of catching up to do. Maryland and Virginia is fortunate to be able to return more than the required 20% to members in cash."

This brings the 1997 cooperative earnings to over 75 cents per hundredweight in cash above Federal Order market prices. In addition to patronage dividends, this total includes over-order premiums, quality premiums, and profits of raw milk sales.

Maryland and Virginia Milk Produces Cooperative Association, headquartered in Reston, Va., is a milk marketing and processing cooperative which markets milk for 1150 dairy farmers throughout Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Delaware. The cooperative includes Marva Maid, a milk processing division in Newport News, Va.; a manufacturing division in Laurel; and an equipment division in Frederick.

JUSTICE AND THE ADVERSARIAL SYSTEM

Our American System of Justice is an adversarial system based on the English Common Law. The theory behind it is that each person is entitled to have his or her day in court and to have an attorney to assist in presenting the case. The attorneys are substitutes for the "champions" of Mediaeval times who were appointed to represent their principals in "trial bycombat." The attorneys of today still engage in a form of combat. It is their job to represent their clients to the best of their abilities withm the rules of ethics. The idea is that if each attorney does so, the cases will be fully presented and the Judge will be able to sort out the truth and do justice.

Winston Churchill once said, after hearing a diatribe on the evils of representative government, that Democracy is the worst of all possible systems of governmnent except for all other systems. The same can be said for the adversarial system of justice. You can find many things to criticize in it, but compared to all other systems, including the British, our American system still provides the closest thing to justice yet devised by man, despite the political changes the Supreme Court has made in our law.

Of course, the system works properly, only if each of the participants does his or her job competently. And the better the Judge, the better the system works.

For 20 years, it has been my job to do surrogate combat as an attorney for clients. I have done that to the best of my ability. If you have been on the losing side in one of my cases, or have been unpleasantly cross-examined, please consider what I have said here. If elected to the Circuit Court bench, I pledge to do my very best, as I did as an attorney, to achieve justice in every case which comes before me. I believe that a Judge should be firm, should maintain proper court room decorum, should be courteous to all the participants in the trial and above all should be fair and impartial.

If you would like to discuss this more, please call me.

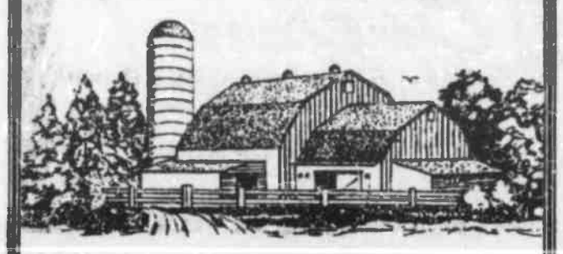
Biodiesel Sales Steady On Bay

Chesapeake Bay boaters contiaue to embrace the "clean, green soybean fuel," that makes diesel engines exhaust, smell like popcorn popping.

Since first being introduced commercially to area boaters two years ago, biodiesel sales have demonstrated that Chesapeake boaters are committed to burning clean fuels on the bay.

"BioBoost" brand biodiesel, made by NOPEC Corp. of Lakeland, Fla., is available at 10 marinas around the bay owned or operated by Coastal Properties Management Inc.



The fuel, made from soybean oil instead of petroleum oil, is nontoxic and biodegradable and helps engines burn cleaner and run smoother. In the recommended 20 percent blend with petroleum diesel, it virtually eliminates the typical black smoke and odor of diesel exhaust. Boaters describe the exhaust aroma as similar to popcorn popping or french fries frying. Because it burns cleaner, it eliminates the diesel exhaust "halo" on transoms, making cleanup quicker after boating.

This summer's sales will help the Maryland Soybean Board, which has been promoting the fuel's use, determine if biodiesel will again be available in tanks.

"Boaters who enjoyed getting their biodiesel from the convenience of tanks last summer need to remember that their support of the fuel this summer is important," says Susanne Hammond, biodiesel promoter for the soybean board. "The economies of scale just weren't there to sustain fuel sales from tanks. We're working on a more efficient method of delivery. Until then, boaters can demonstrate their interest in biodiesel by using the five-gallon containers."

For more iuformation on where to find biodiesel, interested persons may call Coastal Properties Management at 410-269-0933. For information on carrying biodiesel products, those interested may call Hammond at 410-860-0951 or NOPEC Corp. at 888-296-6732.

Maryland Receives USDA Farmland Preservation Funds

David Doss, state conservationist for the Natural Resources Conservation Service, announced today that Maryland will receive $1.4 million to preserve farmland through the US Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Farmland Protection Program in 1998. NRCS is USDA's lead conservation agency and administers the Farmland Protection Program.

"These USDA funds, when coupled with funds from state and local agricultural land preservation programs, will be used to purchase development rights and keep productive farmland in use," said Doss.

"Federal, state, and local conservation partnerships will ensure the preservation of thousands of acres of Maryland's most vulnerable farmland for generations to come."

"NRCS will provide technical assistance to the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation and seven local county programs to acquire easements on 25 farms and 4,215 acres," said Doss. "Proposals to preserve farmland were selected in each of Maryland's 23 counties, except Allegany, Garrett, Prince Georges, Wicomico and Worcester."

"Over the past three years, Maryland has received $3 million, or approximately nine percent, of the funds allocated through this program. This high funding level, when Maryland was competing with other states for funding, reflects our ongoing commitment to preserving farmland and working together in locally led conservation partnerships."

The Farmland Protection Program was established in the 1996 Farm Bill. Congress authorized national funding of a total of $35 million over six years. Nationally, the $17.2 million in fiscal year 1998 total allocations from USDA's Farmland Protection Program will be leveraged with state and local funds so that approximately $105 million will be available to protect America's best farmland. In addition to Maryland, 18 other states were selected to participate in this year's program. Those states are California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington, and Wisconsin.

"Much of Maryland's farmland is near large cities," said Doss. "And as our cities continue to expand into neighboring rural areas, our farms are in danger of becoming residential subdivisions or shopping malls. This program helps ensure that the most productive land remains in agriculture."

Under this program, USDA enters into agreements with state and local governments to support their efforts to protect farmland through the purchase of easements. USDA provides up to 50 percent of the costs of purchasing these easements. To participate, landowners agree to limit the use of their land for nonagricultural purposes. Farmland must meet the following criteria in order to qualify: It must be part of a pending offer from a state or local farmland protection program; be privately owned; have a conservation plan; be large enough to sustain agricultural production; be accessible to markets for what the land produces and have adequate infrastructure and agricultural support services; and have surrounding parcels of land that can support long-term agricultural production.

Landowners interested in learning more about farmland preservation programs should contact their county's Soil Conservation District or NRCS office located at USDA Service Centers.

Fall Weather Is In The Air

Farm activity was reduced during the week as many took some time out for Labor Day activities and local fairs. The soybean and sorghum crop conditions declined again, according to the Maryland Ag Statistics Service. By the end of the week, topsoil moisture was 11% very short, 48% short, 39% adequate, and 2% surplus. Subsoil moisture was 14% very short, 49% short, 35% adequate and 2% surplus.

Field corn continued to mature rapidly with 78% now in the dent stage. Harvest of silage fell behind average. Soybean fields are almost all setting pods but some are not filling.

Truck crop and fruit harvest continued with most peach, vegetable and melon crops nearing completion and apple picking increased.

Maryland's crop progress for the week which ended Sept. 6, listing the item, and the percentages for this week, last week, last year, and the five-year average, follows.

Development: field corn, dough 92, 74, 85, 89, dent 78, 55, 56, 67, mature 41, 24, 117, 23; soybeans, setting pods 95, 85, 83, 88, turning 15, -, 11, 11; sorghum, turning color 41, 40, n/a, n/a.

Harvesting progress: apples 20, 19, 20, 24; corn, grain 10, -, 2, 4, silage 23, 22, 21, 28; cucumbers 89, 89, 96, 95; lima beans 52, 28, 36, 39; tomatoes 90, 85, 92, 88; peaches 100, 89, 96, 94; snap beans 90, 82, 80, 89; sweet corn 93, 91, 88, 90; watermelon 92, 85, 93, 92; other hay, 3rd cutting 76, 76, 56, 56, 4th cutting 20, 20, 5, 10; alfalfa hay, 4th cutting 37, 29, 32, 42.

Asian Tiger Mosquito Found In Maryland

According to Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Virts, there has been a significant increase in the distribution of the Asian tiger mosquito in Maryland. From an initial finding in Baltimore City in 1987, the tiger mosquito has extended its range in 1998 to 10 Maryland counties. Over the past three years, tiger mosquito populations have become established in Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore.

"We are concerned about this addition to the mosquito species found in Maryland. The tiger mosquito is difficult to control, is a vector of several disease agents and is an aggressive, biting pest," Virts said.

The tiger mosquito, Aedes albopictus, is native to Asia, where its natural habitat is forests. It usually is associated with tires, particularly used tires which, when stored or discarded outside, provide excellent breeding sites. The tires, when transported for resale or disposal, provide a means to disperse mosquito eggs, larvae and adults over long distances. It is believed that shipment of old tires from Asia to the U. S. for reprocessing is responsible for the introduction of tiger mosquitoes to America in 1985.

"It has adapted very well to urban and residential environments where containers such as cups, cans and bottles serve as breeding sites. A discarded plastic cup with as little as one-half inch of water can produce dozens of tiger mosquitoes," said Virts.

According to Cy Lesser, chief of Maryland's Mosquito Control Program, conventional mosquito control practices are not effective against tiger mosquitoes.

"The habits of the tiger mosquito are different from native mosquitoes. Tiger mosquito larvae are found in containers, not in natural wetlands, and the adult tiger mosquitoes are most active during daylight and at dusk, not at night," Lesser said.

Searching for and controlling tiger mosquito larvae is extremely labor intensive and logistically difficult. Most adult mosquito control spraying operations are conducted at night when tiger mosquitoes are not active and are not affected by the insecticide applied.

The most effective method of controlling tiger mosquitoes is the removal of the larval breeding sites. This requires the cooperation and participation of the community to rid properties of containers or to prevent containers from holding water for long periods.

Suggested activities for individuals or groups to use to prevent or reduce populations of tiger mosquitoes include:

- Clean rain gutters to allow water to drain. Remove old tires or drill drainage holes in tires used for playground equipment.
- Store wading pools inside or turn them upside down when not in use.
- Turn over or remove clay pots and plastic containers.
- Dispose of all empty beverage containers, plastic wrappers, discarded toys, etc.
- Drain water from plastic or canvas tarps used to cover boats, pools, etc.
- Drain the bilges of boats kept on trailers and keep canoes and small boats stored upside down.
- Replace water in bird baths at least twice a week.
- Remove outside pet food and water dishes that are not being used.
- Don't leave garbage can lids lying upside down. Do not allow water to collect in the bottom of garbage cans.
- Flush water in the bottom of plant holders twice a week.
- Turn wheelbarrows upside down when stored outside.

For additional information about mosquito control or the Asian tiger mosquito, contact Mr. Cyrus Lesser at the Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401, telephone 410-841-5870.

Judge Expands Right-Of-Way Lawsuit

In a landmark legal opinion, a judge has cleared the way for a national class-action lawsuit against AT&T on behalf of landowners. Nationwide certification of the lawsuit, which allows aggrieved landowners from across the nation to seek damages, represents "real progress in an effort to win justice for rural landowners whose property has been used without their permission," according to the American Farm Bureau Federation.

In what is believed to be the first nationwide certification of a class-action lawsuit involving issues of trespass and misuse of land, Hamilton County, Ind., Superior Court Judge Steven R. Nation ruled on Aug. 21 that the lawsuit, Hinshaw vs. AT&T, could be national in scope.

In his order, the judge decreed that the case may proceed on behalf of "all owners of land in the United States that is or was subject to an easement for a limited purpose held by a railroad or pipeline or other utility company on which AT&T has entered to install or maintain a fiber optic or other telecommunications cable without obtaining the consent of the owner of the land."

"For too long, the true owners of land used for railroad easements—often adjacent farmers and ranchers—have effectively had their land wrongfully taken or used for other purposes," said AFBF President Dean Kleckner. "Land has improperly been used for profit, often without the knowledge or permission of the true landowner.

"The certification of this lawsuit should send a clear signal that right-of-way easements are often not the railroads' to sell or lease, and whoever deals with railroads on such matters should fully investigate the legality of the transaction. There often is a true individual landowner who must be approached for permission and appropriately compensated. In America, you can't sell, use or take something that doesn't belong to you."

The Hinshaw case represents the first time a nationwide class has been certified on behalf of landowners to establish their rights on right-of-way land that has been misused by railroads or utilities, according to Washington, D.C., attorney Nels Ackerson, who represents the landowners.

"The certification of this nationwide class holds promise for all landowners whose rights are being eroded by powerful interests, both private and public," Ackerson said. "In his ruling, Judge Nation described in detail a substantial body of the evidence we have amassed concerning AT&T's practices. From its own documents, cited by the judge, it appears that AT&T knew its right to occupy the right-of-way land was precarious, far from sound and tenuous."

In a 44-page opinion, Judge Nation ordered a nationwide adjudication of the claims that "AT&T installed and is operating a network of thousands of miles of fiber optic or other telecommunications cable through land that belongs to" members of the class action suit.

The judge's action also cited and cleared the way for a fair heading on landowner allegations that "AT&T knowingly trespassed on and occupied (their) land, installed its cables, posted threatening signs, and adopted a continuous pattern of surveillance and trespass on the class members' land, without even attempting to identify the landowners, much less obtain their consent."

The judge's order quotes extensively from AT&T's own documents and testimony, including a 1987 AT&T management memorandum that, according to Ackerson, shows AT&T's knowledge of its wrongful actions. That AT&T memo acknowledged "legal problems may arise in situations where a rail line is abandoned and we have relied on the rather tenuous rights the railroad had acquired when it first built its rail line ... (our) rights, deriving as they do from the railroad's, are far from sound."

According to Ackerson, the next step in this litigation will be to notify all potential members of the class, most likely through publication in national, state and local newspapers.

"This case could set important precedents for similar actions on behalf of other landowners whose land has been taken without their consent for use by other telecommunications companies," Ackerson said.

To the Editor:

This is to ask you to vote for David Beard for the office of county commissioner. I have known this candidate for many years and have always found him to be an intelligent, concerned, and fair-minded individual who consistently demonstrates his leadership skills as an educator and community leader. A leader's ability to make informed decisions and create sound solutions to our county's problems should be closely examined before deciding who will get your vote.

Dave Beard is not only highly educated in the field of government, he also combines that formal knowledge with a healthy dose of common sense when dealing with the issues that are crucial to our present and future well-being. Dave's constant search for knowledge and information and willingness to communicate will make him a strong and responsive force in our county government.

The level of concern Dave Beard has for others has been demonstrated over and over again through his classroom, community, and charitable activities. As a leader, Dave will want to know with what issues you, as a citizen, are most concerned. He is aware of the problems which we as a county are facing and he is truly interested in what you have to say.

When selecting a person who will help create solutions to our county's problems and insure our future well-being one should consider many factors; among those should be the candidate's sense of fairness. Dave Beard's objectivity and willingness to listen with an open mind will be true assets to our county government. Dave has an uncanny ability to cut across social, political, and economic boundaries in order to develop solutions that are equitable and beneficial to the majority of people.

All things considered, Dave Beard will be an excellent county commissioner. He stands for a no-nonsense and forward looking approach to government. Although Southern High School will greatly miss him as a civics teacher and mentor, I believe that the best interests of Garrett County will be served by electing Dave Beard to the office of county commissioner.

Sincerely,
Robin J. Spiker

To the Editor,

I feel that the Circuit Court judgeship in Garrett County should be an appointment. Therefore, the judicial position now being sought in our county would not lend to blight, such as is being exhibited in the present campaign.

In my personal opinion, there is a candidate trying for the judge's seat, in our county, that is exhibiting unethical campaign practices. One thing of which I speak, is that of publishing citizens' names reflecting support for the candidate, without that person's knowledge and/or consent.

Also, I find it tiresome and unnecessary that any candidate has to share negative dialogue regarding his opponents. A positive campaign adds dignity to the candidacy, the office sought, and the campaign in general. And an elected position can be won in a positive way.

First of all, I urge all Garrett County voters to vote. But please vote your conscience. What do you personally know of the candidate? Do they have a history of service in your memory? Measure that with what they say in the campaign setting.

No matter what office of service a candidate is seeking, once elected, his or her predictability and integrity in the past will dictate the future of his or her decisions.

Sincerely,
Anna Mary Fratz

To the Editor:

I have known Dave Beard for almost 30 years as a friend, teacher, businessman, and responsible citizen interested in government.

As a friend, I found Dave to be honest and direct. I have counted on him in the past and the present for input in issues both personal and professional, and he was and is always available for me.

As a teacher, he is a highly respected and competent professional. I can think of no instance when he was validly criticized for any action as a teacher. His evaluations by our school administrators have always been exemplary.

Dave has been in business for years in Garrett County, operating the Deep Creek Lake State Park and Broadford Park summer concession stands. This means that he knows how to hire responsible people, operate an organization profitably, and earn respect in the business community.

As a concerned citizen, Dave's involvement ranges from being active in local civic clubs, such as the Oakland Optimist Club and the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club to government activities such as the MD Classified Employees Assoc. #105 and the Garrett County Bd. of Election Supervisors. These are but a few of the examples of his being involved in community activities.

In conclusion, I highly recommend with full confidence in his abilities that you vote for David Beard for county commissioner.

Respectfully,
James L. Zimmerman
Teacher, 37 years

To the Editor:

Pertaining to Gregg, Johnson, Watson, and Shockey, "O what a tangled web they weave," is most befitting these individuals for the race of office. To state otherwise would indubitably diminish the truth about the candidates who are attempting to pull the wool over the voters' eyes.

Take for instance Ernie Gregg and Wayne Johnson seeking the office of county commissioner. If you apply logic and common sense to the facts that Paul Shockey is treasurer for Johnson and campaign manager for Gregg, it adds up to "A vote for either candidate is a vote for all three." This shows self interest and not in the best interest of the people and county government.

Now then, as for Gregg's track record, "It most assuredly does speak for itself and retains an unpleasant odor to the same!" Remember Robert Fouseck, the Prodigal Child of Gregg's infamous administration as county commissioner?" Shakespeare says it best: "The fox barks not when he would steal the lamb," and/or "A goodly apple rotten at the heart; O, What a goodly outside falsehood hath!"

Now, as for Robert Watson seeking the beach of the circuit court, Shakespeare again says it best: "He jests at scars who never felt a wound," and a quote from Ray: "He that uses many words for the explaining any subject, doth like the cuttlefish, hide himself for the most part in his own ink!" This coincides with all the frivolous, wordy, expensive ads run weekly in the newspaper. This attorney implies that the presiding judge, James Sherbin is not fair," which is ludicrous.

The honorable judges, James Sherbin and Jack R. Turney, are not only an asset to the community, but most assuredly are an asset to the bench, who have and continue to honor and apply the law with the utmost diligence. To imply otherwise, is a mockery to true justice.

Furthermore, it is very apparent that this attorney is disgruntled, presumably from decisions rendering unfavorable resolutions in any said case Watson represented. So without merit,

To the Editor:

I am writing as a friend and teacher in support of Mr. Dave Beard's election as the Republican county commissioner in District 1. As a colleague of his at Southern High School for 27 years, I can attest to his honesty and integrity. At this time when the morals and truthfulness of our leaders are being tested even at the highest levels of our government, Dave Beard is an honest and caring person. He has been supportive of all students in their many activities. He has missed attending only one football and two basketball games at Southern High School in 30 years. If Dave Beard is elected commissioner, he will bring this faithfulness and dedication to the commissioner's office. Dave Beard will be an active full-time commissioner, learning the concerns and needs of his constituents, and then acting to try and implement solutions to those concerns.

Although Dave Beard's election as county commissioner and his subsequent retirement as a teacher will be a loss to the education profession, it will be a gain to the rest of the citizens of Garrett County. Dave Beard is a true friend who will be a good commissioner and whom you can say that you are proud that you helped to elect by voting for him on September 15th. Thank you.

Sincerely,
David Mayfield

WITH SO MANY ISSUES FACING OUR COUNTY TODAY, WHERE IS THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE?

By our current administration not taking a vocal and active stand on the issues facing the county today, we are being led by a group of quasi-public committees that have taken a major role on shaping public policy on issues that our county is facing today. This is in direct contrast to public opinion! (i.e. the Continental One highway proposal, the sale of Deep Creek Lake, etc.)

Open Letter To The Citizens And Voters Of Garrett County And Delegate District 1A

During the campaign I have attended the fair, picnics, reunions and public meetings to meet you and communicate with you about your concerns. Concerns about your job, your taxes, the education of your children and the basic quality of life we have in Western Maryland and I have listened with compassion.

It is, however, impossible to meet each of you personally and I am writing this letter to ask for your vote in the Republican Primary on Tuesday, September 15, 1998. I assure you that I will always continue to listen to your problems and concerns and I will do my utmost to help you and resolve them to the very best of my ability.

Very truly yours,

just as important as on the bus? They are a part of the school system and should set an example for these children.

Parents must stop and think, are these the kind of adults we want around our children? Not me! I just had to write this letter because it was the only way I knew how to express my anger.

To the Editor:

During our years as full-time residents of Garrett County we have enjoyed the real pleasure of friendship with Wayne and Jackie Johnson. Garrett County is most fortunate to have Wayne as a county commissioner. He is a completely decent person . . . compassionate, with great integrity, qualities recognized by the great many who have known him as a teacher, school administrator, and businessman. Born here, raised in a large family, a Navy veteran educated under the G.I. bill, it's hard to imagine anyone with deeper grass roots than Wayne Johnson. Decision-making comes easily to him. But he also goes that extra mile to make sure his decisions are the right decisions.

We felt we should express these thoughts to you. Thank you for reading them.

This letter is to offer my support and endorsement for Harland Tichnell as sheriff of Garrett County. I have known Harland and his family for many years and have always found him to be a fair, honest and hard-working person. His former service to Garrett County with the sheriff's office gives him the experience and expertise no other candidate can match. I have reviewed his credentials and will be voting for Harland Tichnell on September 15th. I urge all Garrett County voters to do the same.

To the Editor,

The Garrett County Democratic Central Committee wishes to make clear that our chairman, Bruce Opel, speaks out of turn and only for himself when he endorses the candidacy of Robert Watson for the office of Circuit Court Judge. His action certainly does not imply the endorsement of the Garrett County Democratic Central Committee. Mr. Opel's endorsement of Mr. Watson is unfortunate and flies in the face of the policies and procedures of both local and state Democratic organizations. Members of the Central Committee, including the chairman, must take no position in primary elections and must not support Republican candidates in any circumstance. The Garrett County Democratic Central Committee, at its meeting on September 2, voted to place this correction in your paper.

Yours truly,
Marilyn Moore, Secretary
Garrett County
Democratic Central Committee

To the Editor:

I feel that I must speak out on a few things that a candidate for sheriff has been putting in the paper and on the radio.

First, as a Republican, I am offended that in the last election, he ran as a Democrat and this time is running as a Republican. I think all Republicans should look at this and wonder if in 1999 he will stay a Republican. I think Republicans and Democrats should take offense at this.

My second point is that I am a retired state employee and I am not working, but I think that is a choice that must be made by each person who is retired. I think all retired people from the county, state, towns, etc., should resent the accusations of "double dipping."

He needs to look up the meaning of "double dipping." The sheriff and others with county jobs are not double dipping. Today, when people retire, they cannot take a retirement from two places.

I would ask everyone who is registered, to get out and vote. I would also ask that they talk to the candidates and see for themselves which ones have the experience to run for office and do the best job. Also, I urge all those running for office to keep their ads truthful.

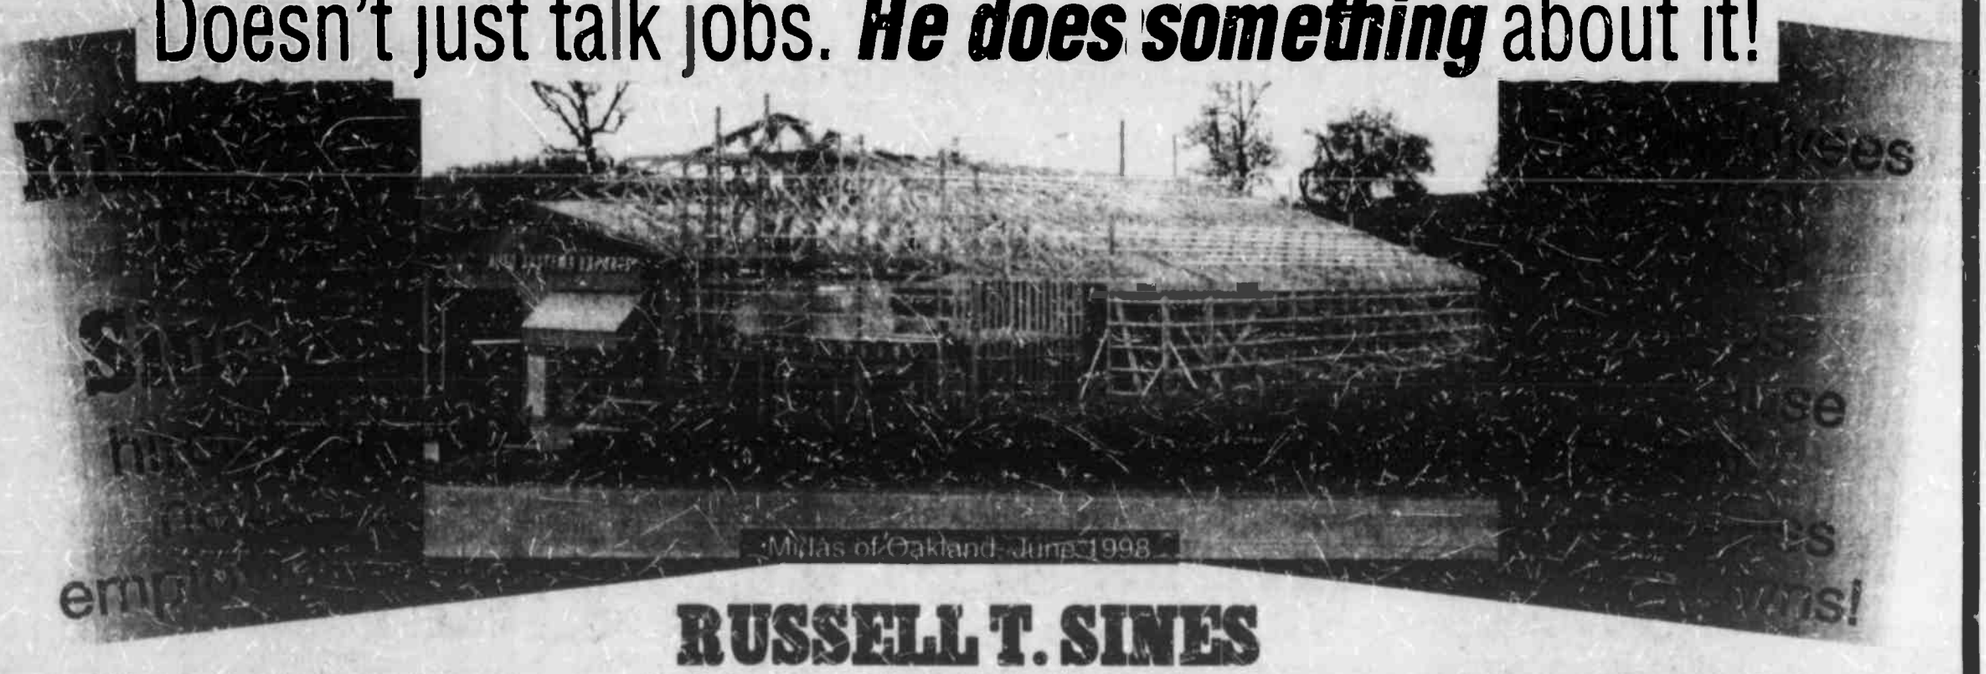
To the Editor,

A month or so ago, I had the opportunity to sit in on a trial at circuit court of Garrett County, during which time I was both impressed and curious about how our judicial system works. It took three long days to hear both sides. Now I'm not a lawyer nor a judge, but anyone could see which side was in the right. I had faith that no matter the judge would see the facts the way they were. The judge was experienced and had seen it all over his years. The judge had taken notes through out the trial. Surely he had seen the right and wrong.



It took weeks to hear the verdict. Finally it came. It did turn out that the party that was in the right all along had won their point. I was happy along with others, but on the other hand we were disappointed and really literally ashamed of our system in this county.

Because this good family, along with other families, had endured harassment for over a year was just brushed aside by the courts. Apparently these actions are done in the 90's without reprimand or punishment. The worst of all is that the other party that stooped so low as to threaten and to give the so called finger to their neighbors (which I might add is still going on to this day) are actually Garrett County school bus drivers which we the people of this county pay.

Now I don't want to insult this system, because they do a great job transporting our children safely to school every day. I guess you can say there is always a bad apple in every basket. These adults are an influence on our children. Isn't their conduct off the bus

HELP WANTED

The new Volunteer Coordinator at the Friendsville Elementary School, Sally Frazee, would like to encourage community members to "make a difference in some children's lives" by joining the volunteer team at school. There are many ways to help: spend time in the community volunteer room preparing materials for teachers, read to groups of children and/or individuals, lend a hand in the library, or even request a take-home packet and work on materials at home.

Those who wish to help should contact the school.

There were five volunteers who lent a hand during the first busy week of school: Lisa Ditmore, Kim Lacey, Cathy Harman, Loyd Oester, and Sally Frazee.

ROTARY CLUB YARD SALE

The Friendsville Rotary Club will sponsor a yard sale on Saturday, Sept. 12, to benefit the Friend Family Association Museum and Library. The sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the lot across the street from the museum on First Avenue. Refreshments will also be for sale.

Anyone wishing to donate items for the sale may do so by bringing them to the yard sale at 9:30 a.m. that day, or persons may contact Mary Walcek at 301-746-8194 to arrange for pick-up.

Monetary donations are also welcome. Checks can be made out to the Friend Family Association and sent to Carol Calhoun, president of the Friendsville Rotary Club, at P.O. Box 119, Friendsville, MD 21531.

WOW LODGE 45

Lodge 45 will host the annual Woodmen of the World Jurisdictional corn roast on Sept. 13 at the Grace Lutheran Church. Coit and Kate Jenkins will prepare their "famous" french fries.

The next WOW meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 17, at the new pavilion at Blooming Rose. The SWAT team will be picking up trash and will meet at the pavilion at 3:45 p.m.

The lodge will be selling raffle tickets for a quilt made by Mildred Friend. The drawing for the quilt will be held at the annual banquet on Oct. 3 at the Sand Spring Church Fellowship Hall.

SPEAR REUNION

The 16th annual Spear Reunion will be held on Saturday, Sept. 12, starting at 10 a.m. at the Mt. Top Fellowship Center on Rt. 40. This year's gathering will have a western theme. FOP DONATES TO LIVENGOOD SCHOLARSHIP - Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 99 recently donated $500 to the David G. Livengood Memorial Scholarship Fund. The scholarship was established to honor the memory of the late sheriff's deputy, shot and killed in the line of duty in Oakland nearly 20 years ago. Shown from the left at the check presentation are: Garrett County Sheriff P.R. (Dick) Sanders; Josephine Livengood, Deputy Livengood's mother; Kandra Alexander, recipient of the first annual Livengood Memorial Scholarship and a Southern High School graduate entering her freshman year at Garrett Community College, where she will pursue a criminal justice major; and President of F.O.P. Lodge 99 Mike Bittinger, who currently serves as a K-9 deputy with the sheriff's office. On Jan. 18, 1979, Deputy Livengood and his K-9 confronted two suspects carrying out a burglary at the old Davidson's Army & Navy Store in Oakland; after murdering Deputy Livengood, the suspects fled the scene in his patrol car, wrecking near Deer Park where they forced their way into a residence, tied up the family, and stole another vehicle. They were later apprehended by West Virginia State Police near Morgantown, W.Va., were subsequently convicted of Deputy Livengood's murder, and are serving life sentences in prison.

A "Big Bucks" I...

David Thomas will put Western Maryland

David Thomas shoots straight and works hard. He believes in small government that does not intrude in people's lives. He thinks the State should run like a business and take better care of its customers.

He is concerned about a downstate battle that could force casinos on Western Marylanders and he will fight for local control over gaming.

As a sportsman and a member of NRA, Dave has solid, consistent views on gun control and strongly favors the immediate creation of a limited Black Bear hunting season in Garrett County.

He will work hard to cut taxes for our senior citizens and working families. David Thomas thinks local Republicans deserve a Senator who remembers that Western Maryland is more important than Annapolis. Annapolis has enough senators. We need a strong Republican who really works for us.

We need a Republican who listens closely, thinks clearly and works to make the State of Maryland a better partner. David Thomas will fight to regain control of our [illegible] and our natural resources.

David Thomas is the right Republican for Senate.

Notes from Bittinger

by Joan Sussman

BIRTHDAY DINNER

A birthday dinner in honor of Amy Moon, Finzel, and Brad Moon, Westminster, was held at the home of Beulah Moon. Other guests present were Jay Moon and family and Larry and Ellen Moon.

BALL GAMES

The Southerly family and Sam and Brent Housley attended the WVU Ohio State football game in Morgantown Saturday night.

Sally, Lenny, and Torrey Poholsky visited Michael and Susan Scheffres over the weekend. Lenny and Torrey attended the Raven-Steelers football game on Sunday. It was the first game played at the new football stadium at Camden Yards. They reported it was a really hot day with temperatures reaching 100°.

OTHER NEWS

Betty and Ellis Sacra, Partlow, Va., were weekend guests of Ruth DiPaolo, and attended the barn party Saturday night and had a wonderful time enjoying meeting new friends and hearing great music.

Ferne Beachy spent the weekend with Emnta and Sam Bowser and Dorothy Kump at Waynesboro, Pa. They all attended the volleyball games at Hagerstown Jr. College on Saturday, where Lea Stanton played on the team from Allegany College of Cumberland. The group also visited Alma Bowser and Mildred and Alice Bittinger in the Fahrney-Keedy Nursing Home in Boonsboro.

Olive Hetrick was hostess to members of the Ernest and Ada Bowser family and other relatives at her home near Bittinger on Sunday. Family members attending were Wilbur and Hilda and family, Russell and Bert and family, Allen and Norma and family, Olen and Helen from Ohio, members of Thelma Green family, Olive Hetrick and son, Dale and family, and Bonnie and husband. Approximately 65 attended from Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.

Marian and Lee Diehl, Centerville, Pa., visited her sisters, Lola Beiler and Eva Yoder, last week.

BARN PARTY

Well, another Labor Day Weekend Barn Party is past history. There is much curiosity about our parties. I am always asked, "Who are all those people camping in your lawn and fields, dancing in the barn for half the night on Saturday? And what do they do at that party?" One of my neighbors in Bittinger, who attended one year, told me "Everyone is pretty much just talking with one another!" That about does it. It's true, we do a lot of talking and stay up late, as it is too good of a chance to enjoy all the good music and just have a good time. There are so many terribly interesting people that my family and I knew from all kinds of places--from our school days, or work, or during our travels--and who we find so much common ground with. Then, they in turn bring their best friends, like ripples in a lake, just spreading a little further and farther.

This past weekend, I had many great conversations on all kinds of subjects. I especially enjoyed talking with a 40-something black woman from Washington, D.C., about her niece, Kirby, whom she is raising, and how she is doing with the challenge of rearing a black teenage girl in the city, and how she plans to pay for her college.

I also talked with Bobby Moore, formerly of Garrett County, about the tough aspect of a serious illness leaving you partially handicapped. Bobby recently was diagnosed with MS. One of the best things is the willingness of people in our barn circle to share with others. For example, a wonderful friend and physical therapist, Mike Vockel, was glad to talk with Bobby about his illness.

It was interesting to see how many different careers were present: medical, tons of lawyers, and many, many teachers. A former student, Jennifer, just started her new career as an English teacher this year in Hagerstown, and her fiance, Nathan, just started in law school. They were in for another lecture from me with valuable advice and stern warning, "You better do well." One measure of my success as a teacher is on how my previous students are doing and to continue to expect very good things from them. I was disappointed that I did not get to talk to all the people.

CELEBRATES 95TH - Phoebe Barnard celebrated her 95th birthday recently with family, friends, and other residents at the Rose Terrace Home, Oakland. Prior to moving to Rose Terrace, Ms. Barnard lived with her daughter and son-in-law in Waterneport. Her neighbors at Rose Terrace referred to her as "a pleasant, cheerful person." At 95 she is the oldest resident at the home, which is operated by Garrett Community Action's Area Agency on Aging.

Especially a big help over the weekend was Mary Armacost. My Aunt Helen taught her husband in elementary school in Westminster. They know each other quite well, since Danny was a best friend of her son Courtney. I know my sister Carol had a full crew staying there, and she baked tons of pies.

I also got a chance to introduce Nate to Linda Eigner, from Chicago, who is a public defense attorney, and Eileen, a very successful lawyer from Baltimore, who was also first in her law class. I wanted them to talk to Nate first-hand about how to do great in his law school writing. I told him, "Please start early and edit and think about word choice." But it happens when Nate is around, the pro is off somewhere either birdwatching or breakfasting at the Bass or Glotfelty homes, or else around the fire taking in some informal but excellent music played and sung by anyone who wants to be involved. And they truly are wonderful. They sang old songs we grew up on, from Simon and Garfunkle to traditional folk songs. You are not just a guest who can take it easy, but you must be active in making the weekend happen.

Saturday afternoon many of the kitchens along Rock Lodge Road and elsewhere were filled with guests, hostesses, all cooking up a frenzy, to help serve at dinner time over 100 starving guests. You can depend on lots of great dishes cooked by our closest Garrett County friends, especially Gloria Salazar, the Jacobys, the Schlossnagles, Morrisons, Vagnettis, and others too numerous to mention. Somehow without too much planning, it comes together as a dynamic buffet with all kinds of dishes and all kinds of desserts, which is pure heaven. Then there is more talk and meeting new people and catching up with old friends, and filling each other in about other friends not able to attend.

Undoubtedly, the best effort made to attend was by Martin Parsons (Dodge) from London, England, who flew in for the party. Dodge hasn't missed a party since attending his first one several years ago. Since the last time he was here a year ago, Princess Diana was killed. This year everyone wanted to ask Dodge whether Di was really dead. He confirmed it.

Then, the main event began. The barn dance, like no other barn dance. Kicking off at 9 p.m., the Barn Soul Band put on a great show for a hundred or so celebrities including my mother, Ruth DiPaolo, and a couple of her former Allegany High School class of 1947 who reside along Marsh Hill Road, Deep Creek Lake. They were pleased to win a raffle of a piece of my artwork. The raffle was planned and executed by my daughter and their friends. They had a ball with it, and they split the proceeds with me to help with party expenses. Her friends from Deep Creek Lake and Virginia were very much impressed with the party and music.

All the practicing of the Soul Band really paid off, because they were as tight as many a professional band. It made me cry because so much love and joy was on the stage and on the dance floor. A lot of small children were in the hay mow, playing and dancing. A handful of teenagers attended, wearing the required scowl, or a shabby knit hat, and a few with odd haircuts or colors. I know they had an enjoyable time even if in spite of themselves. They were comical, but well-behaved.

A few grandmothers also danced to the music. In spite of it being past some of our bedtimes, we were rock and rolling until about midnight, when the Soul Band stopped to enjoy themselves. After their performance a few friends of Jim Jones, from Romney, W.Va., stepped up to take the stage with some of the regular band members. They played for another three hours classic Rock and Roll. Taking to the microphone and singing were Karen Gould and Meredith Vagnetti. They did a great job of performing songs by the Rolling Stones, Beatles, Cream, Zeplin, etc. They were so great I felt obligated to stay up until 4 a.m. You can't go to bed with all this great talent like Jim Fey of Washington, D.C., performing for us.

Most hit the hay and stayed in tents or spare beds. Then on Sunday morning, a clean-up detail and breakfast. I had excellent fried potatoes cooked on the fire by a guest, Dennis Crews, from Frederick. A full breakfast was served at Rodney and Marci Glotfelty and Carol and Kevin Bass's houses. Then the big Sunday afternoon T-shirt production. Each year my brother Barry and Lisa Sheirer silk-screen T-shirts. Joy Malinowski of Philadelphia and Lisa designed this year's T-shirts. Each year a different artist designs the T-shirt, which is a coveted honor. A few hundred shirts are printed. Many people collect a new one each year. It is a lot of work but the results are always great and it is a good education for kids on how to work cooperatively.

Then more great food cooked mostly by Carol's houseguests and Marci, followed up by a campfire sing-a-long. Exhausted, I made the mistake of lying down for a few minutes and never rejoined the party. Lastly, the Monday exodus, cleaning up, breaking down tent city, and packing up and saying "goodbye" for another year. The kids don't want to see it over. They had so much fun with their little friends from out of town. And each year, Audrey Ashby supervises a great craft session for them. They produced some wonderful pictures.

DOUG RAILEY For Garrett County Commissioner?

LEADERSHIP
As a concerned private citizen, Doug Railey has assembled a group of local and nationally prominent businessmen, educators and other skilled professionals who will help develop a "Community-Based" economic recovery plan that will benefit all Garrett Countians by attracting quality jobs to our area. As commissioner, Doug Railey will see that this plan is immediately finalized, implemented and aggressively marketed so that our young people will have a future here in Garrett County. As commissioner, Doug Railey will see that county government operates openly, honestly and efficiently under a strict code of ethical conduct.

VISION
Doug Railey believes it's time we abandon the failed policies of the past and those who represent them! He believes it's time we elect new leadership with fresh, innovative ideas that can carry Garrett County successfully into the next century. As your commissioner, Doug Railey will direct all possible resources toward improving the economic climate and quality of life for all Garrett Countians. County Government will operate from a position of leadership that responsibly looks out for the interests of all our citizens.

COURAGE
Doug Railey has the courage to make difficult decisions without regard to personal or political gain. As commissioner, Doug Railey will represent the best interests of the citizens and will not defer the responsibility of important county business decisions to the state or other special interest groups. Doug Railey will not compromise the office of county government by engaging in cronyism and "behind the scenes" political schemes.

DOUG RAILEY WILL BE YOUR VOICE IN COUNTY GOVERNMENT!

Dear Mr. Sanders:

Congratulations! I am pleased to inform you that on September 1, 1998, your candidacy for Sheriff of Garrett County was unanimously endorsed by Lodge #99 Fraternal Order of Police. Lodge #99 is comprised of the men and women in law enforcement who are members of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, Oakland City Police, Department of Natural Resources, Forest and Park Service, State's Attorney's Office, and the State Fire Marshal's Office.

Again, congratulations on your endorsement. Please feel free to call if there is ever anything we can do to assist you in your election.

Sincerely,

Michael H. Bittinger

Lodge #99 President
Michael H. Bittinger

Garrett County Sheriff Dick Sanders and Michael H. Bittinger, President Lodge #99, Fraternal Order of Police.

BY AUTHORITY OF JOAN SANDERS, TREASURER

David Beard

Republican Candidate
County Commissioner
District 1

To the Voters and Citizens of Garrett County:

As a candidate for County Commissioner, District 1, I am asking for your support.

Our County Commissioners must not only be intelligent, but also have experience in diverse areas to truly represent all of the citizens of Garrett County. My background will permit me, as your commissioner, to make your views known and your demands heard.

My pledge to you, the citizens of Garrett County, is to maintain an open office, allowing direct constituent communication. Solicitation of citizens' views will be my first and continuing endeavor.

For a healthy Garrett County we need clean industry, efficient transportation, affordable water and sewage, quality education, strong law enforcement, reduced unemployment, more desirable senior citizens' benefits and honest government structured to serve the people. These are but a few of your concerns. Your concerns are my concerns. I guarantee that you will be heard and that your views will be justly considered.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you would like to discuss any matters concerning the upcoming election. I can be reached at 301.387.5987.

A vote for me will be in your best interest. I thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,

David C. Beard

Peck Hopes To Retain Seat In Orphans' Court

Joseph A. Peck, judge of the orphans' court, has filed for re-election as a Republican candidate for that office. He issued the following statement:

"I have served as judge of the orphans' court for the past 16 years. I feel I have received much experience as to the execution of the duties of this office in a fair and honest manner according to the Estates and Trusts Laws of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

"If I am re-elected to this office, I pledge to continue to serve the citizens and voters of Garrett County to the best of my ability, as I have done in the past.

"I was employed by the United States Postal Service for 21 years, and I have served two one-year terms as president of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, Camp No. 11, of Crellin, Md.

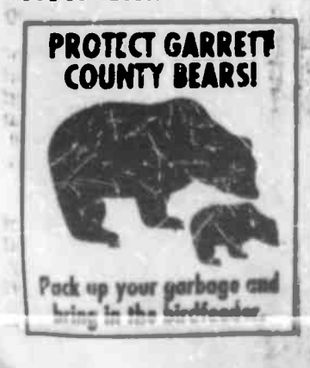
"In addition, I am also a member of the Crellin Assembly of God Church, where I served as treasurer for 30 years. I have been a member of the American Legion, Lodge No. 71, for more than 25 years.

"I am a veteran, having served from 1941 until 1945 in the HQ. and HQ. Company of the 14th Infantry Regiment as code clerk and message center chief. I was honorably discharged Oct. 10, 1945, as a staff sergeant.

"I have also been active in many other community, civic and social activities.

"My campaign treasurer is Elaine Bateman.

"I wish to thank you for your support, and I will greatly appreciate your vote in the September primary and November general elections."



St. Mark's Lutheran Notes Rally Sunday

The annual Rally Sunday for the Sunday School of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will take place this Sunday, Sept. 13. Classes are available to nearly all age groups, from 4 years old through adult. A nursery is available for those under 4.

Sunday School will begin each Sunday at 8:45 a.m., followed by the regular church service at 10 a.m. Michael Robinson is the pastor of the church, which is located at the corner of Second and Center streets in Oakland.

In addition to Sunday School classes for all ages, the church has an adult choir and a children's choir. The adults are under the direction of Susan Peterson and they rehearse on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. The children's choir is directed by Mary McEwen and its practices are on Sundays after church. New singers are welcome to the groups.

St. Mark's also hosts a regular Saturday church service at 5 p.m. each week. For more information about Rally Sunday or other church activities, persons may contact St. Mark's at 301-334-2668.

Annual Fiddle Championship Set For Autumn Glory

The "Official" Maryland State Fiddle Championships will be held Saturday, Oct. 10, featuring a full evening of foot-stomping music at the Southern Garrett County Senior High School gymnasium during Garrett County's 31st Annual Autumn Glory Festival.

This contest features competitions among top fiddle players from numerous states, and contestants will be judged in three amateur categories — age 60 and over, 13-59, and youth 12 and under. First-, second-, and third-place winners in the adult categories will be awarded prize money and trophies, and prize money and medals will be awarded in the youth category. The fiddle contest will also feature a "professional/championship" category, with prize money awarded to first- and second-place winners.

The evening begins at 7 p.m. and contestants should register one hour prior to the contest. Doors will open at 6:15 p.m. Refreshments will be available. Admission is $6 for adults and $3 for children under 12. Tickets are available at the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce office, the Garrett County Information Booth on Route 219 at Deep Creek Lake, and at the door. For more information, an application to participate, or a free festival brochure, persons may contact the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550-1581; telephone 301-334-1948; www.garrettchamber.com; or E-mail info@garrettchamber.com. This contest is sponsored by American Trust Bank.

Trinity United Church Of Christ Sets Homecoming

The Trinity United Church of Christ at New Germany, located along Twin Churches Road in Grantsville, will hold its annual homecoming on Sept. 20.

The service will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the Rev. Warren Bates delivering the message. A covered dish dinner will follow the service.

The Winebrenner Gospel Group will perform at 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend these homecoming events.

State Historical Trust Announces Available Grants

The Maryland Historical Trust (MHT), an agency of the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development (MHCD), is now accepting applications for capital and non-capital historic preservation grants.

Total funds available for the fiscal year 1999 MHT Grant Fund, shared by the Historic Preservation Program and the Museum Assistance Program, was $1,174,650. It is anticipated that the same amount will be available for the upcoming fiscal year 2000 grant rounds, according to a release from the MHCD.

Non-profit organizations, local jurisdictions, business entities, and individuals may apply for grants to fund capital projects. Eligible projects include the acquisition, rehabilitation, or restoration of historic property in Maryland. Only non-profit organizations and local jurisdictions may apply for non-capital grants. These grants may include a wide array of historic preservation activities, ranging from research and survey work to the development of educational programs and planning documents.

The application deadline is Dec. 11, 1998, for application cover sheets, and Jan. 29, 1999, for the full application. The project selection process will begin on Feb. 2, 1999, and grant awards will be announced by July 1, 1999. The maximum grant award is $40,000.

A 50/50 match is required of most applicants for capital projects and of all local jurisdictions for non-capital projects. Non-profit organizations are not required to provide matching funds; however, those that do include a match will be more competitive in the grant selection process.

Each application is ranked and evaluated using the MHT's Open Project Selection Criteria. Criteria include, but are not limited to, the significance of the resource and the urgency, educational value, and support for the project.

This year's priorities for receiving DHCD funds include projects that incorporate or promote growth management strategies, neighborhood revitalization, and economic development through heritage tourism. Successful applicants for grants assisting the preservation of historic real property must convey a perpetual historic preservation easement to the Trust prior to the release of funds.

For more information, applications, and/or copies of the Open Project Selection Criteria, persons should contact Kate Mahood (capital projects) at 410-514-7635 or by email at <mahood@dhcd.state.md.us>, or Elizabeth Hughes (non-capital projects) at 410-514-7617 or by email at <hughese@dhcd.state.md.us>.

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
August 11, 1998

MARYLAND STATE BAR ANNOUNCES ENDORSEMENT OF JUDGE SHERBIN

The Maryland State Bar Association is committed to the philosophy that Maryland's judiciary should be of the highest quality, and persons serving on the Bench should reflect this in character, integrity, judicial temperament, and knowledge. To preserve this tradition, the Maryland State Bar Association Board of Governors has passed a resolution endorsing James L. Sherbin, who will be on the ballot September 15, 1998.

Judge Sherbin is of the highest caliber and has served Maryland and Garrett County with distinction in the performance of judicial duties as evidenced by his record.

Judge Sherbin has earned the confidence, respect, and support of the Maryland Bar. Garrett County citizens are fortunate to have a judge who is of the highest caliber and well-respected.

The public should not underestimate the importance of the vote this September 15th for Circuit Court judge. Maryland State Bar Association urges all Garrett County citizens to vote in favor of Judge James L. Sherbin.

News release forwarded by MARYLAND STATE BAR ASSOCIATION to The Republican and other news media.

THE GOOD LIFE: DE-STRESS FOR SUCCESS

by Matthew G. Duraa, M.S. IV

It would be impossible to completely hide from all stress, but do we realize how great a role stress really plays in our day iu, day out functioning? Quiz yourself by asking how often you say these sorts of things: I've got a ton on my mind... If I can just make it through this period of stress, then I'll be able to relax... I've just got so much I need to take care of... I wish there were more hours in the day... How will I get everything done that I need to?... I just don't even know where to begin with all my work... That's just the way life is, I guess. Alternatively, how often do you have difficulty doing the following things: focusing on one task at a time, enjoying simple pleasures (a walk, some flowers), laughing spontaneously, falling asleep easily at bedtime, getting work out of mind at non-work times (family dinner, on a hike), feeling relaxed and in control of your life? If these are difficulties that bother you, or if you just outright feel stressed, theu you could probably use some relaxation therapy. Here arc a few tips...

- Increase your self-awareness. The first step to decreasing stress is to recognize when it's there, and what aspects of your life (changeable or not) cause you stress. Figure out those situations that really get you tense, in order to target your lifestyle changes to these.
- Make lowering your stress level a genuine health priority. Share your destressing goals with your loved ones (just like getting someone to remind you to take a pill). They're likely to help you out: not only will you be happier, but you'll probably be more fun to be with, as well!
- Find at least five things that make you really happy and relaxed. These can be anything from a favorite story to a picture from a beach vacation. Have these ready if you need a "time out."
- Nip developing stress in the bud. Now that you've identified your personal stressors, recognize when they're on the horizon before they become seemingly unmanageable. Use your relaxation cues to get you back to baseline; you'll tackle problems better by being relaxed from the start, rather than getting wound up and putting relaxation off until later.
- Organize, organize, organize! This includes keeping your workplace and your home cleaner and more structured. Having things in a system now will save you time and heartache later when it's time to find them. Also, the human mind tends to function more efficiently in an organized playing field. Finally, have your projects and things to do scheduled (rather than all bugging you at once), and then focus on only one project at a time.
- Set realistic goals. This includes goals for work (don't expect to get a day's work done in an hour) and at home (don't expect to be stress-free overnight; it's a learned skill). Also, with more realistic goals, you'll more often get to enjoy the happiness of accomplishing a goal.
- Make a long-term relaxation project: start a garden, learn to play tennis, etc. This will allow you to funnel extra energy into something creative and positive, instead of into worry.
- Take time for yourself every single day. For 10 minutes a day—every day—find a quiet place to be alone and unwind. Take a bath, read the comics (not the front page!), doodle... do anything that's really nothing at all. This is time for you to be totally free of all worldly input and potential stressors. There are 1,440 minutes in a day; finding 10 of them to relax will make the other 1,430 much, much more enjoyable and productive.

The benefits of being relaxed are many: increased energy, improved productivity, greater self-esteem, more fun with friends and family, and, of course, better physical health. A little effort at decreasing your personal stress can go a long way towards improving your quality of life. It's your health, and you can improve it. If you feel it's too difficult a task to go alone, get some advice from your health care professional. Start by relaxing for a few minutes right now, and welcome to "The Good Life."

GARRETT COUNTY

GA58G001/4 - The Goodwill Mennonite Home, Inc., P.O. Box 310, Grantsville, MD 21536, has applied to increase an existing appropriation from an annual average of 8,500 gallons per day (gpd) of ground water and 11,000 gpd during the month of maximum use to an annual average of 15,000 gpd and 18,000 gpd during the month of maximum use. The water is to be used to supply a nursing home. The water is to be taken from three wells in the Conemaugh Formation, located on the west side of Dorsey Hotel Road, 0.2 mile south of the junction of Dorsey Hotel Road and Peavine Road, 0.8 mile north of Grantsville, Garrett County, Maryland.

The production wells, installed in a water table fractured rock aquifier, are 173 to 358 feet deep. Impacts to the resource and nearby users were evaluated using data from geological reports and investigations available to the Water Management Administration. There have been no reported unreasonable impacts to nearby wells while pumping the applicant's wells at the requested rates for the past three years.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust from RANDALL S. LOWERS and TAMMY S. LOWERS, husband and wife, dated September 17, 1993, and recorded September 22, 1993, in Liber No. 613, folio 65, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, I hereby give notice that I will, on in the Rotunda of the Courthouse, in the town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale, and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the following property, to-wit:

Friday, September 11, 1998
At the hour of 10:00 a.m.

ALL those lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in ELECTION DISTRICT NO. 14, Garrett County, Maryland, and being all of the remainder of the lands conveyed by Boyd Hardesty to Boyd Hardesty, Nancy J. Bernard and Rita D. Shillingburg by deed dated June 4, 1977, and recorded in Liber No. 376, folio 581, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 32.72 acres, more or less, and more particularly described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and intended to be a part hereof.

BEING the same as conveyed by Nancy J. Bernard to Randall S. Lowers and Tammy S. Lowers, husband and wife, by deed of even date and recorded or intended to be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, just prior to these presents.

SUBJECT, HOWEVER, to all conveyances, covenants, restrictions, reservations, easements and any other matter of record.

The property will be sold subject to all conditions, liens, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A cashier's or certified check of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($5,000.00) shall be paid at the time and place of sale, except no deposit shall be required of the note holder, its successors or assigns, balance in cash at settlement, except that if the note holder, its successors and assigns, is the purchaser, a credit will be allowed for the mortgage debt, which shall be twenty (20) days after final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court of Garrett County, Maryland, unless said period is extended by the Trustee, her successors or assigns, for good cause shown, time being of the essence. The property will be sold subject to all restrictions, liens, covenants and encumbrances of record. In the event that the purchaser fails to go to settlement as required, the property shall be re-sold at purchaser's risk and expense. Taxes, water, rent, and all other municipal liens and charges, if any, to be adjusted to date of sale. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, agricultural transfer tax, if any, document preparation and title insurance and/or examination shall be borne by purchaser. If the Trustee is unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Upon refund of the deposit, this sale shall be void and of no effect and the purchaser shall have no further claim against the Trustee or the noteholder. The property will be sold in an "AS IS" condition without either express or implied warranty or representation, including, but not limited to, the description, fitness for a particular purpose, use, physical condition, access, habitability, zoning, subdivision, environmental condition, merchantability, compliance with building codes or other laws, ordinances or regulations, or other similar matters. The Trustee, her attorneys and/or the noteholder, shall not be liable individually or otherwise for any matters relating to this sale and/or the property.

UM Churches Set Revival Services At St. Paul's

The churches of the South Garrett Cooperative Parish of the United Methodist Church will hold revival services from this coming Sunday, Sept. 13, through Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 7 p.m. each evening at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, located on the corner of Oak and Fourth streets in Oakland. The services are open to the public free of charge.

The four day revival will be led by the Rev. Thomas J. Bickerton, member of the W.Va. Conference of the United Methodist Church, who serves as district superintendent of the Northern District of the W.Va. Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Bickerton holds a B.A. in sociology/psychology from West Virginia Wesleyan College, an M.Div. from Duke University Divinity School, and a D.Min. from United Theological School, and has previously been named the Beckley District Pastor of the Year and the W.Va. Conference Pastor of the Year. In 1995 he was endorsed as an Episcopal candidate for the office of bishop by the W.Va. Conference Delegation, and currently serves on the W.Va. Conference Board of Ordained Ministry, and is a delegate with the General Conference and the Northeast Jurisdictional Conference.

Bickerton has been involved in Vision 2000 on Global Ministries, the W.Va. Conference Commission on Camps and Educational Centers, and the Vital Congregations and Faithful Disciples Task Force. In 1986 he was part of a missions trip to Liberia, Kenya, and Zimbabwe. Bickerton has also been involved in work teams to assist victims of Hurricane Hugo and flooding in West Virginia on three separate occasions.

Bickerton and his wife, Rebecca Jo, a Christian educator, have been married for 17 years and have two children, Elizabeth and Thomas II.

WHAT WOULD MARCEL MARCEAU SAY? - Dr. Gail Herman conducted a workshop in mime recently at New Germany State Park, and the next evening the participants performed at the park's nature center in a mime, music, and storytelling event. Dr. Herman told stories of animals and the lore of nature as the mime performers held the audience spellbound, a testament to the power of the wordless gesture. Some of the participants are shown above, from the left, as Heather Dillons, Jessica Nixon, and Wanda Reynolds don traditional mime facepaint in preparation for their public performance; below, Dillons, left, and Herman play out one of the scenes. The program was funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, and the Friends of New Germany. (Nothing, of course.)

Many Holiday Visitors Stop At Info Booth

The Labor Day holiday weekend hosted a number of visitors to Garrett County, and the Garrett County Information Booth on Route 219 south of the Deep Creek Lake Bridge has provided information to a large number of visitors during the summer season.

A total of 892 persons visited the information booth over the four-day Labor Day weekend, including residents of 44 states and three foreign countries. The majority of the 2,025 inquiries received were for directions, especially to recreational facilities, lodging, and restaurants.

The Garrett County Visitors' Information Booth will continue to remain open seven days a week through the Autumn Glory Festival, which concludes Sunday, Oct. 11. The booth is staffed by Edgar Bender and William Sipple, both of Grantsville, and is operated by the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce.

Friendsville Man To Kayak Along Top Of World

A new frontier awaits a local resident who will be undertaking a journey of a lifetime on a kayaking expedition down an uncharted Tibetan river over the next two months. This coming Tuesday morning, Friendsville's Roger Zbel will depart Garrett County's 2,000-3,000 foot mountain tops for Tibetan peaks reaching four miles into the sky as part of an exploration expedition sponsored by National Geographic magazine.

"I'm part of a four-kayak expedition that will be kayaking Tibet's Yarling Tsang Po River," Zbel said, "one of Asia's major rivers, much of which has been pretty much unexplored to this point."

The Yarling Tsang Po River runs through the whole of Tibet, starting out in the west as the snow and ice melt of Himalayan glaciers, and draining east towards China. After 1,000 miles the river nears the Chinese border, where it meets the last buttress of the Himalayas and does an ox-bow turn and begins to flow south towards and through India. The Yarling Tsang Po is believed to be the headwaters of the Brahma Putra River, India's largest river, which eventually meets the Indian Ocean at the Bay of Bengal.

"We'll be running the ox-bow turn in the Yarling Tsang Po," said Zbel, "a 160-mile stretch. The river valley is on the high Tibetan plateau, with deep cuts surrounded by high, sheer cliffs. We'll put in at 9,000 feet above sea level and end our run at 3,000 feet, running through mountain passes between peaks over 20,000 feet high. We anticipate some really big rapids, but have no way of being sure as it's never been run before. We'll run what we can, but know we have some portaging ahead of us too."

Zbel explained that the river has remained as one of the few uncharted regions on earth because of Tibet's unique history and culture. "The British started looking for the Tibetan source of the Brahma Putra River in the early 1800s," he said, "but never made it because of the ruggedness of the terrain and because the Tibetan peoples regarded it as a holy river and barred access, sometimes by killing explorers.

"Then in the 1950s the Chinese communists took over Tibet and worked to keep westerners out. Only recently have the Chinese seen the potential of the tourist industry in the region, mainly because of the influence of foreign mountaineers climbing the Himalayan peaks.

"Several attempts have been made by other river runners from a variety of

JUST WHAT MONTH IS IT, ANYWAY? This picture was taken just a few days ago, as photographer John McEwen meandered along the shoreline of Broadford Lake on a hot afternoon. Beach babies in September are not usually seen in Garrett County, where the temperatures are generally cooler at this time of year. The summer has been long and pleasant, and residents are continuing to engage in a great many outdoor activities. High school sports are well under way, with local teams faring well in competition. The high school bands, too, will initiate their marching seasons this week. All the while, plans continue for popular area events such as the Buckwheat and Autumn Glory festivals. The mild climate should be enjoyed to the fullest because weather experts are apparently predicting some harsh winter months, thanks to naughty La Niña.

All Area Residents Urged To Join Star-Studded Cancer March In D.C.

The assistance of each and every resident of the tri-state region is encouraged in next Saturday's bus trip that will take participants to "The March, Coming Together to Cure Cancer," in Washington, D.C.

A number of seats are still available on a pair of air-conditioned tour buses will take on passengers at the Mt. Fresh Produce Pavilion at the Oakland town parking lot at 6 a.m, Saturday, Sept. 26. The caravan will then travel to Accident to pick up riders at Northern High School at 6:30 a.m.. for the trip to Washington. There is no cost for the day-long round-trip excursion, and reservations may be made by calling Alice Ann Ridder 301-334-3828.

The public event on the nation's Mall, which in the past has seen marches, gatherings, and even protests by a host of disparate and sometimes divided groups, is intended to unite all Americans, whether personally touched by cancer or not, in a consensus to create a powerful, completely unprecedented crusade dedicated to curing cancer now. In a show of support, a number of famous Americans and celebrities will be on hand to lend their voices to the marchers.

Several local cancer survivors have asked for support and have issued challenges to their friends and neighbors here on the mountaintop to join the March. "Cancer kills hundreds of thousands of Americans each year," said District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett, an Oakland resident. "We as a nation would never accept those numbers of casualties in a war; why do we accept it now? We want to raise everyone's awareness and raise hell with Congress to provide more funding for cancer research, and we need everyone's help."

Garrett County Memorial Hospital nurse and Mtn. Lake Park resident Cindy Kutchman said, "I hope the March leads to more money being put into cancer research, more support for cancer patients and their families, raises awareness of the signs and symptoms that signal the beginning of cancer in the body, and raises awareness that there are treatments out there that do work."

Oakland resident Vickie Evans, a dental hygienist, [illegible] touches everyone in one way or another. "Statistics show that 1 in 2 men and 1 in 3 women will develop cancer in their lifetime, and approximately 1.5 million people will be diagnosed with cancer this year. Cancer costs our society more than $104 billion a year, and too many people with cancer continue to fight against an inadequately funded health care system."

The western Maryland/ tri-state bus delegation will

Oakland Depot To Welcome Fall Foliage Train

The Mainline Fall Foliage Excursions will be hosted again this year by the Western Maryland Scenic Railroad (WMSRR), with one of the two round-trip excursions including a stop at the historic Oakland train station. The train will depart from Cumberland and travel to Oakland on Saturday, Oct. 3. On the following day, the train will go from Cumberland to Brunswick.

The day-long excursion offers the passenger "a chance to relax and enjoy the incredible view of picturesque autumn," according to a spokesperson.

"We are especially pleased to be offering these two excursions this year," said Ed Kemmet, WMSRR general manager. "We thought that last year's excursions would be the final ones. The excursions use MARC trains on CSX lines, which are very busy lines. CSX really went out of their way to allow us to have the lines this year and we are grateful."

The Saturday trip takes a freight line to Oakland, offering railroad buffs the only opportunity to encounter this particular line. The train will leave the Cumberland AMTRAK station at 9:30 a.m. and climb the heights of the Alleghenies from Cumberland's elevation of 640 feet to Oakland's 2,363. The trail will travel along the Potomac

Mel Menker Named Maryland Youth Soccer Coach Of Year

Harmon "Mel" Menker, a local soccer organizer, coach, and referee, who has in two years made a significant impact on the level of play in wide areas in Garrett County, has been named the Maryland State Youth Soccer Association's Coach of the Year for 1998. Menker, who is an assistant coach of the Southern High School boys' varsity, was honored at a surprise ceremony during halftime of a match between Southern and Bishop Walsh Saturday evening at the SHS athletic field.

Presenting the award, which was established in memory of Dr. Donald Minnegan, were Jerry C. May, executive director of the MSYSA, and Graham Ramsay, director of education and training for the MSYSA. Dr. Minnegan was a pioneer of youth soccer in Maryland who "worked tirelessly" to advance the game. "This award recognizes youth soccer coaches who exemplify the high standards of commitment and service to youth soccer and the youth of Maryland set by Dr. Minnegan," May explained.

Menker, who is pastor of the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, has been in the county for just over two years, having moved here from Ohio, but during that time has accomplished much for the sport of soccer, via his coaching position with Southern High School, his involvement with the Mountaintop Soccer Association (MSA) as a board member, his founding of an independent soccer organization for youth, and his involvement as a certified soccer referee.

Menker was named the Southern High assistant two years ago, joining the staff with head coach Tom Powers and assistant Bill Lovett. He established an indoor traveling program for high school youth during the winter months and then, the following spring, founded

NAMED STATE COACH OF THE YEAR - Harmon "Mel" Menker, assistant soccer coach of the Southern High School boys' varsity team and founder of the local Arsenal Football Associates, was named the Maryland State Youth Soccer Association's Coach of the Year for 1998 in a surprise ceremony held Saturday evening during halftime of a match between Southern and Bishop Walsh. On hand to present the award was Jerry C. May, executive director of the MSYSA, pictured left. At right is Menker's wife Cathy. Also present for the event was Graham Ramsay, director of education and training for the MSYSA. The annual award is given in memory of Dr. Donald Minnegan to recognize youth soccer coaches who "exemplify the high standards of commitment and service to youth soccer and the youth of Maryland set by Dr. Minnegan," who was the state director of physical education and appointed by the U.S. Department of State to establish physical education and youth soccer programs in Europe in 1945 and Korea in 1947. He also established indoor soccer at Towson State University in the 1960s and was a member of the staff of the U.S. Olympic Committee for the 1964 games in Tokyo. Menker, who is pastor of the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, has resided in the county for just two years, but during that time has established a local indoor soccer traveling program, as well as a regular outdoor travel club (Arsenal) for both boys and girls; he has coordinated license courses with MSYSA for local coaches; he has assisted in the development of a coaches' manual; he was instrumental in bringing high school soccer to Garrett County; and he is an active local referee, certified by both FIFA and the state high school association. Local Officials Press For Input On Lake Sale

Garrett County commissioners Wayne Wilt, Gary Fratz, and Wayne Johnson, their staff personnel, and Fred Thayer, the Deep Creek Lake Advisory Committee chairman, met with the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John Griffin and his staff Monday, Sept. 14, in Annapolis to discuss issues surrounding the state's acquisition of the lake from General Public Utilities (GPU). The topic of discussion was reportedly the county's role in the future management of the lake.

The local officials have been concerned for several months that the negotiations are continuing without their input, even though all parties originally agreed that the county representatives should be able to have a part in the process. However, as has been asserted before, Griffin emphasized the confidential nature of the negotiations with GPU, which is required by the June 2 Memorandum of Understanding. He said he recognized as critical the date of Sept. 30 for an agreement between the state and GPU on price for the buffer strip and submerged acreage of the lake.

After what was reported as a lengthy discussion on the county's insistence on ensuring meaningful local input in the management decisions involving the operation of the lake, Griffin said he believes there can be agreement on a mechanism to attain the county's wishes. He deferred to the DNR's Deep Creek Lake Advisory and Review Committee's function in providing recommendations to him on how the lake should be operated, and he invited the county's advisory committee to participate in the DNR process.

He added that he could not conceive of an "authority" per se, as in the "stadium-style" authority proposal currently being promoted by the county officials, but that he was willing to listen to any other options.

Griffin suggested that such an agreement by the end of the year would be appropriate. The local officials then reiterated their request to expedite the process. The result was reportedly a general agreement that the county leaders will meet regularly to select a means of ensuring an enhanced local voice in the management decisions regarding the operation of Deep Creek Lake.

STATE CHAMPION - Alicia DeWitt, Swanton, was named the champion in the Separates catagory of the Maryland 4-H Fashion Revue, held recently at the Maryland State Fair in Timonium. The 13-year-old student of Southern High School created a three-piece ensemble that included a reversible pink tank top, a lacy, short-sleeved over-blouse, and a long, flowered skirt. She was one of 67 4-H members from around the state, ranging in age from 14 to 18, who participated in the competition. There were 11 catagories in two divisions, and the entrants' work was judged by a 13-person panel. Alicia is a member of the Country Kids 4-H Club, and is the daughter of Rick and Sandy DeWitt.

Less Than Half Of Voting Public Takes Part In Tuesday's Election

Two comm. incumbents out, Sherbin retained

Just over 48% of Garrett County voters went to the polls Tuesday for the 1998 Primary Election, and those voters chose to change the membership of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, as well as retain the current circuit court judge and county sheriff. While the absentee ballots have yet to be officially totaled, these changes will most likely stay in place, according to a spokesperson at the Garrett County Supervisors of Elections Board. All totals reported are unofficial and do not include the absentee ballot results, as the final count will not be complete until this afternoon.

Commissioner incumbents Wayne Wilt and Wayne Johnson were defeated by candidates Wendell Beitzel and Ernie Gregg, respectively. With 5,163 Republican ballots cast, Gregg garnered 1,670 votes, followed by David Beard with 1,300. Wilt received 912. The remaining contenders in District 1 and their numbers were: S Larry Tichnell, 598; Jon Thayer, 337; and David C. Insley, 155. As there were no Democrat candidates, Gregg will be officially unopposed in the November election.

In the race for District 3, Beitzel received 1,367 votes, followed closely by Johnson with 1,251. Charlotte Sebold was third with 1,060 and Russell Sines came in with 1,045. Candidate Douglas Railey received 240 votes. Beitzel will now face Democrat contender George Falter Jr., who garnered 953 votes of the 1,938 Democrat ballots cast.

The Republican race for District 2 commissioner was won by Frederick Holliday by a substantial margin. Holliday received 3,218 votes compared to Clyde Hetrick's 603 and Lester Hunter's 575. Holliday will now compete for the position against incumbent Gary Fratz, who ran unopposed on the Democrat ticket and garnered 1,411 votes.

In the contest for circuit court judge, James Sherbin was voted into office, having been appointed to the position two years ago by the governor of Maryland. In the bi-partisan race, Sherbin received 954 Democrat votes and 2,588 Republican. His main contender, Robert Watson, earned 607 Democrat votes and 1,627 Republican. The third candidate, Jack Turney, received 347 votes from Democrats and 831 from Republicans.

Sheriff candidates for the general election will be Republican P. Richard "Dick" Sanders, the incumbent officer, and Democrat David J. Martin. Martin defeated contender Floyd R. Baker, 922 to 522. Sanders had an easy win on the Republican ballot, having garnered 2,246 votes over the next candidate, Harland Tichnell, who earned 1,268. F. William Ferry received 735 votes and Chester Sines got 647.

The Republican voters again gave the nod to Delegate George Edwards, incumbent, who earned 4,023 votes. His competitor, DeCorsey Bolden, garnered 956. The Democrat candi-

Scott Germain Hired As School Foods Manager

Scott Germain, a native of Oakland, has been employed as food and nutrition service program manager for the Garrett County Board of Education, according to Dr. Wendell Teets, school superintendent. His employment became effective yesterday, Sept. 16.

Germain, who is a son of Joe and Carolyn Germain, Oakland, is a graduate of Southern High School and earned a bachelor of science degree in travel industry management with concentrations in hotel-restaurant management and park and resort management from Concord College, Athens, W.Va. He also holds an associate degree in business administration from Garrett Community College and has completed a number of courses related to his field.

Germain has served as food service director for a private high school and as assistant food services director at three colleges. His most recent employment was as the assistant director at East Tennessee State University in Jonesborough, Tenn.

Germain is married to the former Kristiana Wilt, also a native of Garrett County.

CAMO Benefit Dinner Set At Pleasant Valley

Central American Outreach (CAMO), which provides teams of American medical volunteers and donated medical supplies and equipment to the poor peoples of Central America, will benefit from a fundraiser dinner at the Pleasant Valley Community Center on Saturday, Sept. 26. CAMO founder Kathy Tschiegg, a nurse and a former Peace Corps volunteer, will be on hand from Honduras to speak at the dinner.

CAMO is a small group of medical volunteers who rapair donated medical equipment here in the United States, pack the equipment and donated medical supplies into tractor-trailers, than drive the trucks to Central America into areas in dire need of medical assistance. Through these strictly volunteer efforts, CAMO is able to turn each $1 donation into $10 of service and education, which means that a $10 donation for a dinner ticket to this event will translate into $100 in care for the poor.

Local residents may recall that the late Mary and Eli Yoder, both CAMO volunteers and friends of Tschiegg's, were killed four years ago when the brakes of their modified school bus gave out on a mountain road in Honduras after they had just delivered badly needed medical equipment to Tschiegg. Several of their children were injured in the accident as well, which came to the attention of Dr. Dona Alvarez of Oakland, who became involved in CAMO at that point and now serves as a local spokesperson for the charitable organization.

With this fund-raising dinner, Alvarez, Tschiegg, and CAMO are launching a project to raise donations for the construction of a receiving warehouse here in the United States which will be used by volunteers to receive, sort, repair, and pack donated medical equipment for delivery to Honduras and other third world countries. Ken Yoder, one of the Yoders' children, will donate time, energy, and a work force to help construct this large pole building.

Other projects that CAMO volunteers are currently sponsoring include the construction of an operating room in the regional hospital of Santa Rosa de Copan, a small Honduran hospital that serves 600,000 poor people but has no such facilities for orthopaedics. Alvarez is personally involved with this aspect of CAMO's work as well.

All proceeds from the Pleasant Valley fund-raising dinner will benefit CAMO's efforts to serve the poor. Dinner tickets are $10 person and are available at Deep Creek, Beachy's, and Gregg's pharmacies, Ace Quick Lube, Garrett County Orthopaedics, and at the door. For further information about the dinner, or about CAMO, persons may call 301-334-9365

Deer Park Melee Ends In Three Arrests By GCSO

Three men were arrested Monday night after Garrett County sheriff's deputies and Maryland State Police troopers were called to the scene of a fight in progress Monday night in Deer Park. The 11 p.m. Church Street incident resulted in the arrests of August Charles Knapp III, 31, Deer Park, and Oakland residents John Wayne Pilkerton, 23, and Michael Paul Pilkerton, 19.

At the time of their arrival deputies reportedly found approximately 15 people involved in the fracas, some reportedly armed with baseball bats and metal pipes. The report stated that Michael Pilkerton was observed standing in the roadway yelling profanities, and refused to reply with deputies' requests to stop yelling, which led to his arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

After the disturbance was quelled, an investigation led to allegations that Knapp had struck John Pilkerton on the back with a pick handle, and that John Pilkerton had reportedly struck a Mtn. Lake Park resident, James Gregory Ford, 18, in the side with a metal pipe. Southern Rescue Squad was called to transport Ford to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for injuries to his mouth and left side and was released.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Knapp and John Pilkerton, charging both of them with first-degree assault and disorderly conduct. Each subject was subsequently released after posting a $2,500 cash bond. Michael Pilkerton was released on his own recognizance.

State Police Seeking Info On Burglaries

The Maryland State Police are seeking the public's assistance in investigations of a pair of burglaries that occurred in homes north of Oakland in Betts Estates, located on Roman Nose Hill.

The first burglary occurred between July 21 and 25, and the second occurred between Wednesday, Sept. 9, and Friday, Sept. 11. Police said a 12-gauge Mossburg pump shotgun was taken in one of the incidents. Suspects may be entering the area on four-wheelers or dirt bikes via connecting trails that originate off Bray School Road, reports said.

Anyone with information on either of those incidents is asked to call Cpl. R.J. Beard at the McHenry Barrack at 301-387-1101.

New Equipment For Grantsville Playground Here

Parents, volunteers, business owners, and students of Grantsville have nearly completed a project that began some time ago, as new playground equipment purchased by the Grantsville PTA has arrived, according to Randy Glotfelty, PTA vice president. The equipment was purchased with a combination of funds raised through various fundraisers and a loan secured through American Trust Bank.

"By utilizing the loan from American Trust, substantial savings was realized by placing the order for the equipment when we did," said Dawn Beitzel, PTA president.

Plans are now under way to organize the installation of the equipment. While necessary drainage work and excavation was being completed, the equipment was stored by Casselman Lumber.

The original cost of the equipment was $25,425, but a discount of $9,775 was given for purchasing the equipment before the end of June. An additional discount of $469.50 was received for paying cash. The cost of freight was $1,463.86, bringing the cost to a total of $16,644.36. A total of $4,644.36 was paid by the PTA, with the remaining balance being paid by the loan.

The loan was approved by the executive council of the Grantsville PTA with the knowledge of Dale Garlitz, school principal at the time. The signatures on the loan include Dawn Beitzel, Randy Glotfelty, Jackie Boylan, Keren Maust, and Kristine Graber. These individuals have consented to remain on the PTA council until the loan has been paid off.

"By obtaining the loan, the playground will be installed and used by the students who have worked so hard to raise the funds. Without the loan, the equipment would still be a dream and many of the students would go on to the middle school without being permitted to enjoy the new equipment," said Beitzel.

"Local businesses and individuals have been very generous in helping the PTA reach their goal. We still have a lot of work to do before the project is completed," added Beitzel, "but with the continued support of the local community, we hope to complete our project this fall."

Elks To Host MS Fund-Raising U.G.L.Y. Kick-Off

The kick-off party for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society's 1998 U.G.L.Y. (unselfish, generous, loving, young-at-heart) Challenge is set for Monday, Sept. 21, from 7 to 10, at the Oakland Elks Lodge, 100 Elk Street in Oakland.

The MS Society and the Elks Lodge is looking for "big hearted" owners and managers of bars, restaurants, nightclubs, package goods stores, and organizations to participate. The event will include complimentary hors d'oeuvres, discount drink prices, and winning demonstrations on "how to get U.G.L.Y." this October for MS. Those who sign up will receive an U.G.L.Y. survival kit.

Funds are calculated by votes, and one quarter equals one vote, so if a registered place collects one dollar, it receives four votes. During the four-week competition there are ways to earn bonus votes by sending in the weekly proceeds on time. The MS Society offers bonus vote opportunities to places that want to sign up. Any establishment that holds a beer, wine, or liquor license can earn 25 bonus votes for each person from their establishment who is attending the kick-off at the Oakland Elks Lodge. Funds raised will support international MS research and local services.

The 1998 U.G.L.Y. Challenge also has a new division called "Evenings For MS" designed for restaurants. The campaign will officially begin on October 1 and continue to October 31. On November 17, the MS Society will announce the statewide winner who has raised the most votes at the 19th annual Awards Ball at Martin's West in Baltimore.

This year's campaign is presented by Ron Barcardi, Limoa and sponsored by Tonrs de Sport, The Republican, The Maryland Beverage Journal, Patuxent Publishing Co., The Cumberland Times-News, Baltimore Alternative, and radio stations: WWHC 92.3 FM, WROG 1230 AM, WQCM 96.7 FM, WFRE 99.9 FM, WFMD 930 AM, WXCY 103.7 FM, MIX 106.5 WWMX, and WZBH 93.5 FM, The Beach.

The mission of the National MS Society is to end the devastating effects of multiple sclerosis

GCSO Seeking Leads In Theft Of Tailgate

A tailgate was taken from a pickup truck parked at a Grantsville area residence, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

The theft, which occurred in the 5500 block of Amish Road, reportedly occurred between Sept. 7 and 11. The missing tailgate, valued at $600, is white in color and was mounted on a white Dodge quad-cab pickup.

Anyone with information on this investigation is encouraged to call the sheriff's office at 301-334-1911.

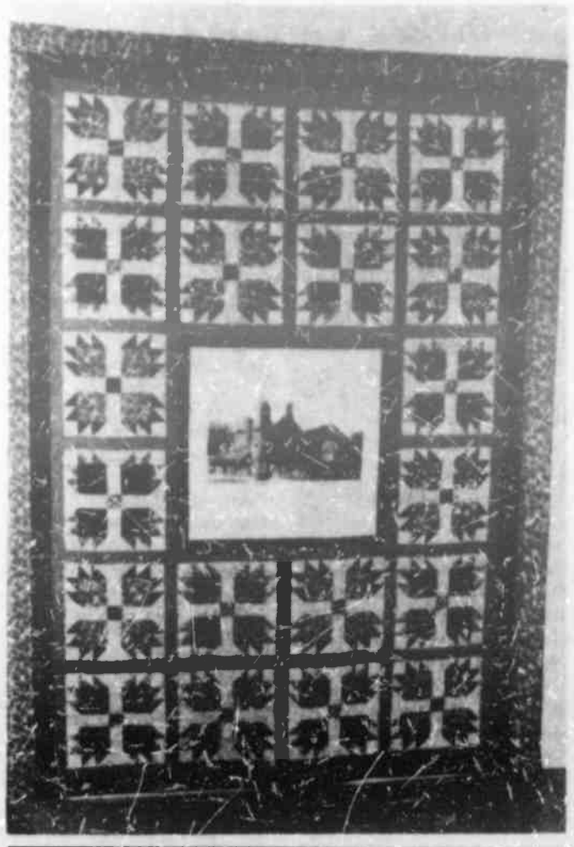
Entries Sought For Mt. Fresh Pumpkin Fair

The third annual Mt. Fresh Pumpkin Fair is slated for Saturday, Oct. 3, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Mt. Fresh Pavilion, located off the Oakland town parking lot. Pumpkins, gourds, fall produce, baked goods, crafts, and mums will be available for purchase during the event, which will also feature several contests in which public participation is invited.

A pumpkin growing contest, open to all ages, seeks entries of home-grown pumpkins from Garrett, Allegany, Preston, and Tucker counties. First place ribbons will be awarded in the following categories: largest pumpkin; longest pumpkin (top to bottom); best-shaped pumpkin; and most unusually shaped pumpkin. Pumpkins entered in the contest should be mostly orange.

Contests for best carved pumpkin and best painted pumpkin will be held for two age divisions, 12 and under, and 13 and over. Ribbons will be awarded in each age group and category. Props such as hats, hair, scarves, etc., are allowed in this contest, and creativity is encouraged. Pumpkins in this contest may be available for sale if the entrants are willing.



A baking contest will match the culinary skills of bakers in two age divisions, 12 and under, and 13 and over. Entries in the following categories will be judged on taste and appearance: best pumpkin muffins (submit four); best pumpkin cookies (submit eight); best pumpkin bread (submit one-half loaf); best pumpkin pie; and best miscellaneous pumpkin dessert.

A decorated cake contest, which will decide the best autumn-decorated cake using a pumpkin theme, is open to participants ages 13 years old and over. Cakes will be judged on their appearance.

Finally, an autumn arrangement contest, also for ages 13 and over, will judge entries in two categories: best autumn table arrangement using a pumpkin as the container; and best table or door decoration using a pumpkin in the arrangement. Only natural materials will be accepted for this contest.

Mt. Fresh Pavilion dealer spaces for the Pumpkin Fair, and the following weekend's Autumn Glory Festival, are available. Interested persons should contact market coordinator Cathy Sanders at 301-334-6960 or 301-334-4580 for more information. The annual Pumpkin Fair is co-sponsored by Mt. Fresh Producers Association.

The Mt. Fresh Produce Market will be open each Wednesday and Saturday at the Pavilion through Oct. 31, beginning at 10 a.m.

A STITCH IN TIME - The 19th annual Heritage Craft Fest quilt to benefit the Garrett County Arts Council (GCAC), shown here, features the cross-stitch embroidery work of Marilyn McCain and the hand-quilting of Karin Rodeheaver. This "Victorian Station" creation, celebrating a fine needlepoint depiction of Oakland's historic B&O railroad station, will be raffled at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 11, at Broad Ford Elementary School, located just east of Oakland along Harvey Winters Road, off Memorial Drive. The OCAC Heritage Craft Fest, which features the works of 60 artisans and artists, will be open to the public on Saturday of Autumn Glory weekend from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Raffle tickets will be available at the festival at $1 each, and the lucky heirloom winner need not be present at the time of the drawing. The station quilt is currently on display at the Not Just Gifts shop, 210 East Alder St., Oakland, where raffle tickets may be purchased prior to Autumn Glory.

Urged To Join

be joining with other supporters by 10 a.m. the Johns Hopkins Pavilion on the Mall. They will be among the thousands of March participants who will have an opportunity to visit booths and stages set up around the Mall to present education and cancer awareness activities, and enjoy the abundant free entertainment that will also be provided.

The event site will also include memorials representing each state, and participants will have the opportunity to leave a message, memento, photograph, or personal tribute to a survivor or loved one lost to the disease. Local residents unable to make the bus trip may send a small photo or keepsake to be used to create a display at the Friday night candlelight visit at the Lincoln Memorial and the following day during the Mall March and rally. Photos may be sent by this Saturday, Sept. 19, to Vickie Evans, 9201 Garrett Hwy., Oakland, Md. 21550, or they may be left at the dental office of Dr. William Savage, located at 325 East Oak St., Oakland.

In Washington at noon on Saturday, the crowd will converge outside the Capitol building and Retired General Norman Schwarzkopf, one of the country's 8.1 million cancer survivors and the Honorary Chair of the March, will rally the crowd with an address declaring war on cancer.

Schwarzkopf volunteered to lead the March in April of last year by phoning in to the Larry King Live television program, and adding, before a world-wide audience, "I challenge every other cancer survivor—and every other American—to join me."

Schwarzkopf will be joined by a number of famous speakers and performers, including singing legends David Crosby and Graham Nash, Aretha Franklin, and Michael Bolton, who have volunteered their time and talents to celebrate the historic gathering and the beginning of a national movement to win the war on cancer.

Local March organizers expressed their appreciation to supporters including DeWitt Charter Services for providing the buses, and Dr. Dona Alvarez, the Garrett County Medical Group, and local medical staff for covering all transportation expenses. Appreciation was also extended to a number of general supporters, especially the independent pharmacies of Garrett County, including Beachy's, Friendsville, Deep Creek, Gregg's, Englander's, and Proudfoot's pharmacies.

The cancer survival stories of Evans, Kutchman, and Burnett, and the positive and negative effects of the disease on their families, friends, and loved ones will be profiled in a feature article that will appear in The Republican next week.

Shaking her head and speaking quietly, almost as an afterthought, Evans added softly, "If we took all the money, time, and energy that's been spent on the scandal investigation in Washington to bring someone down, what good could it have done in other areas?"

Savage River Lodge Ceremony Notes Progress

State and local dignitaries, including Delegate George Edwards and the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, gathered this afternoon at the Savage River Lodge five miles south of Finzel for a ribbon cutting ceremony and construction celebration for Garrett County's newest resort. The Savage River Lodge, described as an upscale country inn, will eventually employ approximately 10 full-time staff and an additional number of part-time staff members when it opens next summer, according to owners Mike Dreisbach and Jan Russell.

"It's really exciting to see the past six years of work and energy we've put in coming together," Russell said. "We're looking forward to contributing to the economy of Garrett County through our business and the jobs we will be making available for local residents. We also hope to work closely with the Adventuresports Institute at Garrett Community College and Frostburg State University to investigate the possibility of internship opportunities for AVS majors."

Located on 42 acres of private land within the boundaries of Savage River State Forest, the Lodge complex will consist of 18 luxury cabins and a 7,000-square-foot main lodge building. In addition to the resort lodging and restaurant, the Lodge will also offer corporate meeting facilities and packages, periodic weekend programs, and hunting, fishing, and other outdoor recreation packages.

The Savage River Lodge project is being financed by a consortium of local, state, and federally funded rural small business lenders, led by American Trust Bank of LaVale. The project has been made possible through the cooperation of the state of Maryland, the Garrett County government, the Garrett County Economic Development office, and the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce.

Man To Kayak

countries to navigate the river but they've all failed, mainly because they've picked times when the water got too high. We're going now at a low point of the water level, which carries a risk in itself because at the end of the run there's a three-day portage over a 15,000-foot pass that we have to get through before the snow hits, which could come at anytime in October."

Zbel, the founder, owner, and operator of Precision Rafters in Friendsville, and his fellow expedition kayakers, Doug Gordon of Utah, and brothers Jamie McEwan of Connecticut and Tom McEwan of Washington, D.C., are all experienced kayakers who will be joined by a five-person land-based support team. The 42-year-old Zbel's previous major foray into uncharted waters was on a three-week kayaking expedition 1986 that covered some unexplored portions of a Peruvian river.

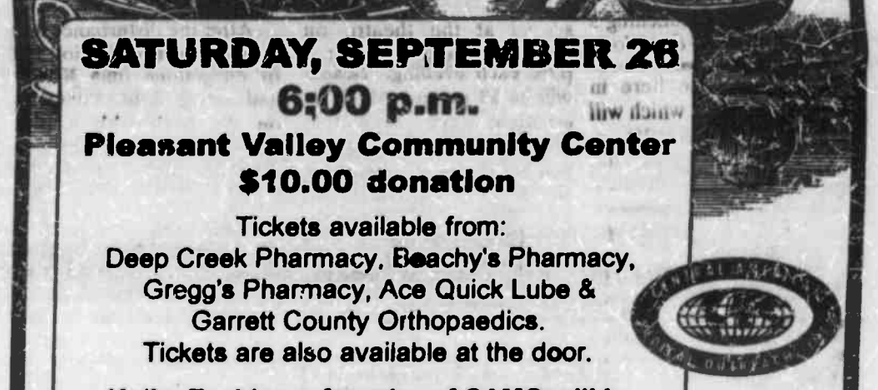
This Tibetan expedition will eventually be featured in an upcoming National Geographic magazine article, and possibly a video as well. All photos and video footage will be taken by Zbel and the three other kayakers, each of whom received training from the National Geographic Society in adventure photojournalism techniques. "We spent one day in the field at the Potomac River's Mather Gorge near Washington," Zbel recalled, "and another day at the Society's headquarters learning what they wanted from photography and filming. It was pretty intense."

Intense is the word to describe Zbel's feelings as he finalizes his preparations for the journey of a lifetime. "I'm scared somewhat," he admitted. "There's fear since it's never been run before. It's dangerous and there's a lot of unknowns, a lot of variables that we don't know about until we meet them. We're going to be carrying everything we need to survive for 45 days, and paddling heavy boats in new whitewater is going to be really challenging.

"My wife Nancy is not as excited about this as I am, I guess, but she realizes this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. A good thing for us is that the Chinese government will be supplying the expedition with satellite phones, and we'll be able to send out updates of our progress every 10 days. Nancy and my 3-year-old daughter Cari will be able to keep track of what's going on that way.

"I really love Garrett County and want to come back and see it," Zbel concluded.

THANK YOU



We want to thank everyone who came out and joined us at our fund-raising dinner for the Allen "Blow" Tasker Memorial Fund.

Minority Rules...

The Democrat and Republican candidates for November's general election have been selected, but we wish to comment on one disappointment and a couple of concerns with Tuesday's primaries.

The rather obvious disappointment was the voter turnout, as fewer than half of the county's registered voters responded to the polling places. In races that featured so many candidates and so many important elected positions, including our entire board of county commissioners, our sheriff, and our circuit court judge, we would have thought that at least 65 or 70 percent of the county's voters would have carried out their civic duty. Heavens, there couldn't be too many people in the county who weren't related to at least one of the candidates! Yet, less than 50 percent — a minority — of our voters have made these important decisions for the majority.

It's true that local Democrats did not have nearly the selection that the Republicans did, but the race for circuit court judge alone should have been enough incentive for them to vote. And the Republicans, who had many candidates from which to choose, also had only a 55 percent turnout.

We have a couple of suggestions for the election officials that may help. First of all, we don't understand why so many voters had to go to different polling places, and why some had to travel quite a few miles. There were McHenry residents who had to vote in Oakland, for example. Those who were assigned a new polling place were apparently notified by mail, but months and months ago, and even then, some who did report to their new location found out that they were still on the list at their previous site and thus had to return there in order to vote.

We also don't understand why school was cancelled for the day, unless it was simply to allow the election board to use the schools for polling places. Frankly, the election board should utilize other buildings and not the schools for this purpose. There are enough community centers, fire halls, and the like for this purpose. Those of us in the Mtn. Lake Park precinct were moved to Dennett Road School to vote. Why didn't we vote at our own town hall, which is plenty large enough? We believe it was moved from that location several years ago because the voting machines were too heavy for the floor, but we no longer use those weighty machines.

Closing schools also forced many parents to make arrangements for the care of their children, which no doubt made it more difficult for some of them to get out of the house to vote.

Is there some logic amidst all of this confusion? If so, it has escaped us.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The letter about the person asked to leave the church because he had lost an eye has really bothered me! How could any preacher be ashamed to ask someone to leave church at a time when it would be needed most?

What would Jesus do? You could come to our church to be welcomed and loved!

J. Schrock
Oakland

Dear J. Schrock:

There are, of course, at least two sides to every story.

Editor

To the Editor:

The following is a copy of a fax I sent to Commissioner Wayne Wilt. I have been given the runaround on this and am deeply concerned that the urgently needed center lines will not be painted this summer.

Dear Mr. Wilt:

The subject county roads are in immediate need of repainting center lines. The old lines are completely obliterated. I have had three close calls of vehicles approaching me in the middle of the road.

I have called both the county and the state highway departments and received no satisfaction. The offices pass the problem back and forth, each saying that the other must make arrangements with the line painting company. I was also told that the company is located in New Jersey and may not get around to these Garrett County roads until next spring.

This represents a serious safety hazard and needs to be addressed immediately.

J. Baird Atwood

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the League of Women Voters of Garrett County for putting on the two candidates' forums at Garrett Community College. Considering the number of candidates running for the various offices, they did an outstanding job. Everything went very smoothly and efficiently.

Thanks also to Don Blacell for helping the League by posing the questions to the candidates.

The refreshment table was especially nice, as were the people who were attending it.

And of course there are always those behind the scene people who helped. Thank you, too.

These people performed a tremendous service to the whole community by making it possible for people to be more informed in this election.

This election, my vote goes to all of the above.

Sincerely,
George Falter Jr.
Candidate for Commissioner
District 3

To the Editor:

This is just a note to thank all the wonderful people who supported me and worked for me during the campaign for Circuit Court Judge and to congratulate Judge Jim Sherbin and wish him well.

Needless to say, I am very proud of all those brave people who thought enough of me to join in the committee organized by Terry Helbig and Dave Burdock and to announce their support publicly. I also want to say to them that I have known Jim Sherbin for 20 years or more and that he is not a man to hold a grudge. To those who opposed me, I want to assure them that I hold no hard feelings and respect their decision.

Jim will be Circuit Court Judge for at least 15 years and probably a little longer. It is a tough and demanding job. He will need community support and we must do our part to see that he gets it.

Meanwhile, as of Monday, I will be back in the office and open for business.

Sincerely,
Robert E. Watson

To the Editor:

Mark McGwire is to be congratulated, at least in my book, for two reasons other than the obvious. He took the focus of news broadcasts off the distasteful Clinton-Lewinsky affair and gave the country and the world some good news for a change, and he was often shown in close-ups chewing bubble gum instead of tobacco! How refreshing to see McGwire and a very few other major league players with gum instead of that telltale lump in their cheeks, not to mention the unsavory spitting that accompanies it.

McGwire admits that he knows he is a role model, and he enjoys it. It's too bad more ball players don't realize or admit that they, too, are role models, good or bad. Young kids are watching and want to be more like their heroes. When these heroes can be seen on national TV using tobacco, they are doing their viewers a great disservice. They are sending kids the wrong message.

I wish the major league teams would take a long, hard look at themselves and clean up their act! The result could be a lot healthier kids, and eventually adults, in the long run.

A new McGwire fan,
Donna Aspinall
Oakland

To the Editor:

Last week's letter to the editor from Robert E. Savage on church bigotry strikes nerves, elicits sympathy, and warrants response.

I'd like to share some of my own experience in this regard.

I know a pastor who turns a deaf ear to his neighbors pleas for compassion while using the Good Samaritan parable as his Sunday text. I have friends and relatives who believe that my spirituality is inferior to theirs because my beliefs don't mirror their religious views. People in my community who never miss Sunday services think nothing of libeling me throughout the week with uninformed malicious gossip. One local church publicly promotes intolerance. Another shuns member families in times of greatest need. All in Garrett County. The churches involved run the spectrum from "fundamentalist" to "secular humanist."

This is not to deny that many good, spiritual people live among us or to suggest that any of us live our lives without some degree of hypocrisy. My intent is not to cast stones. We're all human beings; we're all related.

The point is simply this — No church is better than its members allow it to be. Any individual can be better than the church he or she happens to attend.

Sincerely,
Lucy Martin

To the Editor:

I'm writing to thank Jane Avery, her staff, and all of the volunteers who made "Our Town Theatre" come to life in this community.

Saturday evening, my husband and I had the privilege to attend a production at the theater, the play Three Viewings. It was our first visit to the theater and we were amazed at what we found. Not only was there a full house (luckily we had made reservations), but the facility itself was full of character with its eclectic seating, historic woodwork, and warm lighting.

As frequent theatergoers (especially in my job as a theater critic for a morning newspaper) and big fans of community theater, we were delighted to find such a space in our former hometown and quite impressed by the quality of the production we attended. It rivaled that of some shows we've seen in bigger cities like Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, and New York.

Miss Avery is to be commended for her choice in this particular production, for its relevance to this community. With its setting in a small town unlike this one, and its universal themes of death and the life of those who survive, the play was sure to resonate for its audience, as it did for us.

We look forward to attending future productions when we're in town.

To the Editor:

In response to Mr. Rebele's letter regarding making Sand Flat Road the Oakland by-pass. The residents of Sand Flat have coped with the junk car [illegible] and fought the crowds [illegible] lishment of "War Games" in our midst. Most of us manage to smile at our newest residents — the statue of an Indian saluting -- and two honest to goodness live buffalo grazing — (the buffalo are nice). If you live on Sand Flat, you slow down even in good weather. Unfortunately, the fire department is often called to assist those drivers who don't.

Country living has many perks. I enjoy the cattle grazing — even when they break through their fence and graze on our only patch of grass — I can look forward to spring and witness first-hand the birth of long-legged colts. Summer brings the best corn and tomatoes in the county, and I have only to drive down the road a piece. I have the opportunity to share with the neighborhood children their 4-H projects and talk about ribbons won at the fair — even got to pet their new born twin goats. The deer are plentiful and many of us have been visited by mother bear and cubs.

I haven't polled my neighbors, Mr. Rebele, but I feel pretty certain that most of us want Sand Flat to stay the way it is: a beautiful country area. If it was your road being considered, I doubt very much if you would look forward to the noise of speeding trucks and wonder what else would spring up along your road once zoning was changed. As you sit on your deck, overlooking the lake, I'm sure you can find something else to worry about. The residents of Sand Flat Road appreciate our country living and, as we have in the past, will fight to keep Sand Flat beautiful.

To the Editor:

As a former resident of Garrett County with many fond memories, I write to you from El Salvador concerning the School of the Americas located in Ft. Benning, Georgia, and the current bill in Congress to cut off funding for the school.

The SOA was founded in 1946 in Panama and then moved to Ft. Benning in the early 1980s. According to its constitution, it was founded to "promote democracy in Latin America," but its history and list of graduates is to the contrary. Murder, extortion, and torture were some of the lessons that the U.S. Army taught Latin American officers at the SOA. According to recently declassified Pentagon reports, training materials used between 1982 and 1991 advocated murder, kidnapping, and other human rights abuses in clear violation of U.S. policy. The manuals encouraged "motivation by fear, payment of bounties for enemy dead, false imprisonment, executions, and the use of truth serum," the report says.

When the 12-year civil war ended in El Salvador, the United Nations Truth Commission issued a report in which 60 former graduates from the SOA, military officials in the Salvadoran army, were cited for atrocities and massacres done to their own people.

As of this moment, Congressman Roscoe Bartlett has not been supportive of H.R. 611 to cut off funding for the School of the Americas. I urge your readers to become informed on this issue and to write to the Congressman to support this bill. This year we celebrate the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, a perfect opportunity for the United States, in a symbolic gesture, to take a stand for the promotion of human rights by closing the School of the Americas.

Sincerely,
Sr. Catherine Arata, SSND

To the Editor:

On behalf of the citizens of the county, the League of Women Voters of Garrett County would like to thank The Republican newspaper for printing the Voters Guide in The Republican. What a job to print biographical information and answers to questions for 87 candidates! Putting all the pieces of this electoral puzzle into the Voters Guide was a Herculean task. My congratulations to the staff of The Republican! This is a tremendous service to the voters, as well as to the League. The League was happy to assist the paper in gathering this information.

The League would also like to thank you, the editor, for being the moderator at our two candidates' forums, August 30 and September 13. You were very efficient and effective with a touch of humor which helped the candidates relax a little.

The League is grateful for the financial support given by the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce which enabled us to rent the auditorium at Garrett Community College. This was an excellent facility for the forums. The League thanks the college for setting up the tables and the sound system for the stage, and the tables for the candidates' information and for refreshments. It made it very easy for the League to hold the forum.

We also want to thank WMSG for recording and broadcasting the two forums on Monday, August 31, and Monday, September 14. There are many voters who were unable to attend the forums, but were able to hear the candidates on the radio. The forum for the Board of Education will be broadcast at a later date since these candidates will only be on the November 3 ballot. Watch for future announcements of this broadcast.

I don't know anyone who wants to spend two beautiful Sunday summer afternoons sitting in the auditorium at GCC, but the League really appreciates the candidates who took their time to inform the public about the issues, and the public who came to meet and listen to the candidates. The League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization, is dedicated to keeping the public informed about issues and candidates.

Sincerely yours,
Virginia M. Grove
President

We at G.C./CARE are not surprised at the latest action taken by our western Maryland legislators in requesting feasibility studies of several proposed routes for a new interstate highway in western Maryland.

• The U.S. Route 220 proposal is not a new proposal; the 220 Association has been working on this for some time now.

• The corridor along the Allegany-Garrett border is extremely unlikely to happen because:

a. Secretary of Transportation David Winstead is on record as he stated in a letter to G.C./CARE dated Nov. 12, 1996, that he does not support the idea of a new alignment.

View From My Window

by Jeffrey Wilson

STARS AND THE HUMAN STORY

The sky has provided some rather spectacular theatre during the past few weeks. My beagles, Argae and Beatrice, have made sure I have had an opportunity to view this theatre, morning and night.

Should I ignore the alarm that goes off just before 6:00 a.m., the dogs set up their own alarm, reminding me that, while I can visit the toilet any time I want to do so during the night, they depend upon me to be taken outside to do their business. The whimpering noises they make remind me that if I do not take care of their needs, I will be sorry.

So I pull on some old duds and make my way downstairs, put leashes on the dogs, and head outside into the morning twilight. Last Friday I halted as I lumbered down the back steps, captivated by the sight of twin stars on the eastern horizon. I said to myself, "Those are planets."

Habit, not expertise, the habit of looking up while talking to the dogs in the darkness, made me know those two stars were not the usual ones for a mid-September morn. Later, when my early chores were behind me, I paused to look at the Sky Calendar ($9 per year, starting anytime, from Sky Calendar, Abrams Planetarium, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI 48824).

Sky Calendar is a monthly two-page information sheet which provides both an overview for the month as well as a day-by-day "aid to enjoying the changing sky." I looked at the boxes for the end of last week, and found my intuition confirmed. Those two stars were Mercury and Venus.

This morning and tomorrow morning we can see — other weather conditions permitting — the slightest crescent moon hanging just below Mars in the east and in anticipation of the rising of Venus. On Tuesday this week Jupiter was closer to Earth than it has been since 1987. The brightness of Jupiter has been stunning, brighter, and more diamond-like even than Venus on its brightest nights.

It is easy to imagine the stories that shepherds would spin as they lay on their backs on hillsides, nominally guarding their sheep, but attending to the theatre of the heavens. Their stories about the gods mirrored and explained the actions of mortals. The themes of patronage and jealousy, of love and hatred are familiar to us. In our time we have less pastoral ways of telling our tales. As I have observed the planetary dance on the borderlands of night, I have also been listening to the radio by day.

We joke sometimes that the people who live inside the Washington Beltway may be crazy because of lead in the drinking water. I have another theory. Perhaps they have lost their collective moral and rational balance because they are unable to see the stars at night. Even where I live light pollution encroaches, year by year, on my ability to see the stars. Inside the Washington Beltway the ability to see the stars must be virtually nil.

"Where were you when the lights went out?" There are never too many lights on at my place. Under the cover of darkness I leave my house, not surreptitiously, but as if I owned the place. I meander around the property, up and down the long farm lane with my dogs. My eyes are upward to the stars.

When Mercury comes near Venus or when Jupiter touches the moon, I am thinking of events in Washington. I am fashioning my own story of those who think themselves to be as gods, but whose lives follow only the ag[illegible]

Premier Physical Therapy

Premier Physical Therapy is a new outpatient physical therapy and sports medicine cliuic located at Valley View Professional Center on Wolf Acres Drive in Oakland, across the street from Yough Glades Elementary School. The facility has been open since Aug. 31, and is currently accepting patients. It is equipped with the finest rehabilitation equipment to motivate and facilitate recovery from injuries and functional limitations. Premier Physical Therapy is staffed by experienced professionals with the expertise to handle a broad range of injuries and diagnoses including orthopedics, arthritic pain, neurological disorders, sports injuries, back pain, spinal injuries, auto accidents, and worker's compensation claims.

The staff at Premier Physical Therapy includes Theresa Hannibal, licensed physical therapist and facility director, who has been a Garrett County resident for 16 years. She completed BS degrees in kinesiological sciences and physical therapy at the University of Maryland. She practiced physical therapy in an acute care setting for over 12 years as department head and staff therapist at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. More recently, she was director of rehabilitation and senior physical therapist at Meyersdale Manor Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center for close to four years. She has special interests in orthopedics, geriatrics, orthotic prescriptions, biomechanical problems, sports medicine, and work injury prevention.

Carla Lipscomb is a licensed physical therapist with a BS degree from West Virginia University. She has been practicing at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for the past two years. Carla's specialty areas in physical therapy are aquatherapy, neurological disorders, sports medicine, and pediatrics.

Susan Snyder, physical therapy technician, is a native of Garrett County. She was educated at Frostburg State University with a BS degree in health and physical education. She has worked in the field of physical therapy for over four years and enjoys interaction with patients and the use of state-of-the-art exercise equipment.

Donna Nordeck, office manager, is also a Garrett County native. She has extensive experience in human resources having worked over 12 years at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Bev Greaser, medical transcriptionist, is also a native of Garrett County. She has worked in this field for almost 10 years. She has a secretarial certificate and an associate degree in math and science from Garrett Community College.

Hannibal says the setting is dynamic and fun for staff and patients alike. "We strive to accommodate the special needs of all patients and their family members through the expertise of the very qualified staff at Premier Physical Therapy, and we hope that everyone will make Premier their first choice in physical therapy."

Premier Physical Therapy can be reached by calling 301-533-3200.

River, before ascending the "17-Mile Grade" on Backbone Mountain and the "Summit of the Alleghenies" at Altamont (elevation 2,628 feet).

During the almost three-hour layover in Oakland, visitors can visit the historic B&O Railroad Station, built in 1884 in the Victorian Queen Anne style by E. Francis Baldwin. Excursion riders will have time to sample a variety of lunch choices from area restaurants or shop in downtown Oakland, Kemmet said.

The Brunswick trip is scheduled to correspond with the 15th annual Brunswick Railroad Days. The excursion will leave the Cumberland AMTRAK station at 9:30 a.m. and travel 97 miles, along the Potomac Valley, to Brunswick. Along the excursion, train riders pass through four tunnels — Carothers, Graham, Stuart, and Randolph — and two bridges across the Potomac.

Once in Brunswick, riders can spend about three hours at the annual festival, which will include a model train show, museum tours, craft show, live music, entertainment, pony rides, children's games, and food.

Kemmet said the Fall Foliage Excursions fill quickly, and reservations are encouraged. For information or ticket reservations, persons should call 1-800-TRAIN-50 or 301-759-4400, or visit the WMSRR website at <www.wmsr.com>.

Southern High Alumni Band To March In AGF

All former members of the Southern Garrett Marching Band are invited to take part in the alumni band, which will march in the Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade.

"Last year we were small in numbers, but big in both spirit and sound," said Aaron Cropp, who with his wife Christine is organizing the group. "All the alumni who stuck it out last year, as well as all those who watched from the sidewalk, are invited to join in."

A practice will be held in Southern's band room on Friday, Oct. 9, at 7 p.m. Persons who can't be at the practice may join the group in the line-up on Saturday, Oct. 10.

For more information, persons may call Christine Chaney-Cropp at 304-599-9102 or e-mail Aaron Cropp at <adcropp@erols.com>.

of I-219).

e. I-81 would be a safer route for hazardous materials during the winter months.

There is no good reason for the proposed construction of I-219 North of I-68. When Del. Edwards proposed it, he said: "There is no pressing need for it." This also appears to contradict the stated goals of the Smart Growth legislation of 1997.

The isolation factor is a non-issue. We agree with Jerry Geisler, V.P. for the G.C. Chamber of Commerce. He has been quoted: "I-68 makes for easy access to our attractions." As to the panhandle of West Virginia, we believe that I-77 and I-79 are more than adequate. Furthermore, that should be left to W.Va. legislators to be concerned about.

We believe that this announcement falls into the "can't hit a moving target" or "keep 'em confused" category. We will not be distracted; we will stay focused on the real target — US 219. We have a bead on it and will keep it there.

We expect the governor to visit the area in the near future to discuss this issue with the people of Garrett County. We are keeping in regular contact with the governor's office and we have been assured by Jim Gring that he will be giving an exact date as soon as it can be worked into the governor's schedule.

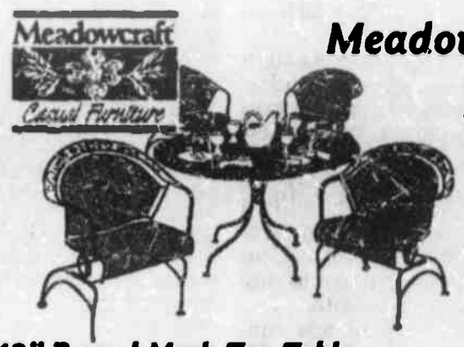
ACCIDENT HOUSING CORPORATION ANNUAL MEETING DATE SLATED

The annual meeting of the Accident Housing Corporation has changed its meeting date to Monday, Sept. 21, 1998, at 7 p.m., at Town View Village, just off the Accident-Friendsville Road in Accident.

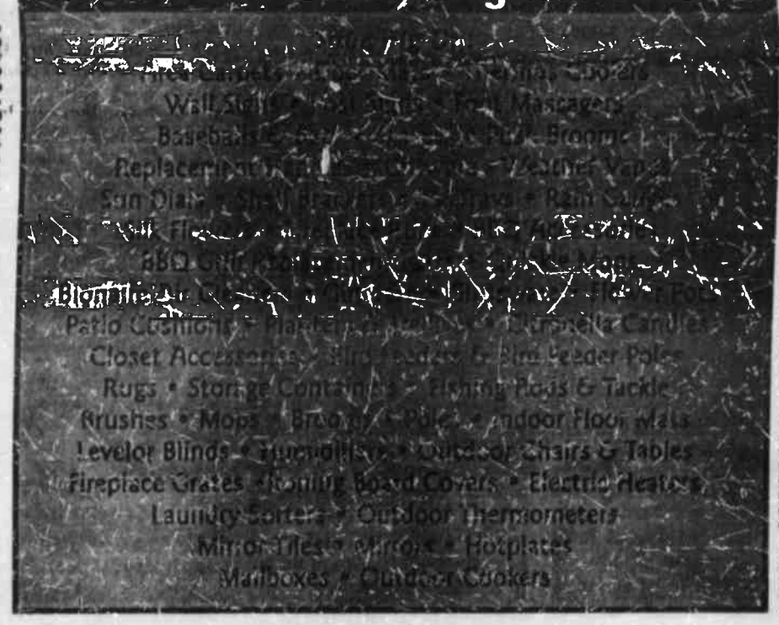
The Accident Housing Corporation was formed in June of 1978 to provide retirement housing for the community of Accident. Beginning with 30 members, Accident Housing Corporation broke ground for Town View Village in June of 1980. The first residents moved into the complex on July 1, 1981. In fact, some of the original residents still reside in the facility.

Town View Village offers 20 one-bedroom, one-bath apartments with full kitchens. This complex offers an on-site community room, laundry facilities, and a state-of-the-art security system. There is also a full-time on-site resident manager.

Under the jurisdiction of Farmers Home Administration, Town View Village caters to seniors and handicapped or disabled. The facility also offers one handicapped accessible unit.



Membership dues for the Accident Housing Corporation are only $5.00 per year. AHC is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing quality, affordable housing for Accident and Northern Garrett County. There are currently 35 members involved with Accident Housing Corporation, unpaid individuals who donate their time and energy to benefit the community.



Any individuals interested in becoming involved with the AHC or learning more about the organization are invited to attend the meeting. If you would like to become a member, you may mail your membership fee to: Accident Housing Corporation, P.O. Box 109, Accident, MD 21520.

Cake Auction, Poster Contest Among Highlights Of Potato Fest

Sunny skies and warm temperatures prevailed this past weekend as the Mt. Grove community and record crowds celebrated the 17th Annual Potato Festival.

Sponsored each year by the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department, festivities during the two-day event included country and bluegrass music, firemen's activities, arts and crafts sales, free blood pressure readings, raffles, door prizes, rides for the children, and concessions. Saturday's highlights included a decorated cake contest and auction, a second annual poster contest by area elementary school children, and a first-ever car show sponsored by the Mtn. Top Cruisers Car Club.

The decorated cake contest, a popular potato festival attraction, featured cakes baked with either fire department or potato festival themes. The top three prize-winning cakes were awarded to the following: first place, Jennifer Brown, who received $100; second place, Wanda Evans, who was awarded $50; and third place, Reba Williams, whose prize was $25. The prize money for the annual contest was donated by Brad Stewart of Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland.

Following the contest, auctioneer Carl Blizzard again offered his services to allow bidders to buy the prize-winning cakes, as well as several others. As has become the tradition with the annual auction, many of the cakes were donated back to the fire department to be resold. The first place cake, initially purchased for $225 by Miners and Merchants Bank, finally brought a total of $750. The second place cake, bought by Delegate David "O.B." Collins for $175, netted a total of $710 before its final sale. The third place cake was bought for $140 by Sam and Helen Roth. It, too, was donated back and resold. These cakes and several others, along with two banana creme pies, and a hand-knotted quilt made and donated by 95-year-old Lura Calcamp, brought a total of $2,771 for the VFD's largest fundraiser of the year.

Bidders on hand during the afternoon included representatives from local businesses like Performance Motors, Parsons; Coastal Lumber Co., Horse Shoe Run; Rt. 24 Sales & Service; Fairfax Sand; The Terra Alta Bank; and The Republican newspaper, among others; as well as Vernon Ball, Wayne Evans, Ron Crites, Joe Connor, and Dayton Bolyard, and numerous other individuals.

An activity that began with last year's festival to keep area school children involved with the potato festival was again part of this year's event. Aurora Elementary School students in grades K-6 were invited to create posters using a potato festival or fire department theme and then enter those posters to be judged. Twenty-one posters from 146 submitted were among those chosen to be finalists, and three winners from each grade were announced on Saturday.

Dave Sypolt, master of ceremonies for the afternoon, announced the winners as follows:

Kindergarten: first place, Christina Watson, daughter of Angie McGinuis; second place, Hannah Lea Burrel, daughter of Bruce and Shari Burrel; and third place, Dylan Radford, son of Derrick and Cara Radford.

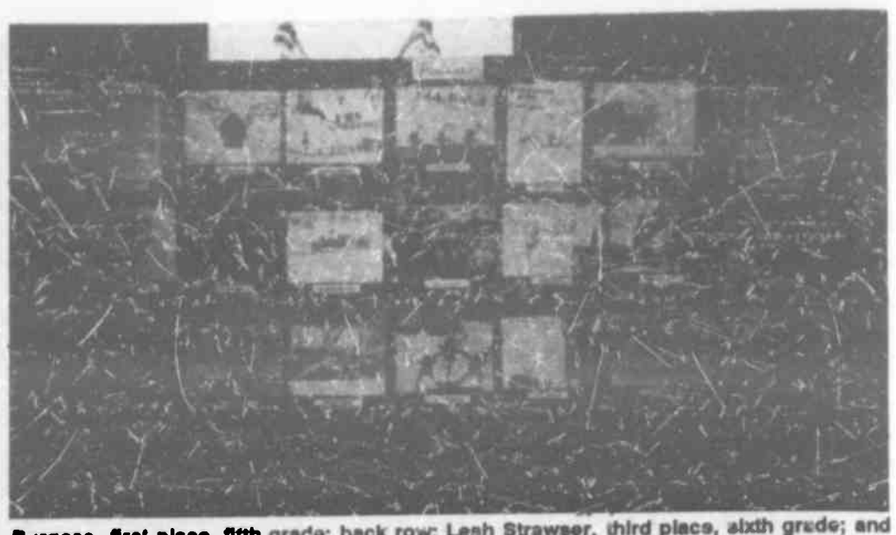
First grade: first place, Jessica Sisler, daughter of Paul and Reba Sisler; second place, Tracy Moats, daughter of Jerome and Nancy Moats; and third place, Daniel Michael, son of Jason and Janice Michael.

Second grade: first place, Jonathan Mauldin, son of John and Shari Mauldin; second place, Jonathan Dillsworth, son of Steven and Kathleen Dillsworth; and third place, Stephanie Bittinger, daughter of Scott and Teresa Bittinger.

Third grade: first place, Hilary McConnell, daughter of Joella McConnell; second place, Lacricia Calvert, daughter of Tracy Calvert; and third place, Kaitlyn Schalker, daughter of Roland and Marilyn Schalker.

Fourth grade: first place, Jazz Freeman, son of Roa and Jaaa Freeman; second place, Travis Mersing, son of Terry and Sharon Mersing; and third place, Jenna Sisler, daughter of Paul and Reba Sisler.

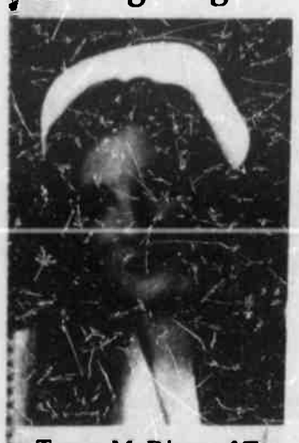
Fifth grade: first place, Amanda Burgess, daughter of Raymond and Cynthia Burgess; second place, Sharon Fajardo, daughter of Roberto and Jo Fajardo; and third place, Nathan Myers, son of Jeff and Sandy Myers.



Sixth grade: first place, Mariah Freeman, daughter of Ron and Jana Freeman; second place, Jordan Harsh, son of Rick and Jonell Harsh; and third place, Leah Strawser, daughter of Brian and Sheila Strawser.

A new attraction to potato festival activities was a car show, featured 65 antique, classic, and unique cars and trucks from Pennsylvania, Maryland, and West Virginia. Trophies were awarded in the various classes, with the "Best of Show" trophy going to Charles and Peggy Kues from Pennsylvania, who displayed their 1930 Ford sedan.

Proceeds from the cake auction, poster contest, and other events at the annual Mt. Grove Potato Festival are used to fund the fire department's operating expenses during the year.



POSTER CONTEST WINNERS - Aurora Elementary School students in grades K-6 again participated in a poster contest during the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department's annual potato festival. The posters featured either potato festival or fire department themes. Twenty-one finalists from 146 entries were on display during weekend's festivities, and three winners from each grade were announced on Saturday. Winners pictured above, from left to right, front row: Hannah Burrel, second place, kindergarten; Jessica Sisler, first place, first grade; Stephanie Bittinger, third place, second grade; and Jonathan Mauldin, first place, second grade; second row: Kaitlyn Schalker, third place, third grade; Jenna Sisler, third place, fourth grade; Jazz Freeman, first place, fourth grade; Nathan Myers, third place, fifth grade; and Amanda Burgess, first place, fifth grade; back row: Leah Strawser, third place, sixth grade; and Mariah Freeman, second place, sixth grade. (The other winners, not pictured, are noted in the related story on this page). Shown at right are the 21 finalists' posters that were on display during the 17th Annual Mt. Grove Potato Festival.

Dixon Awarded Nursing Degree

Teresa M. Dixon of Terra Alta., W.Va., recently graduated from Shenandoah University, with an associate of science degree in nursing (R.N.). She graduated with honors and made the dean's list at the Winchester, Va., institution.

Currently employed in Cumberland, Dixon is continuing her studies at Shenandoah University and will graduate this coming spring with her bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Dixon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon of Terra Alta.

Master's Degree May Be Earned In Thomas, W.Va.

As the Thomas, W.Va., Education Center enters its third year of offering academic coursework, it initiates for the first time a master's degree program in elementary education. The undergraduate classes have been offered by Potomac State College, and the master's classes are offered by the graduate school of West Virginia University.

The first two classes conducted this fall semester are Curriculum and Instruction 301: The Elementary School Curriculum, and Curriculum and Instruction 387: Advanced Teaching Strategies. Both classes meet on Thursday evenings from 4 to 10 p.m. and are taught by Dr. Richard Hawthorne. The classes are being conducted in the old St. Thomas Catholic School, which is serving as the facility of the Thomas Education Center.

Each semester two additional classes will be offered, and at the end of two years the master's degree can be completed by those who take all of the classes being offered. Some students may have already taken some of the required classes and may wish to register for an occasional class. That will be possible if the enrollment is not full.

This semester has 28 students enrolled. Most of them are from Tucker County, but others are from Grant, Randolph, and Upshur counties. Next semester other undergraduate classes will be offered. Anyone interested in graduate or undergraduate coursework should write: The Director, Thomas Education Center, Box 222, Thomas, WV 26292.

Time of the service is 1:15 p.m., or persons may attend morning services for an all-day experience.

SWEATSHIRT FOUND

An Outer Tech brand sweatshirt was found following a pig roast which Bill Hauser hosts each year for employees, friends, and family. The owner may call 735-5737 to claim the shirt.

WILDLIFE JUDGING

A new attempt to provide a longer fund-raising period for winners of wild life judging events led to a West Virginia 4-11 wildlife judging competition on Saturday, Sept. 12, at the Westvaco Center in Cooper's Rock State Forest. Eglon Mountaineer 4-11 Club was represented by a senior team — Dana Feather, Chris Mullenax, and Craig Rembold — that won first place and will be recipients of a chance for further competition.

There were also two individual junior members in competition, Josh Mullenax and Mark Bachtel. Coach Bruce Rembold accompanied the group.

JONES BIRTH

John and Terry Jones of Silver Lake announce the birth of their 10th child on September 11 at Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown. Named Micah Samuel, the little boy weighed 6 pounds, 12 ounces and was 19 3/4 inches long. His grandparents, Denzil and Wilma Helmick, live also at Silver Lake.

QUILT WINNER

A red, white, and blue pieced quilt raffled by the Union Ambulance Association and awarded at the Potato Festival was won by Jim Bennett of Red House.

QUILT DELIVERED

A quilt bearing the names of community mothers has been pieced, quilted, and delivered by the Aurora Homemakers to the Anna Jarvis birthplace at Grafton. It was placed in the room known as the "birthing room," and will be on the bed there.

Making the trip were Keith and Delores Douglas, Leota Elsey, Ressie Conrad, Alice Penzo, Martha Bolyard, Virginia Martin, Deloris Slawter, and Janice Tackett.

MORE STUDENTS

Patty Mullenex Wright of Horse Shoe Run is attending West Virginia University. Jonathon Wright is also at West Virginia University.

Adrian Stemple of Amboy was taken by his parents, Adrian and Mary Stemple, to Embrey Riddle Aeronautical University at Daytona Beach, Fla., where he recently began classes.

OBITUARY

Commander Karl W. Gustafson Sr., 86, a resident of Albuquerque, N.M., since 1952, died there on Monday, August 31, 1998.

Born at William, W.Va., Oct. 23, 1911, and reared in Albright, he was the son of Swan Agustus Gustafson and Lephia Hope Werner.

He is survived by his wife Marjorie; three children and their spouses, Karl W. Gustatson Jr. and wife Wendy, and Eric C. Gustafson and wife Carolyn, all of Albuquerque; a daughter, Karin H. Davidson and her husband Jon of Las Cruces, N.M., stepchildren, Dr. James E. Short and wife Cherie, Oklahoma City, Okla., Thomas C. Short and wife DyAnne, Los Alamos, N.M., Linda L. Cobb and husband Larry, Albuquerque, and Bill G. Short and wife Linda, California; and 12 grandchildren.

Mr. Gustafson was preceded in death by a brother, John A. Gustafson, who was killed in action during World War II; his parents, Swan in 1937 and Lephia in 1975; and his first wife, Ruth Geist Gustafson, in 1969.

He was associated with the Masons in West Virginia. He retired in 1965 from the U.S. Navy after 30 years of service. His naval career included service aboard the USS St. Louis. Upon retirement he worked as a field manager for Eberline Instrument Corporation.

He was a member of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, in which services were held on Friday, Sept. 4, by David Hartenburger, assisted by Charlie Price. Interment was in the Santa Fe National Cemetery. Friends were received at the French Mortuary, and memorial contributions may be made to the donor's favorite charity.

PERSONAL MENTION

Ray and Cheryl Donham of Oklahoma City, Okla., are visiting Mrs. Donham's aunt, Mrs. Jessie Winters, at Eglon. On Sept. 13, the Winters children and their families were present for dinner.

Floyd Knapp of Amboy returned Monday to his home after being hospitalized at Garrett County Memorial Hospital since Thursday of last week.

Ken and Betty Bailey of Casa Grande, Ariz., were overnight guests of her father, Paul Stemple, Aurora, last Tuesday.

Wade and Mary Harsh and Doyle Harsh of Eglon were visitors with friends in Blacksburg, Va., on Sunday.

David and Wilma Mae Teets spent Sunday to Wednesday on a trip to Goldsboro, N.C., to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mary Lou and Dick Miller, who moved into their new home September 1. Built on the same lot and a near duplicate of their old home, which was destroyed on April 1 by tornado, they have spent the interim time living in a camper. David and Wilma Mae then went to Pittsburgh Friday to visit with her sister, Eileen Rembold, and to attend a performance of the River City Brass Band and a Wurlitzer organ recital. They returned Sunday to their home at Horse Shoe Run.

Howard Losh of Thomas underwent surgery on Sunday at Ruby Memorial Hospital, where he remains a patient. He reportedly continues in "grave" condition.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Stacie Durr, a senior at Preston County High School, recently completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for the West Virginia Army National Guard. She is the daughter of Ernest and Debbie Durr, Terra Alta, and the granddaughter of Frank and Elaine Snyder, Aurora, and Ailea and Nellie Hussing, Masontown.

Durr has also been listed with Who's Who Among American High School Students for her academic achievements and involvement in school and community activities. Only five percent of the nation's students receive this recognition.

Following her high school graduation, Stacie plans to attend West Virginia University.

57th Annual Buckwheat Festival To Feature Parades, Music, And More

One week from today will be the starting date for the 57th Annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival, sponsored by the Kingwood Volunteer Fire Department.

This year's event, "A Fall Reunion," runs from Thursday, Sept. 24, through Sunday, Sept. 27, and will feature a variety of arts and crafts displays, a giant carnival, commercial exhibits, school and club exhibits, prize livestock, produce and canned goods, a variety of food, including the ever popular buckwheat cake and sausage dinners, and special events.

Parades include the Firemen's Day Parade on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.; the School Day Parade at 2 p.m. on Friday; and the Farmers' Day Parade at noon on Saturday.

Coronation ceremonies for Queen Ceres LVII Samantha Dixon and King Buckwheat LVII Grant Harsh begin at noon on Friday on the Central Preston Middle School athletic field. Susan Brown Hardesty, wife of West Virginia University President David C. Hardesty Jr., and chair of the Mountaineer Parents Club at WVU, will serve as this year's coronation official. There is no charge for admission to this event, and the public is welcome and encouraged to attend.

Also on Central's athletic field will be Saturday's Band Spectacular, featuring performances by high school bands from Pennsylvania, Maryland, and West Virginia. Activities are set to begin at 2:30 p.m., and the cost of admission is $2 for persons 17 years of age and younger, and $4 for those 18 years and older. Chairmen for this year's Band Spectacular are Ervin Fink and Janice Crane.

AMUSEMENTS, RIDES

Back again this year to provide fun and excitement for children of all ages will be the Shaw & Sons Amusements of Severn, Md., featuring amusement rides and concessions throughout the Buckwheat Festival.

The prices and times are as follows: Wednesday, Sept. 23, rides open at 5:30 p.m., all day pass $5; Thursday, Sept. 24, rides open at 3 p.m., all day pass $10, Friday, Sept. 25, rides open at 11 a.m., all day pass $10; Saturday, Sept. 26, rides open at 9:30 a.m., all day pass $10; and Sunday, Sept. 27, rides open at noon, all day pass $10.

OTHER EVENTS

Other Thursday features during the 57th annual celebration include swine judging at 8 a.m., swine showmanship at 11:30 a.m., sheep judging at 2 p.m, and a sheep fitting contest at 5 p.m. All livestock activities are conducted in the Cow Palace.

Friday's activities and events include judging of dairy cattle and goats at 8 a.m., a tractor driving contest at Preston High School beginning at 10 a.m., a dairy showman contest at 9 a.m., and the judging of the beef cattle at 10 a.m. A bicycle decorating contest will begin at 10 a.m. in front of the community building, and the increasingly popular lamb dressing contest is set to begin at 4:30 p.m. in the Cow Palace. Spectators may want to remain at that location for a sheep showmanship contest at 5:30 p.m., and a beef showmanship contest at 7:30 p.m.

A '50s era singing group, The Platters, will be in concert in the PHS auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Friday. For more information about this event, persons may call 329-3387.

The coronation of King Fireman LI Owen W. Evans, a member of the Albright VFD, and Lady Fireman VIII Catherine J. Burke, a member of the Reedsville VFD auxiliary, is set for 9:30 p.m. in the community building.

Events on Saturday include, but are not limited to, the Buckwheat Festival 5K Classic at 9 a.m. at the Preston Country Club; the Youth Ag Olympics in the Cow Palace at 9:05 a.m.; a turkey calling contest and sportsmen's show, sponsored by the Preston County Wild Turkey Federation, on the middle school athletic field at 9:30 a.m. (free admission); a farmers' skill contest on the Central Preston athletic field at 10 a.m.; and a pet show in the Cow Palace at 10 a.m.

A draft horse pull, sponsored by the West Virginia Draft Horse and Mule Association, is planned at PHS at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday. A ladies and shepherds lead will begin at 3 p.m. in the Cow Palace, followed by the presentation of youth awards at 5:30 p.m., and the youth livestock sale at 7 p.m. A banjo and fiddlers' contest is set for 7 p.m. in the PHS auditorium.

Sunday's activities include the Heritage Day Classic Road Race, a 25-mile bicycle race, beginning at PHS at 11 a.m. A $20 entry fee will be charged for participants, and registration begins at 10 a.m. Awards will be presented to the top three males and females in each class. Chairmen for this race are Jim and Sabrina Liggett.

Sunday will also feature a performance by the Wheeling Symphony at 2 p.m. at Preston High School. Persons may call WesBanco at 329-0585 for ticket information.

A car show, sponsored by the KVFD, will get underway on Sunday with registration from 10 a.m. until noon. The cost to register is $8. The public will view antique, classic, and custom cars and trucks on the field near the Craig Civic Center, near the fairgrounds. There is no charge for admission to this event.

ANTIQUE SHOW, SALE

An antique show and sale, sponsored by the KVFD, will be open all four days of the festival at the Craig Civic Center. Dealers will offer a variety of antiques and collectibles for sale at the following times: Sept. 24, 3 to 7 p.m; Sept. 25-26, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.; and Sept. 27, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

EXHIBITS, ARTS AND CRAFTS

A variety of club exhibits, fresh produce, and canned goods will be on display each day at the Memorial North Building, located on the festival grounds. Commercial exhibits will be located at PHS, arts and crafts can be found in the lower level of the community building. The public may view any of the above at the following times: Sept. 24, noon to 10 p.m.; Sept. 25, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Sept. 26, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; and Sept. 27, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

School exhibits will be located in the Kingwood Elementary School building, as follows: Sept. 25, 10 a.m. to noon, and Sept. 26, 3 to 9 p.m.

FREE PERFORMANCES

The "Festival Music Stage," located in the tent next to the community building, will be the site for a variety of free performances by local individuals and groups, as follows:

Friday: 4-5 p.m., Morgan Krotts, Kingwood; 5:30-6:30 p.m., Lori Radabaugh, Arthurdale; 7-8 p.m., Bellington Brass, Bellington; and 8:30-9:30 p.m., Utt Most Country, Morgantown.

The schedule of performers and times are subject to change. The public is welcome to stop by the music stage to rest and enjoy the music.

BUCKWHEAT CAKE DINNERS AVAILABLE

Buckwheat cake and sausage dinners will be served in the community building throughout the Buckwheat Festival, as follows: Sept. 24, 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Sept. 25, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m; Sept. 26, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.; and Sept. 27, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Watch next week's issue of The Republican for a schedule of events and a map of the Kingwood area.

White Oak Church Schedules Annual Homecoming Sing

The White Oak Church of the Brethren has slated its annual homecoming sing for Sunday, Sept. 20. A covered dish dinner will begin at noon, followed by the sing itself at 1:30 p.m. The event will feature "good old-fashioned singing," a church spokesperson said, "and the public is welcome."

The White Oak Church of the Brethren is located on the Cranesville Road, 4½ miles north of Terra Alta.

A DECORATED CAKE CONTEST AND AUCTION were among the many popular activities during the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department's annual potato festival. This year's auction of several decorated cakes, along with a quilt, hand-knotted by one of the area's eldest residents, Lura Calcamp, and two banana creme pies, netted over $2,700 for Preston County's youngest fire department's biggest fundraiser of the year. The three top prize-winning cakes were again sold to the highest bidders by auctioneer Carl Blizzard. Shown above, left, is the first place cake with its creator, Jennifer Brown. Above right is the second place cake, shown by Susie Helmick, who stood in for her mother, Wanda Evans. Below is Reba Williams with her third place entry. (See story on Page A-8)

Advisory and Review Committee (the state advisory group) will meet on Sept. 24 at 7 p.m. at Garrett Community College, and it is anticipated that the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Advisory Committee (the local entity) will meet Sept. 29 to explore these issues.

Voting Public

date in November will be Lawson "Buddy" Duckworth, who ran unopposed on the ticket and received 1,057 votes.

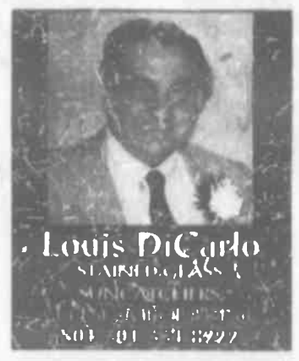
While Garrett County Republicans voted by a wide margin for David Thomas to take over the state senatorial position currently held by John Hafer (3,028 to 1,953), Allegany County supported Hafer, giving him the victory (6,421-4,785). Hafer faces no contender in the General Election.

In the gubernatorial election, local Republicans strongly supported Ellen Sauerbrey with a count of 3,856. Charles Ecker received 716 votes. Governor Parris Glendening, incumbent, earned 1,286 votes on the Democrat ticket, strongly outdistancing Eileen Rehrmann (who had withdrawn from the race earlier this summer), Terence McGuire, and Lawrence Freeman.

The seven members of the Republican Central Committee were selected by Republican voters, although the seventh spot may change after the absentee ballots are tallied. The members are as follows: Brenda Butscher, 2,778; Arzella Parsons, 2,619; JoAnne Glotfelty, 2,070; Michael Bittinger, 1,853; William Skipper, 1,725; David McLaughlin, 1,608; and Ruth Umbel, 1,588. Beatrice Crosco came in closely behind Umbel with 1,567 votes, so this position could change.

The remaining central committee candidates and their counts are as follows: Sheila O'Neill, 1,396; William Crawford Jr., 1,278; David Moe, 1,208; John George, 1,178; and Jack Michaels, 1,083.

There were just six Democrats running for the Democratic Central Committee, so they were all elected. They are Rosalee Finch, Thomas Pratt, Doris Goldsborough, Mary Ann Fink, Bruce Bryon Opel, and Thomas Bratten Jr.



The judges of the orphans' court winners were incumbents Clifford DeWitt (3,224) and Joseph Peck (2,135), and newcomer George Zimmerman (1,585). The remaining candidates were: Ruth DiPaolo, 1,414; Wilmer Margraff, 1,372; and Hamill Glotfelty, 725.

The county treasurer contenders in the November election will be Democrat William "Walt" Walters, who earned 1,061 votes, and incumbent Patty Lou Glover, who brought in 4,291.

Joseph DiSimone retained his position as register of wills, earning 3,743 votes over contender John Sines's 1,055.

Running unopposed were State's Attorney Lisa Thayer Welch, Circuit Court Clerk David Martin, and Congressman Roscoe Bartlett, Republican. Bartlett will face Democrat Timothy McCown in November.

The county's Democrats overwhelmingly supported William Donald Schaefer for comptroller, while Republicans brought in Timothy Mayberry. Senator Barbara Mikulski, who won the state bid, was also supported locally by a wide margin. She will face Ross Pierpont in November.

LOCAL TEENAGER REACHES OUT — McHenry's Amy Tressler, pictured above with a little Boenian girl, left the safety of Garrett County this summer and traveled to a starkly different place. Croatia was her destination, where she and 23 other teenagers from across the United States joined together to "spread the good news." Amy, the daughter of Darlene Reed and Robert Tressler, became part of the Teen Mania Ministries, a Christian organization based in Texas. For nearly a month, she traveled through Croatia and Boania and other foreign lands to help tell the story of Jesus Christ. See feature.

Amy Tressler Joins Teen Mania Ministries On Trip To Croatia

by Mary S. McEwen

"When I was first looking at the brochure describing all the places I could possibly go, I wanted to find a place that didn't just look like a vacation. Croatia sort of jumped out at me," said Amy Tressler, a senior at Northern High School, speaking about her decision to take a trip of a lifetime this summer. Croatia certainly isn't a place most would consider a vacationland, and it was there that Amy and about 23 other teenagers worked for three weeks to convey their Christian message of faith and salvation.

Teen Mania Ministries hosted scores of trips this summer, as it has for several years. Amy heard about the ministry early in the spring and, having just found her faith in January, decided to offer herself as a messenger. In mid-July, she traveled to Garden Valley, Texas, the homebase of Teen Mania Ministries, and engaged in the three-day training session.

"Every day we would have time to pray on our own, and you could see all these kids scattered out across the lawn. It was so awesome because it was silent — everyone was having their time with God," she said.

After the training sessions, Amy joined up with the 48 other students who were to travel to Croatia. They divided into two teams of 24 and got on their way. The chief method of communication used by Teen Mania is drama, and Amy learned her role along with the others in an elaborate story involving wayward pirates and their faithful captain. The students learned to mime the tale while a translator told the story in the Croatian language. It was full of action and dance, with the students in colorful costumes bringing home the story of being lost versus being saved.

"We had 24 saivations on our tour," she reported, adding that Teen Mania logged over 130,000 in all this summer.

Her interactions with the native people ranged from very friendly to somewhat stand-offish, she said. While the town of "Split" was fairly friendly and safe, the trip into Mostar, a city within Bosnia, was not entirely comfortable. As Amy and the others walked along the "Boulevard" in Mostar, they were able to witness first hand the consequences of war.

"We were told not to cross the Boulevard, so we didn't. But we did walk along the street. There were bombed out places everywhere," she said.

Amy interacted extensively with children throughout her visit, seeing some of the same youngsters every day for a week or so. One little girl in particular kept her attention. Her name was Mia.

"I played with her every day and we became friends. When it was time for me to leave, I asked an interpreter if she would help me tell Mia about Jesus, and she did. We all started to cry. Before I left, I gave Mia a picture of Jesus and my cross necklace."

The children were also the recipients of beads, candy, fruit, and soap bubbles for blowing, which Amy said they loved.

After nearly a month away from home, the young Garrett Countian headed back on Aug. 9. She said the tour had been such a whirlwind that the teens were surprised and chagrined that the time to depart had come.

"I did miss home and I wanted to get back, but I made some great friends on my trip, and I had that daily reinforcement of God in my life," she said. "When I did get back, I thought, 'Oh, yeah, TV!' and I sat down to watch for a while, but I got bored right away. I just wanted to have that feeling back, all that energy."

She said she would like to go on another trip and will be looking at the brochures for next summer's excursions. She also noted that anyone who is interested in the Teen Mania Ministries is welcome to contact her for information. As for now, she will continue her studies at Northern, aiming for graduation in the spring. Amy, who is the daughter of Darlene Reed and Robert Tressler, will also continue going to her church, God's Ark of Safety in Frostburg, and will look toward the future.

"The trip changed me," she said. "Home is different now. I think I want to go do it again."

FRUIT, TOYS, CANOY, AND BUBBLE STUFF were some of the items freely handed out to Croatian children and their parents by the Teen Mania Ministries members, among them Garrett Countian Amy Tressler, McHenry. Amy said the children were fascinated by the bubbles and seemed to have great fun with the simple gift. People were in need everywhere the teens went during the month-long tour, and they met at least some of those needs with gifts of food as well as with their message of faith and hope.

THE BAD PIRATES — The Teen Mania Ministries often uses drama to convey its Christian message, and this was the method used in Amy's group of 24 teenagers. They presented a colorful, lively show about sailors on a ship who are swayed toward evil by some very bad pirates (one of which was played by Amy — she's shown above, at left, in a striped shirt). The captain remains steadfast, though, and offers a safe port in the storm.

WAR-TORN BOSNIA was seen close up by Amy and the rest of the ministry crew as they walked along a notorious street called simply "the Boulevard." Amy said while some of the buildings were certainly condemnable, they actually often housed families in back rooms or alcoves. However, even though the living conditions viewed by the American teenagers were depressingly poor, Amy said the children seemed to be cheerful and of fairly good health. The program presented by the teenagers — a dramatic presentation depicting the benefits of having faith in God — was accepted well by the native people, Amy said, and, in fact, brought 24 individuals to salvation.

Drug Interactions Possible with Viagra

In spite of a small number of deaths reported in connection with the use of sildenafil (Viagra), this drug continues to be one of the top selling prescription medicines in the U.S. It is the first oral medicine approved for the treatment of impotence in men. Early reports indicate that it is effective about 70% of the time.

One of the most important drug interactions reported with the drug occurs when Viagra is taken at or near the same time nitroglycerin (a heart medicine for the pain of angina) or other "nitrate medicine" is taken. Viagra plus any nitrate may lead to a sudden and severe drop in blood pressure. Potential drug interactions also exist between Viagra and medicines metabolized in the body in a manner similar to Viagra. All the drugs metabolized in this fashion have the potential to slow down the metabolism of Viagra in the liver. Caution should be exercised when such combinations exist. If you are taking Viagra, let your doctor and pharmacist know about the other medicines you are taking.

DOING BATTLE with the Aggies of Flintstone High School Tuesday evening were the members of the Northern High School varsity boys' soccer team, but emerging with the 5-1 victory was Flintstone. Waiting for the ball to return to earth in the above photo is Northern's Ronnie Lipscomb (#21) and an unidentified Flintstone player. Giving chase below with another Aggie is Northern's Sam Miller (#3). The Northern junior varsity won the preliminary match, 1-0. The Huskies will play again this evening at Fort Hill.

Huskies Drop 3-1 Match To Aggies; Fort Hill Is Next

The boys' varsity soccer team of Northern High School is still looking for its first victory of the season, as the Huskies dropped a 3-1 Western Maryland Interscholastic League decision Tuesday night to visiting Flintstone.

The Aggies took a 1-0 lead just moments into the contest, as Mike Groves scored unassisted on a breakaway with 37:39 remaining in the first half of action. Teammate Kevin Kifer then doubled Flintstone's score with an unassisted goal at the 17:46 mark.

It took the Huskies just 30 seconds to respond to the Aggies' second goal, as B.J. Lloyd recorded an unassisted goal with 17:16 left in the half. The score was still 2-1 at halftime.

Most of the second half was defense, but Flintstone tacked on an insurance goal with just 6:53 left in the match when Brian Alexander scored unassisted.

"I thought we pretty well controlled the match in the second half, but we didn't execute well enough to put any more points on the board," stated Northern coach Tom Ables.

The Aggies finished with a 28-18 advantage in shots on goal, while the Huskies had a 2-1 edge in corner kicks. Northern's Jimmy Kenner had 22 saves in goal and Mickey Lafferty stopped 10 shots for Flintstone.

The win evened Flintstone's record at 2-2-1 overall and 2-1 in the WMIL.

The Northern junior varsity won the preliminary match, 1-0.

The Huskies are slated to play again this evening at Fort Hill, then travel to Allegany next Tuesday.

Soccer Tryouts For Tournament Slated Sunday

Local seventh and eighth grade students interested in playing in the Mount Savage soccer tournament this fall should report to the Southern Middle School this Sunday, Sept. 20, at 1 p.m. for tryouts. Coaches will be Rick Perry and Karl Schwalm, who will choose 14-16 players, boys and/or girls.

Practices will be held Sunday afternoons and the tournament will be played at the end of the Mountaintop Soccer Association season. The tryouts will be held in most weather conditions; however, in the event of severe weather, they will be postponed until the following Sunday, Sept. 27, at 1 p.m.

Leverenz Leads Dickinson Team In Cross Country

Rachel Leverenz, a multi-sport standout at Northern High School for four years, has resumed her academic and athletic career as a freshman at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., and she is off to an outstanding start, as she has led the college's women's cross country team to victory in its first two competitions.

Leverenz, daughter of Neil and Jann Leverenz, Accident, placed second among 250 runners in her first collegiate invitational meet on Saturday. The event was the Lebanon Valley Invitational. She finished the course with a time of 20 minutes, 6.11 seconds. She was also Dickinson's top runner in the first meet of the season. Her performance earned her a spot on the Centennial Conference Weekly Honor Roll.

The top finish for the Red Devils vaulted them to a 26-0 record for the young season. Dickinson, which is an independent liberal arts college, competes as an NCAA Division III institution and is a member of the Centennial Conference. Don Nichter is the head coach.

A BALANCING ACT, or so it seemed, was performed by Southern High School's John Andrews, left, at this moment in a match Tuesday night against Bishop Walsh, a contest that was won by the undefeated Spartans, 6-1. Only Andrews scored for the Rams, on a penalty kick in the second half. Sliding at the touch line in the photo at right to keep the ball in play is Southern's Bo Jonson. The Rams are currently 1-1-1 on the season and will play at Beall this evening. Photos by John McEwen.

Raiders, Vikes Win In Youth Football Games

The Oakland Raiders topped the Oakland Jets, 25-20, and the Parsons Vikings rolled over the Oakland Ravens, 35-7, in the NFL Division games of the Oakland Youth Football League, played Saturday in Oakland.

The Vikings remain undefeated on the season with a 4-0 mark, while the Raiders are 3-1, the Jets are 1-3, and the Ravens are winless at 0-4.

The Ravens will face the Raiders this Saturday in the noon game, also in Oakland, and the Jets will take on the Vikings at 5 p.m. in Parsons.

In the NCAA Division play (flag football) on Saturday, the Gonder Insurance Tigers edged the Team One Terps, 41-35, the FOP Fighting Irish nipped the First United Buckeyes, 55-53, the undefeated Gregg's Pharmacy Mountaineers whipped the Rinker Construction Nittany Lions, 45-28, and the Mountaineers also crushed the Terps, 53-0.

Standings in that division are: Mountaineers, 5-0; Nittany Lions, Fighting Irish, and Tigers, 3-2; Terps, 1-4; and Buckeyes, 0-5.

This Saturday's schedule will pit the Tigers against the Buckeyes and the Terps vs. the Fighting Irish in 9 a.m. games, and in the 10 a.m. games, the Nittany Lions vs. the Buckeyes and the Tigers against the Mountaineers.

Ram Booters Sustain First Loss; Topped By BW, 6-1

A poorly played first half against undefeated Bishop Walsh by the Southern High School boys' varsity soccer team led to the Rams' first defeat of the season Saturday night, as the home team found itself behind 5-0 at halftime and ultimately lost by a 6-1 margin. The defeat evened Southern's season mark at 1-1-1.

The 5-0 Spartans had their way with the Rams through the entire first half, as they controlled the action, kept Southern out of their half of the field, and racked up five of their own goals in the process. Paul Ruddell scored the first of his three goals for the evening at the 27:46 mark of the first half off an assist by Pete Tam.

Joe Rowan made it 2-0 when he scored off a feed by Eric Perlozzo with 24:20 left. Garrett Seward's unassisted goal at the 10:40 mark gave the Spartans a 3-0 lead, and Ruddell followed with a penalty kick about two minutes later to make it 4-0. Rowan struck again off another assist by Perlozzo with 7:34 remaining in the half to give the Spartans their commanding 5-0 halftime advantage.

The Rams played evenly with their opponents in the second half, as each team recorded one goal and shots on goal were more even. John Andrews finally put the Rams on the scoreboard with a successful penalty kick about five minutes into the half. However, Bishop Walsh answered that some 17 minutes later with a penalty kick by Ruddell, which gave him his hat trick for the evening.

The Spartans finished with a 24-13 advantage in shots and a 5-2 edge in corner kicks. Jonathan Price recorded 16 saves for the Rams. John Myers had eight and Chris Bauche, one, for BW.

The Southern junior varsity was blanked in the preliminary match, 4-0, by the BW jayvees. It was the first loss in three starts for the Ram jayvees, who are coached by Bill Lovett.

Southern will play again this evening at Beall, are slated to play in a tournament at Northern this Saturday, and will travel to Allegany next Monday.

Northern Girls Fall To BW, But Rebound To Top Westmar

The brand new Northern High School girls' soccer team tasted defeat for the first time in the young season Monday evening when the Huskies dropped a 4-1 match to undefeated Bishop Walsh. BW's Lauren Zapf made the major difference for her team, as she scored the final three goals of the match.

But the Huskies rebounded last night to record a 5-0 win over host Westmar and up their record to 2-1 overall and 2-0 in the Western Maryland Interacholastic League standings.

The Huskies took a 1-0 lead in Monday's match with Bishop Walsh when Tara Kenner scored off a feed from Emily Rawe with 25:43 remaining in the first half.

The score was tied about eight minutes later when Spartan Shara Rowan recorded an unassisted goal at the 17:40 mark. Bishop Walsh then took the lead for good on Zapf's first goal of the night, scored unassisted with 14:38 left in the first half.

Zapf completed her hat trick with two more unassisted goals in the second half, the first with 31:22 remaining in the match and the second with just 57 seconds left.

The Huskies trailed in shots on goal by only six, 21-15, and were edged in corner kicks, 6-4. Alisha Warnick recorded 18 saves in goal for Northern and Tiffini Wagner finished with 16 stops for BW.

Details of last night's win over Westmar were not reported this morning

Settle Records Ace At The Wisp

Matt Settle, a member of the 13-1-1 Northern High School golf team, recorded a personal first in the sport of golfing Sunday afternoon by carding a hole-in-one at the Golf Club at Wisp course in McHenry.

Settle, who was playing with his father Jack, hit the ace on the #4 hole with a nine-iron. The #4 hole is 140 yards and a par three.

AYSO Girls' Soccer League Starts Season

The girls' league of the American Youth Soccer Organization of the Casselman Valley Region has kicked-off its fall season. Two teams have been formed to accommodate older and younger players.

Sponsoring the older girls' team this season is the Print Shop, Grantsville. The younger players are sponsored by Hey, Pizza, Grantsville. Games for both the lower and upper divisions are scheduled on Tuesday evenings and Saturdays.

AYSO offers young people the opportunity to participate in soccer leagues in fall and again in spring. The fall league is composed of all-girl teams, while the spring league is open to boys and girls.

Anyone wishing further information on the AYSO teams or game schedules may contact coach John Melbourne at 301-895-3835.

Husky Golfers Edge Rams Again, Lose First To Knights

The golf team of Northern High School upped its perfect record to 13-0 this past week, but finally saw that perfection wiped out yesterday when the Huskies were defeated by host Preston County in Kingwood and tied with Elkins in the same match.

The highlight of the week for Coach Harv Speicher's team was a second, one-stroke victory Monday in Oakland over cross-county rival Southern. The Huskies had edged the Rams by the same margin just six days earlier on the Oakland Golf Club course.

Northern also defeated host Rockwood, Pa., at the Seven Springs course last Thursday, 238-252. In that match, A.J. Thomas led the Huskies with a 43 on the nine-hole course, while Ryan Butler finished with a 45, Ian Durney carded a 49, Rob Taylor had a 50, and Matt Settle finished with a 51.

Pacing Rockwood was Scott Rush with a 44, while Mike Bradley carded a 46, Nick Nelson had a 51, Brad Sanner, a 52, and Matt Barclary, 59.

The first meeting of the season between the Huskies and Southern Rams ended with a 178-179 win for Northern. Monday's final score was 169-170, while Fort Hill placed third with a 195 and Westmar was fourth with a 228.

Thomas again led the Huskies with a 41, while Settle and Greg Speicher each carded 42s and Taylor had a 44.

Leading the Rams was Bryson Paugh, who was low medalist for the match with an even-par 36. Kane Wengerd had the second-best score with a 38, while Justin DiSimone and Bryson Meyers each carded 48s.
